Constructing Identity in Twentieth-Century Spain

Theoretical Debates and Cultural Practice

Edited by JO LABANYI

This volume is designed to further the study of Spanish culture in the broad sense of the network of symbolic systems through which social groups construct and negotiate a sense of identity or identities. The aim is to introduce readers to current theoretical debates in a range of disciplines, as well as to inform them about specific areas of twentieth-century Spanish culture.

THE SCHOOL OF CRITICISM & THEORY at Cornell University

An international program of study with leading figures in critical theory invites you to apply for its Twenty-seventh Summer Session

June 15-July 25, 2003

IN NEW YORK STATE'S FINGER LAKES REGION

The Program
In an intense six-week course of study, participants from around the world, in the disciplines of literature, history, and related social sciences, explore recent developments in literary and humanistic studies.

Tuition
The fee for the session is $2500. Applicants are eligible to compete for partial tuition scholarships and are urged to seek funding from their home institutions.

Acceptance
Applications from faculty members and advanced graduate students at universities worldwide will be judged beginning March 1, 2003. Admissions are made on a rolling basis, and decisions are announced as soon as possible.

May '68 and Its Afterlives
Kristin Ross

"Strikingly original, May '68 and Its Afterlives should cause something of a sensation. The book brilliantly counters the counterfeit 'memories' that have claimed to represent what 'really' happened, and its tone of sharp critique is engaging and impressive. There is no other book like this on the market. Indeed this genre of book—a bitingly critical political history—is all too rare these days."—Joan W. Scott, Institute for Advanced Study

Is It Nation Time?
Contemporary Essays on Black Power and Black Nationalism
Edited by Eddie S. Glaude Jr

This volume gathers new and classic essays on the Black Power movement and its legacy by renowned thinkers, such as Robin D. G. Consuming Youth
Vampires, Cyborgs, and the Culture of Consumption
Robert Latham

"A near-encyclopedic work. Latham's nuanced readings connect vampires, with their associations of exploitation, blood-sucking, and undead existence, to cyborgs, who like vampires deconstruct the normal behaviors of the autonomous subject through the joining of human and machine. This important book will make a valuable contribution to cultural studies, contemporary literary theory, and neo-Marxist criticism in general."—N. SHAKESPEARE'S PERFUME

SODOMY AND SUBLIMITY IN THE SONNETS, WILDE, FREUD, AND LACAN

Richard Halpern

Drawing on theology, alchemy, psychoanalysis, philosophy, and literary criticism, Shakespeare's Perfume explores how the history of aesthetics and the history of sexuality are fundamentally connected.

"This unique book will change and deepen the sense of what sexual desire has meant and means in the culture that we inhabit, and that inhabits us in turn." —Jeff Nunokawa, Princeton University

ALLITERATIVE REVIVALS

Christine Chism

Christine Chism argues that late medieval alliterative romance animates British history by reviving and acknowledging potentially threatening figures from the past. In addressing the ways alliterative poems share concerns with history and the often-dangerous confrontation of the present with the past, Chism shifts her focus away from the emphases on meter, dialect, and provenance that have routinely marked studies of alliterative poetry.

PLAIN STYLE

A GUIDE TO WRITTEN ENGLISH

Christopher Lasch
Edited by Stewart Weaver

Now available for the first time in published form, Plain Style is fundamentally a clear, readable, practical guide to the timeless principles of effective composition. At the same time, however, in ways that Stewart Weaver explains in his critical introduction, it is a distinctive and revealing addition to the published work of an eminent American thinker. No mere primer, Plain Style is an essay in cultural criticism, a political treatise even, by one for whom directness, clarity, and honesty of expression were essential to the living spirit of democracy.

"A MAGNIFICENT ACHIEVEMENT"*

Jacket illustration by Maurice Sendak

Parker's impressive scholarship and a vigorous analysis are cause for celebration. Too often reviewers misuse the word 'definitive'; not so in this case. The meticulous Parker has practically reconstructed Melville's DNA and in doing so has rendered American literature a signal service. Parker recounts Melville's chronic bad luck, epic writing binges, failed lectures, surreal visions and troubled marriage. It's a saga of genius refusing to be derailed. But Parker unearths a plethora of new material, including previously unknown family correspondence and even the title and plot of Melville's long-lost novel, 'The Isle of the Cross.'"
—Douglas Brinkley, Los Angeles Times Book Review

HERMAN MELVILLE

A Biography
Volume 2, 1851-1891
Hershel Parker

With immense sympathy, Parker relates how Melville's intellectual growth resulted in his writing novels that were increasingly obscure to his ever-diminishing readership, and how, in his early 30s, as a husband and a father of four, his repeated failures curdled his spirit and caused him to withdraw into himself . . . Parker's telling makes a Greek tragedy of Melville's life after Moby-Dick . . . This definitive work, together with the first volume, is essential for every library."
—Library Journal (starred review)

The concluding volume of Herman Melville: A Biography confirms Hershel Parker's position as the world's leading Melville scholar, demonstrating his unrivaled biographical, literary, and historical imagination and providing a rich new portrait of a great—and profoundly American—artist. Through prodigious archival research into hundreds of family letters and diary entries, newly discovered newspaper articles, and marginalia from books that Melville owned, Parker vividly recreates the last four decades of Melville's life, episode after episode unknown to previous biographers.

From reviews of the first volume:

"Unquestionably the most searching biography ever written on Herman Melville."
—Philip Weiss, New York Times Magazine

"A magnificent achievement . . . Hershel Parker's magnum opus is a magisterial work of retrieval and unflagging scholarship."
—Harold Beaver, *Times Literary Supplement

GENRES IN CONTEXT

Your Key to Understanding the Structure and History of Your Favorite Literary Genre

This series investigates and clarifies the continuities and changes within popular literary themes and genres. Whether science fiction or fairy tales, these books bring the arc of the genre's evolution and its distinctive traits into focus. In addition to a history of the genre, these books explore and analyze four to six exemplary texts in detail. Rounding out each volume are a chronology of significant events, works and figures from the genre's history, notes and references, and an extensive bibliographic essay with recommended reading.

New Titles in the series include:

THE WORKS OF JOHN DRYDEN, VOLUME VII

Poems, 1697-1700

Edited by Vinton A. Dearing

Extensive and detailed notes to these translations show readers how well Dryden succeeded in transmitting the styles and the very sounds of his originals. Volume VII also includes Dryden's only known Latin work. The presentation of the writings in this volume, like that of the entire twenty-volume series, is a tribute not only to Dryden but also to the editors who have guided it through five decades.

RUSSIAN OPERA AND THE SYMBOLIST MOVEMENT

Simon Morrison

This book is a groundbreaking and imaginative treatment of the important yet neglected topic of Russian opera in the Silver Age. Providing valuable insight into both the Symbolist enterprise and Russian musicology, this book casts new light on opera's evolving, ambiguous place in fin de siècle.

THE AGE OF CULTURAL REVOLUTIONS

Britain and France, 1750-1820

Colin Jones and Dror Wahrman, Editors

"This superb collection of essays brings together the most exciting new work in cultural and literal history. Although the authors focus on the various cultural revolutions of the late 18th and early 19th centuries, the significance of their investigations extends far beyond that moment."—Lynn Hunt, editor of The New Cultural History

$48.00 cloth, $18.95 paper

THE DARK MIRROR

German Cinema between Hitler and Hollywood

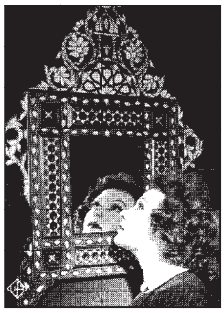

Lutz Koepnick

"One of the finest, most compelling and suggestive accounts to date of the multiple locations of German cinema between Hitler and Hollywood. Charting the shifting relationships between institutional contexts and individual acts of reception, Koepnick persuasively shows how the German cinema and its filmmakers—both in exile and in Nazi Germany—contributed to a fragile, stratified, indeed, 'nonsynchronous' public sphere."

STAGED NARRATIVE

Poetics and the Messenger in Greek Tragedy

James Barrett

Combining several critical approaches—narrative theory, genre study, and rhetorical analysis—Barrett develops a synthetic view of the messenger of Greek tragedy, showing how this role illuminates some of the genre's most persistent concerns, especially those relating to language, knowledge, and the workings of tragic theater itself.

INTERPRETING A CLASSIC

Demosthenes and His Ancient Commentators

Craig A. Gibson

This book collects for the first time, translates, and offers explanatory notes on all the substantial fragments of ancient philological and historical commentaries on Demosthenes. Using these texts to illuminate an important aspect of Graeco-Roman antiquity that has hitherto been difficult to glimpse, Gibson gives a detailed portrait of a scholarly industry that touched generations of ancient readers.

Shifting Contexts

Reinterpreting Samson Agonistes

Joseph Wittreich

Samson Agonistes is the climax and completion of Milton's poetic vision. As such, it has become the work at which the critical controversies in Milton studies coverge and from which new critical perspectives on Milton's poems emerge. This book contends that there are several Samsons in the dramatic poem and multiple contexts and various traditions that bring light to Milton's unique rendition of a kaleidoscope protagonist. To achieve its purposes, this book forges and deploys a new critical vocabulary of paramount importance not only to Miltonists but to critical theorists generally.

