"Nothing has really replaced Big Table Magazine for power and talent . . . Big Table took special and important risks." —LONDON TIMES LITERARY SUPPLEMENT

Big Table Books...

a new series that will continue along the road that Big Table Magazine took in 1959: the discovery and development of today's most exciting and potentially important poets, novelists and critics.

The Young American Poets

Edited by Paul Carroll
Introduction by James Dickey

An anthology of the freshest and most exciting of the American poets now in their 20's.

Over 300 poems by some 54 fresh, original poets, ranging from avantgarde Lower East Side to those, including a Blackfoot Indian, who work in more traditional styles. A full page photograph and biography of each poet is included. 400 pages.

"Such clearness and passion as theirs has not been heard in a long time, in our land and in our language . . . These young American poets are with and in human experience as poets have not been for a very long time." — James Dickey (Winner of the 1966 National Book Award; Consultant in Poetry, Library of Congress).

Heavy Paper $3.95
Deluxe Cloth $6.95

The Poem in Its Skin

By Paul Carroll

The first book of criticism to explore the important generation of American Poets now in their early 40's. Ten essays examine in depth one outstanding poem by each of these poets: John Ashbery, Robert Creeley, James Dickey, Isabella Gardner, Allen Ginsberg, John Logan, W. S. Merwin, Frank O'Hara, W. D. Snodgrass, James Wright. In the long concluding essay Carroll examines and attempts to define the achievements of the generation as a whole. Texts of each poem are included and a full page photograph of each poet. 300 pages.

THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA STUDIES IN THE GERMANIC LANGUAGES AND LITERATURES

J. W. Thomas. MEDIEVAL GERMAN LYRIC VERSE IN ENGLISH TRANSLATION. Pp. x, 252. Cloth $7.50.

This anthology contains representative selections from the verse of nuns, priests, goliards, Spielleute, middle-class singers, and noblemen from the 12th to the 15th century together with historical background, biographical sketches, and comments on individual poems. It is the largest such collection in English.

Wesley Thomas and Barbara Garvey Seagrave. THE SONGS OF THE MINNESINGER, PRINCE WIZLAW OF RÜGEN. With Modern Transcriptions of his Melodies and English Translations of his Verse. Pp. x, 158. Cloth $5.50.

The first work to treat Wizlaw in his three roles of composer, poet, and sovereign and to present his poetry in English. A biography, translations and music transcriptions of all his songs, and photographic reproductions of the manuscript.

STUDIES IN HISTORICAL LINGUISTICS. FESTSCHRIFT for George S. Lane. Eighteen Essays. Pp. xx, 241. Cloth $7.50.

Linguists everywhere will welcome this volume honoring Professor George S. Lane whose eight articles on aspects of Tocharian show him to be a supreme authority in his field. The essays by Cowgill, Eliason, Haas, Hahn, Hamp, Lehmann, Reitz, Robinson, Watkins, Widding range from Old Norse and Old English to Hittite and add to the value of the thesaurus.

Edwin H. Zeydel, Percy Matenko, and Bertha M. Masche, Editors. LETTERS TO AND FROM LUDWIG TIECK AND HIS CIRCLE. Unpublished Letters from the Period of German Romanticism including the unpublished Correspondence of Sophie and Ludwig Tieck. Pp. xxiv, 395. Cloth $10.00.

This monumental collection of 165 new letters was acquired or photostated in Europe before World War II. The letters supplement the unique collection of E. H. Zeydel, the late Robert Herndon Fife, and Percy Matenko of 1937. "Musterbeispiel sorgfältigster Editionsarbeit . . . Ereignis von allgemeiner geistesgeschichtlicher Wichtigkeit . . ." (D. Jost, Erasmus).

Perspectives on Fiction

Edited by JAMES L. CALDERWOOD and HAROLD E. TOLIVER, both of the University of California, Irvine

The twenty-four essays in this volume examine problems in the reading and analysis of fiction. Dealing primarily with modern works, the selections present discussions of the relation between form and content in fiction, the modes of romance and realism, and consider the problems presented by style, point of view, characterization, and plot in fiction.

A Companion to Chaucer Studies

Edited by BERYL ROWLAND, York University, Toronto

For the undergraduate, the graduate student, and the teacher, this unique volume presents valuable information on numerous aspects of Chaucerian study, providing accounts of the background against which Chaucer's works appeared and considerations of individual works and themes. The twenty-two essays, written especially for this collection by noted Chaucerian scholars, review and assess significant scholarship in the field and provide fresh interpretations. Each essay is followed by a selected bibliography.

Today's world has created a whole new language...

Follett has translated it into Italian!

The Follett/Zanichelli Italian Dictionary:

English-Italian, Italian-English

Over 250,000 entries—1,896 pages—$19.95

Today, jargon is no longer the exclusive language of a special activity or group. It has become part of our everyday speech, in some areas has become part of our thought patterns. No dictionary can afford to ignore it. And no Follett dictionary has.

