Information for Authors

The Journal of East Asian Studies invites original contributions that meet the journal's aims and scope. Manuscripts may be in the form of articles (approximately 10,000 words), review essays or commentaries (3,000 words), or book reviews (1,000 words). Authors should retain a copy of their manuscript and submit either four double-spaced hard copies or an electronic version (as an e-mail attachment in Microsoft Word) to: Journal of East Asian Studies, East Asia Institute, #909 Sampoong Building, 310-68 Euljiro 4-ga, Jung-gu, Seoul 100-849, South Korea. Phone: 82-2-2277-1683; fax: 82-2-2277-1684; e-mail: jeas@eai.or.kr.

Books for review and correspondence concerning book reviews should be sent to Yves Tiberghien, Journal of East Asian Studies Book Review Editor, Department of Political Science, University of British Columbia, Buchanan C 416, 1866 Main Mall, Vancouver, British Columbia V6T 1Z1, Canada. Phone: 604-822-4358; fax: 604-822-5540; e-mail: yvestibe@politics.ubc.ca.

The journal accepts a manuscript on the understanding that its content is original and that it has not been accepted for publication or review elsewhere. Once accepted for publication, copyright resides with the journal. Rejected manuscripts will not be returned.

Preparing the Manuscript

Please follow these guidelines when you prepare your manuscript for submission. Manuscripts that do not conform to these guidelines will not be reviewed.

Spelling and style: Note that we conform to Webster's Collegiate Dictionary and The Chicago Manual of Style in matters of spelling, abbreviation, punctuation, etc. On first use of an acronym or abbreviation in the manuscript, please spell it out in full.

Abstract: Write the abstract in direct, vigorous prose. Length should be 150 words or less. A list of up to ten keywords, expressing the precise content of the manuscript, should appear directly below the abstract.

Figures and tables: All figures and tables should be professional in appearance. Provide figures as separate data (Excel) files instead of as pictures embedded within the Word document. Location of illustrations should be indicated by a note in the text (e.g., "Table 1 about here").

Biographical sketch: Include a biographical sketch for each author, including institutional affiliation and relevant experience. Length should be 75 words or less.

References: The Journal of East Asian Studies uses The Chicago Manual of Style author-date system. All sources are cited in the text in parentheses by author's last name and date of publication, with page numbers as appropriate (Kim 2007, 65). The short citations are amplified in a list of references where full bibliographic information is provided. For further information on references, please consult The Chicago Manual of Style, 16th edition, chapters 14 and 15.

Books and monographs: Diamond, Larry, and Byung-kook Kim, eds. 2000. Consolidating Democracy in South Korea. Boulder: Lynne Rienner.

Articles in journals: Wong, Joseph. 2004. "The Adaptive Developmental State in East Asia." Journal of East Asian Studies 4, 3: 345–362.

Chapters in books: Sadli, Mohammed. 1999. "The Indonesian Crisis." In Southeast Asia's Economic Crisis, ed. H. W. Arndt and Hal Hill, 16–27. Singapore: Institute of Southeast Asian Studies.

Online sources: Please include the author, article title, URL, and date.

Endnotes: Notes should not be used only to cite references and should be kept to a minimum. Acknowledgments should appear before the notes.

https://doi.org/10.1017/S1598240800009681 Published online by Cambridge University Press

VOLUME 14 • NUMBER 1 • JANUARY–APRIL 2014

Journal of East Asian Studies

CONTENTS

ARTICLES

Organizational Clientelism: An Analysis of Private Entrepreneurs in Chinese Local Legislatures ■ Xin Sun, Jiangnan Zhu, and Yiping Wu

Should I Stay or Should I Go? Patterns of Party Switching in Multiparty Taiwan ■ Dafydd Fell

Party System Institutionalization Without Parties: Evidence from Korea ■ Olli Hellmann

A Comparative Measure of Decentralization for Southeast Asia ■ Sarah Shair-Rosenfield, Gary Marks, and Liesbet Hooghe

The State and Direction of Asian Comparative Politics: Who, What, Where, How? ■ Jason P. Abbott and Kevin Fahey

BOOK REVIEWS

https://doi.org/10.1017/S1598240800009681 Published online by Cambridge University Press