NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS

Jan Graffius graduated in Fine Arts from St Andrews University in 1982 and has worked in a variety of museums including the Glasgow Art Gallery, the Guildhall Art Gallery, the British Council Art Collection, The Geffrye Museum and the National Trust. She has written a number of exhibition catalogues, and worked on many exhibitions, curating the Held in Trust: 2008 Years of Sacred Culture exhibition for the Liverpool Capital of Culture Year in 2008. She is a co-Director of the St Omers Press and has produced a number of articles and publications through them. She has been Curator of Collections at Stonyhurst College since 2001 (Stonyhurst College, Stonyhurst, Clitheroe, Lancashire BB7 9PZ).

Fern Insh specializes in early-modern Scottish art and European print culture and is currently completing a doctorate on seventeenth-century visual culture in Scotland at the University of Aberdeen (School of Divinity, History and Philosophy, University of Aberdeen, Aberdeen AB24 3UB).

Dr. Tom McInally is an honorary research fellow at the Research Institute for Irish and Scottish Studies at the University of Aberdeen. His research interests lie in the Scots Colleges abroad and their alumni during the Penal times (Humanity Manse, 19 College Bounds, Aberdeen, AB24 3UG).

Shelagh Noden read music at Cambridge where she studied with Mary Berry, David Willcocks and John Rutter and was awarded the John Stewart of Rannoch Scholarship in sacred music. After a lengthy break to accommodate marriage and five children she is now a doctoral student and instrumental tutor in the University of Aberdeen (Department of Music, MacRobert Building, University of Aberdeen, AB24 5UA).

Dr. Mary Pryor is Senior Teaching Fellow in History of Art at the University of Aberdeen. Her publications, which focus on the politics of display of institutional art in Scotland, include contributing chapters in Andrew Mackillop and Micheal O' Siochru editors, Forging the State, European State Formation and the Anglo-Scottish Union of 1707 (Dundee University Press, 2009) and Iain Beavan, Peter Davidson and Jane Stevenson editors, The Library and Archive Collections of the University of Aberdeen: An Introduction and Description (Manchester University Press, 2011.) (History of Art, School of Divinity, History & Philosophy, University of Aberdeen , King's College, Aberdeen AB24 3UB).

https://doi.org/10.1017/S0034193200013613 Published online by Cambridge University Press

R. Scott Spurlock is Lecturer in Church History and Historical Theology at Queen's University Belfast and author of the forthcoming monograph Persecution and Perseverance: Lay Catholic Experience in Scotland, 1560–1694, Catholic Christendom, 1300–1700 (Ashgate, 2013) (Queen's University Belfast, Belfast, BT7 1NN, Northern Ireland, UK).

Darren Tierney is a PhD student at the University of the Highlands and Islands' Centre for History, whose primary research interest is modern Scottish Catholicism. He is a graduate of Glasgow Caledonian University (LLB) and the University of Glasgow (MLitt). His current research focuses on the Scottish Catholic Mission's financial development during the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries (UHI Centre for History, Burghfield House, Cnoc-an-Lobht, Dornoch, IV25 3HN).

https://doi.org/10.1017/S0034193200013613 Published online by Cambridge University Press