Single Imperfection

Milton, Marriage and Friendship

THOMAS H. LUXON

"[Luxon] has many fine things to say about Milton, marriage, and friendship, and he sets new standards of stylistic excellence for scholarly prose; every Miltonist should become familiar with his work." —Cithara

ISBN 0-8207-0373-7 $58.00s cloth

Divine Subjection

The Rhetoric of Sacramental Devotion in Early Modern England

GARY KUCHAR

"Very reader-friendly. . . . Kuchar's book gives a highly detailed and versatile interpretation of a delightfully broad set of texts, both poetry and prose. . . . this is a highly welcomed approach." —Rhetorical Review

ISBN 0-8207-0370-2 $58.00s cloth

Milton and the Rhetoric of Zeal

THOMAS KRANIDAS

"Milton and the Rhetoric of Zeal is at once explanation and admonition, both appreciative and wary of Milton's thrilling, brutal rhetoric. Engaging and well written, it reminds us why Milton's prose still matters." —College Literature

ISBN 0-8207-0361-3 $58.00s cloth

Theological Milton

Deity, Discourse and Heresy in the Miltonic Canon

MICHAEL LIEB

"Michael Lieb has written a splendid book [that] offers the most theologically engaged study we have of Milton's 'godhead' in relation to his poetry and theological prose. It marks a major intervention in the scholarly debates over Milton's controversial depiction of God in Paradise Lost and Samson Agonistes. . . .It is a major contribution to our understanding of Milton's God and to the broader area of Milton's theology." —David Loewenstein, University of Wisconsin, Madison

ISBN 0-8207-0374-5 $60.00s cloth

Milton the Dramatist

TIMOTHY J. BURBERY

This book-length study of Milton as a dramatist fills a long-standing gap in Milton scholarship. Burbery emphasizes Milton's dramatic achievements and thus restores a more equitable balance to our appreciation of his total literary achievement.

ISBN 0-8207-0387-7 $58.00s cloth
ISBN-13 978-0-8207-0387-9

Milton in the Age of Fish

Essays on Authorship, Text, and Terrorism

MICHAEL LIEB &
ALBERT C. LABRIOLA, EDITORS

This multiauthor collection by some of the most preeminent Miltonists today highlights the paramount importance of Stanley Fish to Milton studies, and at the same time provides major insights into the nature of Milton's works.

ISBN 0-8207-0384-2 $60.00s cloth
ISBN-13 978-0-8207-0384-8

The Age of Milton and the Scientific Revolution

ANGELICA DURAN

Duran reveals the way in which Milton's works interacted with the revolutionary work of his contemporaries in science to participate in the dynamic "advancement of learning" that demanded the energies of both artists and scientists to produce its great human achievements. Available December 2006.

Modernism after Postmodernity

Andreas Huyssen, special issue editor
number 99

This special issue demonstrates that modernity and modernism in all their historical and geographic complexities remain key signifiers for anyone trying to understand where we come from and where we may be going. The essays assembled here, which discuss architecture, literature, film, photography, and the visual arts, offer an account of modernism revisited after postmodernity and encourage further research on the nexus between modernism and modernity in our time.

Journal Special Issues

Camera Obscura at Thirty:
Archiving the Past, Imagining the Future
a special issue of Camera Obscura
issue 61 (volume 21, number 1)

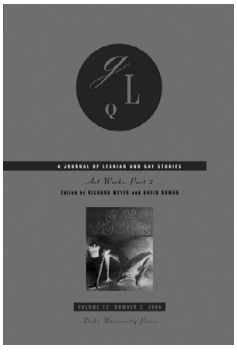

In honor of the journal's thirtieth anniversary, this special issue of Camera Obscura considers the past and future of the intertwined topics and disciplines that make up its subtitle: feminism, culture, and media studies.
Special Issue Editors Amelie Hastie, Lynne Joyrich, Constance Penley, Sasha Torres, Patricia White, and Sharon Willis

Art Works, Part 1
a special issue of GLQ
volume 12, number 2

Art Works, Parts 1 and 2 address how art, theater, performance, film, and visual culture have contributed to fashioning a queer world. The first issue includes a special dossier on AIDS activist film and video and essays on lesbian surrealism, homoerotic photography in the Deep South, and the transnational, transgender contexts of the Pulitzer Prize–winning play I Am My Own Wife.
Special Issue Editors Richard Meyer and David Román

Art Works, Part 2
a special issue of GLQ
volume 12, number 3

Essays focus on a series of queer case studies, including gay power graphics and psychedelia, female duets on the Broadway stage, Keith Haring and racial politics, British Vogue in the 1920s, and lesbian-feminist magazines of the 1970s. The issue concludes with a dossier on queer art and performance.
Special Issue Editors Richard Meyer and David Román

Journal Special Issues

Edward Said: A Memorial Issue
a special issue of Social Text
number 87

Social Text, the journal that published his groundbreaking essay "Zionism from the Standpoint of Its Victims," pays tribute to the work of Edward Said. Essays respond to Said's contribution to literary studies and the politics of memory, explore his experiments in visual culture and autobiography, and offer examples of the diverse and complex critical commitments that his work continues to inspire.
Special Issue Editors Patrick Deer, Gyan Prakash, and Ella Shohat

Global Contexts, Local Literature: The New Southern Studies
a special issue of American Literature
volume 78, number 1

This special issue proposes a new Southern studies based on the notion of an intellectual and practical Global South, a term that embeds the U.S. South in a larger transnational framework.
Special Issue Editors Annette Trefzer and Kathryn McKee

BEDFORD/ST. MARTIN'S

NEW!

"Poetry opens students' eyes to a world they didn't know existed! I love the book. I will always use it."

— Seema Kurup, William Rainey Harper College

Poetry
An Introduction
Fifth Edition

Michael Meyer, University of Connecticut

With its lively selection of poems and proven editorial features, Michael Meyer's Poetry: An Introduction brings literature to life for students. Now enhanced with fresh contemporary works, new sample close readings, compelling visual contexts, and exciting new case studies, this is a book that breaks open the world of poetry — giving students even more handles for reading, interpreting, and enjoying poems.

Literature
The Human Experience
Shorter Ninth Edition
Richard Abcarian and Marvin Klotz, both of California State University, Northridge

The shorter edition of this class-tested anthology continues to provide a rich selection of stories, poems, plays, and essays in a flexible arrangement that connects students to literature through broad themes of the human experience — all at an extraordinarily affordable price.