For a complete Foreign Language Dictionary Catalog write to the Advertising Department: address any inquiry to the Follett Foreign Language Research Service.

"The ZANICHELLI is an extraordinary, rich, up-to-date, all-purpose dictionary."
—Joseph G. Fucilla, Ph.D.
Professor Emeritus of Romance Languages, Northwestern University

"Its long list of abbreviations and its up-to-date terms embracing all the arts and sciences are a real godsend to the modern student and translator."
—Maj. W. A. Rigal, Ph.B.
Author of A SHORT CUT TO THE ITALIAN LANGUAGE and professional translator. Former Director of Linguists for Military Intelligence.

"This is a true dictionary of 'modern use' for today's student of languages."
—Edoardo A. Lebano
Assistant Professor of Italian, University of Wisconsin

"The ZANICHELLI holds the lead as the most up-to-date Italian dictionary currently on the market."

DICTIONARY OF NAMES AND TITLES IN POE'S COLLECTED WORKS

By BURTON R. POLLIN

A unique contribution to the fast-growing body of Poe scholarship, this exhaustive dictionary — prepared in the Institute of Computer Research in the Humanities at New York University — presents a complete alphabetical listing of all names and titles cited by Poe throughout his poems, stories, and essays. Following careful analysis of James A. Harrison's definitive edition of The Complete Works of Edgar Allan Poe (1902), to which it is cross-indexed, this book was computer-produced in its final stages; as one of the first literary applications of this recently-developed technique, it sets an important precedent and establishes a high standard of accuracy in indexing.

Burton R. Pollin, Professor of English at the Bronx Community College of the City University of New York, is the distinguished authority on nineteenth-century European and American literature.

The Picaresque Novel

By Stuart Miller

Books have been written on single aspects of the picaresque novel and on separate picaresque novels — but this is the first forthright, systematic exploration of the picaresque as a "genre type," showing how a number of formal devices unite to produce a specific picaresque content and emotional response. The author demonstrates how the picaresque, possessing a pattern distinct from all other genres and with its special vision of a "certain essential and unending chaos," is neither a comic nor an immature form of the realistic novel. By crossing linguistic boundaries and subjecting to rigorous scrutiny a variety of masterpieces that form the basis of the picaresque tradition — such as Lazarillo de Tormes, Simplicissimus, and Roderick Random — the study reveals where Anglo-American criticism of the genre has gone astray and, more important, what path it might follow. 164 pages, $5.95

The Poetry of Emily Dickinson

By Ruth Miller

"THE POETRY OF EMILY DICKINSON presents an important new theory of Emily Dickinson's career and her methods of composition. It is based on a fresh interpretation of several of her major friendships and on a striking, new assessment of the significance of the packets (or 'fascicles') into which Emily Dickinson bound groups of her poems. The book is everywhere thoughtful and challenging, a brisk tonic to Emily Dickinson scholars and general readers." — RICHARD B. SEWALL, Yale University

Emily Dickinson did not retire from the world because of unattainable love. This tough-minded, completely original study explodes that myth and tells why Dickinson became a recluse. Ruth Miller has considered all of Emily Dickinson's poems, the letters she wrote, the writers she read, and the established facts of her life. She finds that the poems themselves give clear evidence of the real reasons for the poet's withdrawal.

Ruth Miller, poet and critic, is associate professor of English at the State University of New York, Stony Brook.

Tales of Ise

LYRICAL EPISODES FROM TENTH-CENTURY JAPAN

Translated and with an Introduction by Helen Craig McCullough. This anonymous classic is the oldest and most important representative of a Japanese genre known as uta monogatari, a traditional literary form that foreshadowed what was perhaps the most important literary phenomenon of the Heian period, the flowering of true prose literature. Tales of Ise consists of more than 200 poems, each provided with a fictional prose setting. The poems deal with all the chief topics of Japanese court poetry and include all or most of the surviving works of a major poet, Ariwara Narihira (825-880), one of the great figures of Japanese literature. studies in drama, second edition

Blaze O. Bonazza and Emil Roy

Here is an anthology of twelve major plays ranging from Sophocles' Antigone to Brecht's Mother Courage and Her Children. Each play is preceded by comments noting features peculiar to that play or playwright and followed by study questions. General introduction. The Instructor's Manual contains close-reading quizzes, paragraph-length answers to questions posed in the text, plot summaries, and essay-type examination questions, and a set of responsive questions and answers for class discussion and outside study assignments. Just published. 583 pages. $4.95 paper reading poetry, second edition

Fred B. Millett, Arthur W. Hoffman, and David R. Clark

This text aims to train young people in the intensive reading of literature. The approach is non-historical; the focus never swerves from the poem itself. Though the original organization of the book is basically unchanged, there are extensive additions, including a new anthology of some 200 English and American poems of all periods, with emphasis on the period from 1940-1965. Just published. 511 pages. $4.95 paper

a handbook of critical approaches to literature

Wilfred L. Guerin, Earle G. Labor, Lee Morgan, and John R. Willingham

"Not the least of its virtues is that it is well written, and certainly one of the most reasoned and clearly presented works of its kind that I have seen and have had the pleasure of reading. It seems quite sound and balanced in its treatment of the various approaches to literary analysis and appreciation."
Theodore C. Humphrey, University of Arkansas

