ANNOUNCING FIRST ENGLISH TRANSLATION OF JURJI ZAIDAN HISTORICAL NOVEL

"The Conquest of Andalusia" (ISBN 0615499597) by Jurji Zaidan tells the story of Alfonso, son of the deposed King of Spain, and Florinda, his betrothed, as they experience the intrigues and events leading up to the Muslim conquest of Spain under Tariq ibn Ziyad at the beginning of the eighth century.

The novel was translated into English by leading Arabic literature scholar Roger Allen, who also provides an in-depth Afterword and Study Guide for use in educational institutions. Written to engage as well as inspire reflection on issues that remain relevant today, the novel is intended for readers of all ages.

The Conquest of Andalusia is available for sale at www. Createspace.com/3597663, Amazon and other outlets. Published by the Zaidan Foundation, Inc. Website: www.zaidanfoundation.org

EMPOWERING

Beginning Urdu

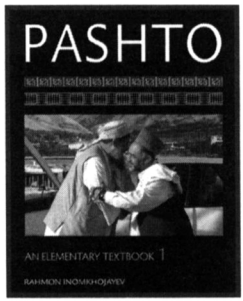

A Complete Course

Joshua H. Pien and Fauzia Farooqui

"[A] welcome addition to the study of South Asian languages. I commend this book for its accuracy, thoroughness, and usefulness. Going through the book, one can clearly see that the authors have a meticulous understanding of language pedagogy principles and a knack for presenting materials with great sensitivity to learners' needs. One feels a fresh breeze in the selection of content and methodology here."

An Introduction to Moroccan Arabic and Culture

Abdellah Chekayri

"It is my hope that An Introduction to Moroccan Arabic and Culture will be the harbinger of effective dialect learning and teaching materials to come. That is to say, ones like these that are replete with communicative activities adroitly set in their cultural context, and it is particularly useful for anyone who has studied Modern Standard Arabic."

CIRS
CENTER FOR INTERNATIONAL AND REGIONAL STUDIES

GEORGETOWN UNIVERSITY
SCHOOL OF FOREIGN SERVICE IN QATAR

CIRS RESEARCH INITIATIVES

The Evolving Ruling Bargain in the Middle East

In light of tectonic changes underway in the Middle East, this research project examines some of the emerging patterns of state-society relationships and evolving sources of political legitimacy.

Sectarian Politics in the Persian Gulf

This research initiative looks at the evolving nature and consequences of the intersection between politics and ethnic and religious identity across the Persian Gulf region.

Food Security and Food Sovereignty in the Middle East

Through a solicited grant competition, this initiative supports original research on the topic of food security and food sovereignty in the Middle East. Grant recipients meet regularly in Qatar to share their research findings.

RESEARCH OPPORTUNITIES

Visiting Scholar

The position is open to mid- and senior-level scholars in any discipline working on any area of the Middle East, with priority given to those working on issues related to the Persian Gulf.

Post-Doctoral Fellow

CIRS offers opportunities for recent PhD recipients in all disciplines working on the area of the Middle East, with priority given to those working on the Persian Gulf.

CIRS Grants

To contribute to the existing body of knowledge on issues related to the Gulf region and the Middle East, CIRS funds empirically-based, original research projects on a variety of solicited topics.

Books

At the conclusion of every research initiative, CIRS publishes the participants' research in an edited volume.

CALL FOR PAPERS

CIRS invites manuscript submissions for its Occasional Paper series. Papers dealing with issues of relevance to the Persian Gulf are accepted from all disciplines.

To submit a paper, or to request free copies of CIRS materials, please visit http://cirs.georgetown.edu/publications or contact cirsresearch@georgetown.edu.

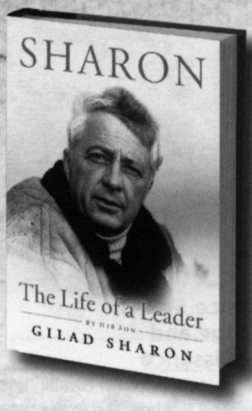

ABOUT CIRS

Established in 2005, the Center for International and Regional Studies at the Georgetown University School of Foreign Service in Qatar is a premier research institute devoted to the academic study of regional and international issues through dialogue and exchange of ideas, research and scholarship, and engagement with scholars, opinion makers, practitioners, and activists.

DESCRIPTION

The Middle East Studies Association (MESA) is a private, non-profit, non-political learned society that brings together scholars, educators and those interested in the study of the region from all over the world. From its inception in 1966 with 50 founding members, MESA has increased its membership to more than 2,600 and now serves as an umbrella organization for more than sixty institutional members and forty-two affiliated organizations. The association is a constituent society of the American Council of Learned Societies, the National Council of Area Studies Associations, and a member of the National Humanities Alliance. As part of its goal to advance learning, facilitate communication and promote cooperation, MESA sponsors an annual meeting that is a leading international forum for scholarship, intellectual exchange and pedagogical innovation. It is responsible for the International Journal of Middle East Studies, the premiere journal on the region, the Review of Middle East Studies, and a quarterly newsletter. An awards program recognizes scholarly achievement, service to the profession, and exemplary students. MESA is governed by a nine-member Board of Directors elected by the membership.

MESA is a nonprofit corporation with tax exempt status. Contributions to the Association are deductible under both U.S. Federal and British income tax regulations.

MISSION STATEMENT

The Middle East Studies Association (MESA) is a non-political association that fosters the study of the Middle East, promotes high standards of scholarship and teaching, and encourages public understanding of the region and its peoples through programs, publications and services that enhance education, further intellectual exchange, recognize professional distinction, and defend academic freedom.
