Over the River and Through the Wood

An Anthology of Nineteenth-Century American Children's Poetry

edited by Karen L. Kilcup and Angela Sorby

"It is said that the nineteenth century invented children's literature and in doing so reinvented childhood. An amazing act of (deft, almost invisible) scholarly recuperation."—Robert Hass, U.S. Poet Laureate, 1995–1997

$29.95 paper • $29.95 ebook

From Little London to Little Bengal

Religion, Print, and Modernity in Early British India, 1793–1835

Daniel E. White

"White's illuminating account of the circulation of persons and things, and ideas and practices between Britain and Bengal in the early nineteenth century offers a powerful revision of our understanding of global modernity."—Lynn Festa, Rutgers University

$49.95 cloth • $49.95 ebook

Experimental Life

Vitalism in Romantic Science and Literature

Robert Mitchell

Experimental Life establishes the multiple ways in which Romantic authors appropriated the notion of experimentation from the natural sciences.

"A superb and outstandingly researched study."—Denise Gigante, Stanford University

$55.00 cloth • $55.00 ebook

Literature in the Ashes of History

Cathy Caruth

"It is rewarding and immensely exciting to follow the twists and turns of Caruth's brilliant and endlessly surprising arguments."—Michael G. Levine, Rutgers University

"Caruth's analyses call for nothing less than a 'rethinking of the very nature of history around the possibility of its erasure'—a most urgent appeal in our days."—Elisabeth Weber, University of California, Santa Barbara

Stanley Cavell and the Claim of Literature

David Rudrum

"Rudrum traces how Cavell's critical writings, like other major writings, philosophical and literary alike, include 'an aesthetics of themselves,' so that in their densities of attention they demonstrate practices and possibilities of understanding the human as both constitutively incomplete and capable of productive attention. I cannot think of a better way of articulating the claim that literature makes on us."—Richard Eldridge, Swarthmore College

$45.00 cloth • $45.00 ebook

My Silver Planet

A Secret History of Poetry and Kitsch

Daniel Tiffany

"In disclosing the obscured origins of kitsch in poetry (as opposed to industrial mass culture, as we have so often been told), Tiffany makes a truly new, startling, and convincing argument that dramatically overturns our basic understandings of both poetry and kitsch."—Sianne Ngai, author of Our Aesthetic Categories

Hopkins Studies in Modernism: Douglas Mao, Series Editor

$45.00 cloth • $45.00 ebook

Musica Naturalis

Speculative Music Theory and Poetics, from Saint Augustine to the Late Middle Ages in France

Philipp Jeserich

translated by Michael J. Curley and Steven Rendall

"A wide-ranging and meticulously documented study of a fundamental question in medieval aesthetics, which sheds new light on the relation between poetics and music theory in the Middle Ages."—Daniel Heller-Roazen, Princeton University

Rethinking Theory: Stephen G. Nichols and Victor E. Taylor, Series Editors

$80.00 cloth
