IN GENERAL, THE MODERN LANGUAGE ASSOCIATION OFFERS NO GRANTS OR FELLOWships of any kind. Current graduate students, however, may qualify for financial assistance to attend the annual convention. For details, see A Concise Guide to Activities and Services, in this issue. The following list provides an overview of fellowship and grant programs; potential applicants should write to the foundations for complete information on procedures and requirements. The list omits prize contests and a number of purely literary fellowships. Larger, more inclusive lists include Annual Register of Grant Support (New Providence: Bowker); Directory of Research Grants (Phoenix: Oryx); Financial Aid for Minorities in Education (Garrett Park: Garrett Park); The Foundation Directory (New York: Foundation Center); The Foundation Grants Index (New York: Foundation Center); Fulbright and Other Grants for Graduate Study Abroad (New York: Inst. of Intl. Educ.); Directory of Graduate Programs, Vol. D: Arts and Humanities (New York: Warner); Virginia P. White, Grants: How to Find Out about Them and What to Do Next (New York: Plenum); The Grants Register (New York: St. Martin's); Scholarships, Fellowships, and Loans (Detroit: Gale); Study Abroad (Lanham: Unipub); and Teaching Abroad (New York: Inst. of Intl. Educ.). The Linguistic Society of America (1325 18th St., NW, Suite 211, Washington, DC 20036-6501; 202 835-1714; http://www.lsadc.org) publishes the Guide to Grants and Fellowships in Linguistics. Information on philanthropic foundations, books on fellowships and grants, and periodicals such as Foundation Grants to Individuals (a biannual) and the Foundation Grants Index Quarterly may be obtained by contacting the Foundation Center, 79 5th Ave., 2nd floor, New York, NY 10003-3076 (212 620-4230; http://fdncenter.org).

AMERICAN ACADEMY IN BERLIN: Invites applications for its fellowships for the 2010–11 academic year. The academy is a private, nonprofit center for advanced research in a range of academic, cultural, and professional areas. It welcomes American scholars, writers, policy makers, and artists who wish to engage in independent study in Berlin for an academic semester or, in rare cases, for an entire academic year. In the case of the Bosch Berlin Prize in Public Policy, shorter stays of six to eight weeks may be arranged. Fellowship benefits include round-trip airfare, comfortable accommodations in the Hans Arnhold Center, partial board, and a stipend ranging from $4,500 to $5,000 per month. Fellows are expected to be in residence during the entire term of the award. Candidates must have completed a doctorate or equivalent professional degree at the time of application and must be United States citizens or permanent residents. The deadline for applications is 1 October 2009. Application forms and further information may be obtained from the academy's Web site (http://www.americanacademy.de) or by writing or calling the American Academy in Berlin, Am Sandwerder 17–19, 14109 Berlin, Germany (49 30 804 83-0; fax: 49 30 804 83-111; applications@americanacademy.de).

AMERICAN ACADEMY IN ROME: Each year, through a national competition, the Rome Prize is awarded to fifteen emerging artists (working in architecture, landscape architecture, design, historic preservation and conservation, literature, musical composition, or visual arts) and fifteen scholars (working in ancient, medieval, Renaissance and early modern, or modern Italian studies). The fellowships are designed for emerging artists and for scholars in the early or middle stages of their careers. For scholars, preference will be given to applicants for whom research time in Italy, and especially in Rome, is essential and who have not had extensive prior experience there. The application deadline is 1 November. Each Rome Prize winner is provided with a stipend, meals, a bedroom with private bath, and a study or studio. All winners of eleven-month fellowships receive a stipend of at least $25,000. Applicants for all Rome Prize fellowships, except those applying for the NEH postdoctoral fellowship, must be United States citizens at the time of application. US citizens and those foreign nationals who have lived in the United States for the three years immediately preceding the application deadline may apply for the NEH postdoctoral fellowships. Graduate students in the humanities may apply only for predoctoral fellowships. To learn more about eligibility requirements and to apply, please visit the academy's Web site (http://www.aarome.org) or Classical Society of the American Academy in Rome: Offers three scholarshhips, two of $3,500 each, one to a graduate student and one to a school teacher of classical languages or classical civilization, and one of $3,000, to attend the academy's Classical Summer School in Rome. Write to Anne Laidlaw, 415 Wingate Road, Baltimore, MD 21210 (lablaidlaw@msn.com) or download applications from the link at the bottom of the academy's Web page (http://www.aarome.org) under summer programs to the CSAAR. The deadline is 15 January.

AMERICAN ACADEMY OF ARTS AND SCIENCES POSTDOCTORAL AND JUNIOR FACULTY FELLOWSHIPS: The American Academy of Arts and Sciences invites applications for research fellowships at its new Visiting Scholars Program. Fields of study include humanities, social sciences, statistics, international relations, law, science policy, public policy, and related areas. Strong preference will be given to proposals related to the academy's program areas: science and global security; social policy and American institutions; humanities and culture; and education. Interdisciplinary and cross-national studies are encouraged. In addition to conducting individual research, fellows will participate in conferences, seminars, and events at the academy. The stipend is 40,000 for postdoctoral scholars, $60,000 for junior faculty members. The postmark deadline for applications is 16 October. For details, contact the Visiting Scholars Program, American Academy of Arts and Sciences, 136 Irving St., Cambridge, MA 02138-1996 (617 576-5034; fax: 617 576-5050; vsp@amacad.org). Application information is available on the academy's Web site (http://www.amacad.org).

