ABOUT THE AMERICAN POLITICAL SCIENCE ASSOCIATION (APSA)

Founded in 1903, the American Political Science Association (APSA) is the leading professional organization for the study of political science and serves more than 11,000 members in over 100 countries. With a range of programs and services for individuals, departments, and institutions, APSA brings together political scientists from all fields of inquiry, regions, and occupational endeavors within and outside academe in order to deepen our understanding of politics, democracy, and citizenship throughout the world. The direct advancement of knowledge is at the core of APSA activities.

We promote scholarly communication in political science through a variety of initiatives including publishing four distinguished journals: American Political Science Review, Perspectives on Politics, PS: Political Science & Politics, and the Journal of Political Science Education.

THE LATEST EDITION OF A SEMINAL WORK

"This latest work by Lawless and Fox is an all-to-rare thing in social sciences - authors returning again and again to important questions and examining those questions over time, in different contexts, and during different political periods."

KATHY DOLAN, distinguished professor at University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, and author of When Does Gender Matter?

"Despite significant social and political change, women are still much less likely to run for office than men - just as was true two decades ago. Fox and Lawless' original research created an agenda for understanding women's underrepresentation in American politics, and this new book underscores how their insights remain as vital today as ever."

DANNY HAYES, George Washington University, and co-author of Women on the Run: Gender, Media, and Political Campaigns in a Polarized Era
