South Asia Across the Disciplines

Edited by MUZAFFAR ALAM, SHELDON POLLOCK, and GAURI VISWANATHAN

PUBLISHED JOINTLY BY THE UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA PRESS, THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO PRESS, AND COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY PRESS

South Asia Across the Disciplines is a series devoted to first books that raise innovative questions in the field. The series showcases new methods and archives while demonstrating that South Asian scholarship can be at once deep in expertise and broad in appeal.

Islam Translated

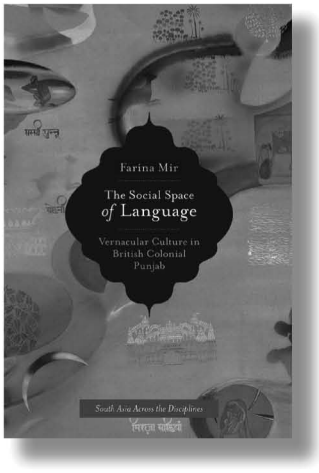

Literature, Conversion, and the Arabic Cosmopolis of South and Southeast Asia

RONIT RICCI

"This is a trail-blazing study. . . . Ricci's tantalizing close readings of particular versions of the Book of One Thousand Questions show an impressive knowledge and again and again open it up to new views."
—Hendrik Maier, University of California, Riverside

Cloth $45.00

The University of Chicago Press

The Social Space of Language

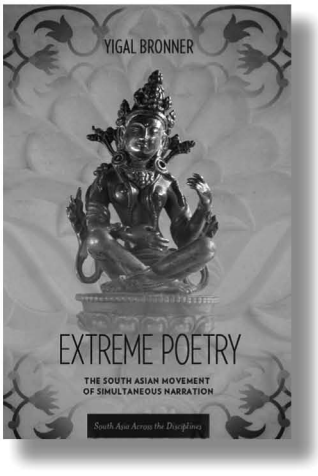

Vernacular Culture in British Colonial Punjab

FARINA MIR

"This is a pioneering study. Mir draws upon largely unfamiliar material and suggests new approaches to religio-cultural questions of great importance to South Asianists across a wide disciplinary spectrum."
—Christopher Shackle, SOAS, University of London

Cloth $39.95

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA PRESS
BERKELEY LOS ANGELES LONDON

Extreme Poetry

The South Asian Movement of Simultaneous Narration

YIGAL BRONNER

"Extreme Poetry opens up a new field, and new possibilities in existing fields. It treats a phenomenon in Sanskrit which everyone reading Indian literature has encountered but which no one has been able to make much sense of in intellectual terms."—C. Minkowski, University of Oxford

Cloth $50.00

Handbooks that work

Teachers don't always have the time they need to answer the writing questions of each student individually. That's why grammar and composition handbooks are such an important tool. With a Bedford/St. Martin's handbook, students can quickly find the information they need on their own whether they are editing their own writing or revising from a teacher's comments.

Critical Inquiry is an interdisciplinary journal devoted to publishing the best critical thought in the arts and humanities. Combining a commitment to rigorous scholarship with a vital concern for dialogue and debate on a wide variety of issues central to contemporary criticism and culture.

Since 1906, Classical Philology has been an internationally respected journal for the study of the life, languages, and thought of the ancient Greek and roman world.

Renaissance Quarterly is the leading American journal of Renaissance studies, encouraging connections between different scholarly approaches to bring together material spanning the period from 1300 to 1650 in Western history. Individual subscriptions are included with membership. Please email rsa@rsa.org for more information.

Signs is the leading international journal in women's studies, since 1975. It publishes pathbreaking content addressing gender, race, culture, class, nation, and sexuality.

A book series in German Studies from Cornell University —

signale
modern german letters, cultures, and thought

EDITED BY:

PETER UWE HOHENDAHL, CORNELL UNIVERSITY

a new publishing model for:

- the best new English-language book manuscripts in German Studies
- translations of important German-language works

Signale: Modern German Letters, Cultures, and Thought publishes new English-language books in literary studies, criticism, cultural studies, and intellectual history pertaining to the German-speaking world, as well as translations of important German-language works. Signale construes "modern" in the broadest terms: the series covers topics ranging from the early modern period to the present. Signale books are published under a joint imprint of Cornell University Press and Cornell University Library in electronic and print formats. Please see http://signale.cornell.edu/.

