Contributors to this Issue

THOMAS FUDGE is Professor of Historical Theology at Baylor University (Department of History, P.O. Box 97306, Waco, TX 76798). He holds a Ph.D. in theology from Otago University and a Ph.D. in history from Cambridge University. He is the author of four books, two of them on the Hussite heresy: The Magnificent Ride: The First Reformation in Hussite Bohemia (1998) and The Crusade Against Heretics in Bohemia (2002), as well as more than thirty articles on various aspects of religious history. His research areas are mainly in late medieval and Reformation Europe. He currently teaches courses on Medieval Europe, the Reformation, witch hunting, and Hussites.

MICHAEL H. KATER is Distinguished Research Professor Emeritus of History at the Canadian Centre for German and European Studies, York University, Toronto (4700 Keele Str., North York, Ontaria M3J 1P3, Canada; e-mail: mkater@yorku.ca). His last-published book is Composers of the Nazi Era: Eight Portraits (2000). He has just completed a book-length manuscript on youth in the Third Reich and is writing a biography of opera singer Lotte Lehmann (1888–1976).

MAXIMILIAN LANZINNER holds the chair of Early Modern History at the University of Bonn. (Rheinische Friedrich-Wilhelms-Universität Bonn, Historisches Seminar, Konviktstr. 11, 53113 Bonn; e-mail: maximilian.lanzinner@uni-bonn.de) He has published extensively on the history of the Holy Roman Empire in the Early Modern Era, including the volumn, Konfessionelles Zeitalter 1555–1618 (2001) in the latest edition of Gebhardt's Handbuch der deutschen Geschichte. He is responsible for the direction of the series, "Deutsche Reichstagsakten: Reichsversammlungen 1556–1662" (Historical Commission of the Bavarian Academy of Sciences) — for which he has also recently contributed the volume, Der Reichstag zu Augsburg 1566 (2002) — as well as for the direction of the series, "Acta Pacis Westphalicae" (North-Rhine Westphalian Academy of Sciences.

DAVID SORKIN is Frances and Laurence Weinstein Professor of Jewish Studies and Acting Director of the Institute for Research in the Humanities at the University of Wisconsin at Madison (Department of History, 3211 Mosse Humanities, 455 N Park Str., Madison, WI 53706–1483; e-mail: djsorkin@wisc.edu). His article in this issue is part of a larger project provisionally entitled, "Reasonable Belief: Six Faces of the Religious Enlightenment, 1689–1789."

https://doi.org/10.1163/156916103322589586 Published online by Cambridge University Press