Law & Society Review Condensed Style Sheet

Type manuscripts double-spaced on one side of the paper only. While manuscripts need not conform to this style sheet at the time of submission, all manuscripts must include an abstract, footnotes, and a list of references, and all accepted manuscripts must be revised by the authors to conform to the Review's style. The rules listed below supplement the manuscript information on the inside front cover of the Review. Authors are urged to consult Review issues in volume 26 or later for further illustrations. A detailed style sheet is available from the Editorial Office.

1. Abstracts. All manuscripts should include an abstract of not more than 100 words. No abstracts are required for review essays or comments.
2. Footnotes. Footnotes should be numbered sequentially (except for the author's footnote) and printed on pages immediately following the text (not at the foot of the page). They should contain only substantive comments and additional references not immediately relevant to the text.
3. Tables and Figures. Tables should approximate the appearance of printed tables. Figures should be camera ready; provide originals, not xerographic copies. Tables and/or figures should be placed at the end of the text, after footnotes, appendixes, and references. Their location within the text should be indicated as follows:

   Table 1 about here

4. Citations. All notes that consist merely of supporting citations should be placed in parentheses in the text. For example:

   In a thoughtful essay, Hayden (1991) . . .

   OR

   Media stories often portray the civil jury as generous (Daniels & Martin 1986:236; Hans 1989: Huber 1988).

The same general rules apply to footnote text.

5. References. References are placed at the end of the manuscript following the footnotes. The list should contain only those sources actually cited in text or notes. Give authors' names as they appear in the original source. For more than one publication by the same author, list them in chronological order, with the older item first. For more than one publication in one year by the same author, use small (lower-case) letters to distinguish them (e.g., 1970a, 1970b).

   BOOKS: Last Name, First Name (year) Title of Book. City: Publisher.

   Example: Lerner, Melvin J. (1980) Belief in a Just World. New York: Plenum.

   CHAPTER IN EDITED VOLUME:

   Example: Glazer, Nathan (1979) "The Judiciary and Social Policy," in L. Theberge, ed., The Judiciary in a Democratic Society. Lexington, MA: Lexington Books.

   ARTICLES: Last Name, First Name (Year) "Title of Article," volume number Journal initial page of article. (Give month or issue number if each issue is separately paginated.)

   Examples: Padgett, John F. (1990) "Plea Bargaining in Prohibition," 24 Law & Society Rev. 413.

   Brill, Steven, & James Lyons ((1986) "The Not-So-Simple Crisis," American Lawyer 12 (May).

   UNPUBLISHED PAPERS:

   Example: Lofquist, William S. (1991) "The Development of Organizational Probation." Presented at American Society of Criminology annual meeting, San Francisco.

All cases cited in text are listed under "Cases Cited" following the References. All statutes cited are listed under "Statutes Cited." For style for cases and statutes, see A Uniform System of Citation.

GIGS

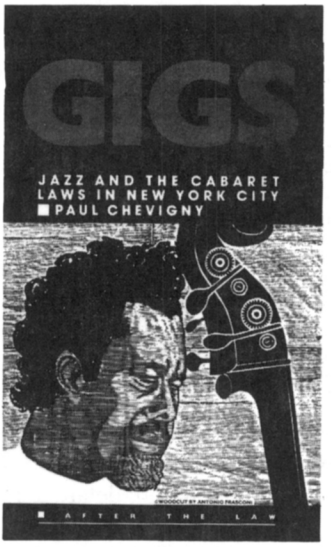

Jazz and the Cabaret Laws in New York City

Paul Chevigny

"A look at the tenuous relationship between New York's jazz musicians, the clubs that support them and the city's cabaret laws that since the 1920s worked to hamper live music, Gigs chronicles the city's effort to zone where jazz and other music could be played. Chevigny represented the musicians and their union in a case that led to the repeal of the cabaret laws, and his thorough notes form a surprisingly epic tale."

EXPLORATIONS IN LAW AND SOCIETY

Toward a Constitutive Theory of Law

Alan Hunt

By exploring an approach which takes the law as a distinct site of struggle, Alan Hunt seeks to transform the relationship between law and the other social sciences. Through his examination of the topical question of the politics of rights, he seeks to identify both the possibilities and the limits of the pursuit of rights-based politics.

VIRTUOUS CITIZENS, DISRUPTIVE SUBJECTS

Order and Complaint in a New England Court

Barbara Yngvesson

"Yngvesson shows, with unusual sensitivity . . . how the law itself may actually become, at once, an instrument of institutional authority and a vehicle of popular resistance."

—John Comaroff, University of Chicago

TRANSFORMATIONS

Recollective Imagination and Sexual Difference

Drucilla Cornell

Challenging traditional conceptions of the public-private divide, Drucilla Cornell links current issues such as sexual discrimination with the foundational questions of philosophy and psychoanalysis. She forcefully argues that we cannot even begin to understand racism and the connection between race and gender—much less politically resist racism—unless we begin to grapple with the role unconscious motivation plays in public life.

A FOURTH WAY?

Privatization, Property, and the Emergence of New Market Economies

Edited by Gregory S. Alexander and Grazyna Skapska

"[This] collection explores a middle ground between capitalism and socialism, developing a model of property that satisfies the desire for economic growth and public welfare at the same time."

—John Brigham, University of Massachusetts
