Society for the Promotion of Roman Studies

The Society is the leading organisation in the United Kingdom for those interested in the study of Rome and the Roman Empire. Its scope is wide, covering Roman history, archaeology, literature and art down to about A.D. 700. It has a broadly based membership, drawn from thirty-five countries and from all ages and walks of life.

The Society supports

- an extensive programme of publication:
- two annual publications—the Journal of Roman Studies, which contains articles and book reviews dealing with the Roman world in general, and Britannia, which has articles and reviews specifically on Roman Britain two monograph series—the JRS and Britannia monographs (see back pages)
- a library of over 110,000 volumes and 600 current periodicals, maintained jointly with the Hellenic Society and in conjunction with the University of London's Institute of Classical Studies. It has an international reputation as one of the world's foremost Classics lending libraries. It also houses a lending collection of over 6,700 slides
- summer schools, etc. by the annual award of grants
- archaeology, through grants for excavations, by organising a biennial conference and by providing bursaries to sixth-formers for archaeological fieldwork
- schools, by the award of grants to help the teaching of all aspects of the Roman world
- a programme of public lectures in London, lectures outside London arranged with local branches of the Classical Association, and other occasional events of general interest

Membership is open to all; no entrance fee or professional qualification is required. Members are entitled to:

- receive annually in print form either the JRS or Britannia or both. Online access is available for an extra fee of £5/US$10. Student members receive their journal(s) online.
- have access (for an extra fee) to JSTOR's electronic archive of the back volumes of both journals (see inside back cover)
- receive advance notice of forthcoming monographs at special offer prices
- use the library and borrow the Society's books and slides, either in person or by post, while living or resident in the UK
- attend the Society's lectures and other events, of which a programme is circulated in September
- purchase back issues of the journals (see back pages)

THE JOURNAL OF ROMAN STUDIES

Policy Statement

SCOPE: The Journal aims to publish papers in the full range of the field which the Roman Society was established to promote, that is 'the study of the history, archaeology, literature, and art of Italy and the Roman Empire, from the earliest times down to about A.D. 700'. Although the emphasis of the Journal has been on historical themes, we welcome submissions on literary, archaeological and art historical topics, including those on issues of cultural and intellectual history that cut across these categories. Papers primarily concerned with the archaeology of Roman Britain should be sent in the first place to Britannia; those concerned with the archaeology of the Roman Empire at large are equally welcomed by this Journal.

STYLE: The Journal seeks to publish papers that make a fresh and significant contribution to the understanding of the Roman world, and have the potential to stimulate further discussion. Though papers have in recent years tended to be lengthy, the Journal would like to publish more short articles which address issues of general importance. All papers should be carefully thought through and clearly argued; this does not necessarily involve a heavy use of footnotes, but does involve clear statement of the argument and of its broader significance, and adequate signposting to the reader of the steps in the argument. They should so far as possible be accessible to the non-specialist reader, and citations in ancient languages should always be translated.

EDITORIAL PROCEDURE: The Journal is run by an Editorial Committee: Professor A. R. Sharrock (Editor), Professor G. D. Woolf (Review Editor), Professor M. Beard, Professor E. G. Clark, Professor M. D. Goodman, Professor P. R. Hardie, Mr H. R. Hurst, Dr S. R. F. Price, Professor C. J. Smith and Professor L. M. Whitby. Submissions are circulated at the Editor's discretion to members of the Committee and, where appropriate, to other specialist readers. In order to ensure maximum impartiality, all submissions are circulated without indication of authorship; it is helpful if submissions do not carry the author's name, institutional affiliation or other indications of identity. The process of refereeing necessarily takes time, but authors may expect to receive a verdict within two or three months of submission. Detailed comments are normally sent only to authors of submissions which have been accepted, or which are thought suitable for resubmission. Authors are frequently invited to revise submissions in the light of such comments.

DEADLINES: The Journal is scheduled to appear in November each year. The optimum time for submission is between April and December of any given year for appearance in the following year's issue. Those intending to make submissions later than that are advised to contact the Editor in advance.

STYLE GUIDELINES: Detailed guidelines on matters of presentation are available from the Editor and on the Society's website http://www.romansociety.org, but recent issues of the Journal should be treated as a general guide.

DISCS: Submission of the final version on disc or by e-mail is welcomed, but a clean print-out must also be supplied. Discs in Word for Windows are preferred.

ELECTRONIC MATTERS: The Society has decided to make more use of electronic communication. The Society's website (http://www.romansociety.org) now gives the table of contents and abstracts of all articles in the Journal. Whenever possible, articles now include the email address of the author. The Society permits JSTOR (a system of electronic archiving) to put on its website back issues of the Journal; for information on access to JSTOR see inside back cover. The Society also makes available to members (for an extra charge) current issues of the Journal and Britannia in computer readable form.

Article submissions and all general enquiries should be addressed to the Editor, Professor A. R. Sharrock, Dept. of Classics and Ancient History, University of Manchester, Manchester M13 9PL, UK.

Correspondence relating to reviews should be addressed to the Review Editor, Professor G. D. Woolf, Library of the Hellenic and Roman Societies, Senate House, Malet Street, London WC1E 7HU, UK.

Books for review should be sent to the Librarian, Hellenic and Roman Societies, Senate House, Malet Street, London WC1E 7HU, UK.
