Law & Society Review

BASIC STYLE SHEET

All manuscripts should be typed double spaced on one side only. Rejected manuscripts cannot ordinarily be returned. While manuscripts need not conform to this style sheet at the time of submission, all manuscripts must include footnotes and a list of references, and all accepted manuscripts must be revised by the author to conform to the style of the Review. The rules listed below supplement the manuscript information on the inside front cover of the Review. Authors are urged to consult recent issues of this journal for further illustrations. A more detailed style sheet is available from the editorial office.

1. CITATIONS: All notes that consist merely of supporting citations should be placed in parentheses in the text. They should follow the statement they support and be in the following style:

(last name of author, year: page number or numbers to which you refer, if any)

EXAMPLE: . . . the opposition in Paris (Rudé, 1967: 167).

2. FOOTNOTES: All footnotes should be numbered sequentially and placed immediately after the text. They should contain only substantive comments and additional references not immediately relevant to the text.

3. REFERENCES: References are to be placed at the end of the manuscript and double spaced. For more than one publication by the same author, list them in chronological order beginning with the oldest. For more than one publication in one year by the same author, use small letters to distinguish them (e.g., 1970a; 1970b).

a. BOOKS: LAST NAME, First name (year) Title of book. City: Publisher.

EXAMPLE: ARNOLD, Thurman W. (1935) The Symbols of Government. New York: Harcourt, Brace and World.

b. ARTICLES: LAST NAME, First name (year) "Title of article," volume number Journal initial page of article (month and day only if each issue is separately paginated).

EXAMPLE: STERN, Curt (1970) "The Continuity of Genetics," 99 Daedalus 882.

4. TABLES AND FIGURES: Tables should approximate the appearance of printed tables. Figures should be camera ready. Tables and/or figures should be placed at the end of the text, after footnotes and references. Their location within the text should be indicated as follows:

Table 1 about here

5. ABSTRACTS: All articles should include an abstract of between 50 and 100 words.

International Journal of the Sociology of Law

Editor Maureen Cain

Institute of Criminology, Cambridge, U.K.

The International Journal of the Sociology of Law adopts a critical stance toward the sociology of crime and law. Contributors from disciplines such as criminology, jurisprudence, sociology, history, and anthropology debate both issues of long-term theoretical importance and matters of more immediate political and social concern.

An important minority of articles deal with progressive criminology, reflecting the way in which this area of study has moved beyond the legal categories in terms of which these processes have been understood until now.

Each issue of the journal contains a section of analytic reviews of recent socialist, feminist, and radical literature dealing with political and theoretical problems of law and control.

Research Areas Include

• Anthropology • Criminology • Feminist approaches to law
• History • Jurisprudence • Sociology

Publication: Quarterly; Subscription: Volume 15, 1987
£43.00 (U.K.)/$82.00 (Overseas)

Recent Articles Include:

S. J. Kenney: Reproductive Hazards in the Workplace: the Law and Sexual Difference. Y. Dezalay: From Mediation to Pure Law. S. Sevenhuijensen: Fatherhood and the Political Theory of Rights: Theoretical Perspectives of Feminism. P. Schottler (Trans. I. Stewart): Friedrich Engels and Karl Kautsky as Critics of "Legal Socialism". T. Dahl: Taking Women as a Starting Point: Building Women's Law. E. Hutchful: The Modern State and Violence: the Peripheral Situation. J. Conaghan: The Invisibility of Women in Labour Law: Gender-neutrality in Model-building. T. Priest and J. Krol: Lawyers in Corporate Chief Executive Positions.

SOCIAL PROBLEMS

Established in 1953, SOCIAL PROBLEMS is one of the most widely read and highly regarded journals in the social sciences. As a general journal of research and theory, it features work covering a wide range of topics, methods, and theoretical approaches to the study of social problems. Recent issues include articles on political scandals, television violence and violent crime, mental illness among the homeless, the anti-nuclear power movement, abuse of the elderly, and the origins of sexual psychopath laws. Occasionally, entire issues of the journal are devoted to important themes such as feminist thought and women's problems or critical perspectives on social problems and criminological theory. Throughout its history, the journal's editors have emphasized both scholarly excellence and stylistic clarity in publishing work that will be of interest to a broad readership.
