Index

Different terms for sexual harassment have been used in different chapters of the book. These terms have been indexed separately. They are: sexual abuse; sexual harassment; sexual harassment and assault; sexual misconduct; sexualized harassment; and workplace sexual harassment. See also rape myths.

Acceptance and Commitment Therapy, 123 advocacy activity coordination, 472
  calibrated outrage, 468 communication targets, 466–467 community-based research, 463 credible evidence, 462–463 lived-experience narratives, 464–465 meaning, 461–462
  medical barriers to, 469–470 messages delivered, 467–468 tailored arguments, 468–469 using trends, 463
  using varied evidence, 465
Afghanistan, restrictions on women doctors, 89 alcohol and sexual harassment, 118, 123, 124 Alliance Against Sexual Coercion, 59 ambulatory care workplaces doctors sexually harassing doctors, 70 doctors sexually harassing patients, 70 patients sexually harassing doctors, 70 rural women doctors' experiences, 71 types of, 69
Australia
  classist prejudice, 257
  gender-based violence, 257
  Indigenous communities, 255
  International Medical Graduates, 258–259 multiple health management systems, 258 universities and sexual harassment, 261 women doctor–nurse relationships, 259
Australian army speech, 271–272
Australian Health Professionals Regulatory Agency, 83
Australian Human Rights Commission, 180
Austria
  gender gaps in medicine, 281–282 traditional gender roles, 280

Balint, Michael, Balint groups, 445
Bandura, A, individuals and environments, 144
Barringer, Emily, harassment of women trainee doctors, 30
Bates, Laura, Everyday Sexism project, 409 Beijing Declaration and Platform for Action, 176 beneficial mistreatment, theory of, 88 benzodiazepines, 163
betrayal trauma theory, 270
Bion's model of containment, 506–507
Black, Carol, complicity in masculine hegemony, 26
Brazil, medical training in, 81
Brown, E. B., workplace sexual harassment, 59
Brunei, discrimination against female physicians, 296
Buowari, Dabota, advocacy using organisations, 472 Butler, Judith, gender difference, 27 bystanders. See witnesses

call centre staff, sexual harassment of, 73
CanMEDS Framework, 82–83, 86, 227, 467
China
  Massive Open Online Courses, 84
  medical training, 81
  workplace violence, 89
codes of conduct, 83–84
Connell, Raewyn, hegemonic masculinity, 23 consciousness-raising groups functions, 49

Downloaded from https://www.cambridge.org/core. UNIVERSIDAD AUTONOMA METROPOLITANA, on 15 Nov 2026 at 05:44:41, subject to the Cambridge Core terms of use, available at https://www.cambridge.org/core/terms. https://doi.org/10.1017/9781009673037.040

consciousness-raising groups (cont.)
language generation sites, 50
Cox, Dr Becky, Surviving in Scrubs, 485 Cuba, primary care team training, 90 culture of medicine, 11–12 driver of professional misconduct, 525 formulation of the problem, 514–521 multiple comorbidities, 480 ways to change, 492–493 curriculum, formal for medical training CanMEDS Framework, 82–83
competency-based learning, 82–83 effects of overcrowding, 82 student wellbeing, 495–496 teamwork, 498
trauma theory and management, 498, 510–511 workplace experience variations, 82 curriculum, hidden in medical training overview, 84, 201
potential effects, 84, 201 power of, 201

de Beauvoir, Simone
construction of gender, 29 embodiment, 28
depression, 108
disciplinary systems, conflict with social norms, 55 disciplines, medical, sexual harassment in anaesthetics/anaesthesiology, 27, 321, 390 emergency medicine, 68, 300–301, 524 general practice, 89, 117, 211 obstetrics and gynecology, 30, 105, 117, 244 radiation oncology, 163 surgery, 9, 103, 157–160, 267–268, 352, 394
dissociation, 504–505
doctors, all institutional power, 61 negative media coverage (UK), 89 occupational violence, 89 public trust of, 227
reluctance to seek personal help, 225, 229
Dual Control Model, 124

El Sadaawi, Nawal
Memoirs of a Woman Doctor (book), 29
The Hidden Face of Eve (book), 29
European Union Directive on equal treatment . . ., 47