This carefully organized handbook introduces the student to methods of literary criticism and demonstrates several critical-interpretive approaches by studying Adventures of Huckleberry Finn, Young Goodman Brown, To His Coy Mistress, and Hamlet. 231 pages. $3.50 paper

studies in fiction

Blaze O. Bonazza and Emil Roy

"Eminently usable; the selections are balanced nicely between the often and the rarely reprinted." College English

Here is a challenging range of stories by major American, British, and Continental authors. A general introduction clarifies various problems of plot, characterization, language, and theme and draws copious illustrations from the stories in the text. Each story is followed by a systematic group of questions. The Instructor's Manual, an important adjunct to the text, contains close-reading quizzes on the stories, plot summaries, paragraph-length answers to the questions at the end of each story, and both objective and theme-type exam questions. 384 pages. $4.95 paper

a book of stories, plays, and poems, second edition

Harold P. Simonson

"A breath of fresh air blowing over Omnibus-land."
College English (on the First Edition)

Containing ample material for introductory freshman and sophomore courses, yet selective enough to allow for intensive study, this anthology covers a wide range of styles, techniques, and themes. The stories sustain an existential emphasis (with a lighter note introduced by the inclusion of Thurber and Lowry); the poetry spans the period from Elizabethan England to modern times, with emphasis upon poetry of the last hundred years; and the plays "explore strange new worlds of mind and culture." Instructor's Manual. Supplementary questions for quizzes, writing assignments, and/or classroom discussion are available. Also questions on each story, play, and poem.

HANDBOOK OF CURRENT ENGLISH
Third Edition

By PORTER G. PERRIN
GEORGE H. SMITH
JIM W. CORDER, Texas Christian University

The first half of the Third Edition provides complete coverage of traditional handbook materials while the second half is both a brief rhetoric and a practical guide to writing tasks. Sections covering composition are substantially revised and place increased emphasis on pre-writing and the new rhetoric of sentences and paragraphs. Style is discussed not as a quality of the finished product but as a resource used to control the shape of writing and to make it relevant to the particular audience and situation. A new section called "Writing in college and out" relates the basic principles of effective composition in particular writing tasks. The new edition features the use of a second color for revision instructions, an improved grading chart, a marginal tab system for ease of reference and theme correction, and new examples and exercises throughout. 571 pages, $5.00

LIBERAL AND CONSERVATIVE
Issues for College Students

Edited by EUGENE K. GARBER
University of Iowa
JOHN M. CROSSETT, Grinnell College

This collection of expository and literary writings explores the ideological conflict between liberal and conservative thought. After examining the philosophical assumptions underlying the controversy, the book deals with manifestations of the conflict in religion, law, education, and politics. Literary representations of liberal and conservative imaginations complete the text. Pedagogical aids include headnotes and an afterword summarizing the issues of the book and suggesting significant relationships among selections. 344 pages, softbound, $3.50

AT LENGTH
Twenty Long Essays for Composition

Edited by CHARLES SANDERS
University of Illinois
ROBIN R. RICE, University of Illinois

A collection designed to introduce the student to the problems of composition as they appear in the long essay form and to provide him with models of the various rhetorical modes and techniques. Chronologically arranged, the essays cover the time from Plato to the present and deal with a variety of subjects. Editorial material consists of an introduction to each essay which deals in detail with its techniques and themes. A teacher's manual provides comprehensive, carefully articulated study questions. 512 pages, softbound, $3.75

A MODERN LEXICON OF LITERARY TERMS

By M. M. LIBERMAN, Grinnell College
EDWARD E. FOSTER, Grinnell College

Utilizing brief discursive essays, this book defines 120 terms which appear with commanding frequency in contemporary literary criticism. The text concentrates on terms not satisfactorily covered in readily available references and on those which have important technical and differentiable applications. Definitions too diffuse to be meaningful are avoided as are self-explanatory entries. 143 pages, softbound, $1.50

THE DISCOVERY OF DRAMA

By THOMAS E. SANDERS
Miami-Dade Junior College

An introduction to drama containing history, an explanation of the differences between reading and seeing a play, and chapters on a wide range of dramatic forms. Among the plays included are Orange Soufflé, Oedipus Rex, The Latent Heterosexual, Desire Under the Elms, Sodom and Gomorrah, and Camino Real. Editorial comments are inserted into the quoted material through the use of two different type faces. The text also includes material on writing a one-act play and writing a play review. 640 pages, softbound, $4.75

PATTERNS IN POETRY
An Introductory Anthology

Edited by HARRY M. BROWN
Midwestern University
JOHN MILSTEAD, Oklahoma State University

This book is designed to help the student who knows little about poetry develop usable techniques for analyzing poems. The editors demonstrate how to determine a poem's structural pattern and establish its first-level meaning and how to enrich the first reading with consideration of poetics, cultural contexts, and the approaches of formal criticism. The text is followed by a series of review analyses and exercises as well as by the anthology of poems chosen for teachability and covering a wide range of periods, themes, and forms. 448 pages, softbound, $3.50

THE ODYSSEY OF HOMER

Richmond Lattimore, Translator

"In this Odyssey Professor Lattimore has achieved his chef-d'œuvre as a translator. Studied in retrospect, much of his previous work takes on the appearance, technically speaking, of prolegomena to this dazzling and well-nigh flawless performance. . . .

