

Zadie Smith

Feel Free: Essays

Gathering together previously unpublished work as well as already classic essays such as "Joy" and "Find Your Beach," Feel Free offers a survey of important recent events in culture and politics, as well as Smith's own life. "These essays, reviews, and columns bristle with Smith's probing desire to understand the world…. Feel Free is joy—and ferocity, sharp wit, longing, even despair."—The Boston Globe.

Ahmed Saadawi

Frankenstein in Baghdad

"Matter-of-factly, Saadawi sets out a reality—Baghdad in 2005—so gothic in its details...that, when the novel makes a turn to the supernatural, it barely shocks."—The New Yorker. "This gripping, darkly humorous fable of post-invasion Baghdad is a profound exploration of the terrible logic of violence and vengeance."—Phil Klay, author of Redeployment.

Penguin Books • 288 pp. • 978-0-14-312879-3 • $16.00

Karl Ove Knausgaard

Winter

The second volume in his autobiographical quartet based on the seasons, Winter offers a collection of daily meditations and letters written for Knausgaard's unborn daughter. "The author casts the world in a holy glow of surprise and compassion….A winningly interior journey into the most interior of seasons."—Kirkus Reviews, starred.

Celeste Ng

Little Fires Everywhere

"A complex and compulsively readable suburban saga that is deeply invested in mothers and daughters."—The Boston Globe. "The magic of this novel lies in its power to implicate all of its characters—and likely many of its readers—in that innocent delusion [of a post-racial America]."—Eleanor Henderson, The New York Times Book Review.

Penguin Press • 352 pp. • 978-0-7352-2429-2 • $27.00

Kamila Shamsie

Home Fire

Longlisted for the 2017 Man Booker Prize, Shamsie adapts Antigone for the age of ISIS to raise questions about politics, identity, family, and justice. "One pays it the highest compliment one can pay fiction; it makes you think. Uncomfortably."—The Times (U.K.).

Riverhead Books • 288 pp. • 978-0-7352-1768-3 • $26.00

Danzy Senna

New People

From the author of Caucasia, a subversive and engrossing novel of race, class, and manners in contemporary America. "The frankness with which New People treats race as a kind of public performance is both uncomfortable and strangely cathartic....Provocative."—The Wall Street Journal.

Riverhead Books • 240 pp. • 978-1-59448-709-5 • $26.00

Mohsin Hamid

Exit West

"Hamid rewrites the world as a place thoroughly, gorgeously, and permanently overrun by refugees and migrants....But, still, he depicts the world as resolutely beautiful and, at its core, unchanged. The novel feels immediately canonical, so firm and unerring is Hamid's understanding of our time and its most pressing questions."—The New Yorker.

The Seven Deadly Sins of Legal Writing

Theodore L. Blumberg

A most cogent guide to good legal writing. Blumberg emphasizes the importance of cultivating a clear and engaging prose style. He not only provides a typology of the profession's most common literary sins; he explores the motivations behind them. At once witty and exhilarating, The Seven Deadly Sins of Legal Writing will change the way lawyers and scholars do business.

$7.95 paper
56 pages
ISBNs: 1-934084-04-2
978-1-934084-04-5

Under pressure of disbarment this book should be read and understood by every lawyer, most of whom forget they, and the judges who read their miserable briefs, are human beings.

— Gerry Spence

A remarkable and concise roadmap to more effective, intelligible and persuasive legal writing. An invaluable desktop resource.

— Theodore B. Olson

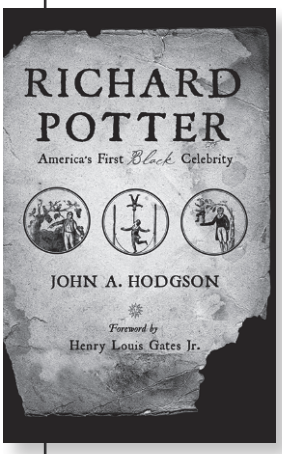

Theodore L. Blumberg practices corporate and entertainment law in Manhattan. A graduate of Temple University School of Law, he is a frequent contributor to The New York Law Journal and a lecturer in the Fahringer seminars in legal writing.

NEW FROM BLOOMSBURY

Mourning Freud

Madelon Sprengnether

"Mourning Freud is an important intervention in discussions of psychoanalysis, literature and feminism. The product of a quarter-century of careful and deep thought by a prominent literary and academic figure, it delivers a set of beautifully written analyses of the relationship between psychoanalysis and social issues, mediated through the motif of mourning. In this book, Madelon Sprengnether offers a delicate and immersive experience of rethinking Freudian and post-Freudian theories of intimacy and loss."

– Stephen Frosh, Professor of Psychosocial Studies, Birkbeck, University of London

2019-2020 SOCIETY FOR THE HUMANITIES RESIDENTIAL FELLOWSHIPS

FOCAL THEME: Energy

The Society for the Humanities at Cornell University seeks interdisciplinary research projects that reflect on the theme of Energy. Coming from the Greek energeia – work, activity, performance, force – and now synonymous with life, liveliness, verve, and vitality, energy is inextricable from the productive forces that animate the human and its expressions: from dance, poetry, music, and art, to the carbon age and climate change.

Six to eight Fellows will be appointed, and each Society Fellow will receive $50,000. Applicants must have received the Ph.D. degree before January 1, 2018. Application materials, including letters of recommendation, must be submitted online on or before October 1, 2018.