AMERICAN ANTIQUARIAN SOCIETY: The society (AAS), a national research library of American history, literature, and culture through 1876, annually awards short-term visiting academic research fellowships tenable for one to three months each year. AAS also offers long-term fellowships, intended for scholars beyond the doctorate, funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities. The AAS-NEH fellowships provide four to twelve months of support for scholars in residence at the Society's library in Worcester, MA. The twelve-month stipend is $40,000. The following short-term fellowships are available for scholars holding the PhD and for doctoral candidates engaged in dissertation research. Candidates holding a recognized terminal degree appropriate to the area of proposed research, such as the master's degree in library science or MFA, are also eligible to apply. A single form is used to apply for short-term fellowships offered by the society in each of the categories below; application materials for all AAS fellowships are available from the society's Web site (www.americanantiquarian.org). The Kate B. and Hall J. Peterson Fellowships and the Legacy Fellowship are for research on any topic supported by the society's collections; these awards are open to individuals engaged in scholarly research and writing, including doctoral candidates and foreign nationals. The Joyce Tracy Fellowship supports research on newspapers and magazines or for projects using these resources as primary documentation. The Stephen Botein Fellowships provide support for research in the history of the book in American culture. The Reese Fellowships support research in American bibliography and projects in the history of the book in American culture. AAS-Northeast Modern Language Association Fellowships are for research in the literary history of America and the Atlantic world in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries that can be supported by the collections of the American Antiquarian Society. Doctoral candidates are not eligible, and NEMLA membership is required in order to take up the fellowship (but not to apply). AAS-American Society for Eighteenth-Century Studies Fellowships are for research on projects related to the American eighteenth century. Degree candidates are not eligible. ASECS membership is required for taking up an award but not for making an application. AAS offers several short-term fellowships for scholars using graphic arts and other visual culture materials. The American Historical Print Collectors Society Fellowship is for research on American prints of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, or for projects using prints as primary documentation. The "Drawn to Art" Fellowship supports research on American art, visual culture, or other projects that will make substantial use of graphic materials as primary sources. The Jay and Deborah Last Fellowships also support research on American art, visual culture, or other projects that will make substantial use of graphic materials as primary sources. Doctoral candidates and postdoctoral scholars (and non-US nationals) are eligible to apply for these graphic arts-related fellowships. The stipends for all short-term AAS fellowships are $1,850 per month, with fellowships available for a tenure of one to three months. The application deadline for both the short-term fellowships and the AAS-NEH long-term fellowships is 15 January. Holding a fellowship is not a prerequisite for doing research at AAS. Interested scholars should visit the AAS Web site at www.americanantiquarian.org. Write or call the Director of Academic Programs, American Antiquarian Society, 185 Salisbury St., Worcester, MA 01609 (508 755-2158; fax: 508 754-9069).

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY WOMEN EDUCATIONAL FOUNDATION: Program brochures are available in July, applications in August. Write or call the foundation, PO Box 4030, Iowa City, IA 52243-4030 (319 337-1716; http://www.aauw.org).

American Fellowships: One-year fellowships for women who are citizens or permanent residents of the US and who are in their final year of writing the dissertation or are conducting research at the postdoctoral level. The request deadline is 1 November. Postmark deadline is 15 November.

Career Development Grants: Awarded to women who, through higher education, are reentering the work force, making a career change, or advancing their current career. The request deadline is 1 December. Applications are due 15 December.

International Fellowships: Support qualified women from abroad who wish to undertake advanced studies or research in the US. Applicants must hold the equivalent of a bachelor's degree. The request deadline is 15 November. Postmark deadline is 15 December.

Selected Professions Fellowships: Awarded to women for graduate study in designated fields where female participation has been low. The request deadline is 20 December. Applications are due 10 January.

Community Action Grants: Provide funds for programs or nondegree research projects that promote education and equity for women and girls. Postmark deadline is 15 January.

AMERICAN CLASSICAL LEAGUE: Teacher-training scholarships are awarded to candidates training for certification to teach Latin. The maximum award is $1,000. Applicants must be members of the American Classical League. Write to the American Classical League, Maureen V. O'Donnell Scholarships, Miami Univ., Oxford, OH 45056. The deadlines are 1 December (for spring semester) and 1 March (for summer or fall semesters).

AMERICAN COUNCIL OF LEARNED SOCIETIES FELLOWSHIPS AND GRANTS: Various programs to advance research in the humanities and related social sciences. Except for dissertation fellowships in American art history and in Southeast European studies, dissertation completion fellowships, East Asian summer dissertation seminar scholarships, and grants for Southeast European language training, all applicants must have the doctorate or equivalent in publications and professional experience. Application forms for most programs administered by the ACLS must be submitted through the ACLS Online Fellowship Application system (OFA). OFA is accessible at http://ofa.acls.org or through the Fellowship and Grants section of the ACLS Web site. Contact the Office of Fellowships and Grants, ACLS (fellowships@acls.org; http://www.acls.org).

ACLS Fellowships: Includes ACLS/SSRC/NEH International and Area Studies Fellowships (for scholars pursuing research on the societies and cultures of Asia, Africa, the Middle East, Latin America and the Caribbean, Eastern Europe, and the former Soviet Union) and ACLS/New York Public Library Residential Fellowships. Approximately sixty-five awards, with maximum stipends of $30,000 for scholars at the assistant professor level, $40,000 for scholars at the associate

The Selected Poems of Fulke Greville

Edited with an Introduction by Thom Gunn
With a New Afterword by Bradin Cormack

"Thom Gunn's edition of Fulke Greville's poems is doubly welcome. It makes available, in a handsome and reader-friendly volume, the austere, compelling lyrics of one of the masters of Elizabethan poetry. And through Gunn's long introduction and Bradin Cormack's afterword, it sheds light on Gunn himself, one of the finest poets of the twentieth century."—Paul Alpers

At the Barriers

On the Poetry of Thom Gunn
Edited by Joshua Weiner

"Since his death in 2004, poetry on both sides of the Atlantic has missed Thom Gunn—his gusto, his candor, his tact, his persistent doubleness, his unfolding sympathies, his freedom from fixed ideas. This important collection of critical prose, a tribute, a reappraisal, and an extension of his life and work, returns Gunn to our attention in his living power."—Langdon Hammer

Gay Shame

Edited by David M. Halperin and Valerie Traub

"Gay Shame is an embarrassment of riches about the riches of embarrassment. As theatrical as they are theoretical, the essays collected here remind us of what we might like to forget: the powerful role of shame in gay lives, gay politics, and gay culture. Not just reflecting on shame but performing it as well, these angry, funny, sexy writings take us out of our comfort zones and put us back in touch with the queer pleasures of feeling bad."—Joseph Litvak, Tufts University

Exemplary Tales of Love and Tales of Disillusion

María de Zayas y Sotomayor

Edited and Translated by Margaret R. Greer and Elizabeth Rhodes

At the height of María de Zayas's popularity in the mid-eighteenth century, the number of editions in print of her work was exceeded only by the novels of Cervantes. But by the end of the nineteenth century, Zayas had been excluded from the Spanish literary canon because of her gender. Exemplary Tales gathers a representative sample of seven stories, which features Zayas's signature topics: gender equality and domestic violence.

graduate students and junior faculty members. Round-trip travel fare is also provided. The deadline is 15 February.

