THE SOCIETY FOR THE PROMOTION OF ROMAN STUDIES

With almost 2,000 members worldwide, the Society is the leading organisation in the United Kingdom for those interested in the study of Rome and the Roman Empire. Its scope is wide, covering Roman history, archaeology, literature and art down to about A.D. 700.

THE SOCIETY SUPPORTS

- an extensive programme of publication:
  - two annual publications — the Journal of Roman Studies, which contains articles and book reviews dealing with the Roman world in general, and Britannia, which has articles and reviews specifically on Roman Britain
  - two monograph series — the JRS and Britannia monographs
  - an e-Newsletter — Epistula, circulated twice a year, keeping members up to date with news of recent discoveries, research, exhibitions, conferences and publications.
- a library of over 152,000 volumes, including 700 current periodical titles, maintained jointly with the Hellenic Society and in conjunction with the University of London's Institute of Classical Studies. It has an international reputation as one of the world's foremost Classics lending libraries. It also houses a lending collection of over 6,700 slides
- a programme of public lectures and conferences, visits to sites and museums, and lectures arranged with local branches of the Classical Association
- schools, by the award of grants to help the teaching of all aspects of the Roman world
- university students, by the award of summer placement bursaries at museums and heritage organisations
- archaeology, through grants for excavations and bursaries to sixth-formers for archaeological fieldwork
- conferences, including the international biennial Roman Archaeology Conference
- a website, providing information about the Society, links to other useful sites, and hosting IMAGO, the Society's online image bank developed from the Library slide collection

Membership is open to all; no entrance fee or professional qualification is required.
Members are entitled to:

- receive annually in print form and via online access either the JRS or Britannia or both. Student members receive their journal(s) online only.
- receive (by email) the biannual e-Newsletter
- receive advance notice of forthcoming monographs at special offer prices
- use the library and borrow the Society's books and slides, either in person or by post, while living or resident in the UK
- attend the Society's lectures and other events, of which a programme is circulated in September

THE JOURNAL OF ROMAN STUDIES

POLICY STATEMENT

The Journal aims to publish papers in the full range of the field which the Roman Society was established to promote, namely 'the study of the history, archaeology, literature, and art of Italy and the Roman Empire, from the earliest times down to about A.D. 700'. Submissions on historical, literary, archaeological and art historical topics are welcome, including those on issues of cultural and intellectual history that cut across these categories (for example, sociolinguistics or reception). Papers primarily concerned with the archaeology of Roman Britain should be sent in the first place to Britannia; those concerned with the archaeology of the Roman Empire at large are equally welcomed by this Journal. The Journal is scheduled to appear in November each year.

SCOPE: The Journal aims to publish papers that make a fresh and significant contribution to the understanding of the Roman world, and have the potential to stimulate further discussion. Though papers have in recent years tended to be lengthy, the Journal is also keen to publish shorter papers so long as they address issues of general importance. All papers should be carefully thought through and clearly argued. It is important to recognise that this does not necessarily involve a heavy use of footnotes, but does involve clear statement of the argument and of its broader significance, and adequate signposting to the reader of the steps in the argument. The Journal will publish papers of over 15,000 words in length, including notes, only in exceptional circumstances; such papers should only be submitted after discussion with the Editor. Papers should so far as possible be accessible to non-specialists: that is, to a general academic readership, aside from any particular interest or expertise in the ancient world. Passages from ancient languages should always be translated (and, where relevant, the original text should also be quoted). The language of publication in the Journal is English. Please note that the Journal does not reprint material substantially published elsewhere (including online and/or in other languages, whether in original form or revised).

EDITORIAL PROCEDURE: The Journal is run by an Editorial Board (for membership see Society's website www.romansociety.org). Submissions are circulated at the Editor's discretion for double-blind peer review to members of the Board and, where appropriate, to other specialist readers. In order to ensure maximum impartiality, all submissions are therefore circulated without indication of authorship. The process of refereeing necessarily takes time, but authors may expect to receive a verdict within four to five months of submission. The Journal does not currently have a backlog of papers awaiting publication. Detailed comments are normally sent only to authors of submissions which have been accepted, or which are thought suitable for resubmission. Book reviews for the Journal are directly commissioned by the Review Editor.

SUBMISSION: Submission is by e-mail to the Editor. Documents should be submitted in Word (the addition of a PDF version is helpful). On occasion the Editor may request a hard copy and/or submission on a CD-ROM or USB flash drive if fonts or illustrations make this desirable. All intending contributors must read the detailed instructions on format and style available (along with this Policy Statement) at: http://www.romansociety.org/publications/contributions.html or via Cambridge Core.

ELECTRONIC MATTERS: The Society's website (www.romansociety.org) gives the table of contents and abstracts of all papers in the Journal. Recent issues of the Journal of Roman Studies and Britannia can be accessed online via CambridgeCore by subscribers at www.journals.cambridge.org. Once editing is complete, individual papers or reviews may be accessed by subscribers via FirstView in advance of the printed journal. Appearance on FirstView (with the issuing of a DoI) constitutes formal publication; only the page numeration will differ in the printed version. It is not possible to alter papers or reviews before the Journal is printed. The Society permits JSTOR (a system of electronic archiving) to put on its website back issues of the Journal (for more information see www.romansociety.org).

https://doi.org/10.1017/S0075435819000947 Published online by Cambridge University Press

OPEN ACCESS: The Journal has a Green Open Access policy. From vol. 110 (2020), the Journal will adopt a 'hybrid model', allowing authors to choose publication of the Version of Record as Gold Open Access on payment of an article processing charge or under a transformative read and publish agreement with its publisher, Cambridge University Press. Potential contributors may visit 'Open Access Publishing at Cambridge' (https://www.cambridge.org/core/services/open-access-policies) for information on open access policies, compliance with major funding bodies and guidelines on depositing their manuscript in an institutional repository.

COPYRIGHT: All authors retain copyright in their contributions, but are required to sign a form assigning the Roman Society an exclusive licence to publish, except in the case of Open Access articles which will be published under a non-exclusive licence. Authors selecting Gold Open Access publication will be able to choose an appropriate CC-BY licence. If a paper includes textual or illustrative material not in the author's copyright, permission must be obtained from the relevant copyright owner for the non-exclusive right to reproduce the material worldwide in all forms and media. The author is held responsible for paying any fees required as a condition for obtaining such permission. Authors should initially seek the permission of the publisher to reproduce copyrighted material that has been published. For unpublished material, authors should seek permission of the owners, whether individuals or institutions.

Submissions and all general enquiries should be addressed to the Editor, Professor Christopher Kelly (jrs@corpus.cam.ac.uk), Master's Lodge, Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, CB2 1RH, UK.

Correspondence relating to reviews should be addressed to the Review Editor, Dr Peter Thonemann (peter.thonemann@wadham.ox.ac.uk), Library of the Hellenic and Roman Societies, Senate House, Malet Street, London WC1E 7HU, UK.

Books for review should be sent to the Librarian, Hellenic and Roman Societies, Senate House, Malet Street, London WC1E 7HU, UK.

The Journal of Roman Studies is a member of COPE [Committee on Publication Ethics].
