The Art of Riot

By Ronald Paulson

The Art of Riot makes an original contribution to our knowledge of riot in the English-speaking world of the past three centuries.

'Vintage Paulson: wide-ranging, erudite and full of provocative insight, The Art of Riot ranges magisterially from William Hogarth to Ralph Steadman and from Henry Fielding to Norman Mailer. Encompassing Britain, India, and North America, it combines literary and visual analysis of the highest quality with an enviable knowledge of their contexts'.

—John Brewer, Cal Tech

'The Art of Riot lives and breathes Ronald Paulson's capacious sense of history in action. Crowds, festivals, and riots flow together and apart in paradoxical patterns. Politics, high and low, frame Paulson's richly textured readings of art from Hogarth to Ensor and fiction from Fielding to Mailer. Riot in Paulson's hands becomes a profound aesthetic form.

—John Bender, Stanford U

NEW IN PAPERBACK

THE DEVIL IN THE HOLY WATER, OR THE ART OF SLANDER FROM LOUIS XIV TO NAPOLEON

Robert Darnton

"In political slander everything is of the moment, and only someone as immersed as Darnton is in the particularities of eighteenth-century publishing, politics and cultural life could possibly do justice to its noisome unruliness. . . . The return on Darnton's investment of time, energy and determination is extraordinary."—Lynn Hunt, London Review of Books

COVERT OPERATIONS

The Medieval Uses of Secrecy

Karma Lochrie

"Lochrie takes a significant feature of medieval culture, secrecy, and translates the issues it raises to urgent contemporary concerns while still illuminating their meaning within medieval contexts. . . . This is an important book."—Larry Scanlon, Rutgers University

The Middle Ages Series
2011 | 304 pages | Paper | $24.95

EXOTIC NATION

Maurophilia and the Construction of Early Modern Spain

Barbara Fuchs

"Fuchs has drawn from a wide array of sources to produce a rich, well-researched, and absorbing book that crosses disciplinary boundaries. . . . A first-rate contribution to the field of early modern studies."—Sixteenth Century Journal

2011 | 208 pages | 11 illus. | Paper | $22.50

THE BOHEMIANS

Anne Gédéon Lafitte, Marquis de Pelleport
Translated by Vivian Folkenflik
Introduction by Robert Darnton

"There is every reason to be grateful for this exemplary edition of a text that should have taken its place long ago on the shelves of any reader interested in eighteenth-century culture and philosophical tales."—H-France Reviews

2011 | 272 pages | Paper | $19.95

BEFORE FICTION

The Ancien Régime of the Novel

Nicholas D. Paige

"A fascinating work on an original subject: not the history of the novel as such, but the evolution of the concept of fiction. It is both well informed and thoroughly researched, both forcefully argued and elegantly written. Nicholas D. Paige takes on and dismantles with flair many a tired mantra of the novel's history."—Philip R. Stewart, Duke University

2011 | 312 pages | Cloth | $59.95

THE BAD TASTE OF OTHERS

Judging Literary Value in Eighteenth-Century France

Jennifer Tsien

"A systematic and thorough treatment of the difficult issue of taste, one that departs from canonical frames of reference. Jennifer Tsien's approach is original and innovative—many valuable tomes have been produced on early modern aesthetics, but nobody has ever made it look so entertaining, nor analyzed it with such lucid zest."—Elena Russo, The Johns Hopkins University

Harlem Renaissance Novels

The Library of America Collection

Rafia Zafar, editor

Perhaps no one was more central to the creative upheaval that became known as the Harlem Renaissance than a group of novelists who were determined to describe their own lives and their own world frankly and without compromise. Now, for the first time in this definitive two-volume set, their greatest works are presented in a handsome collector's edition featuring authoritative texts and a chronology, biographies, and notes reflecting the latest scholarship. Together, the nine works in HARLEM RENAISSANCE NOVELS form a vibrant collective portrait of African American culture in a moment of tumultuous change and tremendous hope. "In some places the autumn of 1924 may have been an unremarkable season," wrote Arna Bontemps, one of the novelists in the collection. "In Harlem it was like a foretaste of paradise." 1725 pages • 978-1-59853-106-0 • $70

