IN GENERAL, THE MODERN LANGUAGE ASSOCIATION OFFERS NO GRANTS OR FELLOWSHIPS of any kind. Current graduate students, however, may qualify for financial assistance to attend the annual convention. For details, see A Concise Guide to Activities and Services, in this issue. The following list provides an overview of fellowship and grant programs; potential applicants should write to the foundations for complete information on procedures and requirements. The list omits prize contests and a number of purely literary fellowships. Larger, more inclusive lists include Annual Register of Grant Support (New Providence: Bowker); Directory of Research Grants (Phoenix: Oryx); Financial Aid for Minorities in Education (Garrett Park: Garrett Park); The Foundation Directory (New York: Foundation Center); The Foundation Grants Index (New York: Foundation Center); Fulbright and Other Grants for Graduate Study Abroad (New York: Inst. of Intl. Educ.); Directory of Graduate Programs, Vol. D: Arts and Humanities (New York: Warner); Virginia P. White, Grants: How to Find Out about Them and What to Do Next (New York: Plenum); The Grants Register (New York: St. Martin's); Scholarships, Fellowships, and Loans (Detroit: Gale); Study Abroad (Lanham: Unipub); and Teaching Abroad (New York: Inst. of Intl. Educ.). The Linguistic Society of America (1325 18th St., NW, Suite 211, Washington, DC 20036-6501; 202 835-1714; http://www.lsadc.org) publishes the Guide to Grants and Fellowships in Linguistics. Information on philanthropic foundations, books on fellowships and grants, and periodicals such as Foundation Grants to Individuals (a biannual) and the Foundation Grants Index Quarterly may be obtained by writing or calling the Foundation Center, 79 5th Ave., New York, NY 10003-3076 (212 620-4230; http://fdncenter.org).

ABE FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM: Postdoctoral fellowships for scholars or research professionals who can demonstrate strong and serious long-term affiliations with research communities in the United States or Japan. The fellowships are awarded for research projects in the social sciences or humanities that will inform the environment in which policy is made on issues of pressing global concern to industrialized and industrializing societies across the globe. Projects must be relevant to any one or a combination of three themes: 1) global issues; 2) problems common to industrial and industrializing societies; and 3) issues that pertain to US-Japan relations. Fellowships are offered to individuals only and offer up to 12 months of full-time support. Write or call the Abe Fellowship Program, Social Science Research Council, 810 7th Ave., 31st floor, New York, NY 10019 (212 377-2700; fax: 212 377-2727; abe@ssrc.org; http://www.ssrc.org/fellowships). The deadline is 1 September.

AMERICAN ACADEMY IN BERLIN: Invites applications for its fellowships for the 2006–07 academic year. The academy is a private, nonprofit center for advanced research in a range of academic, cultural, and professional areas. It welcomes scholars, writers, and professionals who wish to engage in independent study in Berlin for an academic semester or, in rare cases, for an entire academic year. In the case of the Bosch Berlin Prize in Public Policy, shorter stays of six to eight weeks may be arranged. Fellowship benefits include round-trip airfare, comfortable accommodations in the Hans Arnhold Center, partial board, and a stipend ranging from $3,500 to $5,000 per month. Fellows are expected to be in residence during the entire term of the award. Candidates are expected to have completed a doctorate or equivalent professional degree at the time of application and must be United States citizens or permanent residents. The deadline for applications is 17 October 2005. Application forms and further information may be obtained from the academy's Web site (http://www.americanacademy.de) or by writing or calling the American Academy in Berlin, Am Sandwerder 17–19, 14109 Berlin, Germany (49 30 804 83-0; fax: 49 30 804 83-111; applications@americanacademy.de).

AMERICAN ACADEMY IN ROME: Each year, through a national competition, the Rome Prize is awarded to fifteen emerging artists (working in architecture, landscape architecture, design, historic preservation and conservation, literature, musical composition, or visual arts) and fifteen scholars (working in ancient, medieval, Renaissance and early modern, or modern Italian studies). The fellowships are designed for emerging artists and for scholars in the early or middle stages of their careers. For scholars, preference will be given to applicants for whom research time in Italy, and especially in Rome, is essential and who have not had extensive prior experience there. The application deadline is 1 November. Each Rome Prize winner is provided with a stipend, meals, a bedroom with private bath, and a study or studio. Winners of eleven-month fellowships receive a stipend of $21,000. Predoctoral awards, which include eleven-month and two-year fellowships, carry an annual stipend of $15,750. Applicants for all Rome Prize fellowships, except those applying for the NEH postdoctoral fellowship, must be United States citizens at the time of application. US citizens and those foreign nationals who have lived in the United States for the three years immediately preceding the application deadline may apply for the NEH postdoctoral fellowships. Graduate students in the humanities may apply only for predoctoral fellowships. To learn more about eligibility requirements and to download guidelines and application forms, please visit the academy's Web site (http://www.aarome.org) or write to American Academy in Rome, 7 East 60 St., New York, NY 10022 (212-751-7200; info@aarome.org).

Classical Society of the American Academy in Rome: Offers two scholarshhips of $3,500 each, one to a graduate student and one to a school teacher of classical languages or classical civilization, to attend the academy's classical summer school in Rome. Write to Anne Laidlaw, 415 Wingate Road, Baltimore, MD 21210 (lab0idlaw@juno.com) or download applications from the academy's Web page (http://www.aarome.org) under summer programs. The deadline is 1 March.

AMERICAN ACADEMY OF ARTS AND SCIENCES POSTDOCTORAL AND JUNIOR FACULTY FELLOWSHIPS: The American Academy of Arts and Sciences invites applications for research fellowships at its new Visiting Scholars Program. Fields of study include humanities, social sciences, statistics, international relations, law, science policy, public policy, and related areas. Strong preference will be given to proposals related to the academy's program areas: science and global security; social policy and American institutions; humanities and culture; and education. Interdisciplinary and cross-national studies are encouraged. In addition to conducting individual research, fellows will participate in conferences, seminars, and events at the academy. The stipend is $35,000 for postdoctoral scholars, $50,000 for junior faculty members. The postmark deadline for applications is 14 October 2005. For details, contact the Visiting Scholars Program, American Academy of Arts and Sciences, 136 Irving St., Cambridge, MA 02138-1996 (617 576-5034; fax: 617 576-5050; vsc@amacad.org). Application information is available on the academy's Web site (http://www.amacad.org).

