The Team for the Assessment of Psychiatric Services is funded by the Department of Health and North East Thames Regional Health Authority, administered through the Department of Psychological Medicine, St Bartholomew's Medical College, and directed by Professor Julian Leff.

Since the inception of TAPS, many research workers have contributed to the collection of a vast archive of data, some on a voluntary basis. Only a small proportion of them is represented by the authorship of these collected papers. The full list is:

We are most grateful to the large numbers of patients and staff in hospital and in the community whose co-operation enabled the demanding interviews to be completed.

The day-to-day conduct of the study and its continuity have been and continue to be heavily dependent on the administrative and secretarial support of Rowena Kendal and Maggie Wallace. We owe them both an enormous debt of gratitude.