"In the Odyssey he has found the ideal poem both for himself and for his audience; and he has come to it at the very height of his powers. . . . Here is a master in perfect control of his medium. The apparent ease with which he surmounts every problem, the perfect balance struck and maintained between vivid, fast-moving narrative and epic formality, the rhythmic subtleties, the freshness and vigour of language displayed from first page to last—all these make his Odyssey a landmark in the history of modern translation. . . .

"He has, in fact, come about as near as any man could to conveying, in English, the utterly alien movement and structure of Homer's poetry."

THE MLA INTERNATIONAL BIBLIOGRAPHY

is now the major annual listing of publications in English and the modern languages and literatures

Compiled from a master list of more than 1,300 periodicals, listing all the books, analyzing the Festschriften, it comprises more than 20,000 classified, cross-referenced, and indexed entries. In addition to appearing in the June issue of PMLA, the bibliography, only, durably bound and printed, is also being published for MLA by the New York University Press commencing with 1964 for 1963. The bibliographies for 1921 through 1962 have been reprinted separately by Kraus Reprint Corporation. Will you not see to it that your library orders several sets of the MLA bibliography—for the English and foreign language seminars, for the reserve and reference rooms?

Order 1963 and later annual volumes from New York University Press, 32 Washington Place, New York, N.Y. 10003 ($5 to members, $7.50 to libraries).

Outstanding volumes . . .

LITERATURE IN CRITICAL PERSPECTIVES: An Anthology

Edited by WALTER K. GORDON, Rutgers, Camden, New Jersey. A revolutionary anthology for the first course in English, this unique new volume embodies the following important features: 1) Literary works are no longer grouped primarily under generic labels—poetry, drama, fiction—but organized by major critical perspectives: social, formalist, psychological, archetypal. 2) Each perspective is introduced by the editor, its tenets discussed by a distinguished critic or innovator, its limits made real for the student by his own experience with plays, stories, poems. 3) Questions, in the temper of one of the critical perspectives, follow each selection. 4) All selections are whole units rather than excerpts. 5) Bibliographies are given of the key books and articles that formulate and illustrate each perspective. 6) A novella (paginated for casebook use) shows the range of various critical evaluations it has inspired. 7) An appendix on "what to say about literature" instructs the less-experienced student in questions propaedeutic to any critical school. 8) A separate instructor's manual includes, for each selection, a précis of several major critical articles or books from all critical perspectives, as well as additional questions for class discussion. (59 poems, 16 stories, 4 plays, a novella, and 19 critical essays) 795 pp., clothbound, $7.75

THE POEM: An Anthology

Edited by STANLEY B. GREENFIELD and A. KINGSLEY WEATHERHEAD, both of the University of Oregon. Over 250 poems, selected on the basis of teachability and arranged chronologically from Old and Middle English to contemporary British and American English. Full apparatus includes introductory essay demonstrating the critical process in action on three poems; an appendix of critical views on three other poems; and alternate tables of contents. A separate Suggestions for Instructors is available. 420 pp., paper, $3.95

DRAMA & DISCUSSION

Edited by STANLEY A. CLAYES, Loyola University (Chicago). Fourteen plays, arranged chronologically and thematically from the Greeks to the absurdists, with discussions of the plays by important critics. A separate Suggestions for Instructors is available. 651 pp., paper, $4.95

DRAMA: Principles & Plays

Edited by THEODORE W. HATLEN, University of California, Santa Barbara. An introduction to the nature of drama, its origins, forms, and characteristics, this text presents twelve plays, each of which is an important landmark in dramatic literature. 522 pp., illus., paper, $4.25

PRACTICAL RHETORIC

O. B. HARDISON, JR., The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Emphasizing the practice rather than the theory of effective writing, this handbook moves from rhetorical fundamentals to specialized techniques. 350 pp., paper, $3.25

CONTEXTS FOR COMPOSITION

Edited by STANLEY A. CLAYES and DAVID G. SPENCER, both of Loyola University (Chicago). Outstanding prose selections here exemplify the principles of rhetoric for the beginning student. 517 pp., paper, $3.95

