News and Notes

Dissertation Award Seeks Submissions

The Religion and Politics organized section is soliciting nominations for the Aaron Wildavsky Award for the best dissertation on religion and politics. Nomination can be self-submitted. The dissertation must have been completed during 2002–2004. In order to nominate a dissertation, please send a paper copy to each of the committee members listed below by February 1, 2004. Committee members: Ted Jelen, University of Nevada, Las Vegas, jelent@nevada.edu; Eldon Eisenach, University of Tulsa,Eldon-eisenach@utulsa.edu; Maurice Eisentein , Purdue University, Calumet, M_eisens@calumet.purdue.edu.

Journal of Politics Moves

The Journal of Politics has moved from the University of South Carolina to Michigan State University. For additional information contact William G. Jacoby. Editor, jacoby@msu.edu or http://journalofpolitics.org/.

California Recall Call for Papers

American Politics Research is soliciting articles on the historic 2003 California recall election for a special issue on the use of direct democracy in the American states. The APR is most interested in articles that evaluate theories, test hypotheses, and examine data about historical and institutional charecteristics and factors, as well as those that focus on mass and elite behavior and public opinion. The deadline for submission is July 1, 2004. Please see the submission guidelines at www.bsos.umd.edu/gvpt/apr/ and direct all questions and electronic submissions to Jim Gimpel, editor, at apr@gvpt.umd.edu.

Rockefeller Resident Fellowships

The Center for Ethnicities, Communities and Social Policy at Bryn Mawr College invites applications for two Rockefeller Resident Fellowships for the 2004–2005 academic year. The center's three-year research project is "Ethnic Identities and Transformations: The Meaning and Experience of Ethnicity in the 21st Centure." The Center's theme for 2004–2004 is "Cultural Production, Cultural Memory, and Ethnic Conflict." Candidates should be at least three years beyond their dissertation in the Social Sciences or the Humanities and should send a letter of application, a five to 10 page prospectus of their research project, a CV, and three letters of reference to: Karen Sulpizo, Administrative Assistant, Center for Ethnicities, Communities and Social Policy, Bryn Mawr College, 101 N. Merion Avenue, Bryn Mawr, PA 19010-2899, ksulpizi@brynmawr.edu/ethnicities. For further information visit: www.brynmawr.edu/ethnicities.

Indian Studies Fellowships

The American Institute of Indian Studies invites applications from scholars from all disciplines who wish to conduct research in India for up to one-year in length. Junior senior long-term and short-term, and Scholarly/Professional development fellowships are available to U.S. citizens and to citizens of other countries who are students or faculty members at U.S. colleges or universities. For applications and fellowship information please visit www.indiastudies.org or email aiis@uchicago.edu. Application deadline is July 1, 2004.

Have you logged onto APSANet Lately?

myAPSA
Try our new online system that provides members with access to a number of special online services, including membership information, online journals, searchable directories, and more.

PSonline
Looking for past issues of PS? No need to dig too deep. Now you can find full-text issues online going back to 1997. At the same time, be sure to check out our PS essay-paks, collections of articles with similar themes.

APSR* Online
Find full-text articles from the current APSR on the web. This feature is available to APSA members only.

Centennial Center
Learn about the new fellowship opportunies available with the launch of the new study center.

Visit often at www.apsanet.org.

https://doi.org/10.1017/S1049096504004007 Published online by Cambridge University Press