EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES IN LINGUISTICS

In posting the job announcements below, we remind readers that job discrimination is illegal. The Linguistic Society of America thus retains the right to refuse or edit all discriminatory statements from copy sent to the Secretariat for publication in Language that are not in consonance with the principles of Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. The Executive Committee of the LSA hopes that all the job announcements will facilitate open hiring on the basis of merit to the advantage of all.

The LSA accepts listings from academic institutions under censure by the American Association of University Professors (AAUP). However, these listings are identified in this publication by (*) preceding position openings in order to advise applicants that the employing institution or its administration has been censured by the AAUP and that further information may be obtained on the situation from the AAUP.

The Department of Linguistics & Philosophy at MIT invites applications for a tenure-track position in linguistics at the Assistant Professor level, starting July 1, 2018. The appointment will be made in the area of either Language Acquisition or Experimental/Computational Linguistics. The department seeks candidates whose research connects productively with current issues in core areas of linguistic theory. We welcome applicants whose work is wholly within linguistics as well as applicants whose work connects linguistics with adjacent research in cognitive science, such as developmental psychology, learnability theory, computational modeling of language acquisition, or human sentence processing. The successful candidate will have a Ph.D. or equivalent in Linguistics or a related field, and will be expected to participate in the research, teaching, and advising activities of our department. Applicants should submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, copies of up to three representative research papers, evidence of teaching ability, and three letters of reference. In addition, the application should include a statement outlining the applicant's research interests and plans, and the broader questions that this research promises to engage. We prefer that applications and supporting materials be submitted online, at the following web address: https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/10337.

Materials submitted by mail should be sent to this address: Chair, Linguistics Search Committee, Department of Linguistics and Philosophy, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, 77 Massachusetts Ave., 32-D808, Cambridge, MA 02139-4307.

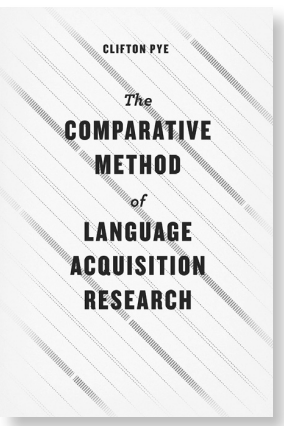

Consideration of applications will begin on December 15, 2017. To ensure full consideration, applications should be complete and letters of recommendation received by this date, but we will consider all applications submitted until the position is filled.

Women and members of underrepresented minorities are especially encouraged to apply. MIT is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

INFORMATION FOR CONTRIBUTORS

LANGUAGE, a journal of the Linguistic Society of America, carries technical articles dealing with problems of linguistic science, reviews of recently published linguistic works, and notes of interest to professional linguists.

MANUSCRIPTS for publication should be submitted to the online portal at http://journals.linguisticsociety.org/language, where submission guidelines and Society membership requirements can be found. BOOKS for review should be sent to the Review Editor of LANGUAGE (Helen Goodluck, Department of Language and Linguistic Science, University of York, Heslington, York, YO10 5DD, United Kingdom; lang525@york.ac.uk). Normally at least one author of any article or review article submitted to LANGUAGE must be a member of the Society.

Manuscript form. Authors of articles submitted to LANGUAGE should follow the latest version of the LANGUAGE style sheet in preparing their manuscripts for initial submission to LANGUAGE. For the complete style sheet, see the LANGUAGE web page at http://www.linguisticsociety.org/files/style-sheet.pdf, or write to the editors. Please see the 'Notes to Contributors' on the LANGUAGE website for more information about the submission process (http://journals.linguisticsociety.org/language/index.php/language/pages/view/Notes).

Book reviews are solicited by the Review Editor and must adhere as closely as possible to the LANGUAGE style sheet on first submission, but special notice must be taken of the specific instructions for book review formatting found online at http://journals.linguisticsociety.org/language/index.php/language/pages/view/book-reviews.