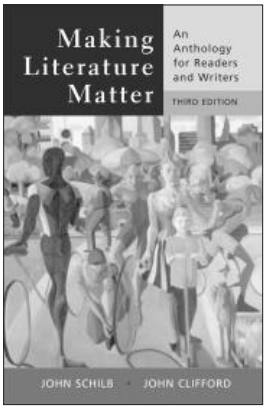

2007/paper/1272 pages

The Bedford Glossary of Critical and Literary Terms
Second Edition

Ross Murfin
Southern Methodist University
Supryia M. Ray

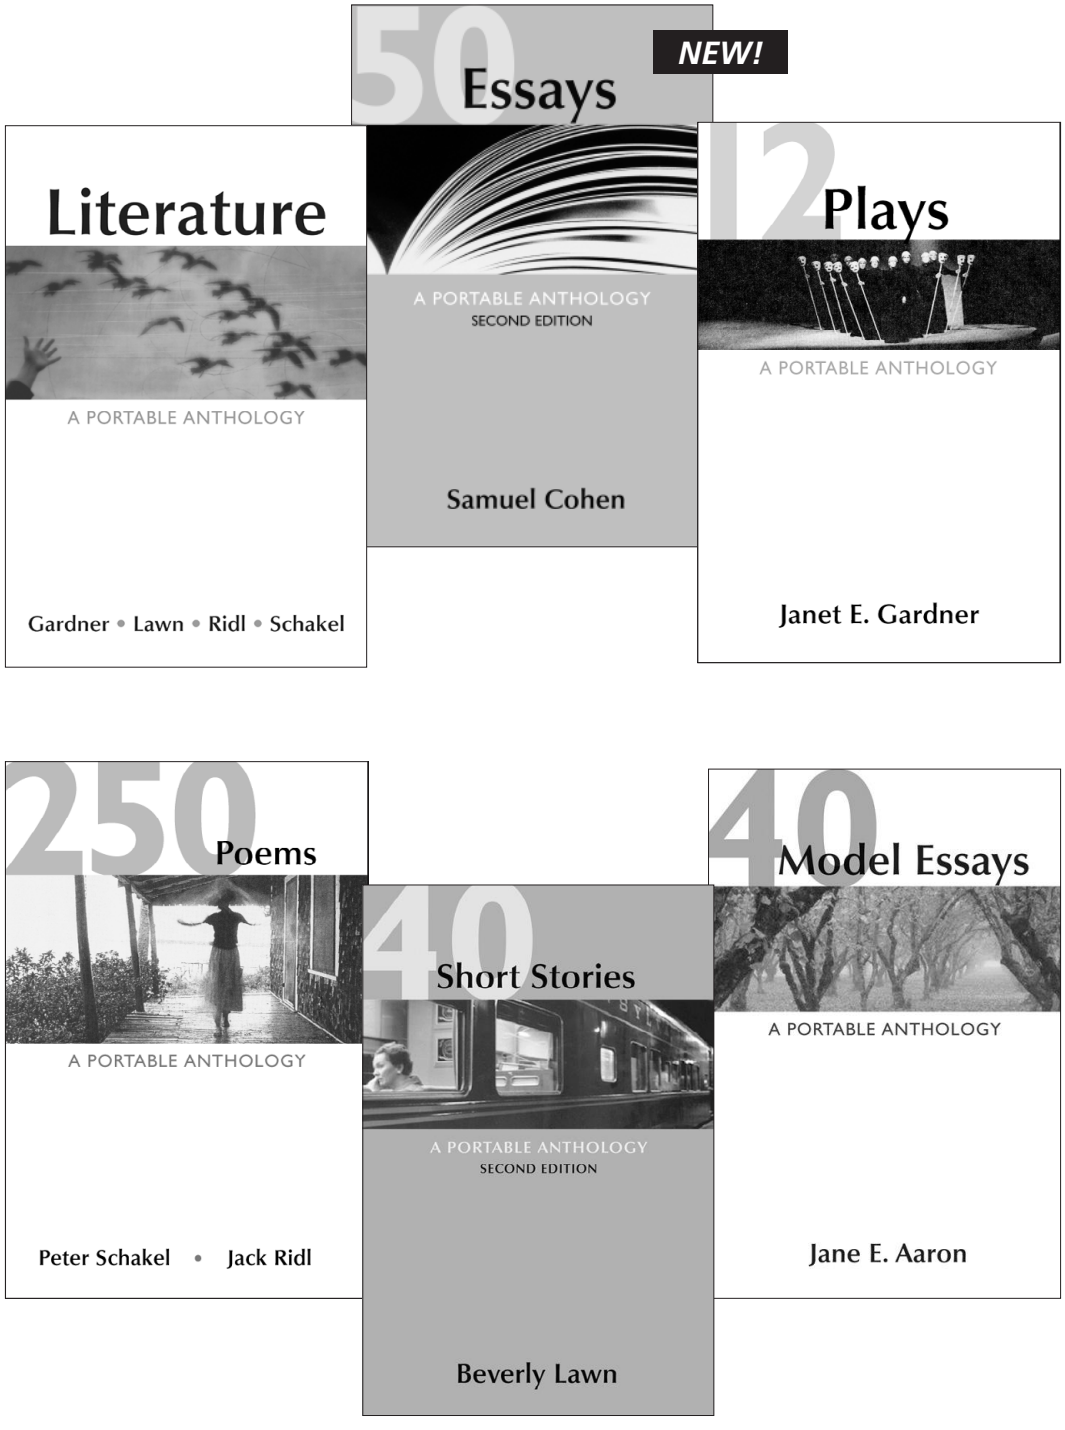

Like its highly praised and widely adopted predecessor, the second edition of The Bedford Glossary of Critical and Literary Terms presents definitions of more than 700 literary and critical terms for today's student. The second edition features many additional terms, both traditional and recent, with a greater array of examples, making it an even more useful and informative reference than the first edition.

THE SOUND THE STARS MAKE RUSHING THROUGH THE SKY

The Writings of Jane Johnston Schoolcraft

Edited by Robert Dale Parker

2006 | 288 pages | 14 illus.
Cloth | $34.95

Introducing a dramatic new chapter in American Indian literary history, this book brings to the public for the first time the complete writings of the first-known American Indian literary writer, Jane Johnston Schoolcraft (her English name) or Bamewawagezhikaquay (her Ojibwe name), Woman of the Sound the Stars Make Rushing Through the Sky (1800–1842). Beginning as early as 1815, Schoolcraft wrote poems and traditional stories while also translating songs and other Ojibwe texts into English. Her stories were published in adapted, unattributed versions by her husband, Henry Rowe Schoolcraft, a founding figure in American anthropology and folklore, and they became a key source for Longfellow's sensationally popular The Song of Hiawatha.

As this remarkably original volume shows, what little has been known about Schoolcraft's writing and life only scratches the surface of her legacy. Most of the works have been edited from manuscripts and appear in print here for the first time. The Sound the Stars Make Rushing Through the Sky presents a collection of all Schoolcraft's known writings along with a cultural and biographical history. Robert Dale Parker's deeply researched account places her writings in relation to American Indian and American literary history and the history of anthropology, offering the story of Schoolcraft, her world, and her fascinating family as reinterpreted through her newly uncovered writing. This book makes available a startling new episode in the history of American culture and literature.

New York University in Madrid

A One-Year M.A. Program in Spanish and Latin American Languages and Literatures with a Concentration in either Spanish and Latin American Literatures and Cultures or Spanish Language and Translation

Segre 8, El Viso

Drawing on the resources of NYU, the city of Madrid, and professors from both Spanish universities and the NYU Department of Spanish and Portuguese in New York, we offer an M.A. program that is both intellectually stimulating and academically rigorous. M.A. candidates study at NYU in Madrid's center in El Viso, a residential area of Madrid very close to the center of the city, as well as at the historic Instituto Internacional. Day and weekend study-visits, guest lecturers, and a Graduate Research Symposium in April complete the academic program. On approval, students may also take courses at the Universidad Autónoma de Madrid.

COURSE OFFERINGS

The yearlong course, A Cultural History of Spain and Latin America, is taught by faculty from leading Spanish universities and from the NYU Department of Spanish and Portuguese in New York. Electives in the Literatures and Cultures Concentration range from Cervantes, Pictorial Traditions in Spain and Its Latin American Colonies, to courses on 20th-century Spanish and Latin American literatures. Offerings for the Language and Translation Concentration include The Theory and Practice of Translation, Problems in Spanish Syntax for Bilingual Communication, and The Teaching of Spanish as a Foreign Language. All courses are taught in Spanish.

NYU in Madrid also offers an undergraduate program for the academic year, fall, spring, or summer. Courses are taught in Spanish and English.

New York University in Paris

M.A. Programs in French Literature
(completed in one academic year)

and* in French Language and Civilization
(completed in one academic year or three to four consecutive summers)

Drawing on the resources of NYU and the city of Paris, our M.A. programs are small, personalized, and of a very high degree of quality.

M.A. candidates study at the NYU in Paris Center, located in a charming town house in a quiet garden setting in the 16th arrondissement. Courses at the University of Paris, weekly workshops, and guest lecturers, plus our own computer facilities and research library complement the programs.

COURSE OFFERINGS INCLUDE

- History of French Colonialism
- French Classical Tragedy
- Autobiography and Autofiction
- The Age of Enlightenment
- Civilization of Contemporary France
- Textual Analysis
- Parole, Nation, Ecriture: The Novel in Francophone Caribbean and Africa
- Women Writers in French Literature
- Contemporary French Theatre
- French Cultural History Since 1870

All graduate courses are conducted in French. NYU in Paris also offers an undergraduate program for the academic year, a semester, or summer. Courses are taught in French and English.

Johns Hopkins

An Indispensable Resource for Scholars and Students of Literary Theory and Discourse—Now Online

The Johns Hopkins Guide to Literary Theory & Criticism

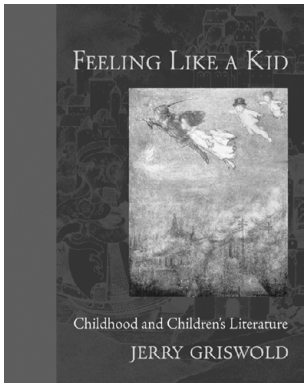

new online edition
edited by Michael Groden, Martin Kreiswirth, and Imre Szeman

Compiled by 275 specialists from around the world, The Johns Hopkins Guide to Literary Theory and Criticism presents a comprehensive historical survey of the field's most important figures, schools, and movements. The new electronic version combines the complete contents of the expanded second print edition with a powerful search engine—all with a user-friendly interface that is easy to navigate.

"A massive, double-columned Yellow Pages of lit crit. If it falls between Abrams and Zola, historically between Plato and postmodernism, intellectually between Aristotle and feminism, or geographically between Japanese Theory and Criticism and Caribbean, you can probably find it here."

SUBTERRANEAN LIVES:
CHRONICLES OF ALTERNATIVE AMERICA

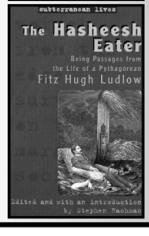

Edited by Bradford Verter

Subterranean Lives reprints first-person accounts from the nineteenth and twentieth centuries by members of oppositional or stigmatized subcultures—memoirs by men and women who lived, whether by circumstance, inclination, or design, outside of the bounds of mainstream society. Volumes will be useful to students and teachers, and serve as supplementary texts for courses in American studies, social history, cultural studies, and other fields. General readers will enjoy them as well.

MELA (Multi-Ethnic Literatures of the Americas)

Edited by Amritjit Singh, Ohio University; Carla L. Peterson, University of Maryland, College Park; and C. Lok Chua, California State University, Fresno

The MELA Series seeks to make available neglected or lost texts by bringing into print previously unpublished or out-of-print literature. Furthermore, it encourages the compilation of multi-ethnic readers/anthologies organized around a single author, a historical period, a movement, an ethnic literature, or a theoretical or thematic paradigm. These anthologies employ a variety of methods and viewpoints in reconstructing the literary cultures of the Americas-in conversation with one another and with the rest of the world.

Essentials of Georgian Grammar

Shorena Kurtsikidze, University of California, Berkeley

Essentials of Georgian Grammar is a student-tested basic grammar book for both beginner and intermediate level students. The book is organized as a 50-lesson course, each lesson designed for a 3-hour per-week study. Each lesson is structured in a way that makes it easy for a student to gradually advance from simpler to more complex material.

The book can be used for the classroom instruction or for self-study. The structure of the book is useful for teachers as well as for individual students since it has been classroom-tested for several years. The book covers all the essentials of Georgian grammar. Teachers can simply follow the order and use their own additional exercises or materials as needed.

The explanations of grammatical rules are maximally simple and short. Therefore, anyone who knows elementary grammatical terminology should be able to understand it. The book contains useful exercises, thematic vocabularies, and reading texts. In the Appendix of the book, there are conjugation tables of 250 most commonly used Georgian verbs. This is the first time these types of tables have been introduced in a Georgian grammar course, making it very easy for the student to learn the major tense formation rules in Georgian. This model proved to be the most effective way to learn the conjugation patterns of the Georgian verb. After completing the course, the student will be able to read, write, and speak in Georgian. The book provides the basic background and gives the student an opportunity to pursue advanced studies in the Georgian language.

Factual Concessive Connectors

A contrastive analysis in Italian and Polish

Agnieszka Latos, Università degli Studi di Pavia

The aim of the study entitled Factual concessive connectors. A contrastive analysis in Italian and Polish is to examine and compare the use and functions of the factual concessive connectors in two European languages: Italian and Polish. The comparison is based on a detailed analysis of the syntax, meaning and synchronic usage patterns of these connective expressions. Contrary to most of the studies devoted to this issue so far, the analysis is not restricted to ideal sentences, but rather accounts for the distribution of factual concessive connectors in real examples provided by linguistic corpora.

The theoretical starting point of the research is the framework of Functional Grammar (FG), especially the theory concerning the hierarchical structure of discourse. After the discussion on some theoretical proposals regarding different semantic-functional levels of adverbial connection, two main domains of concessive connection, 'representational' relations versus 'interpersonal' ones, have been distinguished.

The analysis carried out on a corpus of authentic texts of written and spoken language in relation to the previously identified semantic and pragmatic parameters shows a number of correlations existing in both languages and confirms the main hypothesis of the research: not all concessive connectors are identical in meaning and use.

The analysis also focuses on some historical aspects concerning the diachronic origins of concessive connectors. The synchronic distribution of Italian and Polish concessive connectors that emerges from the corpus-based analysis is reviewed from the diachronic perspective and this re-examination indicates the existence of some interesting correlations between the diachronic origins of concessive connectors and their synchronic usage patterns.

The Second Language Acquisition of Spanish Gender Agreement:

The Effects of Linguistic Variables on Accuracy

Irma V. Alarcón, Wake Forest University

This study examines gender agreement between a complex sentential subject (containing two nouns) and a predicate adjective in second language Spanish. The data were collected using a computerized sentence completion task that measured gender agreement accuracy (correct or incorrect). Seven binary linguistic variables were analyzed: noun class of the head and attractor nouns (semantic or non-semantic), head noun morphology (overt or non-overt), gender of the head and attractor nouns (feminine or masculine), and noun class and gender congruencies (matched or mismatched). All possible combinations of the variables were considered. To date, no study has examined all of these variables in a single experimental design assessing the second language acquisition of Spanish gender agreement. Participants were learners at three different levels of proficiency, and Spanish native speakers. Grammar and vocabulary knowledge were also examined as independent variables. Findings reveal that noun class does not affect accuracy of gender agreement. In contrast, both learners and native speakers are sensitive to the gender and morphology of the head noun, and gender congruency: participants were more accurate when the head noun was masculine and overtly marked for gender, and when the two subject nouns were of the same gender.

