at the free disposal of the Association for the safe custody of such a library—a room which will, at all times, be open to the members of the Association who may wish to consult their books. The President and Committee trust, therefore, that this appeal may not be made in vain. They undertake that the reports thus sent shall be bound in their series of years, marked with the name of the Association, and carefully preserved with all other books and documents, which may from time to time be added by gift or otherwise to the library.

The receipt of any reports or books thus presented will be duly acknowledged in the Journal. Dr. Erlenmeyer, editor of the 'Archiv der Deutschen Gesellschaft für Psychiatrie,' offers a copy of a large work on 'Asylum Construction' which he has in the press for this proposed library, and there exists both in Germany and France a great willingness on the part of alienist physicians to bring their writings under the notice of their English brethren, so that the editor feels confident that this appeal would be liberally responded to from abroad.

1*st January*, 1863.

Note by the Treasurer.

The Treasurer particularly requests, with a view to his contemplated retirement in July, that all subscriptions in arrear be paid to him forthwith, in order that he may make up his final accounts. Post-Office Orders to be payable to William Ley.

Oxford County Asylum, Littlemore; 31st March, 1863.

https://doi.org/10.1192/bjp.9.45.152 Published online by Cambridge University Press