SUPPORTED BY A GRANT FROM THE ANDREW W. MELLON FOUNDATION

Hablantes y hablas en la novelística social centroamericana (1940-1970)

(Para una tipificación dialectológica del discurso literario regional)

Daniel Lévêque, Université Catholique de l'Ouest

Este doble estudio que muestra el minucioso traspaso a la escritura de una realidad y una oralidad locales va introducido por un análisis narrativo-discursivo; el Profesor Lévêque toma como hilo conductor tres "novelas ejemplares" procedentes de Honduras. Dicho análisis de las obras escogidas (con alusiones a textos correlativos de Guatemala y Costa Rica) revela una situación de dependencia económica y política de América Central a raíz de una explotación extranjera en sus sectores forestales, bananeros y mineros, y permite identificar quién habla en las creaciones literarias de esta índole.

En la segunda parte del estudio el linguista pasa a especificar cómo se percibe el habla en estas construcciones textuales, evidenciando los particularismos léxicos y demás dialectalismos que caracterizan la "estética" del modo discursivo regional. Para llegar a unas conclusiones lexicológicas fidedignas, escogió como instrumento de trabajo el Diccionario del español de Centroamérica de su propia autoría (Universidad de Valladolid, 2010). Con el propósito de caracterizar científicamente, de manera global y multidimensional a la vez, la expresión local de la lengua española, esta nueva óptica de trabajo lo conduce finalmente a considerar simultáneamente los seis enfoques lingüísticos siguientes: diatópico, diacrónico, semántico, tipológico, sociolingüístico y, para acabar, discursivo, rematando esta investigación dialectológica el cruce de los datos estadísticos anteriores.

La mujer en la ciencia: historia de una desigualdad

Begoña Crespo García, Inés Lareo Martín & Isabel Moskowich-Spiegel Fandiño (eds.)

Este volumen presenta, a través de un recorrido cronológico, el papel de la mujer en el ámbito científico, entendiendo por ciencia, conocimiento y saber en un sentido amplio. Las circunstancias socio-económicas y culturales de la vida de las mujeres científicas así como su desarrollo personal se han tenido en cuenta a la hora de explicar en qué aspectos reside su contribución a la historia de la ciencia desde la Edad Media hasta la actualidad. A pesar del merecido avance en los derechos de la mujer y el apoyo incondicional de algunos científicos, estudios recientes sobre igualdad de género señalan que aún queda mucho camino por recorrer en este sentido. Ha sido, precisamente, el escaso recono-cimiento de las aportaciones femeninas en un campo de trabajo en el que impera la cultura androcéntrica, lo que ha determinado de qué manera tiene que ser contada la historia. Por ello, Mujer y ciencia: historia de una desigualdad pretende ser un tributo a todas las mujeres que nos precedieron y abrieron las puertas para que nosotras podamos expresarnos con voz propia.

Contenido: Mujeres en profesiones médicas y su reputación en la Inglaterra medieval: el caso de Un mundo sin fin de Ken Follet (Cristina Mourón Figueroa) - Las prácticas de salud en el ámbito doméstico. Las recetas como textos des mujeres (Montserrat Cabré Pairet) - Sociedad, educación y ciencia en los siglos 18 y 19: científicas británicas y americanas en el Coruña Corpus (Inés Lareo Martín) - Por amor al conocimiento: entre la científica y la mujer (Begoña Crespo García) - Con faldas y en la ciencia: la igualdad en la enseñanza de las ciencias (Paloma Alcalá Cortijo) - La Informática y la Telecomunicación desde una perspectiva de género (Teresa E. Pérez, Evangelina Santos Aláez) - I*nstitucionalización e innovación epistémica: feminismo, género y ciencia* (Eulalia Pérez Sedeño) - El papel social del saber femenino: perspectivas de distintos mundos (Cristina Saucedo Baro).

A German Language Course on Historical and Linguistic Principles (2nd ed.)

Hermann Bluhme & Dmitri Milinski, Universiteit Antwerpen

The people of England and Germany share a common origin from the times of their settlement in Europe and they derive their culture and civilisation from the same sources in the antique and medieval world of Graeco-Roman learning. This course in basic German is built on these foundations; it is designed for speakers of English and others with a good grasp of the English language and draws particular attention to the vocabulary shared by both English and German.

