ABOUT THE AMERICAN POLITICAL SCIENCE ASSOCIATION (APSA)

Founded in 1903, the American Political Science Association (APSA) is the leading professional organization for the study of political science and serves more than 11,000 members in over 100 countries. With a range of programs and services for individuals, departments, and institutions, APSA brings together political scientists from all fields of inquiry, regions, and occupational endeavors within and outside academe in order to deepen our understanding of politics, democracy, and citizenship throughout the world. The direct advancement of knowledge is at the core of APSA activities. We promote scholarly communication in political science through a variety of initiatives including publishing four distinguished journals: American Political Science Review, Perspectives on Politics, PS: Political Science & Politics, and the Journal of Political Science Education.

"... a model of historical writing: scrupulously researched and elegantly presented"

Niall Ferguson, author of Kissinger, vol. I: The Idealist, 1923-1968

"A tour de force... To Run the World is a thought-provoking, comprehensive narrative of the Soviet Union's place and aspirations in the global Cold War."

Kristina Spohr, author of Post Wall, Post Square: Rebuilding the world after 1989

"... an invaluable and 'magisterial' book"

Fiona Hill, author of There is Nothing for You Here: Finding Opportunity in the 21st Century

"Drawing on new archival material, insightful analysis, and brilliant writing, Radchenko's book will instantly become the go-to source for understanding Soviet behavior during the Cold War."

Michael McFaul, author of From Cold War to Hot Peace: An American Ambassador in Putin's Russia

"... magisterial world history at its finest."

Simon Sebag Montefiore, author of The World: A Family History of Humanity
