cases, skilled occupations as therapeutic measures, and the hospitalisation of asylum medical administration. Though not the least of his many life-long activities, he will be most remembered by the admirable system of clinical recording which he established at Bexley referred to by the President of our Association in his Presidential Address(1) which later became general throughout the London Mental Hospitals and has been increasingly adopted throughout the country.

His resignation was accepted with much regret by the Asylums and Mental Deficiency Committee of the London County Council, and graceful reference was made to his valuable services by Mr. W. C. Johnson, J.P., at the Council Meeting which received the report. On June 30th at Bexley Mental Hospital there was a representative gathering of present and past members of his Committee, former colleagues (including Dr. C. Hubert Bond, Commissioner of the Board of Control), officers, staff generally, and patients of the hospital, at which Lieut.-Col. Stansfield was the recipient of a handsome silver gilt casket containing an engrossed address in appreciation of his devotion to his great ideals of work and duty, and the success which had been attained in their achievement.