When necessary for pedagogical reasons, the authors have neglected purely historical principles of linguistics, such as in the presentation of the strong verb, word order, tenses and particles; instead, these points of grammar have been enriched by modern discoveries in linguistics. The course is not structured for gradual progress, from easy to difficult; therefore you can cover the units in almost any order you prefer. The reader is advised to learn the smallest chapters as whole units including the numerous examples in order to reinforce the pattern of sound shifts between both languages, and it is left up to the learner where he wants to start after the chapter Basics. For the English translation of vocabulary frequent reference to the word lists at the end is recommended, but the use of a dictionary will prove to be helpful.

The second edition makes the structure more easily accessible for the reader. A few notes on the relation between both Germanic peoples have been added. Texts and examples have been revised. A short chapter on how to "read" a text has been added.

ISBN 978 3 86288 042 3. LINCOM Coursebooks in Linguistics 17 (2nd edition). 410pp. USD 74. 2011. Students' discounts avaiable. Please ask!

Mimesis and Science

Mimesis and Science brings together Vittorio Gallese (University of Parma), the neuroscientist who discovered "mirror neurons," and René Girard (Stanford), the MLA Lifetime Scholarly Achievement Award winner whose "mimetic theory" of human culture and behavior stresses the fundamental importance of imitation.

When people ask what the humanities have to offer at a time when empirical research is closing in on their traditional territory, this book gives answers.

Contributors include:

Jean-Pierre Dupuy (Stanford)
Andrew Meltzoff (U. of Washington)
Melvin Konner (Emory)
Jean-Michel Oughourlian (U. of Paris)

The Art of Riot

By Ronald Paulson

The Art of Riot makes an original contribution to our knowledge of riot in the English-speaking world of the past three centuries.

'Vintage Paulson: wide-ranging, erudite and full of provocative insight, The Art of Riot ranges magisterially from William Hogarth to Ralph Steadman and from Henry Fielding to Norman Mailer. Encompassing Britain, India, and North America, it combines literary and visual analysis of the highest quality with an enviable knowledge of their contexts'.

—John Brewer, Cal Tech

'The Art of Riot lives and breathes Ronald Paulson's capacious sense of history in action. Crowds, festivals, and riots flow together and apart in paradoxical patterns. Politics, high and low, frame Paulson's richly textured readings of art from Hogarth to Ensor and fiction from Fielding to Mailer. Riot in Paulson's hands becomes a profound aesthetic form.

—John Bender, Stanford U

THE SCHOOL OF CRITICISM & THEORY at Cornell University

An international program of study with leading figures in critical theory invites you to apply for its 2012 Summer Session, June 17 - July 27

IN NEW YORK STATE'S FINGER LAKES REGION

"One of the most enriching intellectual experiences of my academic life."
Karine Côté-Boucher, York University

"This summer odyssey transformed not only many ideas I previously had about theory and criticism, but also the very experience of being an academic."
Katarzyna Bojarska, Polish Academy of Sciences

"In this community of critics, away from the familiar ecology of one's home institution, one is offered new ways of seeing, new questions, new connections."
David Russell, Princeton University

"At SCT the exposure to learning is absolutely open and continuous."
Stefano Selenu, Brown University

"At SCT there is a spirit of lively, respectful exchange, serious commitment to critical dialogue, and actual interest in listening to others."
Lynda Paul, Yale University

"Our classroom was a rich mosaic of heterogeneous disciplinary backgrounds and interests."
Alicia Garcia, Johns Hopkins University

The Program
In an intense six-week course of study, participants from around the world, across disciplines in the humanities and social sciences, explore recent developments in critical theory.

Tuition
The fee for the session is $2700. Applicants are eligible to compete for partial tuition scholarships and are urged to seek funding from their home institutions.

Admission
We welcome applications from faculty members and advanced graduate students at universities worldwide. Applications must be submitted online by February 1, and admissions decisions are announced in March.