Domestic Arrangements In Early Modern England

Edited by Kari Boyd McBride

This rich collection illuminates the many ways in which the domestic space served as a stage for playing out the pressing questions that perplexed the writers and thinkers of early modern England — questions about family, but even more significantly, questions about emerging political realities. It explores the complexity of interaction between public and private and the centrality of "domestic arrnagements" to early modern understanding of and fears surrounding self and other, individual and community. Contributors include: Katherine Capshaw Smith, Sid Ray, Jessica Slights, Pilar Cuder-Domínquez, Susan Staub, Heather Dubrow, Stephanie Chamberlain, Marianne Novy, Claire M. Busse and Ursula Potter.

The Essex House Masque of 1621

Viscount Doncaster and the Jacobean Masque

Timothy Raylor

"[T]his splendid study by one of America's leading early-modern specialists is a model of how to reconstruct a work of 'thick' description of one of its events. Raylor provides a masterful account of the political complexities of court and international policies with such elegant clarity that the intricacies can be understood by an undergraduate audience. This book is that rare thing—a work of exemplary scholarship informed by an enlivening imagination that allows the voices of the past to speak again." —Choice

"There is much to praise here. Raylor demonstrates his far-reaching expertise at every step of the way....The writing is clear and informative, occasionally witty, and and never dull; although this is a book aimed largely at specialists, Raylor is at pains to make every aspect of this interdisciplinary study accessible to all potential readers." — Renaissance Quarterly

"Bravo!"*

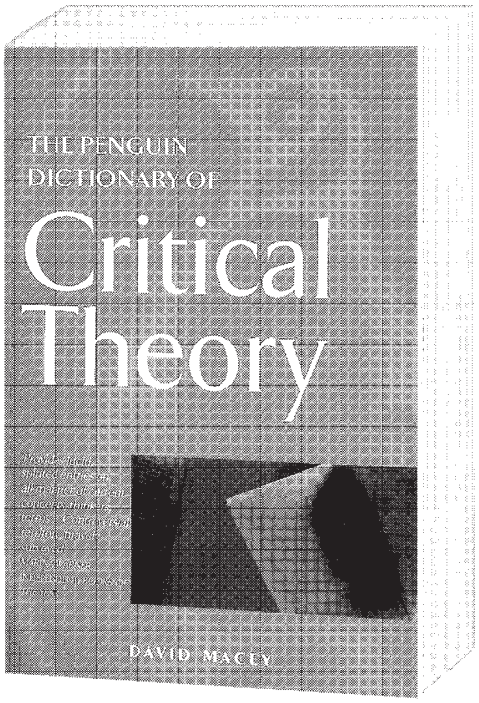

"Provides lucid, spirited entries on all manner of current concepts, thinkers, terms.... Controversial territory, bravely surveyed."
—Marina Warner,
Independent, Books of the Year

"Excellent...an unusual instance of an academic reference book that I do believe doubles quite effectively as a textbook for students and I would recommend it unreservedly to anyone with an interest in theoretical matters, or just in the history of ideas."
—Duncan Wu
St. Catherine's College, Oxford

"Extremely good...Too many dictionaries of this sort limit themselves to literary terms, which are not hard for students to track down. The toughies are the terms from particular theoretical contexts which may be very obscure and which students don't know where to look for. 'Interpellate' or 'interpellation' is the one I use to test dictionaries. Most fail but [this one] passed. It also has 'hegemony' and 'abjection.' Bravo!"
—Jonathan Culler*

"Splendidly done. It brings clarity to the world of difficult concepts and radical ideas that constitute modern and postmodern critical theory, covering the significant schools and bringing clear definitions."
—Malcolm Bradbury

"Remarkable for its comprehensiveness, mapping 'theory' across a wide range of disciplines and art forms. It is certainly a reference book I will want to have on my own shelves." —David Lodge

Christopher Marlowe

A Renaissance Life

CONSTANCE BROWN KURIYAMA

"In this more speculative life of Marlowe, Kuriyama provides insightful details into English education, politics, and religion during the Renaissance." —Library Journal

"Christopher Marlowe: A Renaissance Life is unlike any biography of Marlowe that I know. It is an indispensable sourcebook as well as a biography. Constance Kuriyama's authoritative book includes documents that have never been reprinted before."—Maurice Charney, Rutgers University. 2 maps, 6 illustrations. $35.00