AMERICAN ANTIQUARIAN SOCIETY: The society, to make available its resources in American history and culture through 1876, awards annually a number of visiting fellowships. AAS–National Endowment for the Humanities Fellowships provide six to twelve months' postdoctoral residence at the society's library, with stipends up to $40,000 for twelve months. New NEH guidelines permit the society to arrange tenure of four to five months. Legacy Fellowships provide stipends of $1,000 for one month's residence. Kate B. and Hall J. Peterson Fellowships provide monthly stipends of $1,000 for one to three months' residence at the society's library. These awards are open to individuals engaged in scholarly research and writing, including foreign nationals and persons at work on doctoral dissertations. The AAS–American Society for Eighteenth-Century Studies Fellowship promotes research in any area of American eighteenth-century studies. Degree candidates are not eligible. ASECS membership is required for taking up an award but not for making application. The stipend is $1,000 per month. The Joyce A. Tracy Fellowship offers monthly stipends of $1,000 for research on newspapers and magazines or for projects using these resources as primary documentation. Stephen Botein Fellowships provide monthly stipends of $1,000 for one to two months' residence by scholars working in the history of the book in American culture. The Northeast Modern Language Association Fellowship promotes research in American literary history; NEMLA membership is required for the successful postdoctoral scholar to whom the one-month award of $1,000 is granted. The Reese Fellowship supports bibliographical research and projects in the history of the book in American culture; the one-month fellowship has a stipend of $1,000. Holding a fellowship is not a prerequisite for doing research at AAS. Scholars working on topics in American history and culture through 1876 should visit the AAS Web site for more details (http://www.americanantiquarian.org). The deadline for all competitions is 15 January. Write or call Director of Scholarly Programs, American Antiquarian Society, 185 Salisbury St., Room A, Worcester, MA 01609 (508 755-5221; fax: 508 754-9069; academicfellowships@mwa.org).

years prior to date of application. The fellowship carries a stipend of up to $40,000. Information and applications are available from the society by writing to Sabbatical Fellowship Program, American Philosophical Soc., 104 South 5th St., Philadelphia, PA 19106, or on the society's Web site (http://www.amphilsoc.org). The deadline is 1 November.

Phillips Fund Grants for Native American Research: The fund provides grants for work in North American Indian linguistics and ethnohistory, with preference given to younger scholars and graduate students for research on master's or doctoral dissertations. No grants are made in the areas of archaeology, ethnography, psycholinguistics, or pedagogical materials. The maximum grant is $3,000. The deadline is 1 March. To request application forms, write to Phillips Fund for Native American Research, American Philosophical Soc., 104 South 5th St., Philadelphia, PA 19106, or download information and forms from the society's Web site (http://www.amphilsoc.org). If you write, specify whether your research is in linguistics or ethnohistory.

Lewis and Clark Fund for Exploration and Field Research: Encourages exploratory field studies for the collection of specimens and data and to provide the imaginative stimulus that accompanies direct observation. Applications are invited from disciplines with a large dependence on field studies, such as archeology, anthropology, astrobiology and space science, biology, ecology, geography, geology, and paleontology, but grants will not be restricted to these fields. Grants will be available to graduate students, postdoctoral researchers, junior and senior scientists, and social scientists who wish to participate in field studies for their theses or for other purposes. Undergraduates are not eligible. Budgets should be limited to travel and related expenses, including personal field equipment. Amounts will depend on travel costs but will ordinarily be in the range of several hundred dollars up to about $5,000. Information and forms may be downloaded from the society's Web site (http://www.amphilsoc.org) or obtained by writing to Lewis and Clark Fund, American Philosophical Soc., 104 South 5th Street, Philadelphia, PA 19106. There is no deadline; applications may be submitted at any time, and the committee for the Lewis and Clark Fund will evaluate proposals several times during the year.

John Hope Franklin Dissertation Fellowship: Designed to support an outstanding African American graduate student attending any PhD-granting institution in the United States. There is no residential requirement. Candidates must have completed all course work and examinations preliminary to the doctoral dissertation and be prepared to devote twelve months—with no teaching obligations—to research on their dissertation projects or the writing of their dissertations. The stipend for this fellowship is $25,000 for a twelve-month award period, and the twelve-month period is flexible. The John Hope Franklin Fellowship may not be combined with other stipendiary awards or payments for teaching. The deadline is 1 May. Information and forms may be downloaded from the society's Web site (http://www.amphilsoc.org) or obtained by writing John Hope Franklin Dissertation Fellowship, American Philosophical Soc., 104 South 5th Street, Philadelphia, PA 19106.

AMERICAN PRINTING HISTORY ASSOCIATION FELLOWSHIP IN PRINTING HISTORY: The American Printing History Association (APHA) offers a fellowship in printing history. For 2006, an award of up to $2,000 is available for research in any area of the history of printing in all its forms, including all the arts and technologies relevant to printing, the book arts, and letter forms. Applications are especially welcome from those working in the area of American printing history, but the subject of research has no geographical or chronological limitations and may be national or regional in scope, biographical, analytical, technical, or bibliographical in nature. Printing history-related study with a recognized printer or book artist may also be supported. The fellowship can be used to pay for travel, living, and other expenses. APHA fellowships are open to persons of any nationality. Applicants are asked to submit an application form, a curriculum vitae, and a one-page proposal. Two confidential letters of recommendation specific to the fellowship should be sent separately by the recommenders. Submission of materials by electronic mail or fax is not acceptable. The deadline for receipt of applications and letters of support is 1 December 2005. An application form is available at the APHA Web site (http://www.printinghistory.org) or by writing to Fellowship Committee, APHA, PO Box 4519, Grand Central Sta., New York, NY 10163.

AMERICAN PSYCHOANALYTIC ASSOCIATION FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM: Seeking outstanding psychiatrists, psychologists, clinical social workers, and academics at various levels of training who are curious about how the mind works, who consider psychoanalytic thinking important for the future of their professional disciplines, and who are likely to become, or already are, leaders in their fields. Applicants may be nominated by their department chairs or program directors. When not applicable, self-nominations are encouraged; and reapplications are permitted. Applicants must be training or working in the United States during the fellowship year. Nominees must have demonstrated leadership ability in their discipline; special aptitude in research, teaching, or clinical endeavors; and special interest in psychodynamics, psychoanalysis, or applied psychoanalysis. Applications must show how the nominee's interest in the mind has developed and how that interest will be applied and influence others in the nominee's field in the future. All applicants, whether or not they receive fellowships, are assigned mentors who are psychoanalysts and members of the American Psychoanalytic Association. Applicants meet regularly with their mentors and develop programs to further their clinical, scholarly, and research interests. All fellows have their expenses paid to attend the association's biannual national meetings. Fellows are invited to attend the meetings' scientific sessions and to present clinical and other material at a variety of workshops and seminars. Applications may be downloaded at http://www.apsa.org/fellows. The deadline is 16 February. For other information about the fellowship program, contact Carolyn Gatto (cgatto@apsa.org).