THE SCHOOL OF CRITICISM & THEORY at Cornell University

An international program of study with leading figures in critical theory invites you to apply for its

Thirty-first Summer Session
June 17-July 27, 2007

IN NEW YORK STATE'S FINGER LAKES REGION

"The SCT program took interdisciplinarity to a whole new level. "
David Marshall
Johns Hopkins University

"Although I have studied in a number of different countries, SCT still surprised me with its exceptionally wide international range. I spent many nights with a map of the world and with an encyclopedia, just to make sure I knew the context in which to place the long conversations with my fellow participants."
Eneken Laanes
University of Tartu

"I have had a fantastic and extremely rewarding experience throughout the six weeks, and I feel that SCT has made an invaluable contribution to my development as a scholar."
Susan Antebi
Harvard University

"SCT changed not only many of my conceptions but my entire way of seeing problems."
Silvana Seabra de Oliveira
Catholic University of Minas Gerais

The Program
In an intense six-week course of study, participants from around the world, in the disciplines of literature, history, and related social sciences, explore recent developments in literary and humanistic studies.

Tuition
The fee for the session is $2500. Applicants are eligible to compete for partial tuition scholarships and are urged to seek funding from their home institutions.

Acceptance
Applications from faculty members and advanced graduate students at universities worldwide will be judged beginning March 1, 2007. Admissions are made on a rolling basis, and decisions are announced as soon as possible.

THE BEST IN BRAZILIAN LITERATURE

PONCIÁ VICENCIO – Fiction

Ponciá Vicencio is the story of a young Afro-Brazilian woman's journey from the land of her enslaved ancestors to the emptiness of urban life. However, the generations of creativity, violence and family cannot be so easily left behind as Ponciá is heir to a mysterious psychic gift from her grandfather. Does this gift have the power to bring Ponciá back from the emotional vacuum and absolute solitude that has overtaken her in the city? Do the elemental forces of earth, air, fire and water mean anything in the barren urban landscape?

A mystical story of family, dreams and hope by the incomparable Conceição Evaristo, one of the most talented chronicler of Afro-Brazilian life writing today.

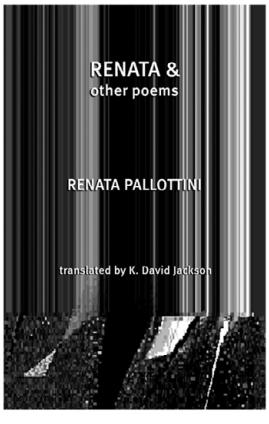

$20.00 hardcover / $12.00 softcover / 145 pages

FOURTEEN FEMALE VOICES FROM BRAZIL – Drama, Prose & Poetry

This fascinating introduction to Brazilian culture includes interviews with 14 of Brazil's most prominent writers along with excerpts of their work. Containing 11 stories, 3 plays and 19 poems 14 Female Voices From Brazil opens the door to 14 unique perspectives on life, art and love. After answering the same ten questions, each author presents the reader with a poem, play or story that she feels embodies the essence her work. Whether trapped in a dead end marriage or the terrible beauty of a favela, reflecting on transvestites at the Hilton or learning to finally say the absolute "no", this volume contains 14 life studies by 14 brilliant women. From Brazil's early groundbreaking feminists to the newly emerging voice of young Afro-Brazilians, 14 Female Voices From Brazil brings English speakers a tantalizing slice of Brazilian cultural life.

$35.00 hardcover / $17.50 softcover / 309 pages

RENATA AND OTHER POEMS – Poetry

Renata & other poems introduces readers to Renata Pallottini's world of "organized anarchy" in a stunning bilingual volume. Bringing the reader to an entirely new understanding of the personal and the political, Pallottini erases the artificial demarcation between the heart and the brain, between the real and the imaginary, between the sophisticated and the simple. While Pallottini is undoubtedly very Brazilian in her worldview and sensitivity, any so-called "cultural differences" do not play a role in a reader's perception of her work. Pallottini's poetry gives breath to the very essence of Brazilian life, indeed, of life in general.

The Novel as Investigation
Leonardo Sciascia, Dacia Maraini, and Antonio Tabucchi
by JoAnn Cannon

'a remarkable study of one of the oldest and most metaphysical genres of narration – detective fiction – as applied to three of Italy's most prominent narrators: Sciascia, Maraini, and Tabucchi. The selected novels dealing with socio-political and cultural realities in Italy are carefully analysed and the research is extremely well documented.'

Writing to Delight
Italian Short Stories by Nineteenth-Century Women Writers
Edited by Antonia Arslan and Gabriella Romani

These carefully selected short stories, which have not previously been available in English, attest to the rich literary and cultural legacy of Italian women writers, and illustrate convincingly and often poignantly the restrictive ideal of female domesticity so prevalent in nineteenth-century Italy.'

F. Scott Fitzgerald

Ernest Hemingway

William Faulkner

What do these three authors have in common?

World Literature Today — a classic American magazine that some people still don't know about. Each writer made his mark on the literary world during the 1920s, and each appeared in the pages of World Literature Today.

World Literature Today Then...

Established to promote international understanding through literary study, World Literature Today has devoted itself to the discussion of current literature around the world for the past 80 years. Drawing on the resources of over 600 specialists in the United States and abroad, WLT has provided valuable insight and lively commentary concerning some of the world's finest authors, including Federico García Lorca, Pablo Neruda, Bertolt Brecht, Samuel Beckett, Ralph Ellison, Naguib Mahfouz, Chinua Achebe, Günter Grass, Vladimir Nabokov, Mercè Rodoreda, Kenzaburō Ōe, Gabriel García Márquez, N. Scott Momaday, Nadine Gordimer, Czeslaw Milosz, J.M. Coetzee, Alice Walker, and Adam Zagajewski (just to name a few).

...and Now

World Literature Today continues in its mission with expanded coverage of the arts and humanities. In addition to in-depth coverage of literature from around the world, you'll also find information and essays about music, art, dance, film, and politics. And when you subscribe, you'll receive 6 issues for just $20. No wonder the Christian Science Monitor says WLT "may be the most cosmopolitan magazine in the United States." Isn't it time you learned more about World Literature Today? Subscribe today!

Alexander von Humboldt
Stiftung/Foundation

Research in Germany: The Humboldt Research Fellowship Program

The Alexander von Humboldt Foundation supports scholars of all nationalities and fields as they conduct research in Germany for a period of six to twelve months at the institution of their choice. Fellowships are awarded on the basis of academic achievement, i.e., the quality and feasibility of the proposed project and the candidate's international publications. Applicants must be under 40 years of age and have a PhD.

U.S. citizens and residents may also apply for the following variations:

- 3 x 3 (Summer) Research Fellowship (3 months per year in up to 3 consecutive years)
- Two-Year Research Fellowship (24 consecutive months)

Applications are accepted at any time.

For information about this and other opportunities, go to www.humboldt-foundation.de or contact the American Friends of the Alexander von Humboldt Foundation at info@americanfriends-of-avh.org.

YALE UNIVERSITY

B E I N E C K E

Rare Book & Manuscript Library

VISITING FELLOWSHIPS

The Beinecke Rare Book & Manuscript Library offers short-term fellowships to support visiting scholars pursuing post-doctoral or equivalent research in its collections. The Beinecke Library is Yale University's principal repository for literary papers, and for early manuscripts and rare books in the fields of literature, theology, history, and the natural sciences. For more information about the Beinecke Library and its collections, please visit our website: www.library.yale.edu/beinecke/.

Application materials must be received by December 15, 2006.

Awards will be announced in March 2007 for the period September 2007 through May 2008.

