EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES IN LINGUISTICS

In posting the job announcements below, we remind readers that job discrimination is illegal. The Linguistic Society of America thus retains the right to refuse or edit all discriminatory statements from copy sent to the Secretariat for publication in Language that are not in consonance with the principles of Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. The Executive Committee of the LSA hopes that all the job announcements will facilitate open hiring on the basis of merit to the advantage of all.

The LSA accepts listings from academic institutions under censure by the American Association of University Professors (AAUP). However, these listings are identified in this publication by (*) preceding position openings in order to advise applicants that the employing institution or its administration has been censured by the AAUP and that further information may be obtained on the situation from the AAUP.

Boston University seeks a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Linguistics to begin in Fall 2014 (pending budgetary approval), to teach and advise at the undergraduate and graduate levels in the areas of language acquisition and linguistic theory and to participate in overseeing the annual BU Conference on Language Development. Requirements include a Ph.D. in Linguistics (in hand by start date), primary specialization in language acquisition, and secondary specialization in some area of linguistic theory. Strength in neurolinguistics would be a plus. Demonstrated excellence in research, teaching, and advising is expected. Application materials should include a cover letter; CV; research statement; teaching statement; documentation of teaching ability; three sample publications; and three letters of recommendation. Application materials should be uploaded as individual PDF files using Academic Jobs Online at https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/2803.

Please indicate in the cover letter whether or not you plan to attend the BU Conference on Language Development, November 1–3, 2013 (http://www.bu.edu/bucld/) and/or the LSA annual meeting January 2–5, 2014.

For full consideration, application should be complete by October 1, 2013. For information about the program, see http://ling.bu.edu. Inquiries should be directed to Prof. Neidle, chair of the search committee: carol@bu.edu. Boston University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer.

Frames and Constructions in Metaphoric Language

Karen Sullivan
University of Queensland

"Karen Sullivan has written a great book. The problem she solved is deep: In a sentence that is understood via conceptual metaphor, how can you tell which words fit the metaphoric source, and which fit the metaphoric target? Frames and Constructions in Metaphoric Language explains, for example, why spiritual wealth is about the richness of spirit, while blood-stained wealth is about ill-gotten wealth. The solution comes from integrating independent results in cognitive linguistics. How much more elegant can you get?"

Communication in Humans and Other Animals

Gisela Håkansson and Jennie Westander
Lund University / Parken Zoo/Linköping University

"This is a fascinating text, which bridges the gap between human and non-human communication. Whereas human spoken language is often considered qualitatively different from communication in other species, the authors successfully show the evolutionary continuum and thereby place human verbal interactions in a fascinating context. I hope the book will find a large audience."

Argument Structure in Flux

The Naples-Capri Papers

Edited by Elly van Gelderen, Jóhanna Barðdal and Michela Cennamo

"This collection of papers covers a wide spectrum of linguistic phenomena connected with argument realization, both synchronically and diachronically. It features a mix of contributions by renowned specialists in the field, and by younger researchers, providing unconventional insights often achieved through new methodologies into one of the most discussed issues in modern linguistics."

The Abridged Essential Chomsky

Nedžad Leko
University of Sarajevo

This book is a summary of representative texts by Noam Chomsky dealing with linguistics, politics and media. Since it may be used as a textbook in a one semester course, it has 15 chapters (one chapter for each teaching week in a semester). Each chapter is devoted to one book by Noam Chomsky. In the field of linguistics: Syntactic structures, Aspects of the theory of syntax, Language and mind, Reflections on language, Knowledge of language, The minimalist program, On nature and language, New horizons in the study of language and mind; in the field of politics: American power and the new mandarins, Fateful triangle, Hegemony or survival, Hopes and prospects; and in the field of media: Manufacturing consent, Necessary illusions, Media control.

This is followed by six appendices: three appendices contain lists of Chomsky's books in the field of linguistics, then in the field of politics and media, and a list of books about Chomsky. This part of the book also includes three annotated bibliographies of Chomsky's linguistic works, then his works dealing with politics and media, and finally the works of others about Chomsky.

ISBN 9783862884551 (Hardbound). LINCOM Academic Reference Books 05. 352pp. USD 192. 2013.

Evaluación pragmática de niños con síndrome de Asperger

Francisco J. Rodríguez Muñoz
Universidad de Almería

Francisco J. Rodríguez Muñoz es doctor en Lingüística por la Universidad de Almería (España). Una de sus líneas prioritarias de investigación es la pragmática clínica, como prueban sus recientes publicaciones sobre síndrome de Asperger: Síndrome de Asperger. Materiales y aproximación pragmalingüística (Valencia: Universidad de Valencia, 2009), "Hacia una reformulación del espectro autista" (Mente y Cerebro, 2010), "Estado de la cuestión y aproximación discursivo-comunicativa al síndrome de Asperger" (Lenguaje, Comunicación & Salud, Sevilla: ArCiBel, 2011), "La conciencia pragmática de adultos con síndrome de Asperger" (Revista de Logopedia, Foniatría y Audiología, 2012), entre otras.