Through the Donald Groves Fund the society seeks to promote publication in the field of early American numismatics involving material dating no later than 1800. Funding is available for travel and other expenses in association with research, as well as for publication costs.

The Frances M. Schwartz Fellowship is available to New York–area students for work in numismatic and museum methodology at the society. Applicants must have a BA or equivalent; stipend varies with tenure.

Information and application forms may be obtained from the American Numismatic Society, 75 Varick St., 11th floor, New York, NY 10013 (212 571-4470; fax: 212 571-4479; info@numismatics.org; http://www.numismatics.org).

AMERICAN PHILOSOPHICAL SOCIETY: Information and forms for all programs are available for downloading from the society's Web site (http://www.amphilsoc.org); click on Fellowships and Research Grants. This section of the Web site is updated every year in June.

Franklin Research Grants: Postdoctoral grants for basic research in all fields. The maximum grant is $6,000. The deadlines (including receipt of two referee letters) are 1 October and 1 December. Decisions are announced in February and April. Information and forms are available at the society's Web site (http://www.amphilsoc.org).

Sabbatical Fellowship: Open to mid-career faculty members of universities and four-year colleges in the United States who have been granted a sabbatical or research year but who will receive financial support from their parent institutions for only the first half of the year. Candidates must not have had financially supported leave during the two years prior to 1 September of the year of application. The doctoral degree must have been conferred no fewer than seven and no more than twenty years prior to date of application. The fellowship carries a stipend of up to $40,000. Information and applications are available at the society's Web site (http://www.amphilsoc.org). The deadline is 15 October.

Phillips Fund Grants for Native American Research: The fund provides grants for work in North American Indian linguistics and ethnohistory, with preference given to younger scholars and graduate students for research on master's or doctoral dissertations. No grants are made in the areas of archaeology, ethnography, psycholinguistics, or pedagogical materials. The maximum grant is $3,500. The deadline is 1 March. Download information and forms from the society's Web site (http://www.amphilsoc.org).

Lewis and Clark Fund for Exploration and Field Research: Encourages exploratory field studies for the collection of specimens and data and to provide the imaginative stimulus that accompanies direct observation. Applications are invited from disciplines with a large dependence on field studies, such as archeology, anthropology, biology, ecology, geography, geology, and paleontology, but grants will not be restricted to these fields. Grants will be available to doctoral students and postdoctoral researchers who wish to participate in field studies for their theses or for other purposes. Undergraduates are not eligible. Budgets should be limited to travel and related expenses, including personal field equipment. Amounts will depend on travel costs but will ordinarily be in the range of several hundred dollars up to about $5,000. The deadline is 15 March. Information and forms may be downloaded from the society's Web site (http://www.amphilsoc.org).

John Hope Franklin Dissertation Fellowship: Designed to support an outstanding doctoral student at an American university who is conducting dissertation research. The objective of the fellowship is to help remedy the serious shortage of faculty members of color in core fields in the arts and sciences by supporting the PhD projects of minority students of great promise (particularly African Americans, Hispanic Americans, and Native Americans) as well as other talented students who have a demonstrated commitment to eradicating racial disparities and enlarging minority representation in academia. The fellow is expected to spend a significant amount of time in residence at the APS Library, and, therefore, all applicants should be pursuing dissertation topics in which the holdings of the library are especially strong. The APS Library's extensive collections are fully described at http://www.amphilsoc.org/library. Candidates must have completed all course work and examinations preliminary to the doctoral dissertation and be prepared to devote full time for twelve months—with no teaching obligations—to research on their dissertation projects or the writing of their dissertations. The fellow will also be expected to spend a minimum of three months in Philadelphia, in residence at the APS Library with full encouragement to conduct research at other libraries and archives in and around the city. Office space will be provided. The stipend is $25,000 for a twelve-month period, plus $5,000 to support the cost of residency in Philadelphia. The deadline is 1 April. Information and applications are available at the society's Web site (http://www.amphilsoc.org).

Library Resident Research Fellows: Support research in the society's collections. Applicants must demonstrate a need to work in the society's collections for a minimum of one month and a maximum of three months. The APS Library's extensive collections are fully described at http://www.amphilsoc.org/library. Applicants in any relevant field of scholarship may apply. Candidates whose normal place of residence is farther away than a 75-mile radius of Philadelphia will be given some preference. Applicants do not need to hold the doctorate, although PhD candidates must have passed their preliminary examinations. The stipend is $2,000 per month, and the deadline is 1 March. Information and applications are available at the society's Web site (http://www.amphilsoc.org).

AMERICAN PRINTING HISTORY ASSOCIATION FELLOWSHIP IN PRINTING HISTORY: The American Printing History Association (APHA) offers a fellowship in printing history. An award of up to $2,000 is available for research in any area of the history of printing in all its forms, including all the arts and technologies relevant to printing, the book arts, and letter forms. Applications are especially welcome from those working in the area of American printing history, but the subject of research has no geographical or chronological limitations and may be national or regional in scope, biographical, analytical, technical, or bibliographical in nature. Printing history–related study with a recognized printer or book artist may also be supported. The fellowship can be used to pay for travel, living, and other expenses. APHA fellowships are open to persons of any nationality. Applicants are asked to submit an application form, a curriculum vitae, and a one-page proposal. Two confidential letters of recommendation specific to the fellowship should be sent separately by the recommenders. The deadline for receipt of applications and letters of support is 1 December. An application form is available at the APHA Web site (http://www.printinghistory.org) or by writing to Fellowship Committee, APHA, PO Box 4519, Grand Central Sta., New York, NY 10163.

AMERICAN PSYCHOANALYTIC ASSOCIATION FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM: Seeking outstanding psychiatrists, psychologists, clinical social workers, and academics at various levels of training who are curious about how the mind works, who consider psychoanalytic thinking important for the future of their professional disciplines, and who are likely to become, or already are, leaders in their fields. Applicants may be nominated by their department chairs or program directors. When not applicable, self-nominations are encouraged; and reapplications are permitted. Applicants must be training or working in the United States during the fellowship year. Nominees must have demonstrated leadership ability in their discipline; special aptitude in research, teaching, or clinical endeavors; and special interest in psychodynamics, psychoanalysis, or applied psychoanalysis. Applications must show how the nominee's interest in the mind has developed and how that interest will be applied and influence others in the nominee's field in the future. All applicants, whether or not they receive fellowships, are assigned mentors who are psychoanalysts and members of the American Psychoanalytic Association. Applicants meet regularly with their mentors and develop programs to further their clinical, scholarly, and research interests. All fellows have their expenses paid to attend the association's biannual national meetings. Fellows are invited to attend the meetings' scientific sessions and to present clinical and other material at a variety of workshops and seminars. Applications may be downloaded at http://www.apsa.org. The deadline is 16 February. For other information about the fellowship program, contact Carolyn Gatto (cgatto@apsa.org).