The fellowships, which pay for travel to and from New Haven and a living allowance of $3,800 per month, are designed to provide access to the library for scholars who live outside the greater New Haven area. Students enrolled in degree programs are ineligible.

Fellowships, normally granted for one month, must be taken up between September and May. Recipients are expected to be in residence during the period of their award and are encouraged to participate in the activities of Yale University.

An application form can be downloaded from the Beinecke Library's website. In addition to the application form, applicants are asked to submit a curriculum vitae and a brief research proposal (not to exceed three pages) to the Director. The proposal should emphasize the relationship of the Beinecke collections to the project and state the preferred dates of residence. Applicants should also arrange to have two confidential letters of recommendation sent to the Director. These letters must specifically address the merits of the Beinecke research project.

The following named fellowships are among those to be awarded:

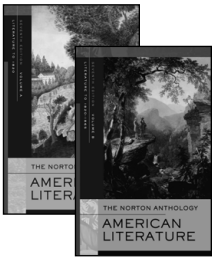

- Frederick W. Beinecke Fellowship in Western Americana
- Hermann Broch Fellowship in modern German literature
- H.D. Fellowship in English or American literature
- Jonathan Edwards Fellowship in the Jonathan Edwards Papers or related areas of American religious history
- Elizabethan Club Fellowship in the literature or history of the English or European Renaissance
- Edith and Richard French Fellowship
- Donald C. Gallup Fellowship in American literature
- A. Bartlett Giamatti Fellowship
- Archibald Hanna, Jr. Fellowship in American history
- John D. and Rose H. Jackson Fellowship
- Jackson Brothers Fellowship
- H.P. Kraus Fellowship in early books and manuscripts
- Laura K. and Valerian Lada-Mocarski Fellowship
- James M. Osborn Fellowship in English literature and history
- Frederick A. and Marion S. Pottle Fellowship in 18th-century British studies
- Reese Fellowship in American bibliography and the history of the book in the Americas
- Betsy Beinecke Shirley Fellowship in American children's literature
- Thornton Wilder Fellowship in Wilder studies

For more information, write to:
beinecke.fellowships@yale.edu

Application materials should be sent to:

THE NORTON ANTHOLOGY OF AMERICAN LITERATURE

SEVENTH EDITION

Nina Baym, General Editor, et al.

The Seventh Edition introduces 34 new authors, 12 new contextual clusters, 45 new color plates, and apparatus rethought by a team of three new and five seasoned editors under the direction of Nina Baym. The most extensive revision to date, the Seventh Edition retains the commitment to complete works and balance that have made it the bestselling survey anthology in the field.

Well-Versed

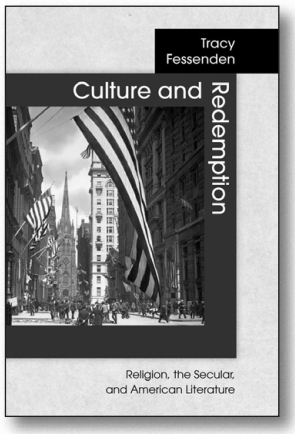

Through Other Continents

American Literature across Deep Time

WAI CHEE DIMOCK

"In Through Other Continents Wai Chee Dimock has created a provocative and altogether compelling vision of American literature as a global phenomenon. At once a set of wide-ranging illustrations and a map for the future, her study will permanently alter the boundaries, and therefore the national implications, of American literary scholarship."
—Eric J. Sundquist, UCLA

Cloth $35.00 0-691-11449-8
Due December

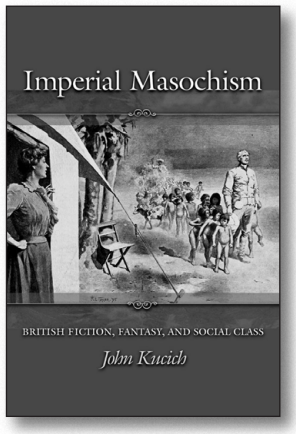

Culture and Redemption

Religion, the Secular, and American Literature

TRACY FESSENDEN

"Culture and Redemption is a wonderfully refreshing book about anomalies of power among America's religions and cultures. Fessenden's expansive and often surprising readings demonstrate that strongly Protestant and broadly religious concerns persistently upended the seemingly natural triumph of secularism in America, with powerful effects on our literature and ethics alike."
—Jon Butler, Yale University

Cloth $35.00 0-691-04963-7
Due December

Imperial Masochism

British Fiction, Fantasy, and Social Class

JOHN KUCICH

"Imperial Masochism is at once a powerfully analytic and integrative book, clinically anatomizing the generative psychosocial dynamics of masochism while demonstrating through a wealth of interpretive illustration their pervasive influence on late-Victorian literature. It is sure to provoke welcome controversy among literary critics and scholars of class and empire."
—Andrew H. Miller, Indiana University

Cloth $35.00 0-691-12712-3
Due January 2007

The Shape of the Signifier

1967 to the End of History

WALTER BENN MICHAELS

"[This] book is not scholarship, criticism, or theory. It is a brazen call for the return to ideology."

After Every War

Twentieth-Century Women Poets

TRANSLATIONS FROM THE GERMAN BY EAVAN BOLAND

"This provocative book . . . is full of beautiful poems written under the worst historical conditions possible. It makes you think about the connection between lyric beauty (there's lots of it here) and testimony."

New from Virginia

Pontius Pilate
Roger Caillois
Translated by Charles Lam Markmann, with an introduction by Ivan Strenski
Pontius Pilate is a highly provocative and psychologically gripping novel that reconstructs Pilate's state of mind in deciding to convict Jesus.
Studies in Religion and Culture
$22.95 cloth

Cities of Affluence and Anger
A Literary Geography of Modern Englishness
Peter J. Kalliney
"[This book] contains more than its share of revelatory insights and unexpected juxtapositions that cause us to think in a new key about urbanism, class, rage, and that ineffable thing called Englishness."—Jennifer Wicke, University of Virginia
$59.50 cloth, $22.50 paper

John Ruskin and the Ethics of Consumption
David M. Craig
"Craig has written a really wonderful book, certainly one of the best I've read on Ruskin in a long time and clearly the finest on the sage's political economy. . . . [It] should be the dominant book for Ruskinians for some time to come."—George P. Landow, Brown University
Studies in Religion and Culture
$60.00 cloth

Victorian Literature and Culture Series

The English Cult of Literature
Devoted Readers, 1774–1880
William R. McKelvy
"This beautifully written, ambitious, and timely book gives scholars of Romantic-period and Victorian literature an entirely new model they can use to think about the relationship between literature and religion in the long nineteenth century."—Deidre Lynch, Indiana University
$45.00 cloth

Forthcoming in the series
Nostalgia in Transition, 1780–1917
Linda M. Austin
Linda M. Austin offers a paradigm for and analysis of nostalgic memory as it operates in various attempts to reenact the past.

Socrates and the Irrational
James S. Hans
"A lucid and graceful, sustained and subtle meditation on the dialogue between reason and the irrational that is deeply related to the connection between the ethical and the aesthetic."—Ronald S. Sharp, Vassar College
$29.50 cloth

Against the Unspeakable
Complicity, the Holocaust, and Slavery in America
Naomi Mandel
Mandel draws on critical theory, literary analysis, and film studies to offer a paradigm of reading that will enable the crucial work on comparative atrocities and the representation of suffering to move beyond the impasse of "unspeakability."