The Senses of Modernism

Technology, Perception, and Aesthetics

SARA DANIUS

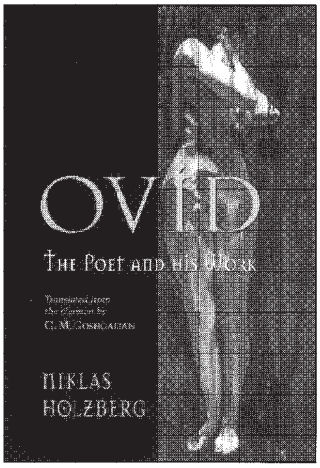

"Sara Danius balances high literary texts and technological matters to give us a nuanced account of how texts and technologies interrelate. New inventions—the x-ray, the movie camera, the telephone—spurred Proust, Joyce, and Mann to produce texts that show how the senses lead to knowledge. The Senses of Modernism is extremely timely, well written, and elegantly formulated."—Enda Duffy, University of California, Santa Barbara. 12 illustrations. $45.00 cloth, $19.95 paper

Surface and Depth

Dialectics of Criticism and Culture

RICHARD SHUSTERMAN

Richard Shusterman explores the dialectics of surface and depth by examining key issues in the philosophy of art and culture—from the logic of interpretation and evaluation to the roots of taste and convention, from the meanings of aesthetic purity and immediacy to the role of nature, theory, and history in our experience and understanding of art. $49.95 cloth, $19.95 paper

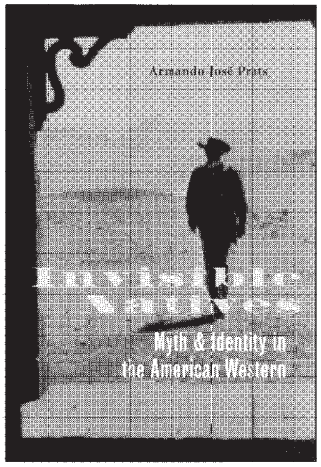

Ovid

The Poet and His Work

NIKLAS HOLZBERG

Translated by G. M. Goshgarian

The distinguished classicist Niklas Holzberg offers a highly readable, concise yet comprehensive overview of all of Ovid's varied works, giving each stage of Ovid's career its due and allowing no text to be diminished by serving as a prelude or epilogue to others. In addition, Holzberg's own insightful, frequently witty observations infuse the book, resulting in a rounded vision of a storyteller Holzberg finds to be distinctly modern. $39.95

Invisible Natives

Myth and Identity in the American Western

ARMANDO JOSÉ PRATS

"Invisible Natives is the most complete account, and the most sophisticated analysis to date, of the portrayal of Native Americans in Hollywood fiction films. Armando José Prats has a thorough understanding of the cultural and political context from which individual film treatments emerge; and his analysis of particular films does full justice to the individuality of each work."—Richard Slotkin, Wesleyan University. 23 illustrations. $49.95 cloth, $21.95 paper

Inconsequence

Lesbian Representation and the Logic of Sexual Sequence

ANNAMARIE JAGOSE

"Inconsequence addresses the relation of lesbian sexuality to sequential logic through subtle, persuasive, and surprising readings of both canonical and noncanonical texts. Jagose dares to question the grounding assumptions of both heteronormative discourse and lesbian theory, and in the process advances our understanding of both."—Valerie Rohy, author of Impossible Women. 16 illustrations. $39.95 cloth, $18.95 paper

Black Manhood in James Baldwin, Ernest J. Gaines, and August Wilson

KEITH CLARK

"Examines the representation of black masculinity in selected stories, novels, and plays from the 1940s through the 1990s. In addition to its focus on the black manhood-black community nexus, its major contribution is the well-articulated argument that Baldwin, Gaines, and Wilson were significant in presenting a more complex rendering of black maleness and black male subjectivity. I found the book a compelling read."

"This is a new balanced approach to the Eaton sisters that marks a departure from the pattern of viewing Sui Sin Far (Edith Eaton) as the positive and heroic sister while relegating Onoto Watanna (Winnifred Eaton) to the realm of fantasy exoticism and pure invention. Dominika Ferens argues convincingly that both Edith and Winnifred Eaton made up their personae as they invented their pen names, and that neither had a direct and unmediated access to the culture that each chose to embody."

JANE ADDAMS

A New Conscience and an Ancient Evil

Introduction by Katherine Joslin

Assesses the vulnerability of the rural and immigrant working-class girls who moved to Chicago and fell prey to the sexual bartering of the 'white slave trade.' Despite popular appeal, the book was criticized by the press and prominent intellectuals for being disproportionately hysterical. Joslin's introduction considers the controversial reactions to the book and the circumstances of its publication.

