

An Improbable Psychiatrist

Rebecca Lawrence,
a consultant psychiatrist and writer with bipolar disorder.

A leading psychiatrist narrates her personal journey from patient to psychiatrist and how she has coped with severe mental illness. Covering her experience on a psychiatric ward, ECT, and psychiatry training, this book aims to reduce stigma surrounding mental illness and will appeal to mental health professionals, and general readers.

"strikes at the heart of our understanding of mental illness"

- Rachel Kelly

"provides lucid insight into the curious process of becoming a psychiatrist"

- Linda Gask

cambridge.org/AIP

RC PSYCH
ROYAL COLLEGE OF PSYCHIATRISTS

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

https://doi.org/10.1192/bjp.2025.10353 Published online by Cambridge University Press