$34.95 cloth

Forthcoming in 2007
Indian Captivity in Spanish America
Frontier Narratives
Fernando Operé
Translated by Gustavo Pellón
Operé convincingly shows how the captivity genre evolved over time, first to promote territorial expansion and deny intercultural connections during the colonial era, and later to romanticize the frontier in the service of nationalism after independence.
$59.50 cloth, $22.50 paper

New World Studies

Guarding Cultural Memory
Afro-Cuban Women in Literature and the Arts
Flora González Mandri
"[This book] contributes much to our understanding of an 'erased' chapter of Cuban culture while enhancing at the same time the crucial role that Afro-Cuban culture played in the formation of a national culture."—Adriana Méndez-Rodenas, University of Iowa
$55.00 cloth, $21.50 paper

Writing Rumba
The Afrocubanista Movement in Poetry
Miguel Arnedo-Gómez
The first book-length treatment of the poetry of the Afrocubanista movement, Writing Rumba questions the assumption that the poetry did manage to symbolize racial reconciliation and unification.

Nineteenth-Century Literature and Culture Collection

ROTUNDA
New Digital Scholarship

ROTUNDA is pleased to introduce the Nineteenth-Century Literature and Culture Collection, bringing together "born-digital" publications with digitized versions of multivolume print publications. Rotunda offers to scholars and students at all levels an invaluable source of primary and secondary materials by and about some of the era's most enduring authors. This collection delivers on the promise of Rotunda's XML technology by allowing powerful searching capability, including the ability to search across the entire Nineteenth-Century collection.

Rotunda publications may be acquired separately or as packages, with pricing for libraries and schools based on institution type. Pricing is also available for consortia and for individuals.

Arrange for a FREE TRIAL, or inquire about pricing and availability: Contact Jason Coleman, electronic marketing manager, at 434-924-1450 or jgc3h@virginia.edu, or visit http://rotunda.upress.virginia.edu

Rotunda is made possible by generous grants from the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation and the President's Office of the University of Virginia. Published by the Electronic Imprint of the University of Virginia Press

Herman Melville's "Typee"
A Fluid Text Edition

Edited by John Bryant

Working from the existing chapters of Melville's own draft of Typee, John Bryant attempts to re-create the novel's actual writing process as a chronological sequence. This groundbreaking electronic edition offers a unique "viewer" interface that allows the user to compare—through a "coordinated scrolling" feature—published versions of the novel with a complete diplomatic transcription of the manuscript and a stunning high-resolution image of each manuscript page.

"Clotel," or The President's Daughter
A Narrative of Slave Life in the United States by William Wells Brown

Edited by Christopher Mulvey

The first African American novel, Clotel was published in 1853 in London, when its author was still legally a slave in the United States. This digital edition presents, for the first time together, the full extant texts of the novel's four versions, which may be read individually or in parallel. Also included in PDF format is William E. Farrison's biography of the author.

The Letters of Matthew Arnold

Edited by Cecil Y. Lang

Matthew Arnold was the preeminent poet/critic of the second half of the nineteenth century. Including nearly 4,000 letters, this work represents the most comprehensive and assiduously annotated collection of his correspondence available.

The Letters of Christina Rossetti

Edited by Antony H. Harrison

Christina Rossetti has come to be considered one of the major poets of the Victorian era. Combining all four volumes of the print edition, this archive makes available all of Rossetti's extant letters, almost two-thirds of which had never been published.

Journal of Emily Shore
Revised and Expanded

Edited by Barbara Timm Gates

This precocious young Victorian woman wrote of politics, natural history, her progress as a scholar and scientist, the worlds of art and literature. Emily Shore wrote, too, of her illness and impending death. Her journal is a record of a brief but remarkable life, and this new digital edition is expanded to include transcriptions from two recently discovered manuscript volumes and a new introduction by the editor.

VLCS Digitized

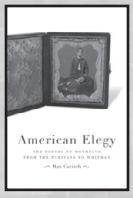

The University of Virginia Press will be offering digital editions of titles from its Victorian Literature and Culture Series. Authored by many of the top scholars in Victorian studies, the print volumes will be fully searchable and interoperable with other Rotunda titles.The first title in this series is Antony H. Harrison's Victorian Poets and Romantic Poems: Intertextuality and Ideology.

A Special Issue from Contemporary Literature

Immigrant Fictions

Contemporary Literature in an Age of Globalization

Immigrant Fictions is a groundbreaking collection that brings together studies of world literature, book history, narrative theory, and the contemporary novel to challenge methods of critical reading based on national models of literary culture. Contributors suggest that contemporary novels by immigrant writers need to be read across several geographies of production, circulation, and translation. Analyzing work by David Peace, George Lamming, Caryl Phillips, Iva Pekarkova, Yan Geling, Theresa Hak Kyung Cha, Anchee Min, and Monica Ali, these essays take up a range of critical topics, including the transnational book and the migrant writer, the comparative reception history of postcolonial fiction, transnational criticism and Asian American literature in the U. S., mobility and feminism in translation, linguistic mediation and immigrating fictions, migration and the politics of narrative form.

Immigrant Fictions is included with an annual subscription to Contemporary Literature and is also available as a separate title.
ISBN: 0-299-22134-2

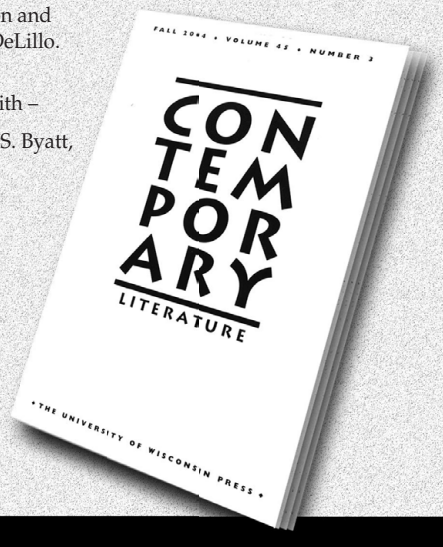

Contemporary Literature

Critical for Readers of New Literature . . .

Contemporary Literature published the first articles on Thomas Pynchon and Susan Howe, and the first interviews with Margaret Drabble and Don DeLillo. If it's important to literature, it will be in Contemporary Literature.

Where will the field go next? Contemporary Literature leads the way with –

- In-depth interviews with significant writers, including Pat Barker, A. S. Byatt, Alan Judd, Lawrence Norfolk, Iva Pekarkova, and Thane Rosenbaum.
- Broad-ranging articles and reviews written by leaders in the field, including Charles Altieri, Michael Bernard-Donals, Robert Chodat, Leigh Anne Duck, Craig Dworkin, Roger Gilbert, Loren Glass, Sara Guyer, Ursula Heise, Amy Hungerford, Christine Hume, Ann Keniston, Timothy Materer, Brian McHale, William J. Palmer, Brian M. Reed, Jenny L. White, and Elizabeth Willis.

Class in Culture

Class in Culture is a bold and complex argument for moving beyond cultural politics to a class critique of the everyday. At a time when class is either declared dead or turned into the pleasures of lifestyle and the contingencies of difference, Class in Culture makes a strong case for class as the material logic of culture. Through critical engagements with cultural theories and class critiques of a range of cultural situations, Class in Culture overturns the "cultural turn" and offers a groundbreaking materialist understanding of the contemporary. Its audacious, eye-opening interpretations of cultural texts make surprising connections among such seemingly unrelated issues as torture at Abu Ghraib, chick-lit, trauma, 9/11, sexuality, irony, globalization and lifestyles.