Power in the Portrayal

Representations of Jews and Muslims in Eleventh- and Twelfth-Century Islamic Spain

Ross Brann

Power in the Portrayal unveils a fresh and vital perspective on power relations in eleventh- and twelfth-century Muslim Spain as reflected in historical and literary texts of the period. Employing the methods of the new historical literary study, Ross Brann reveals the paradoxical relations between the Andalusi Muslim and Jewish elites in an era when long periods of tolerance and respect were punctuated by outbreaks of tension and hostility. Brann's accessible prose is enriched by his splendid translations; the original texts are also included.

ODYSSEYS HOME
Mapping African-Canadian Literature

George Elliott Clarke

Cloth 0802043763 $85.00
Paper 0802081916 $35.00

A pioneering study of African-Canadian literary creativity, Odysseys Home presents a history of the literature and examines its debt to, and synthesis with, oral cultures. George Elliott Clarke identifies African-Canadian literature's distinguishing characteristics, argues for its relevance to both African Diasporic Black and Canadian Studies, and critiques several of its key creators and texts.

ENCYCLOPEDIA OF LITERATURE IN CANADA

Edited by W.H. New

Cloth 0802007619 $75.00

In over two thousand entries that attest to Canada's cultural plurality, this up-to-date reference covers literature in English and French, and also in such other languages as Yiddish and Cree. It discusses authors and their work; professional institutions that play a role in the lives of Canadian writers; and the major events that have shaped Canada. Extensive cross-referencing, a supplementary index, and an index of authors, as well as suggestions for further reading make this encyclopedia the most complete and accessible reference guide to Canadian literature in print.

MAKING AVONLEA
L.M. Montgomery and Popular Culture

Edited by Irene Gammel

Cloth 0802035582 $70.00
Paper 0802084338 $27.50

The first study to focus on Montgomery and her characters, especially Anne of Green Gables, as popular cultural icons and a global cultural phenomenon, bringing together twenty-three scholars from around the world to examine Montgomery's work, its place in our imagination, and its myriad spin-offs including musicals, films, television series, T-shirts, dolls, and a booming tourist industry.

Austerlitz

by W.G. Sebald
Translated by Anthea Bell

National Book Critics Circle Award Winner

"With untraceable swiftness and assurance, W. G. Sebald's writing conjures from the details and sequences of daily life, and their circumstances and encounters, from apparent chance and its unsounded calculus, the dimension of dream and a sense of the depth of time that make his books, one by one, indispensable. He evokes at once the minutiae and the vastness of individual existence, the inconsolable sorrow of history and the scintillating beauty of the moment and its ground of memory."—W. S. Merwin

Half a Life

by V.S. Naipaul

"Half a Life, the fierce new novel by V. S. Naipaul, the new Nobel laureate, is one of those rare books that stands as both a small masterpiece in its own right and as a potent distillation of the author's work to date.... He has given us a powerful tale of one man's journey from childhood to middle age while at the same time creating a resonant parable about the convulsions of modern history, both the dying of old inequities and the rise of new illusions, and their spiritual legacy of homelessness and dislocation."

Balzac and the Little Chinese Seamstress

by Dai Sijie
Translated by Ina Rike

"Dai Sijie's debut novella is an unexpected miracle—a delicate, and often hilarious, tale set amid the ham-fisted brutalities of the Cultural Revolution."—Los Angeles Times

"Dai Sijie gives the rest of the world a glimpse into that dark place where the human spirit continues, against all the odds to shine its light into the farthest corners."—Boston Globe

My Name Is Red

by Orhan Pamuk
Translated by Erdag M. Göknar

"Pamuk is a novelist and a great one.... My Name Is Red is by far the grandest and most astonishing contest in his internal East-West war.... It is chock-full of sublimity and sin.... [Readers will] be lofted by the paradoxical lightness and gaiety of the writing, by the wonderfully winding talk perpetually about to turn a corner, and by the stubborn humanity in the characters' maneuvers to survive."

YALE UNIVERSITY
Visiting Fellowships

BEINECKE
Rare Book & Manuscript Library

This announcement contains all of the information necessary to complete the application process. All application materials must be received by January 15, 2003. Awards will be announced in March 2003 for the period September 2003 through May 2004.

The Beinecke Rare Book & Manuscript Library offers short-term fellowships to support visiting scholars pursuing postdoctoral or equivalent research in its collections. The Beinecke Library is Yale University's principal repository for literary papers and for early manuscripts and rare books in the fields of literature, theology, history, and the natural sciences. In addition to its distinguished general collections, the library houses the Osborn Collection, noted for its British literary and historical manuscripts, as well as outstanding special collections devoted to American literature, German literature, and Western Americana. For more information about the collections visit our website www.library.yale.edu/beinecke/

The fellowships, which support travel to and from New Haven and pay a living allowance of $3,000 per month, are designed to provide access to the library for scholars who live outside the greater New Haven area. Fellowships, normally granted for one month, must be taken up between September 2003 and May 2004. Recipients are expected to be in residence during the period of their award and are encouraged to participate in the activities of Yale University.