Dreams of a Totalitarian Utopia
Literary Modernism and Politics
Leon Surette
978-0-7735-3811-5 $59.95 cloth

"… an impressive work that brings together three major figures of modern literature. Its careful account of the political writings of Pound, Eliot, and Lewis contrasts with those in numerous works that attack their social and political positions without a thorough knowledge of their works or an understanding of the political climate before and after the world wars. It will be valuable to anyone interested in literary modernism or the social and cultural history of the twentieth century."
–Timothy Materer, University of Missouri

DEMARCATIONS

POETRY BY JEAN FOLLAIN / TRANSLATED BY KURT HEINZELMAN

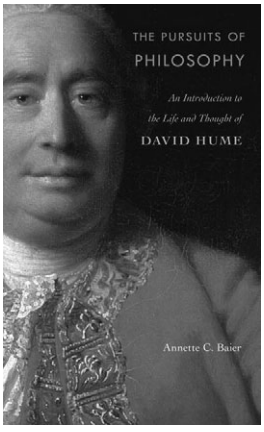

5$^{1/2}$" x 7" / 163 pages
978-0-924047-87-9 (hardcover) $30.00 / 978-0-924047-88-6 (softcover) $15.00

Published in 1953, Demarcations (Territoires) is a volume that comes in the middle of Jean Follain's career, at the height of his poetic powers. The present translation by Kurt Heinzelman, appearing here with the original French text, is the only volume of this critical period in Follain's career to be translated in its entirety. Demarcations is a book obsessed with the implications for history of post-war worlds, the ones that become newly "demarcated," whether out of victory or defeat. Although the collection was published in the wake of the Second World War, the lucid yet subtle poems in Demarcations often look back to the rural and largely unautomated world of Follain's turn-of-the-century childhood – a world forever destroyed by the century's brutal and homogenizing wars. French critics generally proclaim this to be Follain's most masterful collection, and in this stunning bilingual edition, English readers can now for the first time see why.

"The Dumbarton Oaks Medieval Library is a project of extraordinary intellectual and cultural value, splendidly edited and handsomely presented. I look forward to many happy hours re-reading the classics of the medieval and Byzantine tradition as they appear in this new series." —Harold Bloom

DUMBARTON OAKS
MEDIEVAL LIBRARY

The Dumbarton Oaks Medieval Library is a groundbreaking new facing-page translation series designed to make written achievements of medieval and Byzantine cultures available to both scholars and general readers in the English-speaking world. It will offer the classics of the medieval canon as well as lesser-known gems of literary and cultural value to a global audience through accessible modern translations based on the latest research by leading figures in the field.

THOMAS COOLEY

A fresh take on the modes, showing students that they are central to all the writing, speaking, and thinking that we do. Now in a Second Edition, with a new chapter on academic writing, annotated student writing in every chapter, and 34 great new readings.

"Wow. I'm excited about all of these readings—and I have to say this is the first time I've done a review where I literally couldn't put the material down. These are essays I'd be excited to teach—and to discuss with peers. Fabulous work!"
—DARREN DEFRAIN, Wichita State University

The Norton Reader

Thirteenth Edition

LINDA PETERSON, JOSEPH BIZUP, JOHN BRERETON, ANNE FERNALD, MELISSA GOLDTHWAITE

A book that has introduced millions of writing students to the essay as a genre, now with a new generation of editors, almost 50 new essays, and a unique new website that allows readers to sort and search for readings by theme, genre, mode, discipline, keyword, and more.

"We chose The Norton Reader for the breadth and excellence of its readings—and for the way those readings foster critical thinking and thoughtful writing."
—ALAN AINSWORTH, Houston Community College

The Little Seagull Handbook

RICHARD BULLOCK
FRANCINE WEINBERG

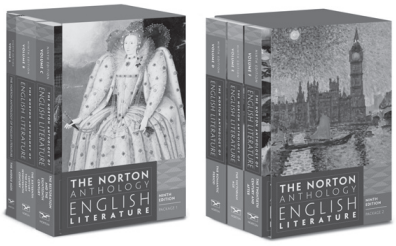

The new pocket-sized handbook that helps students with the specific kinds of writing they are most often assigned to do. Available as a spiral-bound book and in a digital format for use on iPhones and other handheld devices.

"This book is smart and useful—and it's well-designed. Students can easily find what they need."
—SUSANMARIE HARRINGTON, University of Vermont

Literary Studies at Indiana University Press/Journals

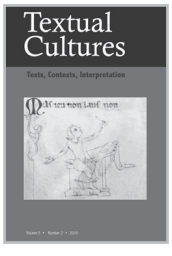

Research in African Literatures

Edited by Kwaku Larbi Korang

Research in African Literatures is the premier journal of African literary studies worldwide and provides a forum in English for research on the oral and written literatures of Africa. PUBLISHED QUARTERLY

SPECIAL ISSUE:
Research in African Literatures Volume 42.3
ASIAN AFRICAN LITERATURES
Special Guest Editor, Gaurav Desai

Citing the long history of the presence of peoples from the Indian sub-continent in Africa, this special issue brings together new essays by some of the leading scholars who have written on Asian African literatures in East and South Africa.