Farley, Lin
contributions to Working Women United, 60
research and advocacy, 50–51
female doctors. See women doctors femininities, pariah, 27–28

feminist theorising
aims, 54
social interactionalism and language, 50 workplace sexual harassment, 52, 58–59
First Nations doctors, vulnerability in training, 89–90
Fleming, Simon, effective advocacy, 472 Flexner, Abraham, medical school curriculum, 24 fly-in, fly-out, sexual harassment of women, 72 foundations for change accountability, 453
challenging behaviour, dealing with, 456 change champions, 454 communication, 452–453
early intervention, 455 expectations, 452
gender equity focus, 456 human resources processes, 453–454 leadership at all levels, 456–457 metrics, 454
microcultures, addressing, 455–456 perseverance, 457
policies, 453
resistance, dealing with, 457 survivor support, 455
four factor theory, 38
Freyd, J, betrayal trauma theory, 270
Frye, Marilyn, hegemonic masculinity, 24

gender
as social role, 52
performance of, 28
gender inclusion programs, 40 gender, construction of, 28–29 Germany
backlash against protection of women, 313 lack of witness support, 307–308 Greene's dual-process theory of moral judgment, 200 greenwashing, 461

Handsjuk, Dr, litigation, 165
hashtag activism, 57, 58
Hidden Face of Eve, The, N. El Sadaawi (book), 29 history, recent, of sexual harassment in United States feminist theorising, 48, 50, 51
legal reforms, 51–53
origin story, 50–51
societal changes in 1970s, 48
Working Women United, 50–51
Hofstede's Power Distance Index, 357 hospital workplaces, 66 institutional endorsement of sexual harassment, 69 patriarchal hierarchies, 67 separation of female and male doctors, 67

Downloaded from https://www.cambridge.org/core. UNIVERSIDAD AUTONOMA METROPOLITANA, on 15 Nov 2026 at 05:44:41, subject to the Cambridge Core terms of use, available at https://www.cambridge.org/core/terms. https://doi.org/10.1017/9781009673037.040

spaces sexualised by actions of individuals, 69 women doctors hiding vulnerabilities, 67–68 women doctors vulnerable in unmonitored areas, 68
HOTSPOTS, 207–209
human rights
agencies, 175–176
complaints to international bodies, 176–178 domestic instruments, 180–181 evolution, 172–173
International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, 173 International Covenant on Economic Social and Cultural Rights, 173 international instruments, 181–182 limits of international action, 178–179 regional instruments, 179–180 treaty bodies, 174–175
Universal Declaration of Human Rights, 173

International Association of Medical Regulatory Authorities, 81, 186–188 International Labour Organization, 47, 175, 470
International Medical Graduates (IMG)s career progression, 295 cultural challenges, 293–294, 300 discrimination against, 81, 295 migration statistics, 81 psychological support, 302 visa risks of reporting, 269 vulnerability in training, 89–90, 207 work locations, 293
intersectionality
humanitarian aid organisations, 73 women of colour, 31
Iran, legal protection for women, lack of, 327

Japan
gender disparity, 331, 333 limited harassment guidelines, 336 overprotection of perpetrators, 337–338 unconscious stereotypes, 341
Jewitt, Dr Chelcie, Surviving in Scrubs, 485
Jex-Blake, Sophia, harassment of women trainee doctors, 30

karyokinesis, 30
Kearsley, Dr. litigation, 162–164
Kelsky, Dr Karen, #MeToo movement, 403

Le Guin, Ursula, silence of women, 401 legal aspects of sexual harassment delays in resolution, 266
Dr Handsjuk litigation, 165
Dr Kearsley litigation, 162–164
Dr Xenos litigation, 160
overview, 154
results for survivors of litigation, 160, 165 survivor court-case costs, 270
LGBTQIA+ patients, care of by International Medical Graduates, 296 Liang, Dr Rhea, women surgeons, 268 locum employment and sexual harassment, 71 characteristics, 71
discrimination against in health services, 71

