Unpublished primary sources

The following collections provided the primary materials for this study:

Lord Allen of Hurtwood papers, Thomas Cooper Library, University of South Carolina, Columbia, SC. Much vital correspondence and printed materials.

Norman Angell papers, Bracken Library, Ball State University, Muncie, IN.

Lord Cecil of Chelwood papers, Department of Manuscripts, British Library, London.

Lionel Curtis papers: (1) Bodleian Library, Oxford; (2) Royal Institute of International Affairs Archives, Chatham House, London.

Paul Emrys-Evans papers, Department of Manuscripts, British Library, London.

H.A.L. Fisher papers, Bodleian Library, Oxford.

Foreign Office papers, FO371, Public Record Office, Kew, London.

Walter Layton papers, Trinity College, Cambridge.

Basil Liddell Hart papers, Centre for Military Archives, King's College, London, University of London. A major source for the activities of the group.

Harold Macmillan papers, Bodleian Library, Oxford.

Gilbert Murray papers, Bodleian Library, Oxford.

Harold Nicolson diaries and papers, Balliol College, Oxford. Helpful in many ways, including correlating participants with some of their views on foreign policy.

A.L. Rowse papers, Exeter University Library, Exeter.

Royal Institute of International Affairs archives, Chatham House, London.

Lord Salter of Kidlington papers, in the possession of the author.

J.A. Spender papers, Department of Manuscripts, British Library, London.

Arnold J. Toynbee papers: (1) Bodleian Library, Oxford; (2) Royal Institute of International Affairs Archives, Chatham House, London.

The author's enquiries regarding the papers of other participants produced these results:

William George Adams: no information.
Lord Arnold: There survives 'a very small collection of papers relating to Arnold's political career'; Cameron Hazlehurst and Christine Woodland, A Guide to the Papers of British Cabinet Ministers (London, 1974), p. 5. It later proved impossible to determine the fate of these papers. See ibid., p. 29.
Will Arnold-Forster: 'I don't have any written source materials which might help you'; Mark Arnold-Forster [son] to the author, 23 June 1979.
Alfred Barratt Brown: 'I do not have any of my father's papers, which went either to Clifford Allen or to Geoffrey Crowther'; Michael Barratt Brown to the author, 19 July 1979.
Henry Vincent Hodson: 'My own pre-1939 papers were destroyed with most of my domestic possessions in a fire-bomb raid on London in 1941'; Hodson to the author, 2 August 1978.
Geoffrey Francis Hudson: no information.
Alfred Reginald Radcliffe-Brown: 'no papers of Radcliffe-Brown's have come to light'; R.G. Lienhardt [literary executor] to the author, 12 February 1982.
Guy Wint: no surviving papers; Freda Wint to the author, 13 February 1973.
E.L. Woodward: no information.