There is no application form. Applicants, who may not be degree candidates, are asked to submit a résumé and a brief research proposal (not to exceed three pages) to the Director, Beinecke Library, P.O. Box 208240, New Haven, Connecticut 06520-8240. The proposal should emphasize the relationship of the Beinecke collections to the project and state the preferred dates of residence. The applicant should also arrange to have two confidential letters of recommendation sent to the Director.

The following named fellowships are among those to be awarded; there is no special application process for these fellowships.

The Frederick W. Beinecke Fellowship in Western Americana

The Hermann Broch Fellowship in modern German literature

The H.D. Fellowship in English or American literature

The Elizabethan Club Fellowship in the literature or history of the English or European Renaissance

The Edith and Richard French Fellowship

The Donald C. Gallup Fellowship in American literature

The A. Bartlett Giamatti Fellowship

The Archibald Hanna, Jr. Fellowship in American history

The John D. and Rose H. Jackson Fellowship

The first college dictionary ever prepared by the most prestigious name in reference books—Oxford University Press

All new, strikingly handsome, fully illustrated, bearing the Oxford imprimatur, and yet competitively priced, its publication will be the reference event of the year.

The Oxford American College Dictionary is completely new, based on the New Oxford American Dictionary, which was published in October 2001. Drawing on Oxford's unparalleled language resources, including a 200 million word database, this college dictionary contains:

▲ more than 175,000 entries and more than 1,000 illustrations, including line drawings, photographs, and maps

▲ more than 9,000 biographical and geographical entries

▲ country guides—shaded boxes highlighting important statistical information on more than 180 countries—with maps

▲ the most up-to-date and easy-to-use pronunciation system

▲ "core sense" organization of definitions, a brand-new and utterly sensible plan in which subordinate definitions flow logically from primary ones, and the most important usage of the word comes first

▲ word histories: hundreds of interesting stories about the origins of terms

▲ thumb index tabs for easy searching

Modeling Interdisciplinary Inquiry: A Postdoctoral Program in the Humanities and Social Sciences

Washington University announces the third year of Modeling Interdisciplinary Inquiry, an Andrew W. Mellon Foundation Postdoctoral Fellowship Program designed to encourage interdisciplinary scholarship and teaching across the humanities and social sciences. We invite applications from recent Ph.D.s for the position of Fellow. In September 2003, the selected Fellow will join our two continuing Fellows in pursuing advanced training and participating in the University's ongoing interdisciplinary programs and seminars. The Fellow will receive a two-year appointment with a stipend beginning at $37,200 per year.

Postdoctoral Fellows have an opportunity to plan and pursue their own continuing research in association with a senior faculty member at Washington University, and, over the course of their two-year appointment, to teach three undergraduate courses in their home discipline and to collaborate each spring semester in leading a seminar in the theory and methods of interdisciplinary research.

There is no application form, but further information on Modeling Interdisciplinary Inquiry is available at the address below and on the Web at http://www.artsci.wustl.edu/~szwicker/Mellon_Postdoctoral_Program.html. Applicants should submit a cover letter, a description of their research program (no more than three single-spaced pages), a brief proposal for the seminar in theory and methods, a curriculum vitae, and three letters of recommendation. All materials should be submitted in paper copy.

Submit materials by December 1, 2002, to
Steven Zwicker, Department of English, Washington University,
Campus Box 1122, One Brookings Drive, St. Louis, MO, 63130

SCHOMBURG CENTER FOR RESEARCH IN BLACK CULTURE

SCHOLARS IN RESIDENCE PROGRAM

SCHOMBURG CENTER FOR RESEARCH IN BLACK CULTURE, a unit of The New York Public Library's Research Libraries, announces its Scholars-in-Residence Program for the academic year of 2003-2004.

The Fellowship Program encompasses projects in African, Afro-American, and Afro-Caribbean history and culture, with an emphasis on African Diasporan Studies and Biography, Social History and African American Culture. (Please see our website for information on the Center's holdings.)

REQUIREMENTS Fellows are required to be in full-time residence at the Center during the award period. They are expected to utilize the Center's resources extensively, participate in scheduled seminars, colloquia and luncheons, review and critique papers presented at these forums, and prepare a report on work accomplished at the end of their residency.