MacKinnon, Catherine
'differences approach' to discrimination, 51 definition of sexual harassment, 52–53
'inequality approach' to discrimination, 53 origin story of workplace sexual harassment, 60 Malaysia
Hofstede's Power Distance Index, 357 resistance to punitive action, 355–356 sexual harassment, limited legal protection, 351 male allyship programs, 41 male doctors alternative narratives about sexual harassment, 61 care of LGBTQIA+ patients by International Medical Graduates, 296 masculinity, hegemonic medical alternative masculinities and femininities, 26, 32 complicity in, 23, 25, 26, 32
Marilyn Frye metaphor, 24
meaning, 23
medical school entry, 25
subordination to, 23
support by marginalised individuals, 24 McMullin, Dr Gabrielle, advice to surgical trainees, 106, 156, 267 medical clinics. See ambulatory care workplaces medical educators, tasks performed, 494 medical regulatory authorities definition, 186
expectations of doctors, 189–192 responses to complaints, 192–194 statutory powers, 187 medical training. See also curriculum, formal; curriculum, hidden; virtual medical training; workplace learning access in different countries, 88 assessment of professional skills, 202 authentic connections with patients, 86 beneficial mistreatment, theory of, 88
current challenges, 78–79 discomfort with uncertainty, 200–201

Downloaded from https://www.cambridge.org/core. UNIVERSIDAD AUTONOMA METROPOLITANA, on 15 Nov 2026 at 05:44:41, subject to the Cambridge Core terms of use, available at https://www.cambridge.org/core/terms. https://doi.org/10.1017/9781009673037.040

medical training (cont.)
environment reporting systems, 209 experiencing personal trauma, 90–91 exploitation of trainee doctors, 89 expressing appropriate empathy, 90–91 formative assessment and discrimination, 90 harassment enculturation, 481–482
HOTSPOTS, 207–208
individual responsibility for wellbeing, 90–91 international approaches, 81 internship, 80
interpersonal learning and challenges, 86
managing moral distress, 496–497 medical educator role, 196 medical school, 79
'minority tax', 90
ongoing training, 122
professional boundary violations, 209–210
professional identity formation, 83, 226 professionalism assessment through competencies, 197–198 reflective practice, 86, 493 specialist training, 80 technology use, 84–85
using blame and shame, 88 variations across countries, 81–82 vulnerability of trainee doctors, 89–90, 206–207, 210–211 whistleblowers, 160, 167, 206 women seen as 'others', 284 workplace learning, 79
medical workplace characteristics, 66 medicine
culture of, 11–12
future reduction in hegemony, 33
Médicins Sans Frontières, 72–73
Memoirs of a Woman Doctor, N. El Sadaawi (book), 29
#MeToo movement, 36, 41, 57, 140, 148
Mexico, isolation of trainee doctors, 367–368
Meyer, Susan
contributions to Working Women United, 60
research and advocacy, 50–51
Miller's Pyramid, 198–200
'minority tax', 90
misogyny networks, 409–411
mobile clinics, 72
Morrison, Lieut. Gen. David, 271

narcissm, sexual, 117
Nigeria
management of sexual harassment, 385 preference for male children, 376 vulnerability of single women, 379, 382–383 Nightingale, Florence, protections for nurses, 67 nurses, hospital
regimentation, 67
submission to doctors, 26

occupational sexual harassment. See workplace sexual harassment online platforms
addressing sexual harassment, 57–58 moderation, real costs, 57 Operating with Respect program, 104, 268, 470 outrage management model, 123
Oxfam, 72

Pakistan
doctor brides, 391
poor implementation of legal protections, 391–393 pariah femininities, 27–28 patients sexually harassed by doctors, 70
patients sexually harassing doctors, 12, 122–123, 148
performative empathy, 86
perpetrator characteristics ability to regulate emotions and actions, 124 attitudes towards women, 124
gender, 104
goal choices, 142
need for control and power, 143 personal traits, 117
workplace status, 39
Physicians' Pledge, 205
polyvagal theory, 231
positionality, on workplace sexual harassment, 60 power
and hierarchy, 7, 61, 67, 210
as social dynamic, 61 visible and invisible forms, 219
presenteeism, 107
Professional Standards Authority (UK), 238
professionalism and power, 205–206
balancing rights and obligations, 204–205 concept of, 196, 198
measuring through competencies, 196–198
Miller's Pyramid, 198–200
personal identity subordination, 209 professionalism assessment actions, 202
competence, 199
knowledge, 199
performance, 200–202
skills, 202
traits, 203–204

