Teaching and Learning Conference Scheduled

The 2014 ASPA Teaching and Learning Conference will be held in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, February 7–9, 2014, at the Sheraton Society Hill. The 2014 APSA Teaching and Learning Program Committee is planning an exciting program, including a keynote speaker, preconference short course, workshops, and themed-working groups. A new paper track on online and distance education will be offered.

The 2014 theme is "Teaching Inclusively: Integrating Multiple Approaches into the Curriculum." The 2014 Call for Proposals opened in August 2013; proposals will be reviewed in October 2013. Conference registration also opens in October.

2014 TLC Program Committee includes Victor Asal, SUNY, University at Albany (Chair); Mark Johnson, Minnesota State Community and Technical College; Agnieszka Paczynska, George Mason University; Boris Ricks, California State University, Northridge; Cameron Thies, Arizona State University; and Sherri Wallace, University of Louisville (and Committee on Teaching and Learning).

For information, call for proposals and registration, please visit http://www.apsanet.org/teachingconference. ■

Council of European Studies 2014 Executive Committee Elections

In early 2014, the Council of European Studies (CES) will hold elections to replace three members of its governing executive committee and add an additional member. Thus, the Council of European Studies calls for nominations for candidates to fill these soon-to-be vacant posts.

Friends and members of the council are welcome to submit nominations, but only CES members in good standing will be allowed to vote in the elections next year. To nominate a candidate for the CES executive committee visit http://councilforeuropeanstudies.org/about/leadership-and-staff/ec-elections. ■

2014 IPSA World Congress of Political Science

Don't miss this great opportunity to present your work to peers, learn from others, and meet political scientists from around the world. The 2014 IPSA 23rd World Congress of Political Science takes place in Montreal, July 19–24. The website for this event Political Science is still paper proposals. Please visit the website http://ipsa.org/events/congress/montreal2014/theme for complete details on the congress and its main themes as well as important deadlines and submission guidelines. (The deadline for panel submissions was in July 2013, however the deadline for an abstract/paper proposal is October 7, 2013.) Visit www.ipsa.org/events/congress/montreal2014/. Travel grant applications will be accepted as of January 2014. Until then, participants should refrain from sending travel grant requests. Details will be posted in the coming months. For more information about the Congress, send an e-mail to montreal2014@ipsa.org. ■

https://doi.org/10.1017/S1049096513001534 Published online by Cambridge University Press
doi:10.1017/S1049096513001534
© American Political Science Association, 2013