dedaignant ni la plaisanterie ni la bonne chère, et s'inquiétant huit jours à l'avance. du menu qu'il offrira à ses invités, quand il doit donner un dîner.

"C'est un des convives habituels du fameux dîner Renan, qui a lieu tous les mois chez Brébant, et où il a pris la place devenue libre par la mort de Théophile Gautier. Pendant le siège, ce dîner se répétait tous les quinze jours et Brébant conserve précieusement une médaille d'or dont les convives lui firent present après la paix. Sur l'une des faces, on lit: 'Pendant le siége de Paris, quelques personnes ayant accoutumé de se réunir chez M. Brébant, tous les quinze jours, ne se sont pas une fois aperçues qu'elles dînaient dans une Ville de deux millions d'âmes assiégée, 1870-1871.' Et sur l'autre: 'Ernest Renan, P. de Saint-Victor, Berthelot, Ch. Blanc, Scherer, Dumesnil, A. Nefftzer, Ch. Edmond, Thénot, I. Bertrand, Marey, Ed. de Goncourt, Th. Gautier, A. Hébrard.' Maintenant que le voilà sénateur le docteur Broca pratiquera moins encore qu'il ne pratiqua. La politique dont il s'occupe volontiers va l'accaparer tout entier. [We trust not.—Eds]. C'est égal, le fils de l'obscur médicin de campagne a fait son chemin." Figaro, 6 Février, 1880.