AMERICAN RESEARCH CENTER IN EGYPT: Ten to twelve fellowships for doctoral candidates and senior scholars in the social sciences and humanities to pursue research in Egypt during the period 1 October to 30 September the following year. One of the senior awards is for scholar-in-residence. Possible fields of study include archaeology, architecture, art, development, Egyptology, history, Islamic studies, political science, philosophy and religion, and humanities and social sciences. The application deadline is 8 January. Please contact fellows@arce.org for more information; applications are available online at http://www.arce.org.

AMERICAN RESEARCH INSTITUTE IN TURKEY: Ten to twelve fellowships of $4,000 to $16,000 for research in Turkey during the academic year. Scholars and advanced graduate students engaged in research in Turkey on ancient, medieval, or modern times, in any field of the humanities and social sciences, are eligible. The deadline is 1 November; recipients will be notified in January. In addition, the institute cosponsors, with the NEH, postdoctoral fellowships for research in Turkey. Four- to twelve-month fellowships in the humanities, carrying stipends that range from $16,800 to $50,400, are available to citizens or permanent residents of the US. The application deadline is 1 November. Also, fifteen scholarships to an intensive summer program in advanced Turkish language at Bogazici University. Graduate students at any level of Turkish language study are eligible to apply. The deadline is 1 February. Write or call the American Research Inst. in Turkey, 3260 South St., Philadelphia, PA 19104 (215 898-3474; leinwand@sas.upenn.edu; http://ccat.sas.upenn.edu/ARIT).

AMERICAN-SCANDINAVIAN FOUNDATION GRANTS AND FELLOWSHIPS: The awards are for advanced study and research in the Scandinavian countries and range from $5,000 (short term) to $23,000 (academic year). The deadline is 1 November. Write to Grants Div., American-Scandinavian Foundation, 58 Park Ave., New York, NY 10016 (grants@amscan.org; http://www.amscan.org).

ARCHAEOLOGICAL INSTITUTE OF AMERICA: Offers five fellowships, two scholarships, and two grants. Fellowships are generally awarded to students in doctoral programs or to recent recipients of doctorates; scholarships are available to undergraduates. Application guidelines and forms may be downloaded from the AIA Web site at www.archaeological.org, and additional information may be had by contacting the Fellowship Coordinator, Archaeological Inst. of America, 656 Beacon St., Boston, MA 02215 (617 358-4184).

Olivia James Traveling Fellowship: Offers $25,000 for study and travel in Greece, the Aegean Islands, Sicily, Southern Italy, Asia Minor, and Mesopotamia. Students in archaeology, classics, sculpture and history are most suitable. Applicants must be United States citizens; the application deadline is 1 November.

Harriet and Leon Pomerance Fellowship: One $5,000 fellowship for work on an individual scholarly project on Aegean Bronze Age archaeology. Applicants must be citizens or permanent residents of the United States or Canada; the application deadline is 1 November.

Archaeology of Portugal Fellowship: Stipends average $4,000 and are used to support archaeological study in Portugal. Portuguese, American, and other international scholars are encouraged to reply; the application deadline is 1 November.

Anna C. and Oliver C. Colburn: One $11,000 fellowship awarded every other year for an incoming associate or student member of the American School of Classical Studies at Athens. The stipend supports studies at the ASCSA for no more than a year, and the geographic area and cultural period of study is not specified. Applicants must be citizens or permanent residents of the United States or Canada; the next deadline is 15 January 2010.

Helen M. Woodruff Fellowship: One $10,000 fellowship offered by the American Academy in Rome and the AIA to support study of archaeological and classical studies. Information and application forms must be obtained from the AAR; details are on the AIA Web site and the AAR Web site (www.aarome.org). The application deadline is 1 November.

Jane C. Waldbaum Archaeological Field School Scholarship: Five or more $1,000 awards to support junior and senior undergraduates and first-year graduate students. Applicants must be enrolled in a college or university in the United States or Canada (location of field school is not restricted); the application deadline is 15 March.

APA-AIA Minority Scholarship: Two awards of not more than $3,000 are presented jointly by the American Philological Association and the AIA for the purpose of furthering an undergraduates' preparation for graduate work in the classics or classical archaeology. Applications must be submitted to the APA office; details are available at www.apaclassics.org. The next application deadline is 12 December 2008.

Publications Preparation Grant: A two-year $5,000 grant awarded to support scholars in completing and publishing archaeological field research in a peer-reviewed outlet. The grant is intended to assist in the final analysis and writing of the results of field research so that, by the end of the second year, a completed manuscript may be submitted for publication. Applications are welcome from graduate students and postdoctoral professionals; the application deadline is 1 November.

Publications Subvention Grant: Offers subventions in support of new book-length publications in the field of classical archaeology; awards average $5,000 but may be smaller. Particularly welcome are projects that publish the work of first-time authors or that represent the publication of final reports of primary data from sites already excavated or surveyed but still unpublished. Applications are welcome from scholars and nonprofit publishers of all nations; the application deadlines are 1 April and 1 November.

ARIZONA STATE UNIVERSITY INSTITUTE FOR HUMANITIES RESEARCH: Two visiting fellowships for humanities scholars from institutions of higher education in the United States or abroad to spend a semester-in-residence at the university in spring 2011. IHR fellows pursue research and writing in an environment designed to be stimulating and supportive. During their residency, fellows contribute to the general enrichment of humanities scholarship through seminars and public lectures as well as frequent meetings with university fellows working on related topics. The one-semester visiting fellows stipend (15 January through 15 May) is $25,000, and awards include an office and support services. Visit the IHR web page (http://ihr.asu.edu/funding/grants/fellows) for additional information, including the 2009–10 theme and application materials. The final deadline, to be confirmed, is February 2010. For additional information, contact Sally Kitch, Director (skitch@asu.edu), or Carol Withers, Assistant Director (carol.withers@asu.edu), Inst. for Humanities Research, Arizona State Univ., PO Box 876505, Tempe 85287-6505 (480 965-3000).

