Localizing the UN 2030 Agenda: IO technocracy's engagement with territory-based approaches to data – CORRIGENDUM

In the original Special Issue article, the 2nd footnote reference in the introduction mistakenly includes the author, Astrid Skjold.

It should have read:

Tichenor et al, 'Global public policy'; and Annabelle Littoz-Monnet, Leandro Montes Ruiz, and Juanita Uribe, 'The politics of the pluralization of expertise', Review of International Studies (introduction to this Special Issue: 'The Pluralization of Expertise: The Good, the Glamourous, and the Political').

This has been corrected in the original published article.
