

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

A practical guide that addresses suicide prevention strategies. Succinct and evidence based, it examines issues such as patient intention, domestic violence and gender. This book will be useful for psychiatrists, policy makers, social workers, and NGO workers.

- This book provides guidance on practical issues such as establishing surveillance and addressing the decriminalisation of suicide in low - and middle-income country contexts
- Global in its outlook and evidence base, this is relevant to both High Income and Low and Middle Income countries, while avoiding simplistic lists of what is happening in different countries
- Fresh perspectives are giving by tackling new ideas, such as the relationship between violence and suicide, why a gross excess of men die by suicide in high income countries, and querying the importance of ascertaining intention

RC PSYCH
ROYAL COLLEGE OF PSYCHIATRISTS

Find out more at
www.cambridge.org/9781108965620

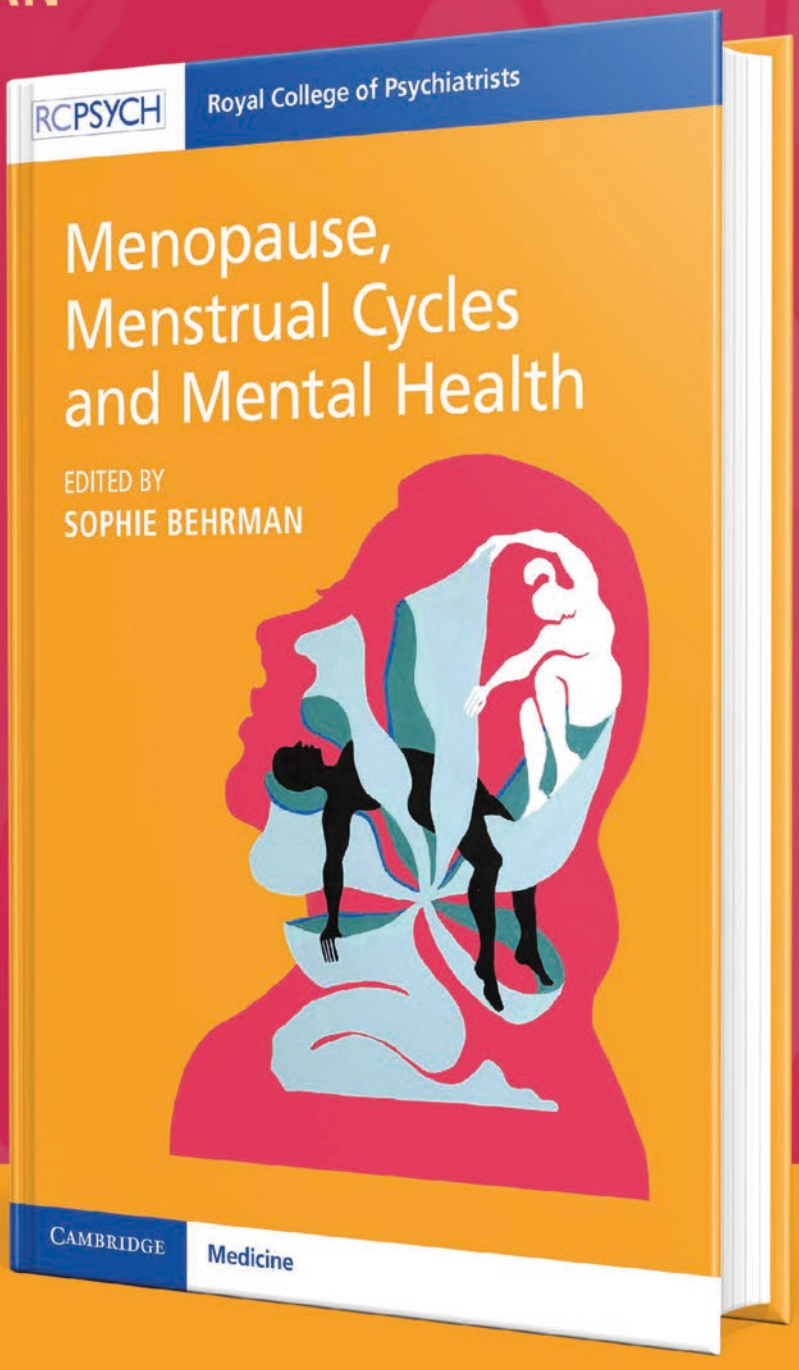

https://doi.org/10.1192/bjp.2025.10412 Published online by Cambridge University Press

RC PSYCH
ROYAL COLLEGE OF PSYCHIATRISTS

Menopause, Menstrual Cycles and Mental Health

EDITED BY SOPHIE BEHRMAN

A pioneering resource exploring the impact of menstruation, menopause, and hormonal contraception on mental health. Combining evidence-based research, UK clinical guidelines, and lived experience insights, this essential resource supports clinicians working in healthcare settings to assess and manage hormonal influences on women's mental wellbeing.

Find out more at
www.cambridge.org/9781009689502

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

https://doi.org/10.1192/bjp.2025.10412 Published online by Cambridge University Press