HARLEM RENAISSANCE: Five Novels of the 1920s leads off with Jean Toomer's Cane (1923), a unique fusion of fiction, poetry, and drama rooted in Toomer's experiences as a teacher in Georgia, and includes Claude McKay's Home to Harlem (1928), a freewheeling, impressionistic, bawdy kaleidoscope of Jazz Age nightlife; Nella Larsen's Quicksand (1928), the poignant, nuanced psychological portrait of a woman caught between the two worlds of her mixed Scandinavian and African American heritage; Jessie Redmon Fauset's Plum Bun (1928), the richly detailed account of a young art student's struggles to advance her career in a society full of obstacles both overt and insidiously concealed; and Wallace Thurman's The Blacker the Berry (1929), with its anguished, provocative look at prejudice and exclusion as it tells of a new arrival in Harlem searching for love. 877 pages • 978-1-59853-099-5 • $35 • LOA #217

HARLEM RENAISSANCE: Four Novels of the 1930s opens with Langston Hughes's Not Without Laughter (1931), an elegantly realized coming-of-age tale that follows a young man from his rural origins to the big city, and includes George S. Schuyler's Black No More (1931), a satire founded on the science fiction premise of a wonder drug permitting blacks to change their race, and a raucous, carnivalesque send-up of American racial attitudes; Rudolph Fisher's The Conjure-Man Dies (1932), considered the first detective story by an African American writer, and Black Thunder (1936), Arna Bontemps's stirring fictional recreation of Gabriel Prosser's 1800 slave revolt. 848 pages • 978-1-59853-101-5 • $35 • LOA #218

"This brilliant anthology is a major contribution to our understanding of the Harlem Renaissance and to the history of the novel in America."
—Henry Louis Gates Jr.

The New Black Studies Series

Hollywood's Italian American Filmmakers
Capra, Scorsese, Savoca, Coppola, and Tarantino
JONATHAN J. CAVALLERO

Cavallero demonstrates how immigrant Italians fought prejudice, how later generations positioned vthemselves in relation to their predecessors, and how the American cinema, usually seen as a cultural institution that works to assimilate, has also served as a forum where assimilation was resisted.

Film and Attraction
From Kinematography to Cinema
ANDRÉ GAUDREAULT
Translated by TIMOTHY BARNARD
Foreword by Rick Altman

André Gaudreault argues that Edison and the Lumières did not invent cinema; they invented a device. Explaining how this device, the kinematograph, gave rise to cinema is the challenge he sets for himself in this volume.

The PHI BETA KAPPA Society

Dec 5 ΦBK 1776

The 2011 Walter J. Jensen Fellow in French Studies

Marjorie Johnson

MARJORIE JOHNSON, the 2011 Walter J. Jensen Fellow, is a graduate student in a two-year interdisciplinary program in linguistics, literature, and image studies at the École des Hautes Études en Sciences Sociales. With a stipend this year of $14,380, the fellowship will help her to spend a research year in Paris.

Established by a bequest to the Society from Walter J. Jensen (ΦBK, UCLA, 1941), the award is for an American educator and scholar in French language and literature who will study in France.

The award seeks to improve education in standard French language, literature, and culture. Candidates must be U.S. citizens under the age of 40 whose careers will involve active use of the French language.

Applications for the 2012 fellowship are due October 1, 2011. Apply online at www.pbk.org under "Fellowships." For more information, write to awards@pbk.org.

THE SCHOOL OF CRITICISM & THEORY at Cornell University

An international program of study with leading figures in critical theory

invites you to apply for its 2012 Summer Session, June 17 - July 27

IN NEW YORK STATE'S FINGER LAKES REGION

"One of the most enriching intellectual experiences of my academic life."
Karine Côté-Boucher, York University

"This summer odyssey transformed not only many ideas I previously had about theory and criticism, but also the very experience of being an academic."
Katarzyna Bojarska, Polish Academy of Sciences

"In this community of critics, away from the familiar ecology of one's home institution, one is offered new ways of seeing, new questions, new connections."
David Russell, Princeton University

"At SCT the exposure to learning is absolutely open and continuous."
Stefano Selenu, Brown University

"At SCT there is a spirit of lively, respectful exchange, serious commitment to critical dialogue, and actual interest in listening to others."
Lynda Paul, Yale University

"Our classroom was a rich mosaic of heterogeneous disciplinary backgrounds and interests."
Alicia Garcia, Johns Hopkins University

The Program
In an intense six-week course of study, participants from around the world, across disciplines in the humanities and social sciences, explore recent developments in critical theory.

Tuition
The fee for the session is $2700. Applicants are eligible to compete for partial tuition scholarships and are urged to seek funding from their home institutions.

Admission
We welcome applications from faculty members and advanced graduate students at universities worldwide. Applications must be submitted online by February 1, and admissions decisions are announced in March.

