NEW & FORTHCOMING BOOKS

REPRESENTING ORDER

CRIME, LAW, AND JUSTICE IN THE NEWS MEDIA

Richard V. Ericson, Patricia Baranek, Janet Chan

Following the authors' widely acclaimed previous works, Visualizing Deviance and Negotiating Control, this volume analyses news content as an integral part of the crime, law, and justice processes.
Cloth $50.00, paper $19.95

REGULATING TRAFFIC SAFETY

Martin L. Friedland,
Michael J. Trebilcock, and Kent Roach

Traffic accidents are responsible for the greatest number of deaths each year for many age groups. At present, authorities rely heavily on policing and prosecutions to control accidents. The authors of this work examine the effectiveness of these and other techniques, and suggest alternatives that may provide better results.
Paper $16.95

SECURING COMPLIANCE

SEVEN CASE STUDIES

Edited by Martin L. Friedland

This interdisciplinary collection of essays offers insights into why people do and don't comply with the law and what techniques may prove most effective in achieving compliance. Subjects range from securities regulation and prostitution to environmental protection and family violence, as well as workplace safety, tax law compliance, and traffic safety regulation.

The Realm of Rights

Judith Jarvis Thomson

In this vigorous work, Judith Thomson presents and defends a systematic theory of human and social rights. She provides the theory by mapping out exactly where within the territory of morality the realm of rights lies, and then goes on to describe what exists within it. Hypothetical cases illustrate the content, sources, and limits of our rights as well as what kinds of tradeoffs may and may not be made in exercising them. This important book will take its place as a major effort to produce a cogent theory of what lies at the heart of liberalism.

"This book isn't only about rights; it is also about thinking about rights. Thomson works her way through to a comprehensive account of what our rights are (and aren't: she is wonderfully resistant to rights extravaganzas). She also shows us, with elegance and wit, how to do this sort of work: what a philosophical argument is, how one shapes an argument and makes it stick, and why the enterprise is so engaging."

—Michael Walzer

The Human Measure

Social Thought in the Western Legal Tradition

Donald R. Kelley

In this masterful inquiry into the Western legal tradition, Donald Kelley argues that law and the theory and practice of jurisprudence represent the most concrete efforts to find a human measure, a systematic practical philosophy broader than political theory, that will allow us to understand, and perhaps control, the human social condition.

"This is an astonishing book— astonishing in its range of learning, its force of argument, its eloquence and its appeal."

—Anthony T. Grafton,
Princeton University

Surrogate Motherhood

Enlarged Edition

Martha A. Field

"A lucid and compelling analysis of the plethora of legal problems posed by surrogacy and the social implications of those problems... [It] should be read by anyone concerned with the legal and ethical implications of the reproductive revolution."

Law & Society Review
BASIC STYLE SHEET

All manuscripts should be typed double-spaced on one side only. Rejected manuscripts cannot ordinarily be returned. While manuscripts need not conform to this style sheet at the time of submission, all manuscripts must include footnotes and a list of references, and all accepted manuscripts must be revised by the author to conform to the style of the Review. The rules listed below supplement the manuscript information on the inside front cover of the Review. Authors are urged to consult recent issues of this journal for further illustrations. A more detailed style sheet is available from the editorial office.

1. CITATIONS: All notes that consist merely of supporting citations should be placed in parentheses in the text. They should follow the statement they support and be in the following style:

(last name of author year: page number or numbers to which you refer, if any)

EXAMPLE: . . . the opposition in Paris (Rudé 1967:167).

2. FOOTNOTES: All footnotes should be numbered sequentially and placed immediately after the text. They should contain only substantive comments and additional references not immediately relevant to the text.

3. REFERENCES: References are to be placed at the end of the manuscript and double spaced. For more than one publication by the same author, list them in reverse chronological order beginning with the most recent. For more than one publication in one year by the same author, use small letters to distinguish them (e.g., 1970a; 1970b).

a. BOOKS: LAST NAME, First name (year) Title of Book. City: Publisher.

EXAMPLE: ARNOLD, Thurman W. (1935) The Symbols of Government. New York: Harcourt, Brace & World.

b. ARTICLES: LAST NAME, First name (year) "Title of article," volume number Journal initial page of article (month and day only if each issue is separately paginated).

EXAMPLE: STERN, Curt (1970) "The Continuity of Genetics," 99 Daedalus 882.

4. TABLES AND FIGURES: Tables should approximate the appearance of printed tables. Figures should be camera ready. Tables and/or figures should be placed at the end of the text, after footnotes and references. Their location within the text should be indicated as follows:

Table 1 about here

5. ABSTRACTS: All articles should include an abstract of between 50 and 100 words.