JML: Journal of Modern Literature

Edited by Paula Marantz Cohen, Rachel Blau DuPlessis, Jean-Michel Rabaté, Ellen Cronan Rose, Robert Caserio, and Daniel T. O'Hara jml remains the most important scholarly serial in the field and emphasizes scholarly studies of literature in all languages, as well as related arts and cultural artifacts, from 1900 to the present. PUBLISHED QUARTERLY

Meridians: feminism, race, transnationalism

Edited by Paula J. Giddings

Meridians provides a forum for the finest scholarship and creative work by and about women of color in U.S. and international contexts and recognizes that feminism, race, transnationalism, and women of color are contested terms and engages in a dialogue across ethnic and national boundaries. PUBLISHED SEMIANNUALLY

Textual Cultures: Texts, Contexts, Interpretation

Edited by H. Wayne Storey and Edward Burns

Textual Cultures is the official publication of the Society for Textual Scholarship and brings together essays by scholars from numerous disciplines and focuses on issues of textual editing, redefinitions of textuality, the history of the book, material culture, and the fusion of codicology with literary, musicological, and art historical interpretation and iconography. PUBLISHED SEMIANNUALLY

Prooftexts: A Journal of Jewish Literary History

Edited by Barbara Mann and Jeremy Dauber

Prooftexts provides a forum for the growing field of Jewish literary studies and brings together the study of modern Jewish literatures (in Hebrew, Yiddish, and European languages) with the literary study of the Jewish classical tradition as a whole. PUBLISHED TRIANNUALLY

Victorian Studies

Edited by Andrew H. Miller and Ivan Kreilkamp

Victorian Studies is devoted to the study of British culture of the Victorian age and regularly includes interdisciplinary articles on comparative literature, social and political history, and the histories of education, philosophy, fine arts, economics, law, and science. Victorian Studies is the official publication of the North American Victorian Studies Association (NAVSA). ANNOUNCING the PUBLICATION of...

NYU Press and NYU Abu Dhabi (NYUAD) announce the establishment of the Library of Arabic Literature (LAL), a new publishing series offering Arabic editions and English translations of the great works of classical Arabic literature. The translations, rendered in parallel-text format with Arabic and English on facing pages, will be undertaken by renowned scholars of Arabic literature and Islamic studies, and will include a full range of works, including poetry, poetics, fiction, religion, philosophy, law, science, history and historiography.

Unprecedented in its scope, LAL will produce authoritative and fiable editions of the Arabic and modern, lucid English translations, introducing the treasures of the Arabic literary heritage to scholars and students, as well as to a general audience of readers.

FlashPoints

"FlashPoints is a savvy, stylish, and timely intervention at a critical moment in literary and cultural studies. The series, an open invitation to intellectual boundary crossing, straddles the digital and print worlds and will attract unusually broad interest. After many lean years, this is one of the most promising new developments in the humanities."
—Stephen Greenblatt, Cogan University Professor of the Humanities, Harvard University

FlashPoints will publish books that consider literature beyond strictly national and disciplinary frameworks, distinguished both by their historical grounding and their theoretical and conceptual strength. The series will engage theory without losing touch with history, and work historically without falling into uncritical positivism. FlashPoints will aim for a broad audience within the humanities and the social sciences concerned with moments of cultural emergence and transformation. In a Benjaminian mode, FlashPoints is interested in how literature contributes to forming new constellations of culture and history, and in how such formations function critically and politically in the present.

Milton and Homer

"Written to Aftertimes"

Gregory Machacek

Explores the various ways in which Homer's epic poems influenced Milton in his own ambition to compose an enduring, canonical work of literature. Machacek's study of this major interpoetic relationship is methodologically responsive to the historicist critical enterprise dominant within literary study for the past three decades.

Language and Literature Journals from UW Press

Contemporary Literature publishes scholarly essays on contemporary writing in English, interviews with established and emerging authors, and reviews of recent critical books in the field. CL published the first articles on Thomas Pynchon and Susan Howe and the first interviews with Margaret Drabble and Don DeLillo and also helped to introduce Kazuo Ishiguro, Eavan Boland, and J.M. Coetzee to American readers. As a forum for discussing issues animating the range of contemporary literary studies, CL features the full diversity of critical practices. Published quarterly.