TOWARD BETTER READING SKILL, Third Edition

Edited by RUSSELL COSPER and B. GLENN GRIFFIN, both of Purdue University. Widely and steadily accepted for more than a decade, this book is designed for college and adult readers whose reading ability is average or above average. The selections—economic, literary, philosophical, fictional, political, etc.—are complete, varied, substantial, and as a group, graded. Ten brief but pointed discussions on the reading process help formulate effective habits, and progress tests measure student improvement during the term. 297 pp., paper, $2.95

WORDS IN CONTEXT: A Vocabulary Builder, Second Edition

A. A. DEVITIS and J. R. WARNER, both of Purdue University. Highly successful in its first edition, this book presents college level vocabulary in the context of modern essays rather than word lists. Additional essays and several new diagnostic tests are contained in the second edition. 333 pp., paper, $2.95

AN INVITATION TO JOIN THE AMERICAN COUNCIL ON THE TEACHING OF FOREIGN LANGUAGES (ACTFL)

THE AMERICAN COUNCIL ON THE TEACHING of Foreign Languages was founded 1 September 1967 by action of the Executive Council of the Modern Language Association of America at its meeting of 14 October 1966. The purpose of ACTFL is to advance the teaching of all foreign languages at all levels of instruction in American education and to serve the interests of the foreign language teaching profession through its publications, Annual Meeting, standing committees, and secretariat.

INDIVIDUAL MEMBERSHIP in ACTFL is open to anyone interested in the teaching of foreign languages. Dues are $4.00 in the United States and $4.50 elsewhere. An institution or agency may subscribe to ACTFL publications for $8.00.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE ANNALS. All members of ACTFL receive Foreign Language Annals, a quarterly journal appearing in October, December, March, and May. In addition to professional articles, news, and research reports, the May issue of FLA includes an international bibliography on foreign language pedagogy. The bibliography covers: Linguistics, Physiology and the Psychology of Language Learning, Analysis and Teaching of the Cultural and Cross-Cultural Context, Teaching the Foreign Literature, Curricular Problems and Developments, Teacher Education and Preparation, Materials and Equipment, Methods, and Testing. A regular feature is a department devoted to ERIC (Educational Resources Information Center) which includes Selected Recent ERIC FL Accessions (with abstracts), and FL Projects in Progress.

Members and library subscribers begin receiving FLA with the issue appearing at least one month after date of application. Members and subscribers wishing to have a complete set of FLA can purchase back issues, beginning with Volume 1, No. 1 (October 1967) at $2.00 per number from: Materials Center, ACTFL, 62 Fifth Ave., New York, N. Y. 10011. (Specify month and year when ordering.)

ANNUAL MEETING. An Annual Meeting—the program is published in the December issue of FLA—includes sessions for FLES teachers, secondary teachers, junior college and four-year college teachers, editors of FL newsletters, foreign language supervisors, trainers of teachers, and teachers of linguistics, literature, and culture. The governing bodies of ACTFL and the standing committees also convene at the Annual Meeting. In clinics scheduled at the Meeting, specialists are available whom the classroom teacher may consult on individual professional matters, such as study abroad, testing, FLES, literature, language laboratories and other media, and English for Speakers of Other Languages.

ACTFL COMMITTEES. In addition to more than 60 members of the Bibliography Committee, over 60 more members of ACTFL are working in nine other areas of professional interest: Strengthening State FL Organizations, Study Abroad, Foreign Language in the Elementary School (FLES), Research, Professional Preparation, Teaching Literature and Culture, Bilingualism, Local Supervisory Services, and Foreign Languages for the Non-College Bound. Committee members work throughout the academic year and meet during the Annual Meeting. Additional committees are appointed as need and interest dictate.

INFORMATION SERVICES AND SECRETARIAT. Because it is supported and housed by the MLA, ACTFL has a great many resources at its disposal. For example, ACTFL members have direct access to a Materials Center which makes available, at cost, professional materials, pamphlets, reprinted articles, bibliographies, and original publications. Questions addressed to the Executive Secretary which can be more comprehensively answered by the MLA/ERIC Clearinghouse on the Teaching of FLs are quickly referred to the ERIC staff. ACTFL has direct access to the results of 15 years' work of the MLA FL Program and MLA Research Staff. ACTFL uses the MLA computer services to maintain membership and mailing rosters.

APPLYING FOR MEMBERSHIP. To join ACTFL, an individual must complete the membership form on the reverse of this page and send it with a check for $4.00 ($4.50 for foreign membership, $8.00 for an institution or agency) to: ACCOUNTING DEPARTMENT, American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages, 62 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York 10011.