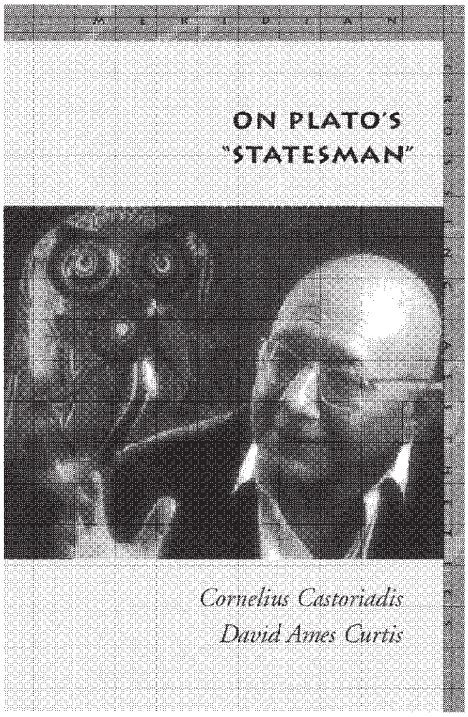

Persons seeking support for research leading to degrees are not eligible under this program. Candidates for advanced degrees must have received the degree or completed all requirements for it by the application deadline. Foreign nationals are not eligible unless they will have resided in the United States for three years immediately preceding the award date.

AWARD Fellowships funded by the Program will allow recipients to spend six months or a year in residence with access to resources at both the Schomburg Center and The New York Public Library. The fellowship stipend is $25,000 for six months and up to $50,000 for twelve months. The Program is supported by the National Endowment for the Humanities, Samuel I. Newhouse and Ford Foundations.

On Plato's Statesman

CORNELIUS CASTORIADIS
Edited and Translated by David Ames Curtis
This book represents the first publication of one of the seminars (transcribed) of Cornelius Castoriadis, a renowned and influential figure in 20th-century thought. A close reading of Plato's Statesman is an exemplary instance of Castoriadis's pragmatic, pertinent, and discriminating approach to thinking about and reading a great work.
$21.95 paper $55.00 cloth

Being Given
Toward a Phenomenology of Givenness

JEAN-LUC MARION
Translated by sJeffrey L. Kosky
This ambitious work engages several major philosophical genres. It responds to current discussions of the "gift," which lie on the frontier of literature, anthropology, and economics, notably in the work of Jacques Derrida.
$24.95 paper $70.00 cloth

World and Life as One
Ethics and Ontology in Wittgenstein's Early Thought

MARTIN STOKHOF
This book explores in detail the relation between ontology and ethics in the early work of Ludwig Wittgenstein, notably the Tractatus Logico-Philosophicus and, to a lesser extent, the Notebooks, 1914-1916. Requiring no prior knowledge of Wittgenstein's thought, it is the first book-length argument that his views on ethics decisively shaped his ontological and semantic thought.
$19.95 paper $60.00 cloth

Taking on the Tradition
Jacques Derrida and the Legacies of Deconstruction

MICHAEL NAAS
Taking on the Tradition focuses on how the work of Jacques Derrida has helped us rethink and rework the themes of tradition, legacy, and inheritance in the Western philosophical tradition. It concentrates not only on such themes in the work of Derrida, but also on his own gestures with regard to these themes, that is, on the performativity of Derrida's texts.
$21.95 paper $55.00 cloth

Deconstruction and the Remainders of Phenomenology
Sartre, Derrida, Foucault, Baudrillard

TILOTTAMA RAJAN
This book aims to disentangle two terms that were conflated in the initial Anglo-American appropriation of French theory: deconstruction and post-structuralism. The author focuses on Sartre, Derrida, Foucault, and Baudrillard and also considers Levinas, Blanchot, de Man, and others.
$25.95 paper $65.00 cloth

Constructions of Practical Reason
Interviews on Moral and Political Philosophy

Edited by HERLINDE PAUER-STUDER
"Brilliantly organized, this very important work allows nine of the most influential philosophers in the Anglo-American tradition to present their views about ethics, social and political philosophy, and philosophy of law in an accessible and highly revealing manner."

Illinois Program for Research in the Humanities

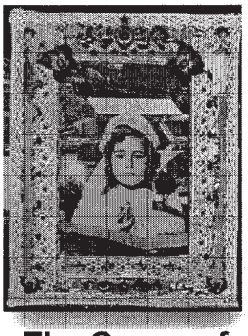

The Illinois Program for Research in the Humanities at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign anticipates the appointment of two external Post-Doctoral Fellows for 2003-04, during which the IPRH annual theme will be "Violence."

The IPRH invites applications for academic projects that consider the term "Violence" in all its meanings and its myriad manifestations: psychic and material, individual and collective, occasional and endemic. More information about the annual theme and the IPRH fellowship program can be found online at http://www.iprh.uiuc.edu.