LEO BAECK INSTITUTE: Fellowships to assist doctoral students, recent PhDs, and established academics in research on social, communal, and intellectual history of German-speaking Jewry. Three short-term programs are offered: LBI-DAAD Fellowships, for work at the institute in New York or the archives in Germany; the Fritz Halbers Fellowship, to assist doctoral students in research making extensive use of the holdings of the institute in New York; and the David Baumgardt Memorial Scholarship, to assist doctoral students and PhDs in research on philosophy and the life and work of Baumgardt, Wissenschaft des Judentums, and ethics. The deadline is 1 November. Write or call the Leo Baeck Inst., 15 West 16th St., New York, NY 10011 (212 744-6400; fax: 212 988-1305; lbaeck@lbi.cjh.org; http://www.lbi.org).

THE SCHOOL OF CRITICISM & THEORY at Cornell University

An international program of study with leading figures in critical theory invites you to apply for its 2010 Summer Session, June 13 - July 22

IN NEW YORK STATE'S FINGER LAKES REGION

"One of the most enriching intellectual experiences of my academic life."
Karine Côté-Boucher, York University

"SCT was a tremendous experience. It provided precisely the cure of mind and body I needed to complement my duties as a faculty member."
Anne Birien, James Madison University

"Our classroom was a rich mosaic of heterogeneous disciplinary backgrounds and interests"
Alicia Garcia, Johns Hopkins University

"At SCT the exposure to learning is absolutely open and continuous"
Stefan Selenu, Brown University

"One of the select places in which the question 'How to theorize now?' is taken seriously."
Andrea Bachner, Harvard University

"This summer odyssey transformed not only many ideas I previously had about theory and criticism, but also the very experience of being an academic."
Katarzyna Bojarska, Polish Academy of Sciences

"International 'Academostars' turned out to be flesh-and-blood human beings with true interest in our comments and questions (and with great senses of humor)."
Gyorgy Tury, University of Pecs

The Program
In an intense six-week course of study, participants from around the world, across disciplines in the humanities and social sciences, explore recent developments in critical theory.

Admission
Applications from faculty members and advanced graduate students at universities worldwide will be reviewed beginning February 1, 2010. Admissions decisions are announced in March.

Applicants are eligible to compete for partial tuition scholarships and are urged to seek funding from their home institutions.

postdoctoral or equivalent research in its collections. The library is Yale University's principal repository for literary papers and for early manuscripts and rare books in the fields of literature, theology, history, and the natural sciences. The Beinecke collections afford opportunities for research in such disciplines as medieval, Renaissance, and eighteenth-century studies; religious, intellectual, and art history; photography; music; American studies; and modernism in art and literature. The Beinecke also houses the Osborn Collection, noted for its British literary and historical manuscripts, as well as outstanding special collections devoted to American literature, German literature, and western Americana. The fellowships support travel to and from New Haven and pay a living allowance of $4,000 per month. The deadline is 15 December. For complete information write to the Director, Beinecke Rare Book and Manuscript Library, PO Box 208240, New Haven, CT 06520-8240 (beinecke.fellowships@yale.edu), or visit the library's Web site (http://www.library.yale.edu/beinecke/).

CHATEAUBRIAND FELLOWSHIPS: Fifteen fellowships in social sciences and humanities for doctoral candidates currently enrolled in an American university whose research would benefit from association with a French institution and the use of French archival resources. Candidates' dissertations should treat economic, social, literary, historical, social science, or political aspects of France. Candidates need not be US citizens but cannot be French citizens. The award amount is €1,300 per month and includes a round-trip ticket to France, health insurance, and around 30 days' per diem for traveling in France for research purposes. The application deadline is 15 December, and decisions are announced in March. For more information, visit http://www.frenchculture.org/education or contact Grenadine Reverand, French Embassy, Cultural Services, 4101 Reservoir Road, Washington, DC 20007 (grenadine.reverand@diplomatie.gouv.fr).

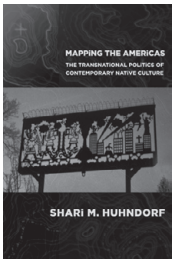

UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO LIBRARY SPECIAL COLLECTIONS RESEARCH FELLOWSHIPS: A small number of short-term research fellowships for visiting researchers residing more than 100 miles from Chicago whose project would be advanced by on-site consultation of materials in the Special Collections Research Center. Awards will be made based on an evaluation of the research proposal and the applicant's ability to complete it successfully. Priority will be given to projects that cannot be conducted without on-site access to the original materials and where University of Chicago collections are central to the research. Support for beginning scholars is a priority of the program. Up to $3,000 of support will be awarded to help cover projected travel, living, and research expenses. Applications from women, minorities, and persons with disabilities are encouraged. The deadline for applications is 16 February 2010. Notice of awards will be made by 17 April 2010, for use between 1 July 2010 and 30 June 2011. FIVE COLLEGE FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM FOR MINORITY SCHOLARS: Located in Western Massachusetts, the five schools—Amherst, Hampshire, Mount Holyoke, and Smith Colleges and the University of Massachusetts—associate as members of a consortium, Five Colleges, Incorporated. The Five College Fellowship Program provides a year in residence at one of the campuses for minority graduate students in the final phase of the doctoral degree. The purposes of the program are to enable fellows to complete their dissertation, to encourage their interest in college teaching, and to acquaint them with the schools. Each fellow is hosted within an appropriate department or program at one of the five colleges. (At Smith, recipients hold a Mendenhall Fellowship.) The fellowship includes a stipend of $30,000, office space, housing or housing assistance, research funds, and library privileges at the five colleges. While the award places primary emphasis on completion of the dissertation, most fellows teach at the hosting institution (but no more than a single one-semester course). The dates of the fellowship are 1 September 2010 to 31 May 2011 (nonrenewable). For further information about the deadline and application materials, contact neckert@fivecolleges.edu or call 413 256-8316.

