TOWARDS A SEMANTIC DESCRIPTION OF ENGLISH

By GEOFFREY N. LEECH

Mr. Leech expounds a theory of semantic structure intended to free the study of meaning from the fragmented and provisional treatment it receives today. He attempts to combine semantic theory and semantic description into a comprehensive "semantics," and he believes this synthesis is essential if the study of meaning is to reach the degree of development attained by other components of linguistic analysis.

THE NORWEGIAN LANGUAGE IN AMERICA

A Study in Bilingual Behavior
By EINAR HAUGEN

Now in one volume, the book considered the most important reference work for any scholar concerned with the linguistic problems of immigrants to this country. "A magnificent and epoc-making book. Every significant feature of immigrant history and adjustment has been dealt with."

— Martin Joos, Language

728 pages, maps, notes, tables, index $15.00

INVESTIGATING ENGLISH STYLE

By DAVID CRYSTAL and DEREK DAVY

An authoritative study analyzing certain features of language that characterize some of the major varieties of English as spoken and written today. The authors provide many examples of "real" language and subject them to analysis that draws attention to their most relevant features.

PUBLICATIONS

of the

Linguistic Society of America

LANGUAGE, the journal of the Linguistic Society of America, carries technical articles dealing with problems of linguistic science, reviews of recently published linguistic works, and notes of interest to professional linguists.

As supplements to LANGUAGE, the Linguistic Society of America issues a series of occasional publications, LANGUAGE MONOGRAPHS. These are included in the subscription price of the journal, but may also be purchased separately. In the LANGUAGE MONOGRAPH series, the Society publishes independently subsidized studies which are too long to appear as articles or are otherwise unsuitable for publication in the journal. The method of application for admission to this series of supplements, and the terms of publication, may be secured from the Secretary of the Society.

SPECIAL PUBLICATIONS in the field of linguistic science are issued by the Society from time to time. These are not included in the subscription price of the journal.

MEETING HANDBOOKS, which contain program listings and abstracts of papers presented at LSA Annual Meetings, 1965 through 1969, may also be purchased separately.

A list of publications in print is available from the Secretary of the Society. Current prices for LANGUAGE are as follows: Complete volume 43, $8.00; volume 45 onward, $16.00; single numbers currently in print from volumes 39–44, $3.00; volume 45 onward, $6.00. Reprint editions of volumes 1–38 of LANGUAGE, Monographs 1–21, and Dissertations 1–52 are available from Kraus Reprint Corporation, 16 East 46th Street, New York, N.Y. 10017, and a price list can be obtained from that address.
