World's Poultry Science Association

Objectives

On a world-wide basis the WPSA has the objectives of promoting the advancement of knowledge of all aspects of poultry science and the poultry industry. This involves helping in the spread and exchange of information amongst people with an interest in the industry, encouraging the promotion of world congresses, regional conferences and group meetings and cooperating with other organisations in the furtherance of these aims. The official organ of WPSA is the World's Poultry Science Journal which is published four times each year and sent to all members in good standing.

Membership

Application for membership should be sent to Branch Secretaries in the appropriate country or to the Secretary of the World's Poultry Science Association, Dr Roel W.A.W. Mulder, PO Box 31, 7360 AA Beekbergen, The Netherlands (telephone: +31 55 506 3250, fax: +31 55 506 4858, Mobile: +31 6 515 19584, e-mail: roel.mulder@wpsa.com). The cost of membership varies because each branch sets its annual fee to include membership of the branch as well as the World's Association. In practice the costs varies between US$10 and US$50, or their equivalents.