The Staging of Plays in the Spanish Peninsula Prior to 1600

By Ronald B. Williams, ©2010

Price Reduction

A study by the late professor of Romance languages at Lake Forest College. Hispanic specialists will find useful much of the detail in this 728-page book. It covers numerous plays such as Auto de los Reyes Magos, the oldest play in the language, all 96 plays of the Rouanet Collection and religious plays in the Collection of 1590 that reflect the Rouanet works. The book examines plays of Micael de Carvajal, Diego Sánchez de Badajoz and Juan Timoneda.

SEVEN VIEWS OF THE SAME LANDSCAPE

SHORT STORIES BY ESTHER TUSQUETS / TRANSLATED BY BARBARA ICHIISHI

$8^{1/2"}$ x $5^{1/2"}$ / 172 pages
978-0-924047-89-3 (hardcover) $30.00 / 978-0-924047-90-9 (softcover) $15.00

Seven Views of the Same Landscape, by acclaimed Spanish author Esther Tusquets, is a beautiful collection of coming-of-age tales that unfold in postwar Barcelona. The young Sara is entranced by the glittering, sheltered world of her parents, the Catalan upper-middle class who sided with Franco in the Civil War. But she soon begins to discern the fault lines running through the larger social landscape, and to sense the hypocrisy and cruelty of her parents' inbred clan. As remembered episodes told largely from the child's perspective, the tales draw us into Sara's consciousness as she tries to fathom the mysterious world around her, in a deep and nuanced portrayal of a girl's inner life. Rendered in Tusquets' flowing musical prose, the stories offer a uniquely feminine vision of a girl's quest to find love and meaning in an alien adult world.

Esther Tusquets is one of Spain's foremost contemporary woman writers, but she is worthy of fame well beyond national and gender boundaries.

Contemporary Narrative
Textual production, multimodality and multiliteracies
By Fiona J. Doloughan

Contemporary Narrative introduces key issues and trends in contemporary narrative studies. Taking a case study approach, it traces key narrative developments in the context of a range of theoretical approaches, including multimodality, multilingualism and transliteracy. It offers students of contemporary narrative an overview of the way in which twenty-first century narratives are constructed and the extent to which their construction depends on a range of social, cultural, linguistic and technological factors as well as on individual creativity and expressivity.

The Contemporary American Novel in Context
By Andrew Dix, Brian Jarvis and Paul Jenner

Adventurous, engaging and politically urgent, contemporary American novels have come to enjoy a particular prestige and, through university courses, film adaptations and cultural controversies, a global circulation. This book provides a critical introduction to novels produced in the United States between 1980 and the present. Compact yet wide-ranging, and written in vivid, accessible prose, it registers the diversity of contemporary American fiction and carefully situates this work in historical contexts that include Reaganomics, the Clinton years and the post-9/11 "War on Terror."

Stanley Cavell and Literary Studies
Consequences of Skepticism
Edited by Richard Eldridge and Bernard Rhie

Stanley Cavell and Literary Studies is a groundbreaking work that makes clear the relevance of Cavell's ideas for literary criticism. The book is not only timely but, indeed, long past due. As the discipline of literary studies struggles to move beyond the suspicious skepticisms and anti-humanisms that have dominated the field for the past many decades, Cavell's writings and ideas will only become more pertinent.

Private Property
PAULE CONSTANT
Translated by Margot Miller and France Grenaudier-Klijn

When Tiffany Murano's parents, French expatriates in Africa, send her to a Catholic boarding school in France, her homeland feels nothing like home. Tiffany, whom readers met in Paule Constant's award-winning first novel, Ouregano, leads a life cut off from the world, a life of immutable and ironically secular ritual. She finds solace only in visits to her grandmother's nearby farm, which becomes a sanctuary, paradisial in its isolation. But it is only a matter of time before this magical world is threatened.

The Quotable Thoreau

Edited by Jeffrey S. Cramer

Few writers are more quotable than Henry David Thoreau. His books, essays, journals, poems, letters, and unpublished manuscripts contain an inexhaustible treasure of epigrams and witticisms. The Quotable Thoreau, the most comprehensive and authoritative collection of Thoreau quotations ever assembled, gathers more than 2,000 memorable passages from this iconoclastic American author, social reformer, environmentalist, and self-reliant thinker.

"Very few books dig so deeply into the feelings and experiences that really drive historians. Still less do they explore how events in distant ages, in seemingly distant cultures, can touch the modern reader. The Terror of History does this. Ruiz's voice is very much that of a teacher and scholar committed to the exploration of the human condition. This is a rich book."
