VOLUME 16
SUPPLEMENT 1 (SPRING 2025)
ISSN 2194-5888

Journal of Benefit-Cost Analysis

Applied Regulatory Analysis: Essays in Honor of Jerry Ellig

Guest Editor: Susan E. Dudley, The George Washington University Regulatory Studies Center

Society for Benefit-Cost Analysis

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

https://doi.org/10.1017/bca.2025.10038 Published online by Cambridge University Press

Journal of Benefit-Cost Analysis

VOLUME 16 | SUPPLEMENT 1 | SPRING 2025

Peer review process:

The papers in this special issue were reviewed following the Journal of Benefit-Cost Analysis' standard peer review process.

Acknowledgments:

This supplement received a publication grant from The George Washington University Regulatory Studies Center.

Regulatory Studies Center

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

https://doi.org/10.1017/bca.2025.10038 Published online by Cambridge University Press

Journal of Benefit-Cost Analysis

VOLUME 16 | SUPPLEMENT 1 | SPRING 2025

Articles

Introduction to the Special Issue
Susan E. Dudley 1

Regulatory Impact Analysis and Litigation Risk
Christopher Carrigan, Jerry Ellig, and Zhoudan Xie 3

Reorganization of Economists at the FCC: The Role of Decision Rights, Control Systems, and Culture
Jerry Ellig, Wayne Leighton, and Giulia McHenry 22

Regulatory Reform: Results and Challenges
Susan E. Dudley and Jerry Ellig 44

Benefit–cost analysis in the 5.9 GHz band
Thomas Hazlett 60

Is Communications-Company Ownership of Video Content a Threat to Competition?
Robert W. Crandall 84

Applying the Regulatory Report Card to Tax Regulations
Bridget C.E. Dooling and Kristin E. Hickman 96

Don't TREAD on Anyone? The Political Economy and Effectiveness of Tire Pressure Monitoring Systems
Sean E. Mulholland 112

"What's Your Problem?": Building an Evidence-Based System of Regulatory Analysis from the Bottom-Up
Reeve T. Bull 134

On the Design of a Regulatory System
Patrick A. McLaughlin and Tyler Richards 139

The Incomparable Jerry Ellig
Richard A. Williams 144

https://doi.org/10.1017/bca.2025.10038 Published online by Cambridge University Press