Downloaded from https://www.cambridge.org/core. UNIVERSIDAD AUTONOMA METROPOLITANA, on 15 Nov 2026 at 05:44:41, subject to the Cambridge Core terms of use, available at https://www.cambridge.org/core/terms. https://doi.org/10.1017/9781009673037.040

Protocol to the African Charter . . . Rights of Women . . ., 47 public health programs addressing sexual harassment, 116–126

rape myths, 116, 253, 269
Respect@work (Australian Human Rights Commission), 269 risk factors for sexual harassment, 227–228 ambition, 119
  economic precarity, 144
  First Nations persons, 89–90
  International Medical Graduates, 81
  intersectionality, 7
  lack of confidence, 246 mental health concerns, 143 off-site socialisation, 116
  organisational factors, 8, 144
  overnight shiftwork, 68
  prior abuse, xxvi rural and remote locations, 71, 72 specialist areas of medicine, 117, 147 temporary workplaces, 74 un-monitored spaces, 68
  workplace culture, 118–119

Sauvigné, Karen
  contributions to Working Women United, 60
  research and advocacy, 50–51
Schippers, M, alternative masculinities and femininities, 26 sexual abuse
  barriers to males advocating for reduction in, 40
  definition, 36, 236
  four factor theory, 38
  impacts of, 36
  men as victims, 37
  power imbalance, 38–39, 40, 210–211 prevalence, 37, 38, 237 roles of witnesses, 39
  social movements to address, 41 sexual harassment. See also other headings commencing with sexual and child sexual abuse, 504 as exceptionalised behaviour, 27 as socially legitimized behaviour, 371 as social-role policing, 52
  betrayal trauma theory, 270 burden of reporting, 481
  burnout, 102–103, 108–109 challenges for researchers, 55 complexity, questions for understanding, 56 consequences for survivors, 228, 383–384 context, targeted interventions to fit, 56–57 definitions, 1, 52–53, 62, 424
  depression, 108
  different conceptualisations, 47–48, 53–54
  disruption of teamwork, 109
  dissociation, 504–505
  effects of age on impacts, 105 effects of gender on impact, 105 effects on workplace culture, 106 environments facilitating, 231 financial losses for organisations and survivors, 107–108 forms of, 365
  gender effects on perceptions and reporting, 104 grooming behaviours, 32, 308 impacts on survivors, witnesses and colleagues, 6–7, 105–106 inappropriate focus on individuals, 219–220 incidence among doctors, 8–9
  intersectionality, 31, 73
  knowledge and skill to identify, 522 lack of colleague support, 310
  lasting impact, 324, 339
  legal reforms, 8, 59
  limiting career progression, 103, 105–106 loss of confidence in performance of gender, 32 medical disciplines, in See disciplines, medical, 1
  misogyny networks, 409–411
  organisational factors, 144
  origin story, 48, 50–51
  perpetrator initiated complaint, 381 personal becomes political, 49
  professional identity formation, 226 psychological harm, 102–103, 339 public spaces, in, 31 public trust of doctors, 226–227
  rape myths, 116, 253, 269
  reduced productivity and its effects, 107, 306 reporting and complaints systems, 8, 135 risk assessment and management, 522 role of power and hierarchy, 7, 264, 338 shiftwork, 68
  survivor internal conflict with professionalism, 228–229 survivors blaming themselves, xxii, 299, 302 trainees in medicine, science and engineering, 227 trauma, 503–504, 505, 506–508
  trivialisation of, 27
  typical targets, 328
  unwanted attention, 53
  use of term, development in, 51–52 witness reporting, 8 workers with multiple marginalisations, 59

