Language Files

Materials for an Introduction to Language and Linguistics

Ninth Edition

The Ohio State University Department of Linguistics

NEW FOR 9TH EDITION

* Re-introduction of acoustic phonetics and experimental phonetics in the Phonetics chapter, in response to public demand.
* Rewriting of the Syntax chapter to make the material more accessible to undergraduate students.
* Addition of a file on corpus linguistics in the Language and Computers chapter to give students a more comprehensive presentation on the subfield of computational linguistics, in which various kinds of corpora are widely used.
* Rewriting of the sections on logographic, syllabic, and alphabetic writing systems in the Writing Systems File to give students an up-to-date and more in-depth understanding of the writing systems.

The Department of Linguistics at The Ohio State University, founded in 1963, is world renowned for its programs in theoretical and experimental linguistics.

HEARING Gesture

How Our Hands Help Us Think

SUSAN GOLDIN-MEADOW

"Susan Goldin-Meadow is the world's leading researcher into the cognitive meaning of gesture, and a beautiful writer as well. In this fascinating book, she shows us how gesture helps us think, remember, and learn, whether or not we're communicating anything to anyone else. Everybody gestures—she has told us why…Hearing Gesture is a remarkable book, about a remarkable topic, by a remarkable researcher."

New From OXFORD

Auxiliation

An Enquiry into the Nature of Grammaticalization

TANIA KUTEVA

Bringing together the explanatory potential of recent grammaticalization theory, and insights from recent studies of the process of auxiliation and the psychology of language use, this book represents a valuable achievement in the investigation of grammatical language change, and linguistic communication in general.

2001 (paper April 2004)
paper $25.95 cloth $100.00

The Syntax of Anaphora

KEN SAFIR

In this work, Ken Safir argues for the predestination of anaphoric readings, contrary to most current thinking, and proposes that there are no parameters of anaphora—that all anaphora-specific principles are universal. This comprehensive consideration of anaphora redirects current thinking on the subject.

(Oxford Studies in Comparative Syntax)
April 2004 paper $49.95 cloth $74.00

Functional Features in Language and Space

Edited by LAURA CARLSON and EMILE VAN DER ZEE

This book studies how language and spatial representation are linked in the human brain, drawing on research in existing disciplines focusing on language, perception, categorization and development.

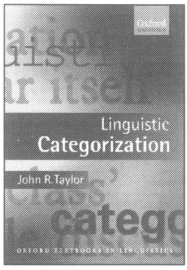

(Language and Space Series 2)
2004 paper $39.95 cloth $85.00

Epistemology of Language

Edited by ALEX BARBER

In this collection of sixteen previously unpublished essays, a distinguished international line-up of philosophers and linguists address a variety of interconnected themes concerning the answer to this question and our knowledge of language.

The Magic Prism

An Essay in the Philosophy of Language

HOWARD WETTSTEIN

The late 20th century saw great movement in the philosophy of language, and much discussion of its fathers, Gottlieb Frege and Bertrand Russell. Wettstein argues for the view that Wittgenstein laid the foundation for much of what is really revolutionary in this late 20th century movement.

April 2004 $45.00

The Unaccusativity Puzzle

Explorations of the Syntax-Lexicon Interface

Edited by ARTEMIS ALEXIADOU, ELENA ANAGNOSTOPOULOU, and MARTIN EVERAERT

The Unaccusative Hypothesis has provided a rich context for debating whether syntactic behavior is semantically or lexically determined, the consequence of syntactic context, or a combination of these factors. This book combines new approaches to a subject in which no consensus has been reached.

INFORMATION FOR CONTRIBUTORS

LANGUAGE, the journal of the Linguistic Society of America, carries technical articles dealing with problems of linguistic science, reviews of recently published linguistic works, and notes of interest to professional linguists.

MANUSCRIPTS for publication and exchange JOURNALS should be sent to the Editor of LANGUAGE (Brian D. Joseph, 202 Mount Hall, The Ohio State University, 1050 Carmack Road, Columbus, OH 43210; language@ling.ohio-state.edu). BOOKS for review should be sent to the Review Editor of LANGUAGE (Stanley Dubinsky, Linguistics Program, University of South Carolina, Columbia, SC 29208; dubinsky@sc.edu). Manuscripts of articles and reviews should be submitted in FOUR ANONYMOUS copies; they will not be returned. An anonymized pdf and/or Word version of the paper should also be sent, either as an e-mail attachment or on a diskette; such electronic submissions are NOT to be sent in place of hard copies, however. Authors should also send a brief (c. 250-word) abstract to language@ling.ohio-state.edu. Normally at least one author of any article or review article submitted to LANGUAGE must be a member of the Society.

Manuscript form. Authors of articles submitted to LANGUAGE are not required to follow the LANGUAGE style sheet in preparing their manuscripts for initial submission to LANGUAGE. There is no restriction on the format of manuscripts, although authors should make their submissions as reader-friendly as possible. Any manuscript, however, that has been accepted for publication as an article will have to be revised so as to conform strictly to the LANGUAGE style sheet. For the complete style sheet, see the December LSA Bulletin, the LANGUAGE web page at www.lsadc.org/language/, or write to the editors.

This policy does not apply to book reviews and book notices. These are all solicited by the Review Editor and they must adhere as closely as possible to the LANGUAGE style sheet on first submission.