FOLGER INSTITUTE: Graduate students and faculty members from affiliated institutions are eligible to apply for grants-in-aid funded by those universities' membership fees. Funds contribute to travel and lodging in support of participation in seminars. Applicants for travel aid should see their campus representatives to the institute's Central Executive Committee. In collaboration with the American Society for Eighteenth-Century Studies, the institute also awards one ASECS–Folger Institute fellowship a year to a scholar researching the period 1660 to 1815. When specified in program descriptions, eligibility for grants-in-aid is extended to scholars outside the consortium. For more information and a list of affiliated institutions, write or call Kathleen Lynch, Folger Inst., 201 East Capitol St., SE, Washington, DC 20003-1094 (202 675-0333; fax: 202 675-0378; institute@folger.edu; http://www.folger.edu).

FOLGER SHAKESPEARE LIBRARY: Postdoctoral fellowships for any project that will draw significantly on the library's holdings: Shakespeare; English, American, and European literature and drama (1500–1800); English, American, and Continental history (1500–1715); political, economic, and legal history (1500–1715); history of philosophy, art, music, religion, science and medicine, and exploration (1500–1715). Short-Term Fellowships and a limited number of Senior Long-Term and NEH Fellowships and Andrew W. Mellon Foundation Fellowships are available. Write or call Carol Brobeck, Committee on Research Fellowships, Folger Shakespeare Library, 201 East Capitol St., SE, Washington, DC 20003 (202 675-0348; fax: 202 675-0378; http://www.folger.edu).

FORD FOUNDATION DIVERSITY FELLOWSHIPS: Fellowships for research-based study in the sciences and the humanities at the predoctoral, dissertation, and postdoctoral levels. Qualified applicants must be US citizens or nationals who are committed to teaching at the college or university level and to increasing diversity in the professoriat. The fellowships are portable and provide a generous stipend as well as an institutional allowance for predoctoral and postdoctoral fellowships. Complete information on these programs can be obtained from http://national-academies.org/fellowships. Applications must be submitted online from the Web site; CVs will not be accepted. Questions can be directed to the Fellowship Programs Office, National Research Council of the National Academies, 500 5th St., NW, Keck 576, Washington, DC 20001 (202 334-2872; infofell@nas.edu).

FORDHAM MEDIEVAL FELLOWS PROGRAM: Supports one or two semesters of research at Fordham's Center for Medieval Studies. The award includes faculty status at university facilities, library access, a carrel, a research-oriented e-mail account, and photocopy privileges but no stipend. For more information, write to Director, Center for Medieval Studies, Fordham Univ., Bronx, NY 10458 (718 817-4655; fax: 718 817-3987; medievals@fordham.edu). The deadline is 15 June.

FRANKEL INSTITUTE FOR ADVANCED JEWISH STUDIES: The University of Michigan's Frankel Institute for Advanced Judaic Studies announces its theme for the coming year: Jews and the City. Applications for semester- or year-long residence are invited from scholars working in any period or discipline related to the topic. Scholars are invited to explore diasporic cities, sacred space, religious practices, and cities of the mind and are encouraged to examine the intersections of gender and sexuality, commerce and entertainment, politics and public culture, labor and domesticity, and class and religion as mediated through urban spaces. Welcome is work concerning interethnic relations, identity formation, ethnicity, cultural production, and imagination. The application deadline is 20 October. For more information and to download an application, please contact Anita Norich (734 763-9047; JudaicStudies@umich.edu) or visit the institute's Web site (http://www.lsa.umich.edu/Judaic).

FRIENDS OF THE LONGFELLOW HOUSE: The collections of the Longfellow National Historic Site (Vassall-Craigie-Longfellow House) in Cambridge, Massachusetts, include a significant archive of materials (letters, photographs, material objects) on a variety of subjects from the seventeenth to early twentieth century. To encourage the use of these archives and collections, the Friends of the Longfellow House have established two annual fellowships with stipends of $1,200: the Diana Korzenik Fellowship and the Stanley Paterson Fellowship. Both stipends are intended to help defray the living or travel expenses of researchers who wish to come to the Cambridge/Boston area to use the Longfellow House archives/collections as well as related archives such as those in the Houghton Library at Harvard or at the Massachusetts Historical Society in Boston. Recipients are requested to be in residence in the Cambridge/Boston area for at least ten days at any time from May 2010 through March 2011 while conducting their research. At some later time the recipient is requested to send the Friends a copy of the results in a published or unpublished form or, possibly, present the results in a talk to the Friends and the public. The application deadline is 1 April 2010. To be considered for either fellowship, applicants should submit a single completed Korzenik/Paterson application form, a brief (1–3 pp.) project description, and a curriculum vitae. These materials are available online at http://longfellowfriends.org. The project proposal should include an account of how the applicant intends to use archival materials located in the Longfellow House and Cambridge/Boston area and the other sources of funding the applicant has or expects to receive to support this project. Mail requests and completed applications should be sent, preferably by e-mail, to Robert Mitchell, 26 Farrar St., Cambridge, MA 02138 (mitchell@clarku.edu; http://www.longfellowfriends.org).

FRIENDS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN, MADISON, LIBRARIES GRANTS-IN-AID: A minimum of four grants-in-aid annually, each of one month's duration, for research in the humanities in any field appropriate to the library's collections. Each grantee receives $2,000 and is expected to be in residence during the term of the award, which may be taken up at any time during the year. An additional sum of $1,000 is available for those traveling from outside continental North America. Applications are due 1 February. For application forms or more information, see http://giving.library.wisc.edu/friends/grant-in-aid.shtml or write to Friends of the University of Wisconsin, Madison, Libraries, 976 Memorial Library, 728 State St., Univ. of Wisconsin, Madison 53706, or contact Thomas H. Anthologies

Wielding the Pen

Writings on Authorship by American Women of the Nineteenth Century

edited by Anne E. Boyd

"An important addition to our library of nineteenth-century American women's writing, illuminating in their own voices their literary ambitions, frustrations, and triumphs."
—Karen L. Kilcup, The University of North Carolina at Greensboro

Wielding the Pen presents a wide spectrum of nineteenth-century American women's writings on the themes of authorship and creativity. These works reflect the fears, desires, and motivations of female authors, as well as the opportunities and obstacles they encountered as professional writers.