MAKE CHECKS PAYABLE TO: ACTFL. Institutions or agencies wishing to subscribe to ACTFL publications should also complete the form by providing the appropriate information including its name on the "Last name" line of the form.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR COMPLETING MEMBERSHIP FORM (on reverse side)

1. The "date of application" should correspond to the date on your check or money order.
2. Under "educational level," you should check all boxes which are appropriate; for example, a local foreign language supervisor might check "K-6," "7-12," and "Administrative"; a junior high school teacher, "7-12"; and a FLES teacher (specialist or non-specialist) "K-6."
3. Under "Language" a high school teacher with three classes in French and two in Latin would show "1. French, 2. Latin." Teachers of English should indicate either "English, Mother Tongue" or "English to Speakers of Other Languages," abbreviated, respectively, as "EMT" and "ESOL."
4. Give only the address to which ACTFL mailings, including publications, should be sent. DO NOT GIVE THE NAME OF YOUR INSTITUTION UNLESS IT IS PART OF THE ADDRESS.

LOOKING FOR A BOOK PUBLISHER?

It is no secret that publication is regarded as the foundation stone of a scholar's career. In order to gain recognition, prestige, and advancement, the scholar must seek publication.

Here at Exposition Press, we offer scholars a complete publishing service, under our special academic imprint, "Exposition-University Books." Though the proportion of scholarly publications in the lists of the trade houses is shrinking, due to economic pressures, many of our recent titles in the academic fields have gained popular reviews, professional recognition and steady sales. These books are the result of a publishing plan that is bringing a steady flow of scholarly writers to Exposition Press. They reflect the high editorial standards and quality of design and production which have won the respect of libraries, schools, booksellers and critics. Ask for free catalogs.

FREE! The behind-the-scenes story of book publishing revealed in two fact-filled, illustrated brochures, containing a detailed description of our subsidy plan including a breakdown of contract terms and typical costs (in print for the first time). Copies are available on request. Your inquiries and manuscripts are invited. An editorial appraisal will be furnished promptly without obligation. References upon request.

BEYOND THE TRAGIC VISION

The Quest for Identity in the Nineteenth Century

by Morse Peckham, University of South Carolina

"An able examination of the paramount figures of the nineteenth century, not only in literature but in music, painting, philosophy, and science.... The author sees four stages in our forebears' effort to find a basis for human identity, since it could no longer be sought in the objective world: the period of analogy from man to nature, Romanticism; the period of Transcendentalism; the period sometimes called Realism or Naturalism; and the period of estheticism, at the end of which Nietzsche asserted that human identity exists, but has no grounds in nature or in the divine."—Saturday Review

"A revealing new way of looking at cultural history of the nineteenth century... The book ranges over all the arts and philosophy, touching on such people as Goethe, Kant, Byron, Wordsworth, Stendhal, Constable, Beethoven, Hegel, and many others down to Cézanne, Gauguin, and Debussy, in addition to Nietzsche."—Philological Quarterly

STEPHEN CRANE: A Biography

by R. W. Stallman, University of Connecticut

"This book may well serve as a model of literary scholarship."
—Richard Lehan, UCLA

"Stallman has certainly done the job, for there is not another book on Crane which touches his, either as biography or as criticism. It's the kind of mature study which Crane deserves, and has needed. It is a landmark in the study and appreciation of Stephen Crane."—Lewis Leary, University of North Carolina

"Stallman's magnum opus, done with that unique ebullience and easy freedom typical of his scholarship, is a major event in the study of Stephen Crane."

THE ETERNAL ADAM AND THE NEW WORLD GARDEN

by David W. Noble, University of Minnesota

"Consolidates the insights of modern criticism and provides an important overview of the development of the Adamic myth through the work of the major American novelists."—John W. Aldridge, University of Michigan in The New York Times Book Review

"Clearly demonstrates that American novelists have been far more perceptive about their culture than the historians....The eternal Adam is an international Adam who has sinned and fallen, not that totally innocent American Adam who, according to R. W. B. Lewis, lives on in the imagination of the American novelist."—Scott Donaldson, College of William and Mary

Literary Theory and Analysis . . .

TIMES FOUR: THE SHORT STORY edited by Donald S. Heines, Upsala College. An anthology of the works of six authors, this text serves to introduce the student to serious short story technique. Each author is recognized as a master in the field of short story as an art form and is represented through four works. A bibliography for each author is included, as well as a general bibliography of short story analysis and criticism.
January 1968, 416 pp., $3.95

FORMS OF POETRY by James L. Calderwood, and Harold E. Toliver, University of California at Irvine.
This anthology presents an introduction to poetry through various categories—epic, romance, satire, among others—with examples and introductory commentary to suggest the interaction of form and content. From Old English to the present, the text emphasizes forms of poetry and formal analysis, illustrating poetic traditions, and the historical influences upon them. 1967, 608 pp., $5.95

ARISTOTLE'S POETICS by O. B. Hardison, Jr., University of North Carolina and Leon Golden, University of Florida.
A new translation of Aristotle's Poetics by Professor Golden and a detailed chapter-by-chapter commentary by Professor Hardison, this book provides an accurate rendering of the original Greek into fluent English that will be meaningful and understandable to the student. Reference is made to most of the widely-accepted and recent interpretations of Aristotle. An index of key terms, an extensive bibliography and notes aid the reader in pursuing the problems raised by the Poetics. 1967, 192 pp., Paperbound $2.75, Cloth $5.95

The Little Magazine and Contemporary Literature

Edited by Reed Whittemore

Proceedings of a 2-day symposium sponsored by the Library of Congress in April 1965. Contains papers about and discussion of the present state of literary publishing, the future of literary publishing, and the teaching of contemporary literature. The papers, by William Phillips, Karl Shapiro, Reed Whittemore, Allen Tate, Wayne Booth, and Peter Caws, are penetrating and witty. The discussions are marked by widely divergent points of view and lively controversy. The result is a comprehensive if unsettling view of the contemporary literary scene on the campus.

For Introductory Courses . . .

THE UNITY OF LITERATURE

By Michael W. Alssid, Boston University and William Kenney, State College at Boston

This anthology of literary types focuses on the central idea indicated in the title: the unity of literature.

Each section has an introductory essay that, in addition to giving concise historical survey of the genre, relates it to other genres. The authors sharply define differences among literary types, also drawing upon recent critical insights to show the vital similarities underlying all forms.

Realizing that many introductory courses are writing courses, the authors have included two sets of questions after each section. One set emphasizes literary considerations; the other suggests topics for composition.

CONTENTS

- Twenty short stories—from Poe and Chekhov to Cheever and Updike.
- D. H. Lawrence's novel, Love Among the Haystacks.
- One hundred thirty poems—from the medieval Fowles in the Firth to the "confessional" school represented by Robert Lowell and Sylvia Plath.
- Five dramas—representing the best in comedy and tragedy from Sophocles' Oedipus Rex to William Alfred's Hogan's Goat.
- Twenty-five essays—ranging from Aristotle to a selection from Manchester's Death of a President.

Paperbound. 609 pp. $5.95

COMPOSITION OF THE ESSAY

By Simeon Hyde and William Brown

This book has a twofold purpose: to develop essay-writing ability and to instill an appreciation of well-written literary works.

The book teaches by example and by analysis. Selected essays by prominent British and American writers are accompanied by questions and comments designed to help the student understand the components of a well-written essay. Composition assignments follow each essay or selection.

193 pp. Hardbound $3.20 Paperbound $2.60

INTRODUCTORY READINGS IN LITERARY CRITICISM

By Joyce S. Steward, University of Wisconsin, and Eva M. Burkett, State College of Arkansas

This challenging English literature supplement is designed to introduce students to the basic techniques and philosophy of literary criticism, and to increase their ability to analyze and appreciate good literature.

Five major units cover background of literary criticism, definition of literary form, fiction (primarily the novel), drama, and poetry. All selections, except one by Aristotle, are by English-speaking authors, and most have been written since 1929. Each is preceded by a biographical sketch of the critic, which is expanded—along with the authors' comments—in a Teachers' Manual.

Paperbound. 344 pp. $2.88

Publications of interest to teachers of English available from the Materials Center, 62 Fifth Avenue, New York 10011

The MLA is a learned society, founded in 1883, devoted prinicipally to the advancement of literary and linguistic scholarship. It has come to play an important part in the formulation of educational policy and the improvement of methods and materials for teaching English and the modern foreign languages. MLA took the initiative in organizing the Basic Issues Conferences in 1958. Through its English Program, the MLA republished the syllabi and evaluations of the Commission on English Institutes in 1962 for the use of those planning NDEA English Institutes. It has undertaken studies of NDEA Institutes in the summer of 1965 and 1966. MLA has cooperated with the National Council of Teachers of English in distributing new curricular material to the NDEA English Institutes from 1965 through 1967, in developing guidelines for the preparation and certification of teachers of English for the schools in 1966-67, and in sponsoring the Anglo-American Conference on the Teaching and Learning of English held at Dartmouth in 1966 and the National Survey of Undergraduate English Programs. It has recently completed a study of the requirements for the Ph.D. in English and is currently engaged in a study of the preparation of teachers of English for the junior and community college.

In the following pages are listed reports, surveys, and pamphlets relating to these various activities in English, English as a foreign language, and English and American literature abroad available from the MLA Materials Center. This list includes items which we believe will be of interest to every college teacher. The National Council of Teachers of English has available an extensive list of reports and teaching aids of use to the elementary and high school English teacher.

MODERN LANGUAGE ASSOCIATION

62 Fifth Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10011

I hereby apply for membership in the Modern Language Association and enclose my check in the proper amount in payment of dues for the calendar year of 19..... Do not use this form to pay annual dues—please!

PLEASE TYPE OR PRINT IN BLOCK LETTERS

Name, as to appear in directory ..... Rank and Department .....

Institution .....

Address ..... Zip code .....

(Be sure to give Zip number; give street address only if needed.)

Home address if PMLA should be sent there ..... Zip code .....

I have ☐ have not ☐ been a member of the MLA before.

PLEASE READ CAREFULLY

Those joining in the first half of the year will be enrolled as members as of the preceding January 1 and will receive the back issues, if any, of the current volume of PMLA; those joining in the second half of the year will be enrolled as of the following January 1 and will receive the next volume of PMLA. But all persons are eligible to take part in the annual meeting of the year in which they apply for membership and will be sent the program of that meeting.

