Literature & Poetry

Weimar on the Pacific

German Exile Culture in Los Angeles and the Crisis of Modernism

EHRHARD BAHR

"[A] sophisticated introduction to the Los Angeles of the émigrés.... Bahr's reading of the central books of this world, by Bert Brecht, Thomas Mann, Alfred Döblin, his insights into Fritz Lang's films and Arnold Schoenberg's operas, make this a major contribution to American, German and world culture."

—Sander L. Gilman, author of Bertolt Brecht's Berlin

Weimar and Now, $39.95 cloth

Visuality and Identity

Sinophone Articulations across the Pacific

SHU-MEI SHIH

This groundbreaking work argues that the dispersal of the so-called Chinese peoples across the world needs to be reconceptualized in terms of vibrant or vanishing communities of Sinitic-language cultures rather than of ethnicity and nationality.

Asia Pacific Modern

$55.00 cloth, $21.95 paper

Selected Poems

Bilingual Edition

PAUL VERLAINE

Translated by C. F. MacIntyre

"MacIntyre has frequently come as close to achieving the impossible as any translator could hope to come.... The preface and notes afford the soundest and most suggestive brief critique of Verlaine's work that I know of in English."—Saturday Review

$16.95 paper

Selections

MIYAZAWA KENJI

Edited and with an Introduction by Hiroaki Sato

"The most thoughtful, comprehensive, and skillful anthology of Miyazawa's works ever made available in English."

—J. Thomas Rimer, coeditor of Traditional Japanese Arts and Culture

Poets for the Millennium, $50.00 cloth, $19.95 paper

The Collected Poems of Ted Berrigan

Alice Notley, with Anselm Berrigan and Edmund Berrigan, Editors; Introduction and Notes by Alice Notley

New in Paperback—"The Collected Poems of Ted Berrigan has indeed been edited with a care and mastery rarely seen these days. This book will be an essential piece of my collection.'"—Alex Lemon, *Bloomsbury Review

"It's a must-have, a poetic knockout."

—Eileen Myles, Time Out New York

"A major volume of 20th-century American poetry."

—Publishers Weekly,* starred review

THE OCCULT MIND
Magic in Theory and Practice
Christopher I. Lehrich

"I know of no books with which The Occult Mind can be compared; it speaks to semiotics, anthropology, history of religions, and history of science. It could easily gain the status of an occult masterpiece."
—Richard J. Parmentier, Brandeis University
$39.95 cloth

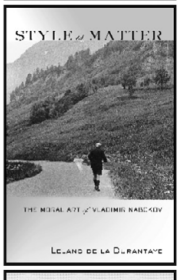

FRAME, GLASS, VERSE
The Technology of Poetic Invention in the English Renaissance
Rayna Kalas

"Kalas juggles a number of conceptual balls, each of which has double or multiple meanings in the period—most important, 'frame,' 'glass'/'mirror,' and 'perspective'—showing in each case how more is going on than meets the modern eye. It is a difficult task but one that leads to fascinating observations and breathtaking readings."
—Patricia Fumerton, UC Santa Barbara
$39.95 cloth

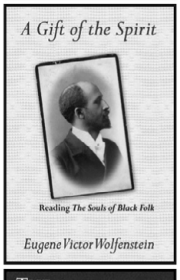

THE SELF IN MORAL SPACE
Life Narrative and the Good
David Parker

"This fine and powerful book establishes ethics as not only central but also necessary to our understanding of life writing."
—Paul John Eakin, editor of The Ethics of Life Writing
$35.00 cloth

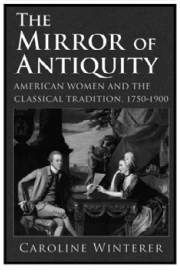

STYLE IS MATTER
The Moral Art of Vladimir Nabokov
Leland de la Durantaye

"de la Durantaye scrutinizes Nabokov's own often contradictory and flamboyant pronouncements on art, and combs the fiction both for theoretical claims and detailed examples of what Nabokov's literary ethic looks like when it's at work."
—Michael Wood, author of The Magician's Doubts
$39.95 cloth

A GIFT OF THE SPIRIT
Reading The Souls of Black Folk
Eugene Victor Wolfenstein

"Wolfenstein's detailed and subtle interpretation of The Souls of Black Folk is a major contribution to this new and welcome trend, and with great insight makes the case for the value of a sustained, psychoanalytic reading of Du Bois's great book."
—Robert Gooding-Williams, University of Chicago
$17.95 paper

THE MIRROR OF ANTIQUITY
American Women and the Classical Tradition, 1750–1900
Caroline Winterer

"Employing clothes, needlework, and furnishings, as well as documents, as her sources, Winterer unveils the compelling historical paradox of American women reaching back to the ancient world to stake their claim to a modern world."
—Catherine Allgor, UC Riverside
$35.00 cloth