Luso-Brazilian Review publishes interdisciplinary scholarship on Portuguese, Brazilian, and Lusophone African cultures, with special emphasis on scholarly works in literature, history, and the social sciences. Occasional issues are devoted to a special topic. Published twice per year.

Founded in 1899, Monatshefte für deutschsprachige Literatur und Kultur is the oldest continuing journal of German studies in the U.S. It offers scholarly articles dealing with the literatures and cultures of German-speaking countries from both most advanced, and traditional theoretical and historical perspectives. Monatshefte is open to all scholarly approaches that help to improve our understanding of literature and culture. Each issue contains extensive book reviews of current scholarship in German Studies, and each Winter issue features Personalia, a listing of college and university German Department personnel from across the U.S. and Canada, and special surveys and articles dealing with professional concerns. Published quarterly.

SubStance has a long-standing reputation for publishing innovative work on literature and culture. While its main focus has been on French literature and continental theory, the journal is known for its openness to original thinking in all the discourses that interact with literature, including philosophy, natural and social sciences, and the arts. Published three times per year.

Notre Dame Institute for ADVANCED STUDY

Call for Fellows for 2012–2013

NDIAS supports research directed toward or extending inquiry on ultimate questions and questions of value. The institute encourages fellows to reflect on the broad questions that link multiple areas of inquiry and to explore the relationship between the descriptive and the normative in an engaging academic community of artists, professionals, scholars, and scientists.

Fellows are encouraged to include questions of value in their analyses, to examine how their findings might contribute to the advancement and implementation of ideas, and to think through the implications of present behavior for the future of the world.

NDIAS welcomes all who are distinguished and who have projects that are promising, as well as those beginning their careers and who have appropriate projects.

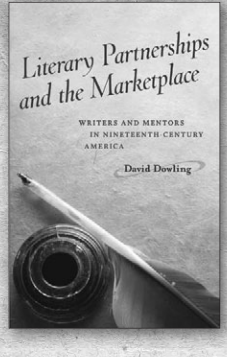

The deadline for applying is Nov. 1, 2011.
Awards will be announced by March 31, 2012.

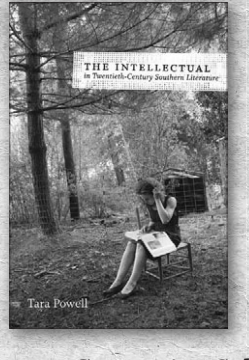

For further information on fellowships, please see ndias.nd.edu.

Direct questions to ndias@nd.edu or (574) 631-1305, or write to:
NDIAS, 1124 Flanner Hall, Notre Dame, IN 46556.

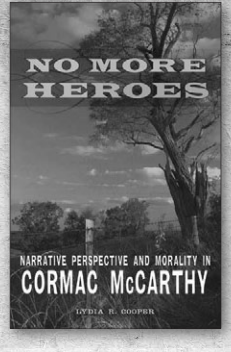

NDIAS Conceptions of Truth conference
Scheduled for April 12–14, 2012

Curious Visions of Modernity
Enchantment, Magic, and the Sacred

David L. Martin

"Spanning the early modern through the postmodern periods, Martin focuses on collections, images, and taxonomies as he traces the persistent presence of heterogeneity within systems of scientific knowledge, and their corresponding impact on the formations of discourses and subjects. In so doing, he examines where and how beliefs become stored in key cultural and discursive locations that potentially show us where modernity still keeps its magic."

Markus Krajewski

translated by Peter Krapp

"Krajewski draws on recent German media theory and on a rich array of European and American sources in this thought-provoking account of the index card as a tool of information management. In investigating the road from the slips of paper of the 16th century to the data processing of the 20th, Krajewski highlights its twists and turns—failures and unintended consequences, reinventions, and surprising transfers."

The Fifth Edition builds on the pioneering features of the previous four editions, expanding the strong core of frequently taught works while continuing to lead the way in responding to the shifting interests of the discipline. Fresh and up-to-date introductions and notes are written by an editorial team whose members are all actively engaged in teaching and in current scholarship, and more than 50 illustrations show both artistic and cultural developments from the medieval period to the present. New works include selections from William Wordsworth's The Excursion, Mary Wollstonecraft's The Wrongs of Woman, or Maria, and Lord Byron's Don Juan.