FIVE COLLEGE FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM FOR MINORITY SCHOLARS: Located in Western Massachusetts, the five schools—Amherst, Hampshire, Mount Holyoke, and Smith Colleges and the University of Massachusetts—associate as members of a consortium, Five Colleges, Incorporated. The Five College Fellowship Program provides a year in residence at one of the campuses for minority graduate students in the final phase of the doctoral degree. The purposes of the program are to enable fellows to complete their dissertation, to encourage their interest in college teaching, and to acquaint them with the schools. Each fellow is hosted within an appropriate department or program at one of the five colleges. (At Smith, recipients hold a Mendenhall Fellowship.) The fellowship includes a stipend of $30,000, office space, housing or housing assistance, research funds, and library privileges at the five colleges. While the award places primary emphasis on completion of the dissertation, most fellows teach at the hosting institution (but no more than a single one-semester course). The dates of the fellowship are 1 September 2006 to 31 May 2007 (nonrenewable). For further information about the deadline and application materials, contact neckert@fivecolleges.edu or call 413 256-8316.

For more information, write to Director, Center for Medieval Studies, Fordham Univ., Bronx, NY 10458 (718 817-4655; fax: 718 817-3987; medievals@fordham.edu). The deadline is 15 June.

FRIENDS OF THE LONGFELLOW HOUSE: The collections of the Longfellow National Historic Site (Vassall-Craigie-Longfellow House) in Cambridge, Massachusetts, include a significant archive of materials (letters, photographs, material objects) on a variety of subjects from the seventeenth to early twentieth century. To encourage the use of these archives and collections, the Friends of the Longfellow House have established two annual fellowships with stipends of $1,000: the Diana Korzenik Fellowship and the Stanley Paterson Fellowship. Both stipends are intended to help defray the living or travel expenses of researchers who wish to come to the Cambridge/Boston area to use the Longfellow House archives/collections as well as related archives such as those in the Houghton Library at Harvard or at the Massachusetts Historical Society in Boston. Recipients are requested to be in residence in the Cambridge/Boston area for at least a two-week period at any time from November through September while conducting their research. At some later time the recipient is requested to send the Friends a copy of the results in a published or unpublished form or, possibly, present the results in a talk to the Friends and the public. The application deadline is 30 September. To be considered for either fellowship, applicants should submit a single completed Korzenik/Paterson application form, a brief (1–3 pp.) project description, and a curriculum vitae. These materials are available online at http://longfellowfriends.org. The project proposal should include an account of how the applicant intends to use archival materials located in the Longfellow House and Cambridge/Boston area and the other sources of funding the applicant has or expects to receive to support this project. All requests for further information should be sent by e-mail to Rebecca Blevins Faery (faery@mit.edu). Mail requests and completed applications should be sent to Faery, 23 William St., Cambridge, MA 02139.

INTERNATIONAL CENTER FOR ADVANCED STUDIES AT NEW YORK UNIVERSITY: Fellowships for the center's project on the authority of social knowledge in a global age. The project, which welcomes applications from scholars with PhDs at all career stages in any social science or humanities discipline from the United States and abroad, seeks to examine the production, circulation, and practical import of knowledge generated in the various disciplines of social inquiry. What are the costs of the growing divide between social science inquiry and humanistic scholarship? What are the implications of the growing dominance of US-based models of social inquiry for the understanding of other cultures and for the fundamental concepts of political experience and inquiry. The stipend is $35,000 for nine months and includes eligibility for NYU housing. See http://www.nyu.edu/gsas/dept/icas for more information and application forms or write to the center (fax: 212 995-4546; icas@nyu.edu).

IREX (INTERNATIONAL RESEARCH AND EXCHANGES BOARD): For further information on all programs, contact IREX, 2121 K St., NW, Suite 700, Washington, DC 20037 (202 628-8188; fax: 202 628-8189; irex@irex.org; http://www.irex.org).

Applicants must be NCTE members. Write to the Project Coordinator, NCTE, 1111 West Kenyon Road, Urbana, IL 61801.

NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR THE HUMANITIES: The endowment's grant-making operations are conducted through four divisions and two offices. Through grants to educational institutions and opportunities for teachers, the Division of Education Programs is designed to strengthen sustained, thoughtful study of the humanities at all levels of education. Through fellowships to individual scholars and support of collaborative projects, the Division of Research Programs promotes significant original research in the humanities. In the Division of Public Programs the projects in Media, Museums, and Historical Organizations and the Humanities Projects in Libraries support humanities projects for the out-of-school public. The Division of Preservation and Access makes grants for projects that will create, preserve, and increase the availability of resources important for research, education, and public programming in the humanities. The Office of Federal/State Partnership makes grants to citizens' committees in each state to provide support for local humanities projects. Nonprofit institutions interested in developing new sources of long-term support for humanities programs may seek assistance from the Office of Challenge Grants.

General eligibility: The endowment supports the work of individual scholars and not-for-profit institutions and organizations engaged in projects involving the humanities. Those institutions include universities; four-year colleges; junior and community colleges; elementary and secondary schools; educational, cultural, professional, and community groups; museums and historical organizations; libraries; public agencies; and public radio and television stations. The endowment welcomes applications for support from all such institutions and groups, from individual US citizens with or without academic affiliation, and from foreign nationals who have been living in the US or its territories for at least three years at the time of application. Fields of support: According to the act that established the endowment, the humanities include, but are not limited to, the following fields: history, philosophy, language, linguistics, literature, archaeology, jurisprudence, history and criticism of the arts, ethics, comparative religion, and those aspects of the social sciences employing historical or philosophical approaches. This last category includes cultural anthropology, sociology, political theory, and international relations. Gifts-and-matching grants: An applicant may sometimes be offered a "gifts-and-matching" grant as a supplement to an outright grant or as the sole form of endowment support. When the endowment offers to support a project through one of these grants, it is up to the grantee to raise gifts from outside his or her own organization to a level approved by the endowment. The endowment then matches this money with federal funds, but the total sum that can be federally matched is limited by the annual congressional appropriations for that purpose. Challenge grants: These grants offer one federal dollar for every three or four raised from nonfederal sources. Proposed expenditures that support capital growth and financial stability will receive priority. Other items that may be covered are renovation of facilities and administrative and program costs attributable to the humanities. Deadlines: Applicants (except fellowship applicants) should submit preliminary descriptions of their projects to the appropriate division at least six to eight weeks before the application deadline for the program to which they plan to apply. Write to the Office of Public Affairs, Room 402, Natl. Endowment for the Humanities, Washington, DC 20506, or call 202 606-8400 for complete information. (Deaf and hearing-impaired persons should call 202 606-8282.) Current information is available through the Internet at info@neh.gov or on the World Wide Web at http://www.neh.gov.

