Social Policy & Society 10:4, 591–593
© Cambridge University Press 2011 doi:10.1017/S1474746411000339

Some Useful Sources

Peter Dwyer*, Graham Bowpitt, Rachael Dobson and Eva Sundin***

School of Nursing, Midwifery and Social Work, University of Salford*
E-mail: p.j.dwyer@salford.ac.uk

School of Social Sciences, Nottingham Trent University*
E-mail: graham.bowpitt@ntu.ac.uk

School of Sociology and Social Policy, University of Leeds
E-mail: r.dobson@leeds.ac.uk

Graduate School of Business, Law and Social Sciences, Nottingham Trent University*
E-mail: eva.sundin@ntu.ac.uk

The bibliographies attached to each of the papers in this themed section provide a wide range of resources for those interested in extending their knowledge of multiple exclusion homelessness and allied debates. Additionally, highlighted below are a number of books, papers and websites that may be of particular use to interested academics, policy stakeholders and students.

Books and reports

McNaughton, C. (2008), Transitions Through Homelessness: Lives on the Edge, Basingstoke: Palgrave Macmillan.
Ravenhill, M. (2008), The Culture of Homelessness, Aldershot: Ashgate.
Both of these books use autobiographical qualitative longitudinal data to explore homelessness pathways of a number of multiply excluded people and locate their experiences within a broader critical discussion of risk and welfare policy and practice in contemporary UK society.
Cebulla, A., Rice, B., Tomaszewski, W. and Hough, J. (2009), Profiling London's Rough Sleepers: A Longitudinal Analysis of CHAIN Data, London: Broadway, available at http://www.broadwaylondon.org/ResearchInformation/Research/ProfilingLondonsRough Sleepers.
This is an analysis of a database compiled from the returns of outreach workers working with rough sleepers in London 2000–2008 and gives a longitudinal profile of people moving in and out of rough sleeping to counterbalance misleading single night head counts.

Jones, A. and Pleace, N. (2010), A Review of Single Homelessness in the UK, 2000–2010, London: Crisis, available at http://www.crisis.org.uk/data/files/publications/ReviewOfSingleHomelessness_Final.pdf.
This is a fairly definitive overview of attempts to tackle multiple exclusion homelessness over the past decade in the UK.

Homeless Link (2010), Survey of Needs and Provision, London: Homeless Link, available at http://www.homeless.org.uk/SNAP.

https://doi.org/10.1017/S1474746411000339 Published online by Cambridge University Press

This is Homeless Link's annual survey of what is available for multiply excluded homeless people in the UK.

Journals

All of the mainstream social policy journals regularly publish articles exploring the many facets of homelessness and social exclusion. Additionally, there are a number of interdisciplinary journals that focus specifically on housing issues and homelessness these include:
Housing Studies – http://www.informaworld.com/smpp/title~content=t713424129.
International Journal of Housing Policy – http://www.informaworld.com/smpp/title~db=all~content=t713700559~tab=issueslist.
People, Place and Policy – http://extra.shu.ac.uk/ppp-online/.

The European Journal of Homelessness – http://www.feantsaresearch.org/code/en/pg.asp?Page=1112.

Readers who want to further explore the relationship between homelessness and trauma – physical, sexual and emotional – which is likely to be of interest to both social and psychological researchers, may be interested in the following journals:
Health and Social Work – http://www.ingentaconnect.com/content/nasw/hsw.
Journal of Aggression, Maltreatment and Trauma – http://www.informaworld.com/smpp/title~db=jour~content=t792303964~tab=issueslist.
Journal of Health Care for the Poor and Underserved – http://muse.jhu.edu/journals/journal_of_health_care_for_the_poor_and_underserved/.

Additionally the following pieces will be useful for readers interested in debates about the interplay between care and coercion in recent policy:

Fitzpatrick, S. and Jones, A. (2005), 'Pursuing social justice or social cohesion? Coercion in street homelessness policies in England', Journal of Social Policy, 34, 3, 389–406.
Harrison, M. and Sanders, T. (2006), 'Vulnerable people and the development of "regulatory therapy"', in A. Dearling, T. Newburn and P. Somerville (eds.), Supporting Safer Communities: Housing, Crime and Neighbourhoods, Coventry: Chartered Institute of Housing, pp. 155–68.
Johnsen, S., Cloke, P. and May, J. (2005), 'Day centres for homeless people: spaces of care or fear?', Social and Cultural Geography, 6, 6, 787–811.
Johnsen, S. and Fitzpatrick, S. (2010), 'Revanchist sanitisation or coercive care? The use of enforcement to combat begging, street drinking and rough sleeping in England', Urban Studies, 47, 8, 1703–23.
Whiteford, M. (2010), 'Hot tea, dry toast and the responsibilisation of homeless people', Social Policy and Society, 9, 2, 193–205.

Web based resources

Centre for Housing Policy, University of York http://www.york.ac.uk/inst/chp/themehomeless.htm – this is a major centre for homelessness research in the UK.

https://doi.org/10.1017/S1474746411000339 Published online by Cambridge University Press

CRESR (Centre for Regional Economic and Social Research) http://www.shu.ac.uk/research/cresr/index.html – part of Sheffield Hallam University, researchers at this centre have published a number of important reports relevant to homelessness and social exclusion. It is also the home of the journal People, Place and Policy (see above).
Department for Communities and Local Government http://www.communities.gov.uk/housing/homelessness/ – this link will take you to the web page for housing and homelessness related publications, press releases and policy statements produced by the UK Government.
FEANTSA http://www.feantsa.org/code/en/hp.asp – FEANTSA (the European Federation of National Organisations Working with the Homeless) is a network of not-for-profit organisations committed to fighting against homelessness in Europe.
Homeless Link http://www.homeless.org.uk/ – this is a campaigning national charity supporting people and organisations that work directly with homeless people in England, and their web pages hold a plethora of information and research about homelessness as well as being the home of the European Journal of Homelessness (see above).
Homeless Pages – http://www.homelesspages.org.uk/ – this is a site maintained by Homeless Link (see above) which provides a comprehensive listing of contemporary and archived UK publications on homelessness and related issues.
MEAM – http://www.meam.org.uk/ – MEAM (Making Every Adult Matter) is a coalition of four national charities, Clinks, DrugScope, Homeless Link and Mind, that work with people who have multiple and complex needs. They aim to influence policy and service provision to challenge the social exclusion of vulnerable adults who face multiple challenges in their lives.

Various charities
It is worth looking on the web sites of the key homelessness charities, many of which publish important research into multiple exclusion homelessness, including:
Broadway – http://www.broadwaylondon.org
Crisis – http://www.crisis.org.uk
Shelter – http://england.shelter.org.uk/
St Mungo's – http://www.mungos.org

https://doi.org/10.1017/S1474746411000339 Published online by Cambridge University Press