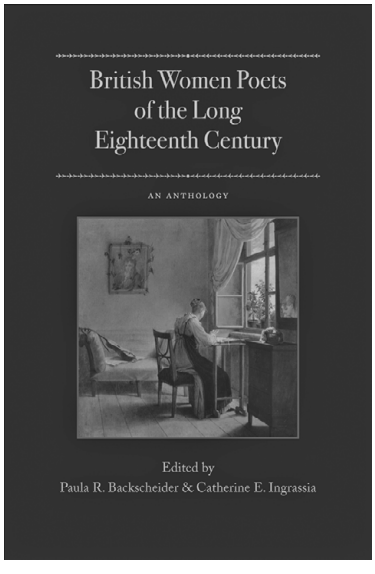

Anne E. Boyd includes representative samples from a diverse range of writers. These writings, some of which are reprinted here for the first time, challenge prevailing notions about women and authorship in the nineteenth century and shed light on the relationship between women's lives as writers and their evolving roles in the larger, male-dominated literary community.

British Women Poets of the Long Eighteenth Century

An Anthology

edited by Paula R. Backscheider and Catherine E. Ingrassia

"A groundbreaking endeavor to offer not only an anthology of poetry by women but also a new and different kind of anthology, one that offers guidance to readers on how to approach the poems."
—Charles Haskell Hinnant, University of Missouri, Columbia

This anthology gathers 368 poems by 80 British women poets of the long eighteenth century. Few of these poems have been reprinted since originally published, and all are crucial to understanding fully the literary history of women writers.

Paula R. Backscheider and Catherine E. Ingrassia have selected poems that represent the best work of skilled poets, creating a wonderful mix of canonical and little-known pieces. Their substantial part introductions, textual notes, bibliographical information, and biographical sketches situate the poets and their writings within the cultural and political milieu in which they appeared.

TED GENOWAYS

"Sherlock Holmes could not have done better. Genoways has traced and documented...Walt Whitman's 'lost' years, the years when the man who eventually heard America singing found his own voice and not incidentally transformed himself from Walter to Walt, even as the country marched to war. An unsentimental, yet eloquent (and definitively footnoted) detective story/homage."

The Aesthetics of Japanese Fascism

ALAN TANSMAN

"The range of Tansman's coverage is truly prodigious and diverse.... His scholarship is impeccable: he knows the relevant secondary literature and has absorbed an impressively wide-ranging metacritical literature, which he has used with great originality and authority to untangle the knotted relationship between aesthetic modernism and fascism. He reads difficult texts brilliantly, with seeming and enviable effortlessness and his translations are a joy to read."

projects involving the humanities. Those institutions include universities; four-year colleges; junior and community colleges; elementary and secondary schools; educational, cultural, professional, and community groups; museums and historical organizations; libraries; public agencies; and public radio and television stations. The endowment welcomes applications for support from all such institutions and groups, from individual US scholars with or without academic affiliation, and from foreign nationals who have been living in the US or its territories for at least three years at the time of application. Fields of support: According to the act that established the endowment, the humanities include, but are not limited to, the following fields: history, philosophy, language, linguistics, literature, archaeology, jurisprudence, history and criticism of the arts, ethics, comparative religion, and those aspects of the social sciences employing historical or philosophical approaches. This last category includes cultural anthropology, sociology, political theory, and international relations. Gifts-and-matching grants: An applicant may sometimes be offered a "gifts-and-matching" grant as a supplement to an outright grant or as the sole form of endowment support. When the endowment offers to support a project through one of these grants, it is up to the grantee to raise gifts from outside his or her own organization to a level approved by the endowment. The endowment then matches this money with federal funds, but the total sum that can be federally matched is limited by the annual congressional appropriations for that purpose. Challenge grants: These grants offer one federal dollar for every three raised from nonfederal sources. Challenge grants may be used to establish or enhance endowments and funds may also be used for one-time capital expenditures (such as construction and renovation, purchase of equipment, and acquisitions) that bring long-term benefits to the institution and to the humanities more broadly. Deadlines: Those interested in applying for a grant in the humanities or learning about NEH program deadlines should visit http://www.neh.gov for information and guidelines related to grant programs offered by the endowment. To speak with someone directly, call 202 606-8446. (Hearing-impaired persons should call 202 606-8282.) E-mail inquiries should be sent to info@neh.gov.

For state humanities council deadlines, write or call NEH for the address of the state humanities council office in your state.

NATIONAL FOUNDATION FOR JEWISH CULTURE: Approximately ten dissertation fellowships in Jewish studies or in areas related to Jewish history, community, or institutions are awarded each year. Stipends range from $7,000 to $10,000. The deadline is 5 January. In addition, the Sidney and Hadassah Musher Publication Prize is awarded to facilitate the publication of a dissertation relating to Jewish life in Israel or America, from 1880 to the present. The Political Imagination in History

Essays concerning J.G.A. Pocock

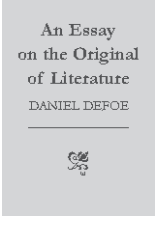

J.G.A. Pocock is the greatest historian of political thought of our time. His writings belong to a tradition in the humanities which has looked to the research university as its sign and symbol. This volume throws into relief Pocock's procedures and concerns. Edited by D.N. DeLuna assisted by Perry Anderson and Glenn Burgess, it offers a comprehensive appraisal of his writings. The contributing essayists work in diverse fields in history and literature: Glenn Burgess, J.C.D. Clark, D.N. DeLuna, J.A.W. Gunn, Robert D. Hume, Michael McKeon, Gordon Schochet, and J.G.A. Pocock himself.

Applicants must demonstrate the necessity of substantial on-site use of the center's collections. Available fellowships include one- to three-month residential fellowships at stipends of $3,000 per month and travel stipends of $1,200 to $1,700 for projects that require less than one month's research at the center. Six $1,500 dissertation fellowships are available for graduate students who are working on doctoral dissertations. All applicants, with the exception of applicants for dissertation fellowships, must be postdoctorates or independent scholars with substantial records of achievement. United States citizens and foreign nationals are eligible to apply. Those who have previously received a Ransom Center fellowship are eligible to reapply after one year has passed. Complete applications must be received by 1 February. For more information about the Ransom Center, the fellowship program, and full application instructions, visit www.hrc.utexas.edu/fellowships/.

