New from CPD eLearning

CPDeLearning

The online resource for mental health professionals

CPD eLearning (formerly CPD Online) is a resource provided by the Royal College of Psychiatrists for mental health professionals, housed on our new eLearning Hub.

CPD eLearning offers a range of learning modules and podcasts that provide a flexible, interactive way of keeping up to date with progress in mental health. During the pandemic, there will be no limit on eLearning that can be counted for CPD; it will be possible for ALL 50 CREDITS to be obtained in this way. Access to the modules is through annual subscription, but we also offer a series of free modules and podcasts for you to trial first.

For more information, visit CPD eLearning on the eLearning Hub: https://elearninghub.rcpsych.ac.uk

BJPsych Advances and CPD eLearning work together to produce regular joint commissions to enhance learning for mental health professionals.

Recent modules and podcasts

Podcast Autism and mental health

In this podcast the Royal College of Psychiatrist's Autism Champion, Dr Conor Davidson, explores the relationship between autism and mental health conditions. He does so in conversation with Dr James Cusack, Chief Executive of the UK's leading autism research and campaigning charity and autistic himself, and Dr Dheeraj Rai, Associate Professor and a consultant psychiatrist at Bristol's adult autism services. CPD credits: 0.5

Podcast Coping, resilience and surviving trauma

In this podcast Dr Raj Persaud talks to Dr Vajrin Malin about the immediate psychological impact of a sudden physical trauma, the importance of having goals and a sense of purpose when faced with challenges and how trainee doctors who may be struggling to cope with stress or trauma can be supported. CPD credits: 0.5

Module Behavioural activation in young people with low mood

COVID-19 created dramatic population behavioural change. With lockdown, families had to adjust to a new context, and were presenting with behaviours that were both adaptive and maladaptive. Behavioural activation (BA) is an important tool to help families notice and understand these behaviours, not only within the context of COVID-19, but also more generally. This module will cover the evidence base and the key parts of BA for depression. BA can structure and ground conversations between professionals and families, by helping young people and family members adjust goals and activities in order to negotiate the COVID-19 experience. CPD credits: 1

Podcast The role of artificial intelligence in drug discovery

In this podcast Dr Raj Persaud discusses artificial intelligence with Professor Peter Richardson, the Vice President of Pharmacology at BenevolentAI, and how it is being used to advance medicine. CPD credits: 0.5

Podcast Saving Freud

In this podcast Dr Raj Persaud talks to author Andrew Nagorski about his latest book Saving Freud: A Life in Vienna and an Escape to Freedom in London. They discuss Freud's life and career and the dramatic true story of his last-minute escape to London in 1938. CPD credits: 0.5

Podcast The Reluctant Carer

In this podcast, Dr Raj Persaud talks to the anonymous author of the book The Reluctant Carer: Dispatches from the Edge of Life and discusses their experiences when looking after their elderly parents. CPD credits: 0.5
