Index

Note: Page numbers in italics refer to figures; those followed by 'n' to footnotes.

abandoning categories, 182–184, 190
ABC (start-up), 108
Abernathy, W. J., 65
Access to Medicine Index, 197 accountability, 7, 56, 70–72, 79, 226, 229, 272 actors, new, 11–14, 74, 263, 278
  as concept, 45–49, 88
  and expectations, 16
  and Hiding Hand, 43
  research of, 280–281
  reshaping hype, 231
  types, 33, 148
Adam, B., 68–69, 73
adaptation of hype, 43, 103, 241, 262 adopters, technology, 19, 45, 62, 243 advancement, premature, 154–157 advocating for ventures, 123–124 affective aspects, 162–163
After Hype, about, 14, 16, 18–21, 23–26, 279 agnotology scholars, 73
AI (artificial intelligence), 50, 157, 275, 277
Akrich, M., 40
allocating processes, 171, 173, 184–185
Amazon, 13
ambivalence of hype, 248 analyst relations (AR) experts, 13–14, 16, 46 as advocates, 123–124
  benefits of, 269
  feedback from, 99–100
  as gatekeepers, 85
  introductions from, 122
  invisibility of, 280
  opposition from, 92–94
  pitching to, 119
  relationships with ventures, 98
  rivalries, 209, 264
  success of, 261
  'Sunshine' agency, 282
  truth from, 96
  valorisation from, 127
  vs. industry analysts, 264
  See also briefings, analysts; industry analysts Anholt's City Brands Index, 197
animal spirits, 136, 141, 145–149, 158, 163, 225, 227
anticipatory narratives
  benefits of, 163
  dynamics, 251, 265
  functions of, 76
  hype and, 9, 16, 36, 163, 251, 277
  and promises, 39
  retardation, 62
  ventures and, 56
Appadurai, A., 275
appellations, 79–80
apps, 183, 274
architectural innovations, 65 arenas of expectation, 31 arenas, promissory, 30
art, evaluation of, 112 artificial evolution, 162 artificial intelligence (AI), 50, 157, 275, 277 assessment contexts, 44, 260 ATMs (automated teller machines), 58 attention economy, 1–2 attention from analysts, 41, 116 audiences, 87–90, 102–106 automated teller machines (ATMs), 58

https://doi.org/10.1017/9781009644013.018 Published online by Cambridge University Press

backroom categories, 180, 184, 190 Bakker, S., 33, 35
balancing, HCC and, 145, 158
banking models, 58–59
Barnett, W. P., 139
Bazzani, G., 70
beautiful pictures (markets), 175 Beckert, Jens
  on affective aspects, 162
  animal spirits, 136
  capitalist dynamics, 9, 160
  categorisation, 171
  on competition, 267
  evaluative structures, 56
  fictional expectations, 70–71, 141, 245
  formatted futures, 245
  imagined futures, 49, 56, 195, 249 management of expectations, 260 uncertainties, 34, 43
bell curves, HCCs, 145
Belsunces, A., 269
Berkhout, F., 40
Beunza, D., 265
big data, 156, 277
Big Three industries, 168, 172
Birch, K., 48, 51, 251, 264 black boxes, replotting, 106, 216, 252 Blockchain technologies, 147
'blue-sky' research agendas, 256 blue book (Gartner), 284 Boltanski, L., 104
boom and bust, dotcom, 4, 5n, 6, 15, 56, 143, 228, 238, 242, 271–273, 283
Bourne, C., 144
Brandtner, C., 190
breakout strategies, 43, 213–216, 233 Brès, L., 138, 162
briefings, analyst
  briefings, 86, 91–96, 116–118
  feedback in, 99
  as first data points, 244 hurdles to, 116–118
  processes, 103
  promissory claims in, 231
  Second Most Important Pitch, 23
  start-ups, 86, 239
  story revisions, 100–102
  at 'Sunshine' AR agency, 90–91
  taming hype, 234–235
  terms, 46–47
  truth in, 96–98
  valorisation from, 126
  with vendors, 90–94, 261 bright shiny object syndrome, 146 Brown, N., 29, 34–35, 39, 41, 49, 52 bubble (dotcom) crash, 5, 11, 271, 283 bubbles, speculative, 36–37, 139, 224, 270–273, 277
Budde, B., 33, 35
Bunyan, John, The Pilgrim's Progress, 142 business of hype, 3, 74–80, 85, 184, 186, 190, 221, 279 business school rankings, 197

