Murray's (Final) Musings

On behalf of JGL I would like to express my utmost gratitude to the scholars listed below who served as referees during my ten-year tenure as Editor and Chair of the Editorial Committee (JGL 16.4–26.4). The ongoing correspondence with our many referees was one of the most stimulating and rewarding parts of my editing experience. I never ceased to be impressed by the degree of professionalism I encountered. The production of a referee report is a time-consuming and demanding exercise which—as an essential scientific pillar of our discipline—entails great responsibility. As a wise person once said: "the anonymous peer review process might not be perfect but it's the best we've got."
