THE SCHOOL OF CRITICISM & THEORY at Cornell University

An international program of study with leading figures in critical theory invites you to apply for its 2017 Summer Session, June 18 - July 27

IN NEW YORK STATE'S FINGER LAKES REGION

"The SCT combines a relentless schedule of events with a pervasive spirit of conviviality."
Martin Moraw, Brandeis University

"In this community of critics, away from the familiar ecology of one's home institution, one is offered new ways of seeing, new questions, new connections."
David Russell, Princeton University

"One of the most enriching intellectual experiences of my academic life."
Karine Côté-Boucher, York University

"Six weeks in Ithaca gave me many moments of hopefulness: I made extraordinary friends; I found space, seven years into a faculty position, to think and to argue without the pressure of writing or publication."
Andrew van der Vlies, Queen Mary, University of London

Hent de Vries, Director
Russ Family Professor in the Humanities and Philosophy, Director of The Humanities Center, Johns Hopkins University

The Program
In an intensive six-week course of study, participants from around the world, across disciplines in the humanities and social sciences, explore recent developments in critical theory.

Tuition
The fee for the session is $3000. Applicants are eligible to compete for partial tuition scholarships and are urged to seek funding from their home institutions.

Admission
We welcome applications from faculty members and advanced graduate students at universities worldwide. Applications must be submitted online by February 1, and admissions decisions are announced in March.

NEW FROM BLOOMSBURY

Literature
An Introduction to Theory and Analysis
Edited by Mads Rosendahl Thomsen, Lasse Horne Kjældgaard, Lis Møller, Dan Ringgaard, Lilian Munk Rösing and Peter Simonsen

What is "literature"? How does it relate to the world: to politics, to history, to the environment? And how do we find meaning in a novel? This wide-ranging introduction helps students to explore these and many other essential questions in the study of literature, criticism and theory. Covering key definitions, literature's relationship to the world around it and the diverse forms of literature and criticism, the book includes a glossary of major critical schools and annotated further reading throughout.

Literary Theory
The Complete Guide
Mary Klages

Bringing together Mary Klages's bestselling introductory books Literary Theory: A Guide for the Perplexed and Key Terms in Literary Theory into one integrated, expanded and updated volume, this is an accessible and authoritative guide for anyone entering the often bewildering world of literary theory for the first time. Literary Theory: The Complete Guide includes accessible chapters on all the major schools of theory from deconstruction and feminist theory through psychoanalytic criticism to Marxism and postcolonialism, as well as new chapters on ecocriticism and affect theory. The book includes reflection questions for class discussion and a glossary of key terms covered.

The Writer's Reader
Vocation, Preparation, Creation
Edited by Robert Cohen and Jay Parini

The Writer's Reader is an anthology of essays on the art and life of writing by significant writers of the past and present. These essays offer a wealth of insights into the varied ways in which writers approach writing, ranging from classic to less well-known, historical to contemporary. This anthology includes essays on the vocation of writing by, for example, Flannery O'Connor and Julia Alvarez; thoughts on preparing for writing by Jorge Luis Borges and Joan Didion, among others; and essays on the craft of writing by writers such Lydia Davis, David Foster Wallace, and Zadie Smith, among many others. Taken together, this collection is a must-read for any student or devotee of writing.

Surrealist Poetry
An Anthology
Edited and Translated by Willard Bohn

Surrealist Poetry presents new English translations of nearly 150 poems alongside their original French and Spanish versions. Founded by André Breton in 1924, Surrealism sought to examine the unconscious realm by means of the written and/or spoken word. By stretching language to its limits and beyond, the Surrealists transformed it into an instrument for exploring the human psyche. The poets in this collection come not only from France, where Surrealism was invented, but also from Spain, Belgium, Egypt, Martinique, Mauritius, Mexico, Chile, and Peru. Equipped with a critical introduction and a brief bibliography, this anthology will appeal to anyone interested in modern poetry.

Mathilde Blind
Late-Victorian Culture and the Woman of Letters
James Diedrick
$49.50 | CLOTH | VICTORIAN LITERATURE AND CULTURE SERIES

"Mathilde Blind is a groundbreaking critical biography of the German-born British aesthete. It is more than just a fascinating account of Blind's life as a freethinking radical feminist in late-Victorian London—it is a book that underscores the importance of her poetry and her critical writings for the literature and culture of the fin de siècle. This literary biography shows that her work was at the heart of the late-Victorian turn to the republican politics and aesthetics of Romanticism. An important, must-read book."—Ana Parejo Vadillo, Birkbeck University of London, author of Women Poets and Urban Aesthetics: Passengers of Modernity

The Seven Deadly Sins of Legal Writing

Theodore L. Blumberg

A most cogent guide to good legal writing. Blumberg emphasizes the importance of cultivating a clear and engaging prose style. He not only provides a typology of the profession's most common literary sins; he explores the motivations behind them. At once witty and exhilarating, The Seven Deadly Sins of Legal Writing will change the way lawyers and scholars do business.

Under pressure of disbarment this book should be read and understood by every lawyer, most of whom forget they, and the judges who read their miserable briefs, are human beings.

Generous Mistakes
Incidents of Error in Henry James
MICHAEL ANESKO
Anesko explores Henry James's efforts to correct 'mistakes' that he later perceived in his books as first printed. He focuses on two of Henry James's most important texts, The Portrait of a Lady (1881) and The Ambassadors (1903), and the ways in which both betray (in very peculiar ways) the fallibility of James himself.

New Directions in Law and Literature
Edited by ELIZABETH S. ANKER and BERNADETTE MEYLER
This collection of essays by twenty-two prominent scholars from literature departments and law schools showcases the vibrancy of recent work in law and literature and highlights its many new directions since the field's heyday in the 1970s and 80s.

Spectacular Men
Race, Gender, and Nation on the Early American Stage
SARAH E. CHINN
Chinn investigates how working class white men looked to the early American theatre for examples of ideal manhood. Places the theatre at the center of the self-creation of working white men, as voters, as workers, and as Americans.

Approaches to Teaching the Plays of August Wilson

Edited by Sandra G. Shannon and Sandra L. Richards

"I am delighted with the range and quality of essays in this volume from established heavy hitters and exciting younger scholars. They are full of valuable perspectives and insights on a broad selection of Wilson's plays that will register with both teachers and students."

—Steven Tracy, University of Massachusetts, Amherst