For state humanities council deadlines, write or call NEH for the address of the state humanities council office in your state.

SEX, RACE, AND GLOBALIZATION PROJECT AT THE UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA: The Committee on Lesbian, Gay, and Bisexual Studies at the University of Arizona offers two Rockefeller Humanities Residency Fellowships for the academic year. The Sex, Race, and Globalization (SRG) project explores the imbrication of sexuality, gender, and race with economic, political, and informational processes across local, regional, national, and transnational scales. Noting that global movements of capital, information, and people are facilitated, blocked, and diverted by sexual, racial, and national categories, even as cultural formations are reshaped by globalization, we seek to describe and explain the links between exploitative economic processes and structures of sexual, gendered, and racial inequality. Recognizing that globalization is a transformation of prior systems of global economic and political interaction, we welcome applications from scholars working in or across various historical periods. While the SRG project sustains the commitment of lesbian and gay studies to recognizing the significance of sexuality, we seek to develop alliances

https://doi.org/10.1632/pmla.2005.120.4.1386 Published online by Cambridge University Press among identity and area studies fields and, therefore, welcome applications from scholars who have not worked in the context of lesbian and gay studies. Fellows receive a stipend of $35,000, travel and research funds ($5,000), a moving allowance ($2,000), an office, and full access to university libraries, computer systems, recreational facilities, and the many scholarly and cultural programs offered across the university. Application deadline is 1 December. For more information and application guidelines, call or write the Committee on Lesbian, Gay, and Bisexual Studies (520 626-3431; lgbs@u.arizona.edu; http://www.arizona.edu/~lgbcom).

"An eloquent tribute to our working men and women... it knocked me out" —Studs Terkel

"Mike Rose shows how a reductive idea of intelligence contracts the meaning of democracy. This book is brilliant, exciting—and essential."
—Michael Katz

"While Rose wants to comment on the dismal social and economic stature of physical work, he also...wants to redeem it. He succeeds mightily.
—San Francisco Chronicle

"[Rose has] a rare capacity to weave together elements of autobiography with the role of class in American education....All the challenges of breaking through this perception of work are writ large in the field of vocational education, to which Rose devotes a significant chapter in this book."
—Houston Chronicle

Mike Rose
The Mind at Work
Valuing the Intelligence of the American Worker

Deftly combining research, interviews, and personal history, Mike Rose's revelatory book debunks the long-held notions that people who work with their hands make up a less intelligent class. He shows us waitresses making lightning-fast calculations, carpenters handling complex spatial mathematics, and hairdressers, plumbers, and electricians with their aesthetic and diagnostic acumen. Rose, an educator who is himself the son of a waitress, explores the intellectual repertory of everyday workers and the terrible social cost of undervaluing the work they do.

KNOPF

ALFRED A. KNOPF - PANTHEON - SCHOCKEN

Gabriel García Márquez
Translated by Edith Grossman
MEMORIES OF MY MELANCHOLY WHORES

An elderly journalist decides to celebrate his 90 years by giving himself a present that will make him feel like he's still alive: a virgin. In the brothel of a picturesque town, he sees the young naked woman from the back and his life changes radically. Now that he meets her he finds himself close to dying, not of old age, but of love. This new novel, written in Gabriel García Márquez's incomparable style, movingly contemplates the misfortunes of old age and celebrates the joys of being in love.

Derek Rubin, editor
WHO WE ARE
ON BEING (AND NOT BEING)
A JEWISH AMERICAN WRITER

From Philip Roth and Saul Bellow to Jonathan Rosen and Tova Mirvis, this anthology offers a range of competing and complementary answers to the question "What does being a Jewish-American writer mean?" Spanning three generations, these 29 essays—by turns nostalgic, comic, moving, and deeply provocative—offer an indispensable companion to the literature of the people of the book.

SCHOCKEN | CLOTH | 368 PAGES | $25.00

Andrew Delbanco
MELVILLE
HIS WORLD AND WORK

Andrew Delbanco gives us—with unparalleled historical and critical perspective—a commanding biography and a riveting portrait of a nation. Delbanco traces Melville's growth from the bawdy storytelling of Typee, through the spiritual preoccupations building up to Moby-Dick and the profound disillusionment of later works, even as he charts a life that left little evidence in its wake. He uncovers autobiographical traces throughout Melville's writing and above all illuminates the stunning achievements of his oeuvre.

KNOPF | CLOTH | 448 PAGES | $30.00

Cormac McCarthy
NO COUNTRY FOR OLD MEN

Set in the present along the bloody frontier between Texas and Mexico, here is a harrowing story of a war that society is waging on itself, and an enduring meditation on the ties of love and blood and duty that inform lives and shape destinies. No Country for Old Men is a novel of extraordinary resonance and power.

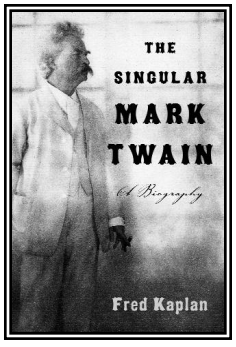

"Shades of Dostoyevsky, Hemingway, and Faulkner resonate in McCarthy's blend of lyrical narrative, staccato dialogue, and action-packed scenes . . ."
—Allison Block, Booklist

Fred Kaplan
THE SINGULAR MARK TWAIN
A BIOGRAPHY

The Singular Mark Twain presents the first fully integrated portrait of this great American icon. Fred Kaplan shows definitively that Twain's ferociously progressive ideas about race informed all his later works and absolve him from absurd charges of racism laid in recent years. Kaplan also details the darker side of Twain's story—the illnesses and death that plagued his family and darkened his vision, his almost comically terrible business sense that lost him his great fortune, and his paranoid sensitivity to slights and betrayals.

Anton Chekhov
Translated by Larissa Volokhonsky and Richard Pevear
THE COMPLETE SHORT NOVELS

Anton Chekhov, widely hailed as the supreme master of the short story, also wrote five works long enough to be called short novels. These works are here brought together in one volume for the first time, in a masterly new translation by the award-winning translators Richard Pevear and Larissa Volokhonsky. In these five short novels, Chekhov's masterful storytelling and his profound understanding of human nature are brilliantly evinced.

