1953 to date, per annum $8.00
LANGUAGE, single numbers: 1925–1952, each $1.50
1953 to date, each $2.25

As Supplements to LANGUAGE, the Linguistic Society of America issues two series of occasional publications, LANGUAGE MONOGRAPHS and LANGUAGE DISSERTATIONS. These are included in the subscription price of the journal, but may also be purchased separately. A complete list of titles and prices may be secured from the Secretary of the Society.

LANGUAGE MONOGRAPHS

In this series the Society publishes independently subsidized studies too long to appear as articles or otherwise unsuitable for publication in the journal.

LANGUAGE DISSERTATIONS

In this series the Society publishes independently subsidized studies which have been accepted by American or foreign universities as doctoral dissertations, provided only that in the Editor's opinion they treat linguistic problems. The Society assumes no responsibility for the scholarly merit of these dissertations or for the validity of their conclusions.

The method of application for admission to either of these two series, and the terms of publication, may be secured from the Secretary of the Society

SPECIAL PUBLICATION

In addition to its regular publications (the journal LANGUAGE and the two series of Supplements named above) the Linguistic Society of America issues from time to time SPECIAL PUBLICATIONS in the field of linguistic science. These are not included in the subscription price of the journal, but may be purchased at a discount by members of the Society. Titles and prices are listed in full on the inside back cover.