calculative aspects, 158, 162–163, 235, 256 calibration of hype, 274
capitalist dynamics, 8–9, 160
catalysts of hype, 33–34
categories, 77, 119, 125
  aligning with gatekeeprs, 119
  allocating processes, 173
  creation of, 212–213
  depicting processes, 174
  figuring, 174
  framing, 172–174
  graphical figurations, 189
  killing off, 182–184
  life span of, 190
  market actors, 148–149
  political ramifications, 190 rankings and, 218
  sea of hype, 133
  splitting, 177–178
  technologies, 168, 212
  visual processes, 171–172, 187
Category Studies, 168, 171–172, 184–185, 187–191 caution with hype, 18, 224 channels, hype, 217n Chapple, Duncan, 282 characteristics of hype, 41–45 Charles Babbage Institute, 284 circulation of hype, 226–227, 260–262
Clardy, A., 67
Clark, K. B., 65
client concerns, 170–172, 179–180

https://doi.org/10.1017/9781009644013.018 Published online by Cambridge University Press

client-induced categories, 184–185, 188–190 client mapping, 168, 179–185
Cloud AI Services, 157
Cochoy, F., 144
collective nature, hype, 139 commodification of future, 275 comparative studies, 197, 273–276 competences, 104
competition
  advantages, 219
  de-positioning of, 210–212
  reasons for, 218–219
  rivalry effects, 196–198, 207–210, 267–268
conceptual deflation, 46 concerns, client, 170–172, 179–180 conferences, 34
conformance, 195, 198–199 consciousness, practical, 70 constitutive elements, 49, 51, 81, 160, 163, 248 consumption, dynamics of, 10, 186, 260 conversation makers, 261
Cool Vendors, Gartner
  benefits of, 122
  calculative triaging and, 235 defined, 79, 114
  framing, 227
  launch of, 113, 239
  other frameworks, 80, 114 selection process, 124, 270 start-ups as, 246
coordination, hype and, 32
Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) market, 138 creation of hype, 33, 260 credibility, 204, 235, 249 critical moment, 104
CRM (customer relationship management), 38, 108, 113, 169, 179–180 cross-temporal perspectives, 256
CSR (Corporate Social Responsibility) market, 138 cultivating hype, 17, 229 Cultural Entrepreneurship, 9, 29, 56, 259 curves, HCC, 32, 145–147, 158 customer relationship management (CRM), 38, 108, 113, 169, 179–180 customer use cases, 243
cycles of influence, 216 cycling categories, 180–182, 185

D'Adderio, L., 138
Dalpiaz, E., 255
dampening mechanisms, 272–273 decision-making frameworks, 3, 11, 19, 64, 67, 230–232 decoupling, 217
deflation, conceptual, 46 delays in responses, 63 Delmestri, G., 171
democratising hype, 279
dependencies, scaling, 42
depicting processes, 174, 185
designations, 79–80
Desktop Productivity Applications, 183
determinate futures, 49 diagrammatic devices, 176–177
digital economy, 5, 109, 273 business of hype in, 74–80, 275 disruption in, 79
  entrepreneurship, 130
  evaluation processes, 57
  gatekeepers and, 54
  hype in, 58
  identities, 1–2
  innovation, 5
  material-social divide, 243 relationships in, 15
  solutions, 187
  state's role in, 275
  ventures, 110, 125
  visibility in, 35
digital traces, 252–253 digitalisation of tools, 165 directional, hype as, 32 disappointment, briefing process, 98, 145, 147, 224 disciplining standards, 169, 186 discontinuities in innovation, 66 discriminating processes, 171, 173–174, 184–185 discursive frames, 171, 189 disruptive innovations, 18, 34, 43, 51, 60, 66, 224, 236, 239

https://doi.org/10.1017/9781009644013.018 Published online by Cambridge University Press

distribution of hype, 34–35, 268, 278–279 domesticating evaluators, 17, 229 dominant innovations, 269 dotcom boom and bust, 4, 5n, 6, 15, 56, 143, 228, 238, 271, 283 dots, 149, 151–153, 156, 175 downstream decion-making, 52, 107, 256, 260 drawing in processes, 178, 185 dressing up stories, 101, 102n, 103 Droibik, Alexander, 143, 271 drug companies, competition, 197 duality of hype, 142, 248 Durand, R., 218
dynamics, anticipatory, 251, 265 dynamics, hype, 15

echo systems, 272
Economics, Economic Sociology, and Cultural Entrepreneurship, 29 Economics, Sociology, and Market Studies, 27 economy. See digital economy Edge AI, 157
EFSS (Externally Facing Social Software), 167
Eisenhardt, K. M., 127
elusiveness of hype, 252, 254, 280 emerging innovations, 66, 139, 238 emotive responses, 64–65, 136, 158, 225, 256 empirical approaches, 6, 8, 21, 25, 47, 252, 257, 259, 263 enactors, hype, 33, 241 endorsements, adopters, 243
Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP), 38, 167, 169, 172
Enterprise Technology Adoption (ETA), 240 enthusiasm, 162–163, 272, 278
entrainment, 237, 240–241
entrepreneurs
  briefings, 94–98
  digital, 130
  hyperbolic claims from, 139 idealistic statements from, 254 promise, 29
  storytelling, 86–87, 91–94, 102–105, 103
Ergen, T., 56
ERP (Enterprise Resource Planning), 38, 167, 169, 172
errors of commission, 140
Espeland, W. M., 81, 199
ETA (Enterprise Technology Adoption), 240 ethnographic research, 22, 250, 254, 258 evaluative perspectives, 241, 267, 271 of art, 112
  development of, 244, 265
  entrepreneurs, 105
  by gatekeepers, 125, 125, 129–130, 265 of hype, 11, 73–74
  longitudinal, 243
  new ventures, 115
  third-party, 266
  tools, 240
  vs. valuation, 112
evaluators, 229, 261, 268 everyday interactions, 260 evidence, and radical futures, 42 evidence, trajectory of, 236n, 236–237, 243–244, 272 exaggeration, 42–43, 47, 229, 234 excitement, 137, 139–140, 142, 157, 162–163 expectations, management of, 260 Expectations, Sociology of. See Sociology of Expectations expertise, race in, 263–264
Externally Facing Social Software (EFSS), 167 exuberance, 15, 36, 272
Eyal, G., 263

façades in storytelling, 103 Facebook, 167
fads and fashions, 37, 55, 139, 168 failure, risks of, 61–63, 269 fast movers, 79, 203, 233, 243
fear, 136, 141
fear of missing out (FOMO), 45, 136 feedback
  from gatekeepers, 99–100, 120–121, 127, 234 loops, 241
  from ventures, 115

https://doi.org/10.1017/9781009644013.018 Published online by Cambridge University Press

Fenn, Jackie, 77, 135, 142–143, 145 on caution, 147, 225
  on classifications, 148
  on dotcom crash, 271
  HCC, 223, 240
  Mastering the Hype Cycle, 284
  reframing of hype, 226
fictional expectations, 245–246
FiDaaS (Financial Identity as a Service), 2, 9, 17, 32, 261 Fifth Generation Computing programme, Japan, 277 figuring processes, 168, 174, 184 filtering technologies, 162, 236
Financial Identity as a Service (FiDaaS), 2, 9, 17, 32, 261 financial innovation spirals, 80 financial sector, 58, 276
Fine, G. A., 220
Fiss, P. C., 186
Floridi, L., 37
focus groups, 284
folk concept, 46, 48
FOMO (fear of missing out), 45, 136 formatted expectations, 246
Forrester, 172, 283
Forrester Wave, 80, 174–175, 177
Forrester's Top Emerging Trends to Watch, 165
Fortune-500 rankings, 241 fragility, 236
framing processes, 171–172, 184–185, 226, 271
Freeman, C., 65
frontroom categories, 180–182, 184 functions, anticipatory, 76 funding, benefits of, 41, 51, 275–277 Future Scanning, 76
Future Studies, 250–251 future technologies, 40 future-based concepts, 36 future-oriented claims, 249 futures
  commodification of, 275
  constructing, 36, 65, 68–73, 250, 275
  as determinate, 49
  formatting, 245
  into present, 49
  visions, 40
gaming, 196, 198, 217
Garfinkel, H., 266
Gartner
  archives (Charles Babbage Institute), 284
  briefings, 91, 117
  client retention, 143
  creating categories, 172
  CRM category, 108, 113, 169, 179–180
  and dotcom crash, 271
  ERP category, 167, 169, 172
  ETA, 240
  founder, 276
  interviews, 283
  Magic Quadrant, 78, 80–81, 138, 174–175, 180, 182, 199–201, 238, 246 and new ventures, 123
  pitches, 78, 119
  See also Cool Vendors; Hype Cycle Chart (HCC)
gatekeepers
  analysts as, 85, 108
  category creation, 168–170, 184, 189 digital ventures and, 113
  evaluation processes, 126, 129–130, 265
  expectations of, 117
  market influence, 188
  moderating hype, 83–84
  and promissory claims, 231 screening processes, 110–111, 116–119, 129
  splitting categories, 186
  types of, 249
  valorisation from, 120–124, 127
  and ventures, 108–110, 128, 264
Gatzweiler, Marian, 135
Gegenhuber, T., 89
Geiger, S., 9–10
genetic engineering,, 277 geographical breakouts, 213 geopolitical strategies, 277
Giorgi, S., 261
Glynn, M. A., 56, 88
Gond, J., 138, 162
good market, the, 175, 176
Google, 13, 91, 144, 253 government investment, 34, 50, 277, 279

https://doi.org/10.1017/9781009644013.018 Published online by Cambridge University Press

Granqvist, N., 55, 139–140
graphene research, 53
graphical figurations, 189
Greater Fool Theory, 36
Greenwood, R., 171
Gregory, J., 41
Grimes, M., 37, 54, 56, 72, 243, 257
Grodal, S., 55, 139–140, 191
Gross, N., 9–10
guidelines, as prerequisites, 236
Gulati, R., 129

Hacking, I., 17n
Hafezieh, Najmeh, 135
Hampel, C. E., 254
HCC. See Hype Cycle Chart (HCC), Gartner healthcare, 276
herd behaviour, 36, 140, 161 Hiding Hand, 42–43
hierarchy of credibility, 249
Hirschman, A. O., 43
historical methods, 258
Holmes, Elizabeth, 7
hope, regime of, 56
Horizon Scanning, 76
hot markets, 9, 34
Hot Vendors, 80, 114
Hsu, G., 170
Hype Cycle Chart (HCC), Gartner, 77, 135, 137, 142–145, 160
  animal spirits, 145–147, 146
  calculative triaging, 235 and complex trajectories, 175
  dotcom crash, 271
  emerging technologies, 238
  entrainment and, 223
  as folk concept, 48
  influence of, 160–162, 260, 272
  media articles, 284
  misjudgements, 155–156
  negotiating dots, 151–153
  positioning technologies on, 242 purification, 141
  short-term adaptations, 262 speculative cycles, 247, 272
  taming of, 223–228
  transformative technologies, 153
Hype Cycle Chart (HCC), Gartner, 143
hype cycles, 31, 37, 47–49, 136, 161, 163–164, 225n, 226
Hype Studies, 21–23, 247, 249, 251
  Big Three industry analysts, 168
  briefings, 107
  Category Studies, 168
  comparative work, 273–276
  cycles, 270–273
  digital economy, 274
  disciplinary affinities, 250–251 economic coordination, 262
  enthusiasm, 256, 272
  foundation of, 8, 29
  hype tools, 160–161, 165–166
  importance of, 27
  inequalities, 268–270
  institutionalisation of hype, 262
  IS, 167
  lack of, 6
  market categorisation, 170–172
  methodology of, 251–252, 257–259
  new actors, 280–281
  promissory products, 273
  ranking strategies, 220
  reflexivity, 265
  responsible hype, 277
  rivalry, 268
  serendipity, 254
  taming hype, 233
  valorisation, 131
  Valuation Studies, 112
  vendor–gatekeeper models, 264
hype tools, 77, 162–163, 165–166, 265, 272, 275
  See also Hype Cycle Chart (HCC) hype, decision-making in, 230–232 hype, defined, 1, 5n, 6–7, 20–21, 193 hype, falling prey to, 149–151, 158 hyper-hype, 1
Hyysalo, S., 41

IDC, 81, 172, 174–175, 283 identities, digital, 1–2, 130
IIAR (Institute of Industry Analyst Relations), 22, 281–282, 284 imaginaries, sociotechnical, 31, 40–41, 69–70, 195, 245, 279 impartiality of industry analysts, 150–151 improving hype, 17

https://doi.org/10.1017/9781009644013.018 Published online by Cambridge University Press

incalculability and hype, 140 incremental changes, 34, 65
industrial strategy, 277 industry analyst firms, 75
industry analysts, 11–12, 57, 76
  affect and calculation, 163 broad trends, 133
  expertise of, 263
  feedback from, 115, 120–121
  as gatekeepers, 108, 111
  hype management, 164–165
  hype tools, 160–162, 164–165
  impartiality, 150–151
  invisibility of, 280
  as key players, 16
  killing off categories, 182–184
  market categorisation, 172–178
  negotiating dots, 151–153
  and promissory cycles, 162 and purification, 157–160
  and rankings, 202
  rankings tools, 203–206, 261
  and rivalries, 207, 208
  vendor briefings, 261
  vs. AR experts, 264
  See also analyst relations (AR) experts; briefings, analysts industry associations, 275–276 industry narratives, 266 industry reports, 253 inflated claims, 238, 241, 271 influencer marketing, 203 influencing tools, 203–206 Information Systems (IS), 29, 38, 167, 187 initial investor pitches, 104
innovation
  acceleration in, 41
  creating, 10, 33
  dilemmas, 55, 61
  directionality of, 278
  disruptive, 18, 34, 43, 51, 60, 66, 224, 236, 239
  early-stage, 72
  entrepreneurs and, 50
  exaggeration, 42
  expectations, 236
  governance in, 230
  hyperbolic claims, 139
  lifecycles, 52–54
  promises, 39
  stages of, 51
  timing in, 59–61
  transformative, 278
  triggers, 142
  uncertainty in, 34, 64–67
  used apple policy, 61–63
Innovators, 80
Institute of Industry Analyst Relations (IIAR), 22, 281–282, 284
institutionalisation of hype, 164, 230, 246, 262, 273–274, 276
interessement of hype, 41–42
Internet boom and bust, 4, 5n, 6, 15, 56, 143, 228, 238, 242, 271–273, 283 interstitial spaces, 254 interviews, semi-structured, 283 investment decisions on, 148, 149
  evidence-led, 42
  in form, 246
  initiatives, 34
  pitches, 91, 128
  premature, 146, 158
  schedules, 275
  timing of, 63
  Trigger mid-point, 148
investment in forms, 245n invisible work research, 164 irrationality and hype, 140
IS (Information Systems), 38, 167, 187

Japan, Fifth Generation Computing programme, 277
Japp, K. P., 73
Jasanoff, S., 41
Joly, P. B., 31, 39, 45, 55, 66, 69
Juvo (fintech), 1–3, 8–10, 15, 32, 51, 58–60

Kahl, S. J., 191
Karpik, L., 126
Kennedy, M. T., 186
Keynes, J. M., 64, 136, 141
Khaire, M., 187
killing off categories, 182–185
killing-off rankings, 210–212
Kim, R., 170, 188, 190
Knight, F. H., 64, 67–68
Knightian uncertainty, 42, 44, 67

https://doi.org/10.1017/9781009644013.018 Published online by Cambridge University Press

knowledge, theory of, 3, 67, 70
Kondratiev Waves, 142
Konrad, K., 10, 15, 33–34, 53
Kornberger, M., 220
Kruse, C., 236n, 244

large language models (LLMs), 253 Latour, B., 17n, 137, 141, 158, 230, 252 leap-frogging rivals, 216 left-hand curves (animal spirits), 146, 158 legitimacy of hype, 32
Levitt, Theodore, 61–62, 224 liability of newness (start-ups), 109 life span of categories, 190 lifecycles, innovation, 52–54 linguistic category turnover, 171 linguistic frames, 189
LinkedIn, 167
LLMs (large language models), 253
lobbying, 199
Logue, D., 37, 54, 56, 72, 243, 257 long-horizon innovations, 274 longitudinal research, 253–258 long-term shifts, 260
Lounsbury, M., 56, 88, 169, 186

machine learning, 1
MacKenzie, K. D., 138, 161, 241, 269 macro-level transformations, 260 Magic Quadrant, Gartner, 80, 138, 174–175, 180, 182, 199–201, 238, 246 managed channels, 14, 227 management fashions, 37
management of hype, 16, 164–165, 216, 217n, 242–245 mapping influence, 266
Markard, J., 31
market categories, 167, 169–174, 177–178 Market Disruptors, 80
market of expectations, 275 Market Studies, 160, 258 market trajectories, 137–141, 160–162 markets, owning, 212–213, 216
MarketScape, 81, 174–175
Martin, R., 56, 230, 250, 259
Martins, L. L., 198 material political economy, 269 material proof, 243–244
MBA rankings, 197
McKinsey's Tech Trends, 165
media coverage, 253, 284
Media Studies, Philosophy, Science and Technology Studies (STS), 27
Mehrpouya, A., 197
Merton, Robert, 80
meta-level hype, 32
micro-level interactions, 260–261
Millo, Y., 138
Min, J., 254
misjudgements in technologies, 154, 156–157 missteps, addressing, 153–157, 160 mobile phones, 1, 154
mobilisation of hype, 41–42 momentum, anticipatory, 16
Moore's Law, 225n
mortgage crisis study, 241 multi-scalar perspectives, 259–261
Musselin, C., 171
Mützel, 74, 275

