Interviews from the Edge
50 Years of Conversations about Writing and Resistance
Edited by Mark Yakich and John Biguenet

Interviews from the Edge presents a selection of conversations, drawn from 50 years of the international journal New Orleans Review, that dive head-first into the most enduring aesthetic and social concerns of the last half century. Interviewees include John Ashbery, James Baldwin, Jorge Luis Borges, Ernest Gaines, Valerie Martin, Viet Thanh Nguyen, Anais Nin, Sister Helen Prejean, and Bertrand Tavernier, among many others.

The Wallace Effect
David Foster Wallace and the Contemporary Literary Imagination
Marshall Boswell

"One measure of literary accomplishment is the resistance and resentment that a writer provokes in other writers, and by that measure David Foster Wallace's accomplishment was undeniably major. It takes a scholar of Marshall Boswell's resourcefulness and perspicacity to show us exactly how this is so, as he does in this eye-opening book." – Brian McHale, The Ohio State University, and author of Postmodernist Fiction (1987)

Character as Form
Aaron Kunin

Most readers today think that characters are individuals. Poets of the Renaissance were working with an ancient understanding of character as type. They thought the job of a character was to collect every example of a kind. Character as Form celebrates the old meaning of character. Reading backwards, using a personal canon of poems, novels, comics, and performances in theater and film, this book tests the old meaning of character against modern examples. The heart of the book is the character of the misanthrope, who, in Shakespeare's phrase, "banishes the world."

NEW RESEARCH AND REFERENCE WORKS

David Mitchell's Post-Secular World
Buddhism, Belief and the Urgency of Compassion
Rose Harris-Birtill

"Rose Harris-Birtill persuasively argues that Mitchell's work—including libretti, short stories, and novels—maps a post-secular metaphysics and expresses a compassionate global ethics. In its comprehensive sweep and incisive arguments, this book sets a standard for Mitchell criticism to date and to come." – Paul A. Harris, Loyola Marymount University

Orbital Poetics
Literature, Theory, World
Philip Leonard

What do we mean when we talk of 'world' literature? What does a global, even a planetary view reveal to us about literature, culture and being? In Orbital Poetics, Philip Leonard explores conceptions of the world through the history of writing, theory and culture from an orbital perspective. The book explores contemporary electronic literature and pop culture texts such as Alfonso Cuarón's film Gravity and the memoirs of Buzz Aldrin as well as works by writers including Agamben, Derrida, Heidegger, Kant, Latour, Nancy, Plato, Stiegler, Haruki Murakami and Tom McCarthy.

The Bloomsbury Handbook of 21st-Century Feminist Theory
Edited by Robin Truth Goodman

The Bloomsbury Handbook of 21st-Century Feminist Theory is the most comprehensive available survey of the state of the art of contemporary feminist thought. With chapters written by world-leading scholars from a range of disciplines, the book explores the latest thinking on key topics in current feminist discourse, including: identity, difference, and intersectionality; affect, sex and the body; writing, reading, genre and critique; power, trauma and value; technology, migration and community.

An international program of study with leading figures in critical theory invites you to apply for its 2019 Summer Session, June 16 - July 25

IN NEW YORK STATE'S FINGER LAKES REGION

"The SCT combines a relentless schedule of events with a pervasive spirit of conviviality."
Martin Moraw, Brandeis University

"In this community of critics, away from the familiar ecology of one's home institution, one is offered new ways of seeing, new questions, new connections."
David Russell, Princeton University

"One of the most enriching intellectual experiences of my academic life."
Karine Côté-Boucher, York University

"Six weeks in Ithaca gave me many moments of hopefulness: I made extraordinary friends; I found space, seven years into a faculty position, to think and to argue without the pressure of writing or publication."
Andrew van der Vlies, Queen Mary, University of London

Hent de Vries, Director

Paulette Goddard Professor of the Humanities; Professor of Religious Studies, German, and Comparative Literature; Affiliated Professor of Philosophy, New York University

The Program
In an intensive six-week course of study, participants from around the world, across disciplines in the humanities and social sciences, explore recent developments in critical theory.

Tuition
The fee for the session is $3000. Applicants are eligible to compete for partial tuition scholarships and are urged to seek funding from their home institutions.

Admission
We welcome applications from faculty members and advanced graduate students at universities worldwide. Applications must be submitted online by February 1, and admissions decisions are announced in March.

The Seven Deadly Sins of Legal Writing

Theodore L. Blumberg

A most cogent guide to good legal writing. Blumberg emphasizes the importance of cultivating a clear and engaging prose style. He not only provides a typology of the profession's most common literary sins; he explores the motivations behind them. At once witty and exhilarating, The Seven Deadly Sins of Legal Writing will change the way lawyers and scholars do business.

Under pressure of disbarment this book should be read and understood by every lawyer, most of whom forget they, and the judges who read their miserable briefs, are human beings.

— Gerry Spence

A remarkable and concise roadmap to more effective, intelligible and persuasive legal writing. An invaluable desktop resource.

— Theodore B. Olson

Theodore L. Blumberg practices corporate and entertainment law in Manhattan. A graduate of Temple University School of Law, he is a frequent contributor to The New York Law Journal and a lecturer in the Fahringer seminars in legal writing.