Modeling Interdisciplinary Inquiry:
A Postdoctoral Program in the Humanities and Social Sciences

Washington University announces the twelfth year of Modeling Interdisciplinary Inquiry, an Andrew W. Mellon Foundation Postdoctoral Fellowship Program designed to encourage interdisciplinary scholarship and teaching across the humanities and social sciences. We invite applications from recent Ph.D.s for the position as Fellow. In September 2012, the two selected Fellows will join the University's ongoing interdisciplinary programs and seminars. The Fellows will receive a two-year salaried appointment. Postdoctoral Fellows have an opportunity to plan and pursue their own continuing research in association with a senior faculty mentor at Washington University, and, over the course of their two-year appointment, to teach three undergraduate courses and to collaborate in an interdisciplinary theory and methods seminar.

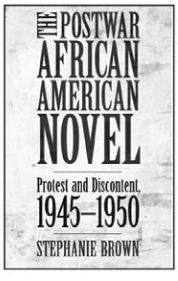

There is no application form, but further information on Modeling Interdisciplinary Inquiry is available on the web at http://www.artsci.wustl.edu/~jflowen/Mellon_Postdoctoral_Program.html. Applicants should submit a cover letter, a description of their research program (no more than three single-spaced pages), a brief proposal for the seminar in theory and methods, a curriculum vitae, and three letters of recommendation.

Submit materials by December 1, 2011, to
Joseph Loewenstein (jfloewen@wustl.edu), Interdisciplinary Project in the Humanities,
Washington University, Campus Box 1029, One Brookings Drive, St Louis MO 63130

Righteous Violence
Revolution, Slavery, and the American Renaissance
Larry J. Reynolds

"One of those rare and important books that will seem to its readers at once strikingly new and utterly central to the study of the American Renaissance."
—Richard Millington, Smith College

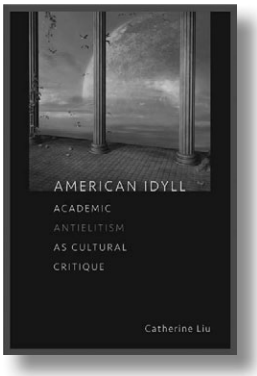

"Among the great virtues of this excellent book is its close attention to overlapping national, transAtlantic, and hemispheric contexts."
—Robert S. Levine, author of Dislocating Race and Nation

Examines the struggles with the violence of slavery and revolution in the work of Fuller, Emerson, Douglass, Thoreau, Alcott, Hawthorne, and Melville.

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY
GRADUATE SCHOOL OF ARTS & SCIENCE

NYU Madrid

A ONE-YEAR M.A. PROGRAM IN SPANISH AND LATIN AMERICAN LINGUISTIC, LITERARY AND CULTURAL STUDIES WITH A CONCENTRATION IN EITHER LITERARY AND CULTURAL STUDIES or APPLIED LINGUISTICS

Drawing on the resources of NYU, the city of Madrid, and professors from both Spanish universities and the NYU Department of Spanish and Portuguese in New York, the M.A. brings a profoundly transatlantic perspective to the study of the Spanish-speaking world. M.A. candidates study at NYU Madrid's center in El Viso, a residential area of Madrid very close to the center of the city, as well as at the historic Instituto Internacional. Day and weekend study-visits, guest lecturers, and a Graduate Research Symposium in April complete the academic program. On approval, students may also take courses at the Universidad Autónoma de Madrid.

NYU also offers an extensive undergraduate program for the academic year, fall, spring, or summer. Most courses are taught in Spanish, but English courses are also offered for students with limited or no knowledge of Spanish.

For further information, please see our website:
www.madrid.as.nyu.edu/page/ma

NYU Paris

M.A. PROGRAMS IN FRENCH LITERATURE, FRENCH LANGUAGE AND CIVILIZATION, AND TEACHING FRENCH AS A FOREIGN LANGUAGE

Drawing on the resources of NYU and the city of Paris, our M.A. programs are small, personalized, and of a very high degree of quality. All graduate courses are conducted in French. M.A. candidates study at the NYU Paris Center, located in two charming town houses in quiet garden settings in the 16th arrondissement, and in the Paris Universities.

For further information, please see our website:
