Analogy and Markedness

Principles of Change in Phonology and Morphology

Edited by Aditi Lahiri

2000. 23 x 15.5 cm. Approx. 368 pages.
Cloth. DM 178.– / approx. US$ 89.00
• ISBN 3-11-016750-6
(Trends in Linguistics. Studies and Monographs 127)

Ranging from tonogenesis, stress shift, and quantity readjustment of paradigmatic levelling, allomorphy, and grammaticalisation, this collection covers a wide spectrum of developments, primarily in Germanic, Romance, and Indo-Aryan. What is shared by the contributors is the view of individual changes as embedded in phonological and morphological systems.

Codeswitching Worldwide II

Edited by Rodolfo Jacobson

2000. 23 x 15.5 cm. XII, 308 pages.
Cloth. DM 198.– / approx. US$ 99.00
• ISBN 3-11-016768-9
(Trends in Linguistics. Studies and Monographs 126)

This is a collection of contributions by international scholars on the theoretical and pragmatic aspects of language mixture analysis. In the professional literature, language mixture is referred to as codeswitching and the eleven chapters of the volume reveal the most recent approaches to the field at its best.

Generative Theory and Corpus Studies

A Dialogue from 10 ICEHL

Edited by Ricardo Bermúdez-Otero, David Denison, Richard M. Hogg and C. B. McCully

2000. 23 x 15.5 cm. XIX, 559 pages.
Cloth. DM 198.– / approx. US$ 99.00
• ISBN 3-11-016687-9
(Topics in English Linguistics 31)

This volume focuses on the present state of English historical linguistics as a unitary discipline. In particular, the selection of papers challenges the idea that the community of linguists working on the history of English stands united merely by subject matter, but divided by method and theoretical outlook.

Cause - Condition - Contrast - Concession

Cognitive and Discourse Perspectives

Edited by Elizabeth Couper-Kuhlen and Bernd Kortmann

2000. 23 x 15.5 cm. VIII, 480 pages.
Cloth. DM 198.– / approx. US$ 99.00
• ISBN 3-11-016690-9
(Topics in English Linguistics 33)

In this collection of original and innovative papers, many authored by internationally known specialists, new light is thrown on the nature and the expression of the four probably most widely researched coherence relations.

Human Language and Our Reptilian Brain

The Subcortical Bases of Speech, Syntax, and Thought

PHILIP LIEBERMAN

Using data seldom considered by psycholinguists and neurolinguists, a prominent neuroscientist argues that human language—though more sophisticated than all other forms of animal communication—is not a qualitatively different ability from all forms of animal communication, it does not require a quantum evolutionary leap to be explained, and it is not unified in a single "language instinct." In a blow to human narcissism, Philip Lieberman makes the case that language is a by-product of our remote reptilian ancestors' abilities to dodge hazards, seize opportunities, and live to see another day.