En Evaluación pragmática de niños con síndrome de Asperger, el autor repasa exhaustivamente los avances que han conducido a un mayor entendimiento de esta patología en los últimos años. A partir de una muestra de veinte hablantes diagnosticados con síndrome de Asperger, aplica el Protocolo Rápido de Evaluación Pragmática (PREP-INIA) y ofrece los resultados de dicha valoración. Por tanto, pretende suministrar indicadores conductuales que, desde el ámbito de la pragmática, faciliten el proceso de detección del trastorno. Finalmente, proporciona un Apoyo Gráfico para el Entrenamiento Pragmático (AGEP), instrumento que sirvió para la recogida de datos orales y que puede ser útil de cara a la intervención comunicativa.

ISBN 9783862884629. LINCOM Studies in Pragmatics 25. 114pp. USD 66. 2013.

Bohuslav Havránek: Contributions to his life and work

Bohumil Vykypel (ed.)
Academy of Sciences, Brno

Bohuslav Havránek (1893–1978) belonged to the core of the Prague School and after the death of Vilém Mathesius he was even the president of the Prague Linguistic Circle. In spite of this he is almost unknown in the world. With the present volume, the authors wish – in the year of the 120th anniversary of Havránek's birth – to remind the world linguistics of his existence.

ISBN 9783862884520. Travaux linguistiques de Brno 10. 106pp. USD 72. 2013.

Studies in phonetics, phonology and sound change in Romance

Fernando Sánchez Miret & Daniel Recasens (eds.)
Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona; Universidad de Salamanca

This book gathers some contributions from phoneticians and phonologists working on sound change. The final goal of these contributions is to achieve a better knowledge of the causes and mechanisms of sound change through the articulatory and acoustic analysis of phonetic data and their perceptual evaluation. The papers published in this volume deal with several well-known sound changes in the field of Romance linguistics: vowel diphthongization in Italian dialects and Romanian, vowel harmony in Valencian Catalan, the origin of uvular [ʁ] in French, vowel and consonant epenthesis in the sequence /sr/ in Italian, liquid consonant dissimilation in Latin, raddoppiamento sintattico in Italian, and glide insertion and elision in the Romance languages.

INFORMATION FOR CONTRIBUTORS

LANGUAGE, a journal of the Linguistic Society of America, carries technical articles dealing with problems of linguistic science, reviews of recently published linguistic works, and notes of interest to professional linguists.

MANUSCRIPTS for publication, and exchange JOURNALS, should be sent to the Editor of LANGUAGE (Gregory N. Carlson, 502 Lattimore Hall, University of Rochester, Rochester, NY 14627-0096; language@rochester.edu). BOOKS for review should be sent to the Review Editor of LANGUAGE (Natsuko Tsujimura, Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures, Indiana University, Goodbody Hall 250, 1011 E. Third St., Bloomington, IN 47405-7005; tsujimur@indiana.edu). Articles to be considered for publication may be submitted electronically either as an e-mail attachment or on a CD. Authors should send an ANONYMIZED pdf version of the article (with all fonts, figures, etc. embedded), and the source file(s) in Word, .tex, or another common format, to language@rochester.edu. Hardcopy submissions are also welcome and should be sent to the editorial office mailing address. All authors should also send a brief (c. 250-word) abstract to language@rochester.edu. Normally at least one author of any article or review article submitted to LANGUAGE must be a member of the Society.

Manuscript form. Authors of articles submitted to LANGUAGE are not required to follow the LANGUAGE style sheet in preparing their manuscripts for initial submission to LANGUAGE. There is no restriction on the format of manuscripts, although authors should make their submissions as reader-friendly as possible. Any manuscript, however, that has been accepted for publication as an article will have to be revised so as to conform strictly to the LANGUAGE style sheet. For the complete style sheet, see the LANGUAGE web page at http://www.linguisticsociety.org/files/style-sheet.pdf, or write to the editors. Please see the 'Notes to Contributors' on the LANGUAGE website for more information about the submission process (http://www.linguisticsociety.org/lsa-publications/language/notes-to-contributors).

This policy does not apply to book reviews. These are solicited by the Review Editor and they must adhere as closely as possible to the LANGUAGE style sheet on first submission.
