SHEA Input Into Government's Hepatitis C Recommendations

Rebecca Wurtz, MD, represented SHEA at a July meeting that reviewed the draft document "Recommendations for the Identification, Counseling, Testing, and Referral of Persons at Risk for Hepatitis C Virus (HCV) Infection." Dr. Wurtz indicates that the draft document was vague about specific recommendations for postexposure testing and follow-up in the healthcare setting. She advocated more research funding to answer questions that still remain about optimal diagnostic tests and therapeutic recommendations. A final version of the recommendations is expected to be published in the Morbidity Mortality Weekly Reports this fall.

New SHEA Meetings Manager

SHEA continues to use the Talley Management Group to administer its affairs, with Stephanie Dickinson as the SHEA executive director. She reports that the newest member of the Talley Management Group, Heather Mirabelli, has replaced Ann Khorey in managing SHEA meetings. Ms. Mirabelli, a graduate of LaSalle University of Philadelphia, brings her experience with regional, national, and international trade associations to Talley Management and will be responsible for managing all aspects of SHEA's Annual Meeting. Anyone with ideas for improving any aspect of the meeting or for recruiting additional exhibitors to the meeting can call Heather at 609-423-7222.

Financial Assistance for Associate Members to Attend SHEA Educational Meetings

She will be happy to facilitate any and all donations to this fund.