VINTAGE | PAPER | 576 PAGES | $15.00

Orhan Pamuk
Translated by Maureen Freely
SNOW

"Pamuk uses his powers to show us the critical dilemmas of modern Turkey. How European a country is it? How can it respond to fundamentalist Islam? And how can an artist deal with these issues? . . . The author's high artistry and fierce politics take our minds further into the age's crisis than any commentator could, and convince us of every character's intensity, making Snow a vital book in both senses of the word. Orhan Pamuk is the sort of writer for whom the Nobel Prize was invented." —Tom Payne, Daily Telegraph

Truman Capote
Edited by Gerald Clark
TOO BRIEF A TREAT
THE LETTERS OF TRUMAN CAPOTE

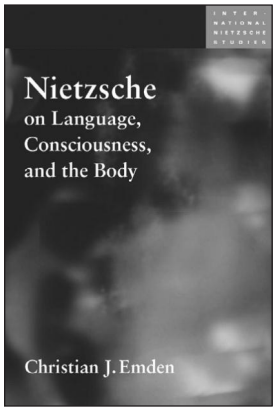

Truman Capote was hailed as one the most meticulous writers in American letters—a part of his mystique is that his precise writing seemed to exist apart from his chaotic life. Capote the person is best understood in his personal correspondence and letters, brought together here for the first time by acclaimed biographer Gerald Clarke. Encompassing more than four decades, these letters reveal the inner life of one of the twentieth century's most intriguing writers.

CONTEMPORARY FILM DIRECTORS

Edward Yang

John Anderson

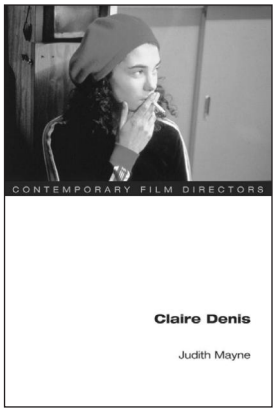

Offers a comprehensive overview of the work of the writer-director from his breakthrough feature That Day, on the Beach to the epic Yi-Yi. Anderson identifies the key narrative strategies, formal devices, moral vision, and sociopolitical concerns shot through Yang's films.

Wong Kar-wai

Peter Brunette

This book is the first in any language to cover all of Wong's work, from his first film, As Tears Go By, to his most recent, the still unreleased 2046. Brunette traces this director's perennial themes of time, love, and loss, and examines the political implications of his films.

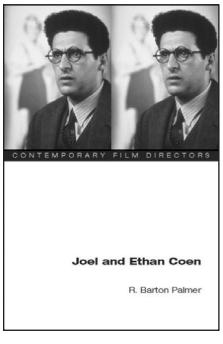

Claire Denis

Judith Mayne

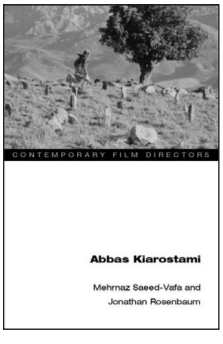

Widely regarded as one of the most innovative filmmakers working in France today, Denis has made beautiful and challenging films since the 1988 release of Chocolat. Mayne's study traces Denis's career and discusses her major feature films in rich detail.

RECENT TITLES IN THE SERIES

THE SCHOOL OF CRITICISM & THEORY at Cornell University

An international program of study with leading figures in critical theory invites you to apply for its Thirtieth Summer Session

June 18-July 28, 2006

IN NEW YORK STATE'S FINGER LAKES REGION

"The SCT program took interdisciplinarity to a whole new level. Our common object meant that very quickly we were able to talk not about our disciplinary differences, but do the work of interpretation with the wealth of our diverse backgrounds."
David Marshall
Johns Hopkins University

"SCT changed not only many of my conceptions but my entire way of seeing problems."
Silvana Seabra de Oliveira
Catholic University of Minas Gerais

"I have had a fantastic and extremely rewarding experience throughout the six weeks, and I feel that SCT has made an invaluable contribution to my development as a scholar."
Susan Antebi
Harvard University

"The SCT — an intellectual 'Blitz' whose after-effects might take a lifetime to accommodate."
Vera Grodzinski
University College, London

The Program
In an intense six-week course of study, participants from around the world, in the disciplines of literature, history, and related social sciences, explore recent developments in literary and humanistic studies.

Tuition
The fee for the session is $2500. Applicants are eligible to compete for partial tuition scholarships and are urged to seek funding from their home institutions.

Acceptance
Applications from faculty members and advanced graduate students at universities worldwide will be judged beginning March 1, 2006. Admissions are made on a rolling basis, and decisions are announced as soon as possible.

Franz Kafka
Sander L. Gilman

In this insightful volume, Sander Gilman focuses on the relationship between Kafka's life and work, reconstructing Kafka's cultural environment. Kafka's letters, diaries, and writings emerge in Gilman's analysis as windows into his ongoing attempt to create an identity in a world where being a Central European Jew dictated an uneasy fate. Franz Kafka also features illuminating archival photographs and illustrations as well as a comprehensive bibliography and filmography of work by and about Kafka.

Pablo Picasso
Mary Ann Caws
With an Introduction by Arthur C. Danto

Mary Ann Caws provides in Pablo Picasso a fresh and concise examination of Picasso's life and art, revisiting the themes that occupied him throughout his life and weaving these themes through his crucial close relationships. She embarks on a global journey to retrace the footsteps of Picasso, giving biographical context to his work from Les Demoiselles d'Avignon through Guernica and analyzing the changes and inconsistencies in his oeuvre over the course of the twentieth century.

IMPORTANT READINGS

Past and Present
THOMAS CARLYLE
Introduction and Notes by Chris R.Vanden Bossche
Text Established by Chris R. Vanden Bossche, Joel J. Brattin and D.J. Trela

Thomas Carlyle, Scottish essayist, historian, cultural critic, and leading man of English letters during the Victorian era, published Past and Present, one of his most influential works, in 1843. It aimed to lead readers toward a "conversion experience" in order to stimulate social reform. This is a trenchant articulation of the political, social, religious, and economic climate of the mid-nineteenth century and a prophetic vision of the future.

The Mysterious Stranger Manuscripts
MARK TWAIN
Edited with an Introduction by William M. Gibson

Here is a glimpse of Mark Twain's creative process on what many critics consider the finest fiction of his later years. While the work was begun in 1897 and revised first in 1902 and then in 1908, the third version was the only manuscript actually titled The Mysterious Stranger. These texts provide a rare opportunity to observe Mark Twain's sustained literary struggle with a central theme.

New in Oxford Linguistics

Conversational Style
Analyzing Talk among Friends

New Edition

DEBORAH TANNEN

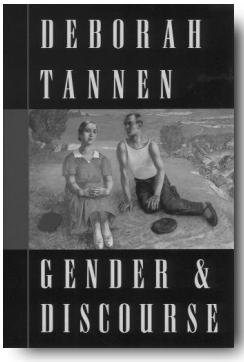

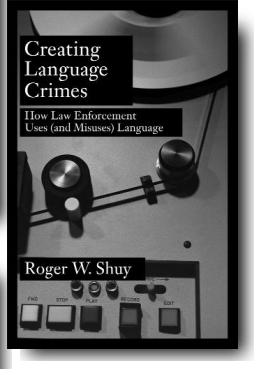

This revised edition of Deborah Tannen's first discourse analysis book, Conversational Style—first published in 1984—presents an approach to analyzing conversation that later became the hallmark and foundation of her extensive body of work in discourse analysis, including the monograph Talking Voices, as well as her well-known popular books You Just Don't Understand, That's Not What I Meant!, and Talking from 9 to 5, among others.

Tannen's enduring study carefully examines the discourse of six speakers over the course of a two-and-a-half hour Thanksgiving dinner conversation, and now includes a new preface and an afterword in which she discusses the book's place in the evolution of her work.

Creating Language Crimes
How Law Enforcement Uses (and Misuses) Language

ROGER W. SHUY

This book illustrates how linguistic analysis of undercover tape recordings made by law enforcement can help professionals in the legal process give only the appearance of criminal activity. Eleven conversational strategies were used in the twelve actual criminal cases described in this book.

Bad Language
Are Some Words Better than Others?

EDWIN L. BATTISTELLA

Is today's language at an all-time low? Edwin Battistella argues that it is wrong to think of slang, regional dialects and nonstandard grammar as simply breaking the rules of good English. Re-examining debates over relativism in language, Battistella argues that we should view language as made up of alternative forms of regularity and orderliness, which require informed engagement with usage.

The Present Personal

Hagi Kenaan

"A very impressive work by an emerging philosophical talent."—Simon Critchley, New School University

In this strikingly original work, Kenaan explores the ethical and philosophical implications of recognizing and responding to the individual presence in language. He argues that philosophy's concern with abstract forms of linguistic meaning has obscured the singular human voice.

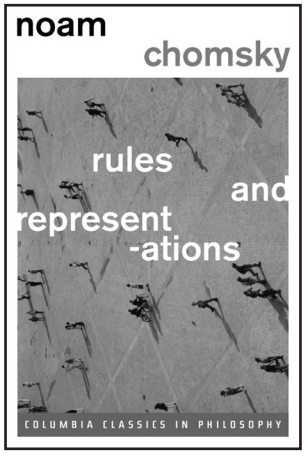

The Aesthetics of Everyday Life

Edited by Andrew Light and Jonathan M. Smith

"A useful and wide-ranging collection."—Richard Shusterman, author of Pragmatist Aesthetics

This imaginative new volume explores the aesthetic qualities of human relationships, sports, food, and environment. With essays from philosophers working in a variety of traditions in the humanities and social sciences, this collection offers an important contribution to and expansion of traditional aesthetics.

Thinking Allowed

Invisible Listeners

Lyric Intimacy in Herbert, Whitman, and Ashbery

Helen Vendler

When a poet addresses a living person—whether friend or enemy, lover or sister—we recognize the expression of intimacy. But what impels poets to leap across time and space to speak to invisible listeners, seeking an ideal intimacy—George Herbert with God, Walt Whitman with a reader in the future, John Ashbery with the Renaissance painter Francesco Parmigianino?

In Invisible Listeners, the renowned critic Helen Vendler argues that such poets must invent the language that will enact, on the page, an intimacy they lack in life. Through brilliantly insightful, gracefully written readings of these three great poets, Vendler maps out their relationships with their chosen listeners.

YALE UNIVERSITY

B E I N E C K E
Rare Book & Manuscript Library

VISITING FELLOWSHIPS

The Beinecke Rare Book & Manuscript Library offers short-term fellowships to support visiting scholars pursuing post-doctoral or equivalent research in its collections. The Beinecke Library is Yale University's principal repository for literary papers, and for early manuscripts and rare books in the fields of literature, theology, history, and the natural sciences. For more information about the Beinecke Library and its collections, please visit our website: www.library.yale.edu/beinecke/.

Application materials must be received by January 15, 2006.

The fellowships, which pay for travel to and from New Haven and a living allowance of $3,600 per month, are designed to provide access to the library for scholars who live outside the greater New Haven area. Students enrolled in degree programs are ineligible.

Awards will be announced in March 2006 for the period September 2006 through May 2007.

Fellowships, normally granted for one month, must be taken up between September and May. Recipients are expected to be in residence during the period of their award and are encouraged to participate in the activities of Yale University.

An application form can be downloaded from the Beinecke Library's website. In addition to the application form, applicants are asked to submit a curriculum vitae and a brief research proposal (not to exceed three pages) to the Director. The proposal should emphasize the relationship of the Beinecke collections to the project and state the preferred dates of residence. Applicants should also arrange to have two confidential letters of recommendation sent to the Director. These letters must specifically address the merits of the Beinecke research project.

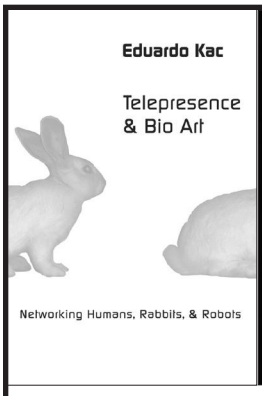

The following named fellowships are among those to be awarded:

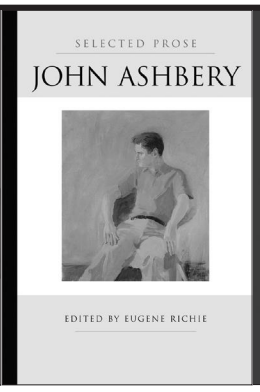

- Frederick W. Beinecke Fellowship in Western Americana
- Hermann Broch Fellowship in modern German literature
- H.D. Fellowship in English or American literature
- Jonathan Edwards Fellowship in the Jonathan Edwards Papers or related areas of American religious history
- Elizabethan Club Fellowship in the literature or history of the English or European Renaissance
- Edith and Richard French Fellowship
- Donald C. Gallup Fellowship in American literature
- A. Bartlett Giamatti Fellowship
- Archibald Hanna, Jr. Fellowship in American history
- John D. and Rose H. Jackson Fellowship
- Jackson Brothers Fellowship
- H.P. Kraus Fellowship in early books and manuscripts
- Laura K. and Valerian Lada-Mocarski Fellowship
- James M. Osborn Fellowship in English literature and history
- Frederick A. and Marion S. Pottle Fellowship in 18th-century British studies
- Reese Fellowship in American bibliography and the history of the book in the Americas
- Betsy Beinecke Shirley Fellowship in American children's literature
- Thornton Wilder Fellowship in Wilder studies

The Irish Art of Controversy
Lucy McDiarmid

"Lucy McDiarmid brilliantly identifies five dramas of cultural change in Ireland in the years before independence, narrating them in all their complexity, tragedy, and comedy. Vividly original, written with verve, wit, and meticulous scholarship, The Irish Art of Controversy will be essential reading for anyone who cares about the Irish history, literature, or politics of the last hundred years."

The Five
A Novel of Jewish Life in Turn-of-the-Century Odessa
Vladimir Jabotinsky
translated from the Russian by Michael R. Katz

"Seldom has love for a society blended so poignantly with augury of its demise as in this marvelous novel about Odessa Jews at the beginning of the twentieth century. Jabotinsky the brilliant novelist anticipates the career of Ze'ev Jabotinsky the Zionist leader who urged the evacuation of the Jews from Eastern Europe."

EXPOSÉS AND EXCESS

Muckraking in America, 1900 / 2000

Cecelia Tichi

Two American Gilded Ages—one in the early 1900s, another in the final years of the twentieth century—have ignited the civic passions of investigative writers drafting the blueprints for social change. In Exposés and Excess Cecelia Tichi examines the compelling narratives of muckrakers Upton Sinclair, Ida Tarbell, Lincoln Steffens, and others, and reveals how they have found their worthy successors in writers such as Barbara Ehrenreich, Eric Schlosser, and Naomi Klein.

PAPERWORK

Fiction and Mass Mediacy in the Paper Age

Kevin McLaughlin

Paperwork seeks to challenge traditional approaches to print culture and the mass media in the nineteenth century by drawing on the path-breaking critical work of Walter Benjamin. Kevin McLaughlin argues for a literary-critical approach to the impact of the mass media on literature through a series of detailed interpretations of fiction by Poe, Stevenson, Melville, Dickens, and Hardy.

NATURAL SELECTION

With this anthology Uruguayan poet Enrique Fierro is finally receiving his due recognition. For over forty years he has been developing a unique voice, a different kind of poetics that cannot be confused with any other. The reader is drawn in by the manner in which the poems are written, by the peculiarly allusive quality of his verse, condensed to the extreme; and by the intense moments of heightened perception, fleeting instants of inner consciousness that permeate his writing. Fierro's urgency to produce artful explorations of life can be read as a representation of the unending search for human realization.

Medieval & Renaissance Literary Studies

The Virgilian Pastoral Tradition

From the Renaissance to the Modern Era

Nancy Lindheim

This study contributes to a dialogue about the scope and meaning of pastoral, arguing for a more socially and aesthetically complex awareness of its significance. Dealing mainly with Renaissance works by Spenser, Milton and Shakespeare, the study grounds itself in Virgil and concludes with pastoral's transmuted afterlife in Wordsworth and Samuel Beckett.

Single Imperfection

Milton, Marriage and Friendship

Thomas H. Luxon

John Milton assumed a leading role in the redefinition of Protestant marriage as a hetero-erotic version of classical friendship. Understanding Milton's work as part of a major cultural project, Single Imperfection takes a fresh look at John Milton's poems in the light of a new analysis of his famous doctrine of marriage and tracts on divorce. Available November 2005

Divine Subjection

The Rhetoric of Sacramental Devotion in Early Modern England

Gary Kuchar

Through readings of works by Robert Southwell, Richard Crashaw, John Donne and Thomas Traherne, Divine Subjection explores how writers reimagined the sacramental continuity between divine and human orders amid a range of theological and philosophical conflicts. Kuchar examines how rhetoric of sacramental devotion works to construct ideal religious subjects within and against the broader experience of desacralization. Available June 2005

Gospels and Grit
Work and Labour in Carlyle, Conrad, and Orwell

Rob Breton
Cloth 0802038883 $55.00
Available

Gospels and Grit examines the literary representations of work and labour in the Victorian works of Thomas Carlyle and the twentieth-century writings of Joseph Conrad and George Orwell, exploring how the three systematically displaced the conflict between the Gospel of Work and a non-idealist, non-theoretical pragmatism.

An Audience of One
Dorothy Osborne's Letters to Sir William Temple, 1652-1654

Carrie Hintz
Cloth 0802088333 $60.00
Available

Osborne and Temple, both in their early twenties, shared a romance that was opposed by their families, and Osborne herself was almost constantly under surveillance. Osborne's letters provide a rare glimpse into an early modern woman's life at a pivotal point, as she tried to find a way to marry for love as well as fulfil her obligations to her family.

Captivating Subjects
Writing Confinement, Citizenship, and Nationhood in the Nineteenth Century

Edited by Jason Haslam and Julia M. Wright
Cloth 0802089682 $55.00
July 2005

Rather than seeing captives as silenced and marginal figures, this volume of collected essays investigates how the nineteenth century nation state relied on captivity as a means of consolidating the notion of the citizen, as well as protecting economic and imperial interests.

English Biography in the Seventeenth Century
A Critical Survey

Allan Pritchard

Cloth 0802038891 $60.00
July 2005

After charting the growth of seventeenth-century biographical writing, Pritchard explores the ways in which traditional forms of religious biography and lives of princes were adapted to, and transformed by, the crises and revolutions of the period. This comprehensive work argues that the seventeenth century was, in many ways, the formative period for the development of biographical writing in England.

The novel according to Michael McKeon

Forthcoming in December

The Secret History of Domesticity

Public, Private, and the Division of Knowledge
Michael McKeon

Taking English culture as its representative sample, The Secret History of Domesticity asks how the modern notion of the public-private relation emerged in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. Treating that relation as a crucial instance of the modern division of knowledge, Michael McKeon narrates its prehistory along with that of its essential component, domesticity.

McKeon accounts for how the relationship between public and private experience first became intelligible as a variable interaction of distinct modes of being—not a static dichotomy, but a tool to think with. Richly illustrated with nearly 100 images, including paintings, engravings, woodcuts, and a representative selection of architectural floor plans for domestic interiors, this volume reads graphic forms to emphasize how susceptible the public-private relation was to concrete and spatial representation. McKeon is similarly attentive to how literary forms evoked a tangible sense of public-private relations. He also finds a structural analogue for the emergence of the modern public-private relation in the conjunction of what contemporaries called the "secret history" and the domestic novel.

A capacious and synthetic historical investigation, The Secret History of Domesticity exemplifies how the methods of literary interpretation and historical analysis can inform and enrich one another.

Theory of the Novel

A Historical Approach
edited by Michael McKeon

"What a marvelous collection and what a skillful editor McKeon is, marshalling the essays into an argument for the novel as a distinct 'literary historical genre' rather than as one element in a bland, all-embracing narrative theory."
—Times Higher Education Supplement

"The anthology provides not only a splendid guide to thinking about the novel, but also a useful warning against assuming that fiction is merely the instrument of those who wish to dampen revolution, forge national identities, and build empires."

The Origins of the English Novel, 1600–1740

15th Anniversary Edition, with a New Introduction by the Author
Michael McKeon

"The last two decades have been turbulent ones for the study of the novel, and most of the waves have been created by Michael McKeon . . . The fifteenth anniversary edition . . . offers the opportunity to reflect on McKeon's extraordinary contribution to studies of the novel . . . Because the work is so careful and the thinking so precise, I find the story he tells just as compelling now as in the 1980s and, if anything, more satisfying in its comprehension of issues and weaving them into a coherent whole."

Modeling Interdisciplinary Inquiry:
A Postdoctoral Program in the Humanities and Social Sciences

Washington University announces the sixth year of Modeling Interdisciplinary Inquiry, an Andrew W. Mellon Foundation Postdoctoral Fellowship Program designed to encourage interdisciplinary scholarship and teaching across the humanities and social sciences. We invite applications from recent Ph.D.s for the position of Fellow. In September 2006, the selected Fellow will join our continuing Fellows in order to participate in the University's ongoing interdisciplinary programs and seminars. The Fellow will receive a two year appointment with a stipend beginning at $40,700 per year. Postdoctoral Fellows have an opportunity to plan and pursue their own continuing research in association with a senior faculty member at Washington University, and, over the course of their two-year appointment, to teach three undergraduate courses in their home discipline and to collaborate each spring in an interdisciplinary theory and methods workshop.

There is no application form, but further information on Modeling Interdisciplinary Inquiry is available at the address below and on the web at http://www.artsci.wustl.edu/~szwicker/Mellon_Postdoctoral_Program.html. Applicants should submit a cover letter, a description of their research program (no more than three single-spaced pages), a brief proposal for the seminar in theory and methods, a curriculum vitae, and three letters of recommendation. All materials must be submitted in paper copy.

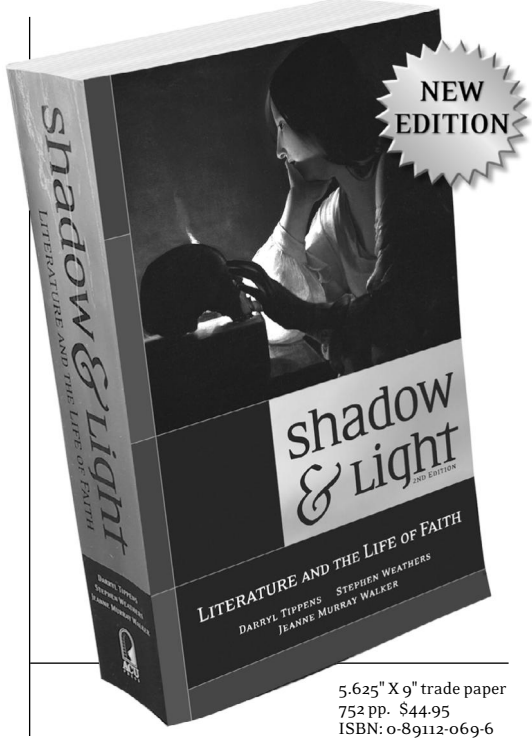

Submit materials by December 1, 2005, to

2ND EDITION
LITERATURE AND THE LIFE OF FAITH
Darryl Tippens, Stephen Weathers, and Jeanne Murray Walker, Editors

Shadow and Light is the single best anthology for those who wish to teach or learn about the literature of spiritual engagement. Generous in its inclusiveness and scope, this book demonstrates that writing about the human encounter with Mystery has been – and continues to be – one of the central strands of Western literature.

SCHOMBURG CENTER FOR RESEARCH IN BLACK CULTURE

SCHOLARS IN RESIDENCE PROGRAM

SCHOMBURG CENTER FOR RESEARCH IN BLACK CULTURE, a unit of The New York Public Library's Research Libraries, announces its Scholars-in-Residence Program for the academic year of 2006-2007.

The Fellowship Program encompasses projects in African, Afro-American, and Afro-Caribbean history and culture, with an emphasis on African Diasporan Studies and Biography, Social History and African American Culture. (Please see our website for information on the Center's holdings.)

REQUIREMENTS Fellows are required to be in full-time residence at the Center during the award period. They are expected to utilize the Center's resources extensively, participate in scheduled seminars, colloquia and luncheons, review and critique papers presented at these forums, and prepare a report on work accomplished at the end of their residency.

Persons seeking support for research leading to degrees are not eligible under this program. Candidates for advanced degrees must have received the degree or completed all requirements for it by the application deadline.

Foreign nationals are not eligible unless they will have resided in the United States for three years immediately preceding the award date.

AWARD Fellowships funded by the Program will allow recipients to spend six months or a year in residence with access to resources at both the Schomburg Center and other research units of The New York Public Library. The fellowship stipend is $25,000 for six months and up to $50,000 for twelve months. The Program is supported by the National Endowment for the Humanities, the Samuel I. Newhouse Foundation and Ford Foundation.

APPROACHES TO TEACHING DEFOE'S ROBINSON CRUSOE
Maximillan E. Novak and Carl Fisher, eds.

"This volume offers teachers of a wide variety of students an array of thematic, formal, and ideological approaches with an inventive mix of classroom strategies."
—Cynthia Wall
University of Virginia

Defoe's Robinson Crusoe remains a standard text for teaching the period and continues to inspire popular adaptations and imitations, from children's books to adventure films to reality TV. In teaching the work, instructors are challenged to separate the popular images of Crusoe from the text and its two sequels, creating distance from the myth without losing sight of why it is so powerful.