Downloaded from https://www.cambridge.org/core. UNIVERSIDAD AUTONOMA METROPOLITANA, on 15 Nov 2026 at 05:44:41, subject to the Cambridge Core terms of use, available at https://www.cambridge.org/core/terms. https://doi.org/10.1017/9781009673037.040 sexual harassment and assault. See also other headings commencing with sexual and alcohol, 118, 123, 124 comprised behaviours, 115 consequences for perpetrators, 115–116 effects on survivors, 115–116, 123, 125, 438, 439–440 effects on witnesses, 115–116

perpetrator characteristics, 117–118, 121–122, 124 persons targeted, 117
sites of, 116, 123
support for survivors, 125–126 sexual harassment impacts on medical workplaces
burnout, 108–109
disruption of teamwork, 109
financial losses for organisations and survivors, 107–108 patient safety, 108
workplace culture, 106
sexual harassment management. See also foundations for change addressing range of personal needs, 240, 241, 246, 247 care for perpetrators, 241 case manager gender, 37–38 integrated services, 242, 246–247 legal responsibilities, 241 mismanagement of perpetrators, 242 punitive actions on perpetrators, 124–125 quotas for women, 406 supportive cultures (UK), 238, 239–240 unintended consequences, 241 sexual harassment non-reporting, 154–155, 156–157, 166–167, 482–484, 502–503 barrier reduction, 526
career progression, 103–104, 228
desire for anonymity, 483 lack of consequences for harasser, 326 loss of professional trust, 203 multiple stakeholders, 483 pathway, lack of, 323
statistics, 103–104, 148, 155–156 tolerance of harassment, 482 witness inaction, 210
sexual harassment prevention awareness training, 123 comprehensive approach, 311, 328–329, 424–425
consciousness-raising groups, 49
conversations, 484–485 culture change, 119
early detection and action, 121 education in schools, 409
hashtag activism, 57
legal reform, 52–53
male advocacy, 39
mandated training courses, 521
online platforms, 57–58
policy development, 118 public health programs, 41 recording and monitoring incidents, 122 right-wing backlash, 313 role of leaders, 119 role of men, 409
role of organisations, 118–121, 126 safe work policies, 522–523 self-control, 144–145, 145 setting professional boundaries, 327 social movements, 41
supportive colleagues, 322 training of leaders, 120 training of persons at risk and colleagues, 120–121 sexual harassment therapy addressing complexity, 232 dealing with shame, 232 goals of care, 229
in safe environments, 231
legal obligations of therapists, 230–231 potential conflicts for therapists, 229–230 sexual misconduct. See also other headings commencing with sexual confidentiality for survivors, 527 critical incident analysis, 526 cultural embedding, 144
definition, 141
disbelief by professionals, 143, 155 drivers of, 142
high-risk contexts, identifying, 524 high-risk target support, 524 idealised notions of medical profession, 140–141 increasing public awareness, 140 legal aspects, overview of, 154 limitations of sanctions, 146, 164 moral disengagement, 142–143, 147 normalising exploitation, 210
organisational factors, 8, 144, 146
professional boundary violations, 210, 244 recidivism, 164
reducing victimisation, 528 responses of targets, 141 resulting danger for patients, 383
results for survivors of litigation, 160, 165 survivor rehabilitation, 527 tactics of perpetrators, 141 targets, 143
treatment programs, 148 workplace environment, effects on, 144–148 sexualized harassment. See also other headings commencing with sexual

Downloaded from https://www.cambridge.org/core. UNIVERSIDAD AUTONOMA METROPOLITANA, on 15 Nov 2026 at 05:44:41, subject to the Cambridge Core terms of use, available at https://www.cambridge.org/core/terms. https://doi.org/10.1017/9781009673037.040

definition, 284
personal networks hindering reporting, 287 sexualized harassment, interventions to reduce awareness and knowledge raising, 288 collaborative working, promotion, 288 independent contact points, 289 zero-tolerance approach, 288 social interactionism framework, 49–50 sociocultural factors and harassment, 287 standards of practice attributes required of doctors, 187–188
Australia, 189–190
British Columbia, Canada, 190
New Zealand, 190
Singapore, 191
United Kingdom, 191
United States of America, 192
Stoute, Beverley, racial trauma, 507
Surviving in Scrubs (UK) about the organisation, 485–486 communications between stakeholders, 491–492 culture changes, 492–493 effective education and training, 487 empowering survivors, 486 health organisation capacity, 69 improved survivor support, 489, 491 independent inquiry, 489 national reporting system, 490 reporting mechanisms, 464 sexual misconduct research, 488–489 sexual safety policies, 490
Surviving Healthcare findings, 487 Surviving Healthcare recommendations, 487 telehealth, sexual harassment of doctors by patients, 73 therapeutic interventions, 124

