DOI: 10.1111/lasr.12538

Law & Society REVIEW

CORRIGENDUM

In [1], the following error was published on page 1.

Funder Info

This project was supported by the Justice Collaboratory at the Yale Law School and the Macarthur Foundation (15–108,050-000-USP). The author would also like to thank Andrew Papachristos, Tracey Meares, Frederick Wherry, Joshua Page, Jooyoung Lee, Nicholas Occhiuto, and Tony Cheng for their generous insights and comments, as well as participants at workshops in the Yale Department of Sociology and the Deconstructing Ferguson Working Group.

The text was incorrect and should have read:

Funder Info

This project was supported by the Institution for Social and Policy Studies, the Justice Collaboratory at the Yale Law School, and the MacArthur Foundation (15–108,050-000-USP). The author would like to thank Andrew Papachristos, Tracey Meares, Joscha Legewie, Frederick Wherry, Joshua Page, Jooyoung Lee, Nicholas Occhiuto, Tony Cheng, Colleen Berryessa, participants at workshops in the Yale Department of Sociology, the Deconstructing Ferguson Working Group, and three anonymous reviewers for their generous insights and comments. My thanks as well to the officers of the EPD, WPD, and SPD, without whom this research would not have been possible.

We apologize for this error.

Reference

1. Sierra-Arévalo, Michael. 2021. American Policing and the Danger Imperative. Law & Society Review 55: 70-103.

 © 2021 Law and Society Association

https://doi.org/10.1111/lasr.12538 Published online by Cambridge University Press