"A gem of a book. The central theme is how the rewriting of the material as cultural undercuts any real means for social transformation. Its topics are timely and provocative for classroom discussions. The authors are brilliant thinkers and clear, insightful writers. This is an exciting book of red cultural critique in a dark time."

Peter McLaren (UCLA),
author of Capitalists and Conquerors: A Critical Pedagogy against Empire.

What can you DO at HarperCollins?

✯ Discover an extraordinary debut novel ✯

A Best Book of the Year
Time ✯ People ✯ Entertainment Weekly ✯ New York magazine ✯ Slate

Told in the voice of a child soldier in Africa, this is a searing tale of innocence, loss, and the dark nature of war.

"Haunting. . . . Iweala's acute imaging of Agu's perspective allows him to depict the war as a mesh of bestial pleasures and pain. . . . A startling debut." —The New Yorker

Harper Perennial: paperback, $10.95 • Available Now

✯ Reflect on a year of unprecedented creativity ✯

Winner of the prestigious Samuel Johnson Award for Nonfiction (UK)

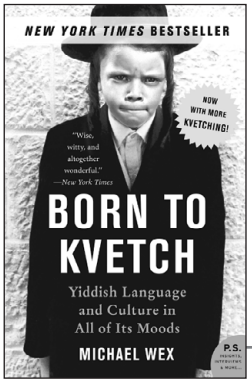

James Shapiro, a professor at Columbia University, shadows Shakespeare throughout 1599—the year in which he created four of his most renowned plays—Henry V, Julius Caesar, As You Like It, and, most remarkably, Hamlet.

"This passionately written study, the product of deep scholarship and acute critical thought, offers fascinating illumination of some of Shakespeare's greatest plays and of the experiences that produced them." —Stanley Wells, Editor of The Oxford Shakespeare

Harper Perennial: paperback, $14.95 • Available Now

✯ Immerse yourself in a thriving ancient language ✯

By combining an intelligent analysis with the incredible wit and attitude that's specific to Yiddish, Michael Wex reveals how Jewish identity is related to the language that both grew with and shaped the religion.

"Wise, witty and altogether wonderful. . . . Mr. Wex has perfect pitch. He always finds the precise word, the most vivid metaphor, for his juicy Yiddishisms, and he enjoys teasing out complexities." —New York Times

ISBN: 1-4130-2281-2

The first three-genre introduction to literature text to address the changing canon is now the first to include a comprehensive guide for writing about literature—with full coverage of critical thinking, argument, and the writing process. Teachers themselves, Kirszner & Mandell take students through each step of the research and writing process, helping them to craft literary analyses and arguments and to understand that writing about literature is a process of discovery, examination, and debate.

Ancient Epic Poetry

Charles Rowan Beye

Charles Rowan Beye's critically acclaimed analysis of ancient epic is here reprinted focusing on Oral Poetry, The Poets' World, Poetic Technique: The Iliad, The Odyssey, The Argonautica, The Aeneid, and The Gilgamesh Epic.

For centuries the beginnings of the literary history of the West were defined by the Hebrew Bible—what most people call the Old Testament—and Homer's epic poems, the Iliad and Odyssey. These texts were once naively imagined to have come about in splendid isolation either as a miracle of divine creation or the spontaneous combustion of the "Greek genius." The mighty stream of words down over the millennia to our own time are so many generations of offspring still somehow beholden to their initial begetters. Thus do we construe Western Literature.

The Epic of Gilgamesh

Danny P. Jackson

Student Edition

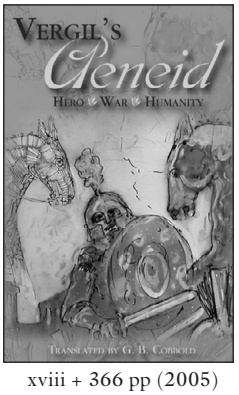

The longing stretch toward the infinite...the reluctant embrace of the temporal. This is the eternal lot of mankind. This is The Epic of Gilgamesh. Our revised 2nd edition of mankind's first epic features a lucid historical and cultural introduction by Dr. Biggs, a new interpretive essay on the themes of Gilgamesh by James G. Keenan and their echoes in other literature.

Though The Epic of Gilgamesh exists in several editions, this version has been undertaken with a very specific intent — to remain faithful to the source material while attempting to convey the poetic scope of a work that is both lusty and tender and that retains the ability to arouse compassion and empathy in all who follow Gilgamesh on his journey. This edition aims to reanimate the story of Gilgamesh and Enkidu for modern readers, bringing it new life through indelible poetic images.

Danny P. Jackson's rendition of The Epic of Gilgamesh, first published by Bolchazy-Carducci Publishers in 1992, has gained recognition in the publishing world.

First, it was chosen by by Prentice Hall for their anthology, Literature of the Ancient World, vol. I (New York, 2000). Then, one year later, fine art publisher D.G. GraubArt Publishers chose Jackson's rendition from among many others for their lavishly illustrated Hebrew/English edition, The Epic of Gilgamesh: A Myth Revisited (Jerusalem and Wauconda, 2001).

Just recently, the Great Books Foundation has added the Jackson's rendition of The Epic of Gilgamesh to its adult book series. Published in 2004. In 2005 this edition was translated into Turkish.

Vergil's Aeneid

Hero War Humanity

G. B. Cobbold

Student Edition

The Aeneid has been deemed one of the most influential poems in world literature. And yet, a translation with wide appeal has been lacking—until now. G. B. Cobbold joined with Bolchazy-Carducci Publishers to produce an Aeneid that gives the epic its due as the rousing and moving story that it is, while remaining true to the spirit of the Latin original. This an Aeneid like no other: a fresh, page-turning rendition that reads like a novel, but has the vividness of poetic language, with attractive and accessible reader aids. Sure to become a prized standard! Illustrations throughout.

This new version makes the story especially accessible in many ways, including a glossary of characters, a timeline of significant events in Roman history, and other aids.
— Alan Caruba
Bookviews: "My Picks of the Month"

Highly recommended for study and discussion groups, and a welcome alternative interpretation for those who are more familiar with Vergil's Aeneid in verse-by-verse form.
— Midwest Book Review

The prose clearly depicts the people and events of the epic in a lucid and vivid style providing the edifice that displays Vergil's presentation of the moral quandaries of humanity.
For students of the humanities, Cobbold's translation of the Aeneid is an exciting introduction to the great Latin classic.

Sound Figures of Modernity

German Music and Philosophy
Edited by Jost Hermand and Gerhard Richter

"The complex relations discussed here between German music and philosophy are fascinating, not only to Wagnerites and specialists in German cultural studies, but to anyone interested in the presence of German art and ideas in the United States for the past one hundred years."
—James Rolleston, Duke University

The rich conceptual and experiential relays between music and philosophy—echoes of what Theodor W. Adorno once called Klangfiguren, or "sound figures"—resonate with heightened intensity during the period of modernity that extends from early German Idealism to the Critical Theory of the Frankfurt School. This volume traces the political, historical, and philosophical trajectories of a German tradition in which thinkers take recourse to music, both as an aesthetic practice and as the object of their speculative work. The contributors examine the texts of such highly influential writers and thinkers as Schelling, Schopenhauer, Nietzsche, Bloch, Th. Mann, Adorno, and Lukács in relation to individual composers including Beethoven, Wagner, Schönberg, and Eisler.

"This book is a wonderful contribution to the study of music, philosophy, and German culture."—Liliane Weissberg, University of Pennsylvania

WAYNE STATE UNIVERSITY PRESS

The Made in Michigan Writers Series highlights the works of distinguished statewide writers to showcase Michigan's diverse voices.