Therapist's Dilemma, 230
Time's Up movement, 41, 415, 425, 467
trauma
Bion's model of containment, 506–507
breaking silence, 509–510
'climate of silence', 507–508 nature of, 503–504
psychological trauma treatment, 507 separation from others, 505 strategies to reduce, 525–526 theory and management training, 510–511 tripartite model of sexual harassment, 53

UN Women, 175
United Kingdom
culture of British Medical Association, 404–405 negative media coverage of doctors, 89 transparency in universities, 403
United Nations Convention . . . Discrimination Against Women, 47
United States, limited action on sexual harassment, 418 universities
gendered treatment of students, 29–30 harassment in, 29–30, 50, 105–106, 449 leadership in, 342, 363–364 medical school selection, 89, 203–204, 335 regulation of, 81, 121
training in, 79, 349–350, 364, 377, 391

VeneKlasen model of power, 211–219
Violence and Harassment Convention, 470 virtual medical training doctors serving diverse communities, 85 integration with face-to-face learning, 85 use of immersive technologies, 85

Whitehead, C. R., medical professionalism and gender, 25 witnesses
Australian army speech, 271–272
betrayal trauma, 271
empowerment of, 238–239 moral duties, 408–409
reports of sexual harassment, 8 results of observing sexual harassment, 115–116 roles, 39
Wittig, Monique, construction of gender, 28–29 women doctors
as surgeons, 259, 268, 402
disembodiment, 29
dress code, 29–30
hiding vulnerabilities, 67–68
IMG harassment and discrimination, 296 in ambulatory care workplaces, 69–71 menstruation, 67–68
patriarchal hierarchies in hospitals, 67 pregnancy, 30
professional identity formation, 83, 226 restrictions on doctors and their training, 89 separation from male doctors in hospitals, 67 sexual harassment in public spaces, 31 sexual harassment of trainees, 30–31 telehealth, sexual harassment by patients, 73 vulnerability in making allegations, 165 vulnerability in unmonitored areas, 68 working woman, concept changes in 1970s, 48 Working Women United, 50, 51, 59, 60 workplace cultures. See also foundation for change barriers to creating respect for women, 450–451 discouraging sexual harassment, 238

Downloaded from https://www.cambridge.org/core. UNIVERSIDAD AUTONOMA METROPOLITANA, on 15 Nov 2026 at 05:44:41, subject to the Cambridge Core terms of use, available at https://www.cambridge.org/core/terms. https://doi.org/10.1017/9781009673037.040

workplace cultures (cont.)
facilitating sexual harassment, 106, 119 workplace learning. See also medical training; virtual medical training interpersonal learning and challenges, 87 short-term allocations to teams, 87 workplace sexual harassment. See also other headings commencing with sexual; and history, recent, of sexual harassment conceptualisation through narrative frameworks, 54–55
definitions, 6
disclosure of abuse to confidante, 240 harassment and discrimination narratives, 201 medical culture, 5, 11–12 narratives focussing on sex, 55 origin of term, 51
origin story, 58
sexual coercion, 6, 53
'sisterhood' narrative, 58
telehealth, 73
World Federation of Medical Education, 81
World Medical Association, 205

Xenos, Dr, litigation, 157–160

Yeoh, Betty
grass roots advocacy, 467 implementing change, 470

Zambia
barriers to action on sexual harassment, 434 reasons for non-reporting of sexual harassment, 436–437

Downloaded from https://www.cambridge.org/core. UNIVERSIDAD AUTONOMA METROPOLITANA, on 15 Nov 2026 at 05:44:41, subject to the Cambridge Core terms of use, available at https://www.cambridge.org/core/terms. https://doi.org/10.1017/9781009673037.040