Naderer, S., 89
nanotechnology, 51, 277 narrative accelerators, 29 narratives, anticipatory, 277 narratives, promissory. See promissory narratives navigating hype, 17–20, 229
negotiating dots, 149, 151–153
nexuses, 254
Nobel Prize (2010), graphene research, 53
Nordmann, A., 277
nuclear fusion, 274

O'Connor, E., 83, 89
observations, participant, 281–283 omission, errors of, 63
OMT (Organisation and Management Theory), 9
'on' and 'off' seasons, 205 online banking, 59
Operating Systems, 183
operationalisation, 10
optimism, 36, 43, 64, 155
Organisation and Management Theory (OMT), 9, 27, 29, 258 organisational strategies, 27, 215

https://doi.org/10.1017/9781009644013.018 Published online by Cambridge University Press

organisational technologies, digital tools, 5 organisations, and rivalries, 198–199, 201, 206–215, 276 organising visions, 38, 258 ormatted futures, 245
overhyped innovation, 50, 278
overloading clients, 180

Palavicino, C. A. A., 10, 15, 32–33, 47, 52–53
Paolella, L., 218 participant observations, 281–283 partnerships, strategic, 92
Patvardhan, S., 162
Peak of Inflated Expectations, 142 perennial favourites, 154, 158, 162 performativity of hype, 49–52, 138, 257 pessimism, 64. See also optimism
Peterson, R., 139
Petkova, A., 128
pharmaceutical industry, 276
pitches
  as core cultural competence, 128
  gatekeepers, 118–119
  initial investors, 104
  investors, 91
  Second Most Important Pitch, 85–86
  types of, 128
  valoristion, 127
pivoting in storytelling, 103 Plateau of Productivity, 142, 226 pluralism, promissory products, 241–242 political ramifications, categories, 190
Pollock, Neil, 129, 138, 169
Polsky, Steve, 1, 1n, 8
Pontikes, E. G., 139, 170, 190, 218
Powers, D., 274
practice-oriented perspectives, 250
Preda, A., 17n
predictions, hyped, 64
premature advancement, 156–157 premature investment, 158 pricing bubbles, 36
prioritising technologies, 162 private-sector engagement, 279 privilege, hype and, 269 probing client bases, 179, 185 production of hype, 10
productiveness of hype, 42 profitability, 43, 56, 64 projective stories, 251
promise, 38–39, 42
promise entrepreneurs, 14, 29–30, 232, 263 promissory narratives
  analysts and, 161, 193, 248, 266–267, 276 arenas, 29–30, 252
  assets, 259, 266
  claims, 14, 229, 249, 255
  culture, 15
  cycles, 30, 162, 257
  economy, 262
  expectations and, 16
  framing, 226
  futures, 87
  game, 246, 274
  Hype Studies, 255, 257
  and rankings, 268
  strategies, 194
  as tools, 264
  wild hype and, 233
promissory organisations, 75, 250
promissory products, 75–80
  benefits of, 273, 275
  cycles, 80–82, 271
  as dampening mechanisms, 272–273
  hype tools, 113–114, 136, 224, 231, 235
  pluralism, 241–242
  recalibrating expectations, 272
  selective visibility, 245
  spirals, 237–242, 266
  structured channels, 228 proof gradients, 243
protected spaces, 278
proxy ethnographies, 23, 97 public agencies, 277–278 publicity, false, 7 purification of hype, 17n, 133, 137, 141, 157–160, 159, 159, 163, 233

qualculation, 138, 144
qualitative data, 22, 144
quantitative data, 144
quantum computing, 275

https://doi.org/10.1017/9781009644013.018 Published online by Cambridge University Press