RICE UNIVERSITY HUMANITIES RESEARCH CENTER: External Faculty Fellowships offer up to four one-semester residential fellowships for external faculty members during academic year 2010–11. The fellowship includes a $40,000–$50,000 stipend, depending on rank, as well as an allowance for research and relocation to be used during the appointment period. Fellows will be in residence at the center and will teach one course. The deadline is 2 November. Andrew W. Mellon Postdoctoral Fellowships offer up to three two-year fellowships for promising scholars, starting 1 July 2010, and provides up to two years' transition between graduate school and faculty appointments. The stipend is $40,000 per year, and fellows will teach one course per semester. The deadline is 30 November. Fellowship recipients participate in the intellectual life of the center and the university. Applicants should describe how their research projects contribute to Rice's intellectual community, including faculty research activity in the School of Humanities, participation in an HRC faculty workshop, or other interdisciplinary humanities initiatives. Direct inquiries to the attention of either program at Humanities Research Center MS-620, Rice Univ., PO Box 1892, Houston, TX 77251-1892 (713 348-4227, hrc@rice.edu). HELEN ANN MINS ROBBINS FELLOWSHIP: Predoctoral fellowship to support a period of research at the Rossell Hope Robbins Library for a woman working on a dissertation in medieval studies. The award, presented every other year, is $20,000. For more information and application materials, write to Alan Lupack, Curator, Rossell Hope Robbins Library, Rush Rhees 416, Univ. of Rochester, Rochester, NY 14627 (alupack@library.rochester.edu), or visit the Fellowship's Web page (http://www.library.rochester.edu/index.cfm?PAGE=577). The deadline for the 2010–11 fellowship is 1 April 2010.

ROMANCE WRITERS OF AMERICA: The grant program seeks to develop and support academic research devoted to genre romance novels, writers, and readers. Appropriate fields of specialization include communications, cultural studies, English language and literature, gender studies, linguistics, literacy studies, rhetoric, education, anthropology, psychology, and sociology. Proposals in interdisciplinary and cross-disciplinary studies are welcome. RWA does not fund creative work (such as novels or films). The program is open to faculty members at accredited institutions, independent scholars, and doctoral candidates. RWA will award up to $5,000 per year; the deadline is 1 December. For a complete grant description and application instructions, contact RWA, Attn: Academic Grant, 14615 Benfer Road, Houston, TX 77069 (grants@rwanational.org) or visit http://www.rwanational.org/homepage/grantsdescription.htm.

W. Ross Roy Collection. For further information, write to the Director of Special Collections, Thomas Cooper Library, Univ. of South Carolina, Columbia 29208 (scottp@mailbox.sc.edu). The next deadline is 31 January 2010.

SCHOMBURG CENTER FOR RESEARCH IN BLACK CULTURE, THE NEW YORK PUBLIC LIBRARY: The residency program assists those scholars and professionals whose research in the black experience can benefit from extended access to the center's collections. The stipend is $30,000 for six months and up to $60,000 for twelve months. Write or call the Scholars-in-Residence Program, Schomburg Center for Research in Black Culture, 515 Malcolm X Blvd., New York, NY 10037-1801 (212 491-2228; http://www.nypl.org/research/sc/scholars.html). The deadline is 1 December.

SEX, RACE, AND GLOBALIZATION PROJECT AT THE UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA: The Committee on Lesbian, Gay, and Bisexual Studies at the University of Arizona offers two Rockefeller Humanities Residency Fellowships for the academic year. The Sex, Race, and Globalization (SRG) project explores the imbrication of sexuality, gender, and race with economic, political, and informational processes across local, regional, national, and transnational scales. Noting that global movements of capital, information, and people are facilitated, blocked, and diverted by sexual, racial, and national categories, even as cultural formations are reshaped by globalization, we seek to describe and explain the links between exploitative economic processes and structures of sexual, gendered, and racial inequality. Recognizing that globalization is a transformation of prior systems of global economic and political interaction, we welcome applications from scholars working in or across various historical periods. While the SRG project sustains the commitment of lesbian and gay studies to recognizing the significance of sexuality, we seek to develop alliances among identity and area studies fields and, therefore, welcome applications from scholars who have not worked in the context of lesbian and gay studies. Fellows receive a stipend of $35,000, travel and research funds ($5,000), a moving allowance ($2,000), an office, and full access to university libraries, computer systems, recreational facilities, and the many scholarly and cultural programs offered across the university. Application deadline is 1 December. For more information and application guidelines, call or write the Committee on Lesbian, Gay, and Bisexual Studies (520 626-3431; lgbs@u.arizona.edu; http://www.arizona.edu/~lgbcom).

SOCIAL SCIENCE RESEARCH COUNCIL: Supports full-time graduate students in the humanities and social sciences, enrolled in doctoral programs in the United States, conducting dissertation field research in all areas and regions of the world. Fifty fellowships of up to $20,000 will be awarded with funds provided by the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation. Further information about deadlines, application

REFIGURING THE SACRED FEMININE
The Poems of John Donne, Aemilia Lanyer, and John Milton

Theresa M. DiPasquale

"DiPasquale's 'historically grounded and intertextually sensitive formalist analysis' . . . focuses on illuminating the poems themselves, rather than their theological or political underpinnings. The result is a complex and balanced study that is satisfying to read and digest, not least because of its expressive, sensuous, and at times witty style."

MAGIC AND MASCULINITY IN EARLY MODERN ENGLISH DRAMA

Ian McAdam

The prevalent worldview of early modern England, clearly shaped by Protestantism, dismissed magical belief as an ideological delusion inherent to Catholicism. That same Protestantism encouraged a strong sense of individualism, through which a new masculinity found key expression. Ian McAdam's innovative study examines these issues and asks: why, then, did magical self-empowerment retain such a hold on the artistic and cultural imagination of early modern English society?

THE DEVELOPMENT OF MILTON'S THOUGHT
Law, Government, and Religion

John T. Shawcross

"Shawcross offers a careful, convincing consideration of Milton's legal, political, theological, and artistic thought, both its application and its effect. All along the way, he guides the reader of Milton toward a fuller, more sensitive evaluation of Milton's artistry. . . . Highly recommended." — Choice

WRITING THE FOREST IN EARLY MODERN ENGLAND
The Sylvan Pastoral Nation

Jeffrey S. Theis

As a unique ecocritical study of forests in early modern English literature, this book is the first to identify "sylvan pastoral" as a distinct literary form and thus makes an important contribution to the growing field of ecocriticism and the history of environmentalism.

Literature and the Brain

Norman N. Holland

This book goes straight to the human core of literature when it explains how our brains convert the imaginary of stories, poems, plays, and film into real pleasure. Our brains can do this, because we know in our frontal lobes that we cannot act to change our posteriorly processed perceptions. This is only one of the special ways our brains react as we go from the creation of literature to transport, to "poetic faith," to enjoyment, to meaning, and finally to evaluation. 474 pp. 13 ill.