Checks and money orders should be made payable to the MODERN LANGUAGE ASSOCIATION and mailed with this form to the Membership Office of the Association at the address given above. For the schedule of annual dues, see the back of this form.

CHANGES OF ADDRESS, AFFILIATION, AND RANK

The MLA Treasurer's office urgently requests the cooperation of members so that it may cut down the number of misdirected copies of PMLA and may make the annual September directory a more accurate listing of the membership. At present, we receive a distressingly large number of communications in the late fall reporting new affiliations and addresses as of September. The results are that several hundred copies of the September issue are not delivered (and neither forwarded nor returned to us) and have to be replaced at considerable cost to the Association when we have finally received current addresses. Unless we have information about new affiliations and addresses by June 1, we cannot record them in the September directory or include the new addresses in the mailing list for the September issue.

We furthermore ask that members give ALL necessary information when writing to us about any change. If a member previously at the University of Texas sends a U. S. Post Office form giving a new address in Hanover, New Hampshire, we may guess that he has accepted an appointment at Dartmouth, but we cannot be certain and, in any case, do not know what academic position should be included in his directory listing. Each such case—and there are many—requires that we send a card asking for the additional information. Members reporting a change of name because of marriage should indicate whether the directory should list only married name, or maiden name plus married name in parentheses.

From now on, the form on the back of this announcement will appear in almost every issue of PMLA. If members will use it to inform us of changes, we will be able to serve with more efficiency and dispatch.

SCHEDULE OF DUES

Section I, 1, of the Bylaws, as amended by the action of the membership at the business meeting at New York, New York, December 27, 1964, reads:

"The annual dues shall be fifteen dollars except for the following special categories of membership:

a. Student membership at seven dollars, open for a maximum of four years to those who are engaged primarily in a course of study leading to a degree and who do not hold full-time teaching appointments.

b. Joint husband-and-wife membership at twenty-two dollars with only one subscription to PMLA.

c. Foreign membership at ten dollars, open to resident citizens of countries other than the United States and Canada.

With the exception stipulated in sub-section b, members in these three special categories shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges of membership."

Please check the classification under which you come and return this form with the proper remittance.

1. Regular membership ..... $15.00 ☐
2. Student membership (see below) ..... 7.00 ☐
3. Husband-and-wife membership (see below) ..... 22.00 ☐
4. Foreign membership (see below) ..... 10.00 ☐

Anyone enrolling as a student member is asked to obtain the signature of the chairman of the department in which he is enrolled, attesting to his status.

Standard Biographies of Hawthorne, Emerson, and Others Being Republished in Gale's

LIBRARY OF LIVES AND LETTERS

The Library of Lives and Letters is a new Gale series of reissued biographical works, now including twenty-four individual biographies of renowned men and women of letters — twelve American and twelve British.

The selection of titles is based on work by distinguished American and British bibliographers whose first consideration in evaluating a work is whether (even though out of print for many years) it is an important biographical source for students, historians, researchers, authors, and general readers. Other criteria include the need for material on the subject and the present-day appeal of the work under consideration. A descriptive illustrated brochure will be sent upon request.

AMERICAN LITERATURE
A WORLD VIEW

By Willis Wager

This is the first substantial one-volume history of American literature in many years, and the only such book that is up-to-date, reflecting not only current developments but also recent scholarly findings about earlier literature. Written in a personal, informal style, the book does not attempt to be encyclopedic, but it does include and discuss at some length every writer of importance. Willis Wager takes a world view, resulting from his unusually wide knowledge of European literature and his extensive travel, especially in the Middle East, and he concentrates on the literature rather than the social and political matters that have diverted other authors.

November 304 pages $2.45 paper/$8.00 cloth

ISAAC BASHEVIS SINGER AND THE ETERNAL PAST

By Irving Buchen

Isaac Bashevis Singer's work presents a paradox. He is at the same time a Yiddish writer and a modern writer, and his vision is both involved in and removed from either tradition. Aesthetically, too, he is hard to classify. Hailed by avant garde writers like Henry Miller, he stubbornly urges the recovery of the old-fashioned story teller's skill and pleads for an art free of symbology and commentary. Now Irving Buchen provides the necessary background and interpretation in this first book-length examination of Singer's work, which also includes biographical data never before published.

ANTHONY TROLLOPE
A CRITICAL STUDY

By A. O. J. Cockshut

Trollope, in his day, was regarded by highbrow critics as a popular writer, and it is curious that he should owe his reputation today as a great novelist to the Barchester novels—books written before he had reached the height of his powers. In this interesting reassessment, A. O. J. Cockshut illuminates Trollope's writing by tracing the development of his personality and shows that the Barchester novels are by no means his best or most important books—they were followed by such masterpieces as The Eustace Diamonds and Mr. Scarborough's Family.