R&D programmes, 39, 51, 60, 257, 277 radical futures, 20, 34, 42, 65–69
Ramachandran, J., 162
Ramiller, N. C., 38, 258 ranking strategies, 102n, 216–217, 220, 238 rankings, 195–196
  analyst presentation, 200
  assessments of, 193
  breakouts, 213–215
  creation of, 213
  killing off, 210–212
  reasons for, 218
  rivalries, 196–198, 267
  tools for, 78, 199–201, 203–206 and vendors, 202
Rao, H., 169, 186
Raskino, Mark, Mastering the Hype Cycle, 284
reactivity, 81, 193
recipient design, 266
reclaiming hype, wild, 17 reconciliation processes, 103, 149, 158 reflexive expectations, 49–52, 264–266 reframing hype, 104, 229 repair work, storytelling, 103 reputational evidence, 243
research
  Category Studies, 168, 171–172, 184–185, 187–191
  Sociology of Expectations, 33, 250–251, 257, 264
  STS, 27, 29, 250
  Valuation Studies, 112, 126, 131, 234, 250, 259. See also Hype Studies, Responsible Hype, 276–279
Responsible Research and Innovation (RRI) frameworks, 278 resurrection of hype cycles, 226 retardation, anticipatory, 62 right-hand curves, 147–149, 158 Rip, A., 48, 55
risk-taking, 15, 43, 64–65, 225, 240
rivalry effects
  de-positioning, 216
  in hype, 267–268
  leapfrogging, 207–210, 216 organisation responses, 198–199, 201 owning markets, 216
  rankings and, 195–198
  strategic practices, 206–215, 208
roadmaps, 275
robots, 35
Rosenberg, N., 62
RRI (Responsible Research and Innovation) frameworks, 278
Ruef, A., 31

SaaS (Software-as-a-Service), 114, 149
Samiolo, R., 197
Santosm, F. M., 127
SAP (Strategy as Practice) agenda, 219
Sauder, M., 81, 198, 220 scaling dependencies, 42 scandals, 232
scarcity (rankings), 200
scepticism, 147, 234
scholarship, existing, 27
Schumpeter, J. A., 60, 65
Schumpeterian economics, 142, 225
Science and Technology Studies (STS), 29–30 scientific enquiry, 68
screening, ventures, 110, 112, 115–119, 129, 169 script concept, 40
sea of hype, 133, 226, 261
Second Most Important Pitch, 23, 85–86, 239
sectorial variations, 273–276 security software rankings, 214
selective visibility, 245
selectors, hype, 33, 241 selling to AR experts, 93 sentiment analysis, 253 serendipity, 254n
short-term adjustments, 260
Simmel, G., 268
Slope of Enlightenment, 142, 226 small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs), 178 smartphones, 154–155, 274
Smith, W., 243
snapshots of hype, 254–255
SOA (Software Oriented Architecture) category, 183 social issues, 279
social learning, 42
social media, 253

https://doi.org/10.1017/9781009644013.018 Published online by Cambridge University Press

social proof, 56, 243–244 Social Software category, 167
Sociology of Expectations, 9, 33, 49
  fictional, 245–246
  innovation, 8, 52, 259
  management of, 117, 164 performativity of expectations, 49 promissory arenas, 30, 38 reflexive, 51
  relationships, 16
  research, 33, 250–251, 257
  three levels of, 31
  tools, 141
Sociology of Finance, 17n sociology of hype, developing, 248–249
Sociology of Scientific Knowledge, 249 Sociology of the Future, 250 sociomaterial mechanisms, 171, 191 sociotechnical imaginaries, 39–41, 275
Software Oriented Architecture (SOA) category, 183
Software-as-a-Service (SaaS), 114, 149
Spears, T., 138, 161
spectrum, hype claims, 73 speculative bubbles, 36–37, 139, 224, 277
speculative cycles, 270–273, 278
speculative futures, 278 spirals, promissory products, 237–242, 266
splitting categories, 177–178, 185–186 stability in innovation, 66 stages of hype, 51–54
Stark, D., 242, 265
start-ups
  ABC, 108
  analyst firms and, 113
  briefings, 239
  disruptive, 239
  and evaluative models, 233 evolving narratives of, 83
  gatekeepers and, 108–110
  Juvo, 1–3, 8–10, 15, 32, 51, 58–60 regime of hope, 56
  screening of, 112
statistical models, 17n Stirling, A., 233
storytelling, 32–33, 86, 229
  audiences and, 87–90, 105–106 crafting stories, 85, 95
  entrepreneurs, 14, 29, 86–87, 95
  façades in, 103
  industry analysts, 102–104
  later-stage audiences, 87–90 new audiences, 103
  reframing, 104–105
  revisions of, 99–104
strategic assets, 266
strategic calibration of hype, 274 strategic partnerships, 92 Strategy as Practice (SAP) agenda, 219 stratification, 216, 247, 273 structure, hype as, 32–33
STS (Science and Technology Studies), 27, 29, 250 success, prerequisites for, 235–236
'Sunshine' (AR agency), 90, 282
supercomputing, 277
Swanson, E. B., 38, 258
Swedberg, R., 254n symbolic responses (gaming), 196, 198, 217 symmetrical perspectives, 249 synchronicity, 240