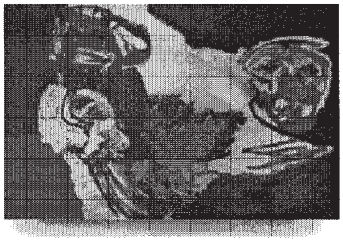

Each Fellow will receive $35,000 and a $2,000 research account for the year. Each Fellow will be invited to teach one course based on their current research to interested graduate and advanced undergraduate students, and to participate in the yearlong interdisciplinary seminar and annual conference coordinated by the IPRH in conjunction with the annual theme.

Applicants must have completed their Ph.D. degrees by August 2002, and have two or more years of teaching experience (including teaching done as an advanced graduate student). Fellows must spend the 2003-04 academic year in residence at UIUC. Current full- or part-time UIUC faculty are ineligible for these awards.

Application materials must be postmarked on or before December 9, 2002; awards will be announced on or about February 1, 2003. For more information, and complete application guidelines, please contact IPRH Associate Director Dr. Christine Catanzarite at (217) 244-7913 or catanzar@uiuc.edu.

MAKING CONNECTIONS

- The association brings members together each December at the MLA Annual Convention. JOIN THE MLA NOW, and you'll receive members' registration rates for both the 2002 convention in New York City and the 2003 convention in San Diego.
- In fall 2003, all MLA members will get expanded Web access to a complete list of members as well as to the program issue of PMLA in a searchable format.
- The association hosts meetings on topics of importance to the profession. If you join before 30 September 2002, you will receive a free copy of the October *PMLA, which includes papers from the landmark Conference on the Relation between English and Foreign Language Departments in the Academy, which took place in April 2002.

PROMOTING EXCELLENCE IN TEACHING AND SCHOLARSHIP

- The MLA International Bibliography now includes listings on rhetoric and composition and on the history, theory, and practice of teaching language and literature at the college level; it also offers improved coverage of Turkish, Arabic, Hebrew, and Persian languages and literatures.
- The acclaimed Approaches to Teaching World Literature series now includes over seventy volumes. Currently in production are volumes on Gilman's The Yellow Wall-Paper and Conrad's "Heart of Darkness" and "The Secret Sharer."
- The MLA Texts and Translations series now contains ten volumes. Fall 2002 volumes include Claire D'Albe and Mademoiselle Giraud, My Wife.
- Recent reference works by the MLA include the fourth edition of the Literary Research Guide and a fifth edition of A Research Guide for Undergraduate Students. The sixth edition of the MLA Handbook for Writers of Research Papers is set for release in spring 2003.
- The MLA recently released Recovering Spain's Feminist Tradition and Disability Studies: Enabling the Humanities.
- PMLA will feature two special topics in 2003: America: The Idea, the Literature and Imagining History.
- A report by the MLA Ad Hoc Committee on the Future of Scholarly Publishing will appear in Profession 2002.

EVERY MLA MEMBER RECEIVES

- subscriptions to the MLA Newsletter (four issues) and to PMLA (six issues, including the membership directory and the convention program)
- a copy of Profession, an annual collection of articles on the field
- reduced registration and hotel rates at this and next year's annual convention
- membership in divisions and discussion groups that focus on members' scholarly and teaching concerns
- significant discounts on the MLA International Bibliography and on more than 200 books and pamphlets published by the MLA
- a copy of the sixth edition of the MLA Handbook for Writers of Research Papers

DISABILITY STUDIES
Enabling the Humanities
Sharon L. Snyder, Brenda Jo Brueggemann, and Rosemarie Garland-Thomson, eds.

"This collection—combining scholarship, moral seriousness, and wit—is an exemplary introduction to the politics and the pedagogy of disability studies."
—Arthur W. Frank, author of The Wounded Storyteller: Body, Illness, and Ethics

Images of disability pervade language and literature, yet disability remains an unspoken topic in today's culture. The twenty-five essays in Disability Studies provide perspectives on disabled people and on disability in the humanities, art, the media, medicine, psychology, the academy, and society.

Approaches to Teaching World Literature

Now at seventy-eight volumes, the MLA's popular Approaches to Teaching World Literature series addresses a broad range of literary texts.

Each volume surveys teaching aids and critical material and brings together essays that apply a variety of perspectives to the teaching of the text. In these essays, experienced teachers discuss approaches and methods of presentation that they have found effective in keeping classroom discussions lively.

Each volume is available in a cloth edition for $37.50 (MLA members $30.00) and in a paper edition for $18.00 (MLA members $14.40).
