Speech Acts

An Essay in the Philosophy of Language

JOHN R. SEARLE

Professor Searle investigates problems in the philosophy of language from the standpoint that language is a rule-governed form of behavior. Taking the "speech act" as his fundamental concept, he analyses what it is to make statements and promises, ask questions, give orders, etc., in terms of rules and actions performed according to the rules. The results are then applied to current problems in philosophy.

Professor Searle is especially concerned to counter fallacies which spring from the lack of a coherent theory of speech acts. $7.50

Introduction to Theoretical Linguistics

JOHN LYONS

"Meets the very real need for a comprehensive introduction to linguistics... The chapters are extremely well constructed, so that at all points the author can build carefully on established ground. Terms are meticulously defined and exemplified. . . The author pays his reader the compliment of being prepared to make an intellectual effort. The book is lucid, stimulating, exciting." — Modern Languages

Cloth $11.50 Paper $3.75

Sentence Analysis in Modern Malay

M. BLANCHE LEWIS

The first detailed application of the methods of modern linguistic analysis to the sentence structure of Malay.

This empirical study is based on extended analysis of short dramatic texts in colloquial modern Malay by Za'ba. Miss Lewis's analyses are, with modifications, kept within the grammatical framework which she deduced from a pioneer study made by Dr E. M. F. Payne in 1964. The book includes a glossary and translations of the texts. $10.00

Principes de Phonologie

N. S. Troubetzkoy

Originally published in 1938, this classic treatise has been regarded as one of the crucial works in twentieth-century linguistics.

The Theory of Distinctiveness and the Theory of Delimitative Elements, comprising the whole of phonology, are here set forth as first outlined at the International Congress of Linguists at The Hague in 1928.

This text has been translated by Professor J. Cantineau of L'École Nationale des Langues Orientales Vivantes.

There are four appendices which include relevant essays by Troubetzkoy and Roman Jakobson.

An Essay on Language

Robert A. Hall, Jr.

Professor Hall touches on all the major issues in mid-twentieth-century linguistics. The titles of the chapters are indicative of the range of topics covered:

Non-Linguistic Premises,
The "Life-Cycle" of the Idiolect,
Language in Society,
The Characteristics of Language Structure,
The Description of Linguistic Structure,
Language Changes—But How?
Language Changes—But Why?
Linguistics and Other Disciplines,
The Function of Linguistics.

For everyone with an interest in linguistics who has progressed beyond the elementary stages, Professor Hall's concise monograph provides a well-balanced orientation.

PUBLICATIONS

of the

Linguistic Society of America

LANGUAGE, the journal of the Linguistic Society of America, carries technical articles dealing with problems of linguistic science, reviews of recently published linguistic works, and notes of interest to professional linguists.

As supplements to LANGUAGE, the Linguistic Society of America issues two series of occasional publications, LANGUAGE MONOGRAPHS and LANGUAGE DISSERTATIONS. These are included in the subscription price of the journal, but may also be purchased separately. In the LANGUAGE MONOGRAPH series, the Society publishes independently subsidized studies which are too long to appear as articles or are otherwise unsuitable for publication in the journal. In the LANGUAGE DISSERTATION series, the Society publishes independently subsidized studies which have been accepted by American or foreign universities as doctoral dissertations, provided that they treat linguistic problems. The Society assumes no responsibility for the scholarly merit of these dissertations. The method of application for admission to either of these two series of supplements, and the terms of publication, may be secured from the Secretary of the Society.

SPECIAL PUBLICATIONS in the field of linguistic science are issued by the Society from time to time. These are not included in the subscription price of the journal.

A list of publications in print is available from the Secretary of the Society. Current prices for LANGUAGE are as follows: Complete volumes 1–28, $5.00, vols. 29–44, $8.00; vol. 45 onward, $16.00; single numbers from vols. 1–28, $1.75; vols. 29–44, $3.00; vol. 45 onward, $6.00. Reprint editions of volumes 1–38 of LANGUAGE, Monographs 1–21, and Dissertations 1–52 are available from Kraus Reprint Corporation, 16 East 46th Street, New York, N.Y. 10017, and a price list can be obtained from that address.