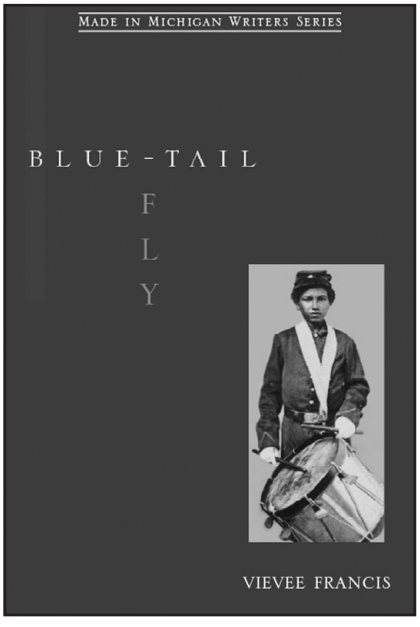

Michigan poet Jack Ridl leads readers into a reflective connection with the everyday world in this unique and enjoyable volume.

"A sweet intelligence and compassionate eye are the hallmark of these wise poems—just the sort of art we need in these dark and unenlightened times."
—Richard Jones, author of The Blessing: New and Selected Poems

"Jack Ridl writes with complete generosity and full-hearted wisdom and care. His deeply intelligent, funny, and gracious poems are packed with the music of genuine voices, woven with history, people, and movement, the whole, delicious sweet fabric of days. What a gift!"
—Naomi Shihab Nye, author of You & Yours, Fuel, and Red Suitcase

136 pages • $15.95 paperback

A poetic treatment of the period of American history between the beginning of the Mexican War and the end of the Civil War.

"Such a welcome debut. Vievee Francis is the real thing: a poet with something to say and something worth listening to."
—Thomas Lynch, author of Booking Passage, Grimalkin & Other Poems, and Still Life in Milford

"Blue-Tail Fly is an enchanting effort, one that provides a much-needed national framework for a greater understanding of reconciliation."
—Anthony Butts, author of Little Low Heaven, winner of the Poetry Society of America's 2004 William Carlos Williams Award for best book of poetry

*S*paces of the "*S*elf" in *E*arly *M*odern *C*ulture

This interdisciplinary program, co-directed by Professors David Sabean (History, UCLA) and Malina Stefanovska (French & Francophone Studies, UCLA) will focus on how subjectivity is inextricably linked with space in a socially constructed and historically evolving relationship. In early modern culture, symbolically marked places such as the court, the cabinet of curiosities or the pilgrimage route would determine individual identities or could be used to describe new notions of the self. This program will explore five such sites in Western Europe and the Mediterranean, with an emphasis on the cultural differences and historical evolution of space, both as material foundation and as representation of human exchanges, hierarchies, values, and subjectivities: circles of sociability (salons, courts, academies), sites of exteriority (gardens, landscapes, wilderness), spatial representations of the "inner self" (meditation, medicine, philosophy), family and work space (the house, the interior, material objects), and spaces of sacrality (the confessional, cultic sites, the religious retreat, sacralized political sites).

Eligible: Scholars in any field who have received a Ph.D. in the last six years and whose research pertains to the announced theme

Awards: Three consecutive quarters in residence at the Clark Library

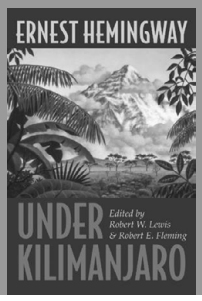

Stipend: $35,000 for the three-quarter period

THE PLANTS OF MIDDLE-EARTH

Botany and Sub-creation

Dinah Hazell

Beautifully illustrated with dozens of original full-color and black-and-white drawings, The Plants of Middle-earth connects readers visually to Middle-earth. This book draws on biography, literary sources, and cultural history and is unique in using botany as the focal point for examining the complex network of elements that comprise Tolkien's creation.

THE COMPANY THEY KEEP

C.S. Lewis and J.R.R. Tolkien as Writers in Community

Diana Pavlac Glyer

This important study challenges the interpretation that Lewis, Tolkien, Charles Williams, Owen Barfield, and the other Inklings had little influence on one another's work. Glyer's analysis demonstrates the high level of mutual influence that characterized this writers group and also provides a lively and compelling picture of how writers and other creative artists challenge, correct, and encourage one another.

A QUESTION OF TIME

J.R.R. Tolkien's Road to Faërie

Verlyn Flieger

"All readers interested in the works of J.R.R. Tolkien and in the genre of fantasy literature will welcome this important book. Verlyn Flieger's investigation of time and dream in Tolkien's fiction breaks new critical ground and includes intriguing excerpts from the manuscript drafts of Tolkien's seminal essay 'On Fairy-Stories' and from his unpublished commentary on Smith of Wootton Major."—Wayne G. SPLINTERED LIGHT

Logos and Language in Tolkien's World

Verlyn Flieger

Verlyn Flieger's expanded and updated edition of Splintered Light, a classic study of Tolkien's fiction first published in 1983, examines The Silmarillion and The Lord of the Rings in light of Owen Barfield's linguistic theory of the fragmentation of meaning. Flieger demonstrates Tolkien's use of Barfield's concept throughout his fiction, showing how his central image of primary light splintered and refracted acts as a metaphor for the languages, peoples, and history of Middle-Earth.

INTERRUPTED MUSIC:

The Making of Tolkien's Mythology

Verlyn Flieger

Flieger illuminates the structure of Tolkien's work, allowing the reader to appreciate its broad, overarching design and its careful, painstaking construction. She "follows the music from its beginning as an idea in Tolkien's mind through to his final but never-implemented mechanism for realizing that idea." Flieger also reflects on the important differences between Tolkien and his predecessors and even more between Tolkien and his contemporaries.

Penn State University Press is pleased to announce the Penn State Romance Studies Series.

The Penn State Romance Studies Series—a renewal and expansion of the Penn State Studies in Romance Literatures Series—will publish books simultaneously in print and electronic formats on a wide range of literary, cultural and linguistic topics rooted in the Romance languages. The first new volume, Career Stories: Belle Epoque Novels of Professional Development by Juliette M. Rogers will be available in Fall 2007.

The series is a joint project at Penn State University comprising the Press, the Libraries, and the Departments of French and Francophone Sudies, and the Department of Spanish, Italian, and Portuguese. The series draws on the expertise of an advisory board composed of scholars from a wide range of universities.

For more information on the series, please visit the Penn State Press booth (#625) or on the web at www.RomanceStudies.psu.edu.

What's New in Introduction to Literature?

Two new classics from Robert DiYanni:

Literature: Reading Fiction, Poetry, and Drama, 6th Edition
ISBN: 0-07-312426-5

Literature: Approaches to Fiction, Poetry, and Drama, 2nd Edition
ISBN: 0-07-312445-1

Robert DiYanni,
New York University

The new editions of Diyanni's *Literature continue to expertly balance classic, modern, and contemporary works across the three major genres, blending well-known writers with a diverse gathering of emerging American and international authors. The new editions expand his excellent coverage of writing about literature, making either text an excellent resource for introduction to literature courses as well as literature-based composition courses.

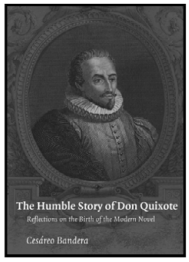

New to this edition:
- New Chapters on Envisioning Literature: Using visuals to bring Fiction, Poetry, and Drama to life.
- Unique to Literature, 6/e! A new Chapter on Literary Nonfiction
- Emphasis on Critical Thinking