Taleb, N. N., 36
tamed hype, 226–228, 231–232, 246, 252, 273, 275–276
  briefings, 234–235
  calculative triaging, 235
  and decision-making, 230
  and dotcom crash, 81
  fictional expectations of, 245
  hype tools, 77
  pluralistic system, 242 prerequisites for success, 235–236
  protected spaces, 226, 278
    three phases of, 237–240, 239
    from wild, 3, 14–18, 229. See also Hype Cycle Chart (HCC) tamed hype, 228n
taxonomies, 65
technical breakouts, 213–214 technological futures, 42, 67 technologies, emerging, 61, 66 technologies, transformative, 34–35, 153, 168 tenets of hype, 29–57
  Tenet One, 29–31
  Tenet Two, 31–34
  Tenet Three, 36–45
  Tenet Four, 45–49

https://doi.org/10.1017/9781009644013.018 Published online by Cambridge University Press

tenets of hype (cont.)
Tenet Five, 49–52
Tenet Six, 52–54
Tenet Seven, 55–57
terms, briefings, 46–47
theory of knowledge, 67
Theranos case, 7
Thévenot, L., 104, 245n third-party evaluations, 266 timing in hype, 59–62, 153, 160, 165, 224 tools, hype, 77, 133, 135–139, 141, 203–206
See also Hype Cycle Chart (HCC) torpedo diagram, 176, 177
traces of hype, 252–253 tractability of hype, 17 trajectory of hype, 164, 223, 264, 271 transformative innovation, 153, 262, 278 transience of hype, 45
triaging, 235, 238
trigger events, 33–34, 148
Trough of Disillusionment, 49, 55, 142, 149, 224, 230 truth, regime of, 23, 56, 96–98
Tutton, R., 69

Überbacher, F., 129
uncertain outcomes, 41, 43–44, 64–67, 70 university rankings, 197 unpredictability, managing, 17n unregulated hype, 238
untamed hype, 223, 227
See also tamed hype
upscaling of hype, 11
upstream expectations, 52, 207, 255 urgency around hype, 45
Urry, J., 276
US News & World Report, 218
used apple policy, 61–63, 224

Vaara, E., 219–220
validity of hype, 55
Valliere, D., 139
valorisation, 127–128, 131, 239
Valuation Studies, 112, 126, 131, 234, 250, 259
van Lente, H., 30, 32, 37, 139, 257 vascularisation of economy, 140 Vatin, François, 83, 112
VC (venture capitalism), 34, 76, 122 vendors
categories, 169, 173, 177–178
client mapping, 179–184
comparisons in, 169
customer use cases, 243
de-positioning of, 210–212
drawing in, 178
expertise arms race, 263
figurations, 176, 177
and gatekeepers, 261, 264, 269
hype tools, 165
lists of, 108
promissory behaviour modifications, 266 puff pieces, 150
and rankers, 202
rivalry effects, 201, 207–210
screening of, 23, 169
strategic practices, 206–207, 208
truth from, 23. See also Cool Vendors, ventures
briefings, 126
as Cool Vendors, 113
fast movers, 79, 203, 233, 243
feedback for, 120–121
and gatekeepers, 110, 112, 121–123
liability of newness, 109
screening processes, 114, 116–119, 126
valorisation, 120–124
visibility of, 23, 129, 245 See also start-ups,
visions, future, 39–40, 171–172, 187, 258
vital events, 34

Wadhwani, R. D., 187
Weber, K., 261
Wedlin, L., 197
WEF's Top Ten Emerging Technologies, 165
Whittington, R., 219
wild hype, 81, 229, 241, 273 reclaiming, 17
vs. tamed hype, 3, 14–18, 223, 229, 232–233, 246
wild hype, 228n
Williams, Robin, 169
Work-Force Optimisation (WFO) category, 183

Zaloom, C., 9, 163

https://doi.org/10.1017/9781009644013.018 Published online by Cambridge University Press