

Journal of Business Ethics Education

A unique international journal for Business Ethics courses and business ethics teaching, publishing leading education research and teaching materials

LEAD EDITOR: John Hooker
Carnegie Mellon University, USA

The business community profoundly influences lives and events around the world. Business education must supply the conceptual tools managers need to make choices that are ethically responsible and culturally sensitive as well as technically sound. The mission of the JBEE is to assist educators in this task by providing timely educational materials and a forum for discussion of pedagogical issues.

CURRENT JOURNAL SECTIONS:

Education Research Articles	Special Themed Sections
Teaching Articles	Forums and Opinion Pieces
Case Studies	Book Reviews

Published continuously online in e-Journal format and as a Hard Copy annual volume

Santa Clara University

ASSISTANT/ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR IN BUSINESS ETHICS

The Management Department at Santa Clara University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant or Associate Professor position in Business Ethics beginning September, 2015. Candidates must have a Ph.D. from an AACSB-International accredited university in business ethics or a closely related field such as corporate social responsibility or corporate social performance. Ph.D. must be completed or near completion by the start date. Candidates must have a demonstrated ability to publish in high-quality peer-reviewed journals and have demonstrated excellence teaching business ethics. Responsibilities will include: conducting research leading to publications in top journals, teaching graduate and/or undergraduate courses in business ethics, and providing suitable service to the department, university, profession, or community.

Applications should be submitted using the university's online application process at: https://jobs.scu.edu/postings/1736. Applications require: (1) a letter stating the candidate's interest in Santa Clara University, (2) a vita, (3) a statement of research and teaching interests, (4) examples of peer-reviewed scholarship, (5) evidence of teaching effectiveness, and (6) contact information of three references. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Questions may be sent to Prof. Manuel Velasquez (mvelasquez@scu.edu) or Prof. Peter Jennings (pjennings@scu.edu).

Santa Clara University combines academic excellence in the 450-year Jesuit tradition with an energy and innovative spirit that are hallmarks of Silicon Valley. The Management Department includes scholars with diverse backgrounds and interests focused on a commitment to quality scholarship and teaching excellence. Please see http://scu.edu/business/management/faculty/index.cfm for details.

Santa Clara University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer, and particularly welcomes applications from women, persons of color, and members of historically underrepresented groups. The University will provide reasonable accommodations to all qualified individuals with a disability. The University collects information about campus crimes and other reportable incidents in accordance with the federal Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act. To view the Santa Clara University report, please go to the Campus Safety Services website at http://www.scu.edu/cs/. For a paper copy that includes the type of crime, venue, and number of occurrences, please call Campus Safety at (408) 554-4441.

Manuscripts should be double-spaced and not exceed 12,000 words. Manuscripts must conform to either the Chicago Manual of Style, the Academy of Management Review Style Guide for Authors (http://aom.pace.edu/AMR/style.html), or The Bluebook: A Uniform System of Citation. Tables of data, listings of hypotheses, and mathematical or other formulae in empirical manuscripts should follow the Academy of Management Journal Style Guide for Authors (http://aom.pace.edu/amjnew/style_guide.html) with regard to such features. Manuscripts must not be under consideration elsewhere, and must not have been previously published. BEQ encourages authors to use non-sexist language. Please see the BEQ website for additional important information for contributors.

Manuscripts will be reviewed initially by one of the editors for style, format, topical appropriateness vis-à-vis business ethics, and scholarly (as opposed to journalistic) orientation. Manuscripts that pass this initial review will then be double-blind reviewed by at least two reviewers. Every attempt will be made to notify authors of the status of their manuscripts within three months of submission.

Authors should provide an abstract for each article (maximum of 150 words).

Authors will receive proofs for the correction of typographical errors and minor changes prior to publication. Shortly after publication of a manuscript, the author will receive a complimentary copy of that issue of BEQ.

Book Reviews. Readers of BEQ who would like to see a particular book reviewed, or who are interested in reviewing a book, should contact:
